BALTIMORE.

FRIDAY, JUNE 13, 1862.

The Western Excursionists.

Correspondence of the Maryland News-Sheet.

PITTSBURG, June 11, 1862.

According to previous appointment, the Baltimore delegation, attended by a committee of the Board of Trade and the City Council of Pittsburg, left the city at eight o'clock yesterday morning for a pleasure trip over the Connellsville Railroad. The company numbered over one hundred persons. After a pleasant ride of five hours they reached Uniontown, where an entertainment had been prepared. When the substantials had been dispo ed of, the company, or at least a portion of them, proceeded to give vent to their pent up patriotic sentiments. The majority of the speeches on this occasion were uncalled for, and entirely out of place. But one or two spoke of the importance of this railroad connection, and what advantage Baltimore, or the country, would derive from its completion. The majority of them, however, confined their remarks almost exclusively to politics, making most studied efforts to impress upon the minds of the Pittsburg delegation that Baltimore and the State of Maryland were and had always been loyal to the Union. Assuming that the State of Maryland is loyal to the Union, why should such persistent efforts be made on all occasions to impress that belief on the minds of the people of other cities? To judge from the speeches made on this occasion, one would suppose that Baltimore had sent abroad a corps of disputeurs to convince the country that Baltimore and the State of Maryland had been brought out from their dark and benighted condition, and were now the guiding stars of the patriotic sons of America!

The following is a brief sketch of the after-dinner speeches that were made. Tuat the speeches were made after the company had dined and wined is perfectly evident from the tone of certain select passages in some of them. Others, however, it is but fair to say, are entirely unobjectionable.. But why intrude politics at all at a time when men are met for a totally different purpose, and when all parties and factions, and passions, and prejudices should be merged?

After dinner the company proceeded to the depot, where a meeting was organized by calling Hon. Andrew Stewart, of Fayette county, to the Chair, and appointing Thomas Bakewell, Esq., of Pittsburg, and Benjamin Deford, Esq., of Baltimore, Vice Presidents. Secretaries—Messrs. J. M. Macrum, of Pittsburg, and J. F. Beazel, of Uniontown.

The Chairman introduced the business of the meeting, in an address, referring to the advantages of railways, both in times of peace and war. He compared them with fortresses, and showed that they were a more efficient means of defence for a country to rely on in times of war. As to fortresses, if they were of any use in time of war, which he did not believe, in time of peace they were only a costly burden. He then spoke of the Connellsville Railway, which was the subject of special consideration, setting forth its advantages to Baltimore and Pittsburg, as well as all the towns along the route, and its importance in a national point of view, as a great highway connecting the Northwest with the capital. He concluded by referring to the circumstance that the appropriation of $2,000,000, recently reported upon by a Committee of Congress, coming at the "levees" of the session, was somewhat in its favor, as members would not have time to talk it to death.

The Chairman then called on B. H. Latrobe, Esq., President of the road, who commenced by referring to Mr. Stewart's remarks, which he cordially endorsed. He proceeded to speak at some length of the importance of completing the line. He spoke of the branch to Uniontown as having been built mainly by the enterprise of citizens of Fayette county, and if those interested in the completion of the main road would exhibit like energy, the work would soon be accomplished, even without assistance from Congress.

Wm. S. Crowley, Esq., President of the First Branch of the City Council of Baltimore, was then loudly called for, and commenced by saying that he and his friends appeared here as citizens of Maryland and Baltimore, but till more as citizens of the United States. After some further introductory remarks, he said Baltimore had invested in this enterprise, and will yet further invest in it. They were highly pleased with their visit. The rich and fertile region through which they had passed was waiting for the advantages of trade which the Baltimore and Connellsville line, when completed, would open up for it.

Whether Congress passed the bill or not, the work ought to be done. He referred to the unity of the States. A year ago the fair fame of Baltimore was tarnished by a few enemies in our midst. These men have since been hurled from place and power, and forever. Every one of them, in Baltimore and Maryland, is now a marked man. He then reverted to the subject under consideration, and forcibly presented the advantages of railways, in a military and economical view, to the country. Talk of disruption, said the speaker; the railways, the rivers, the cities, the manufactures, the trade and commerce of the country, all forbid it. The Union of these States cannot be destroyed. He concluded by remarking that among the railroads which yet would radiate from the National Capital, the Pittsburg and Connellsville was destined to be one of the most important.

Mr. Finley, of Baltimore, was next called upon. After some introductory remarks, he said a year ago railroads were broken up, bridges burned, and we were separated; but the mystic tie of love of country, and faith in its destiny, could not be broken. He spoke of Baltimore in the past and in the present, and of the late outburst of Union feeling. He closed by urging the completion of the road, referring to the vast quantities of coal, oil and other articles awaiting greater facilities of transport to the Eastern markets.

Mr. Pomeroy, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and Mr. Howe, of Pittsburg, were called for, but did not respond.

Mr. Dukehart, of Baltimore, was called on, and made an address. He spoke first of the Connellsville and Pittsburg Railway, and the preference which he, and nine out of every ten men in Baltimore, had for the Pittsburg terminus of a line to the Ohio river. He then made some statements in reference to the Union Leagues in Baltimore and Maryland. He said they had corresponding Leagues in North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, and as far south as New Orleans. Even in South Carolina there were at least some members of the Union League. He said he was a Union man, out and out, and that the State of Maryland was Union—the sole dark spot being St. Mary's county. The reason was, doubtless, there were so many "contrabands" there.

Hon. Thomas M. Howe now came forward, and said if the people of Pittsburg could but hear the loyal sentiments which had been expressed, they would rejoice as one man. He stated that he knew but little of railroad matters, but he knew something of the trade of Pittsburg. When he came from Ohio, many years ago, nearly all the goods sold here were purchased in Baltimore. He suggested that a committee should be appointed to go to Washington to urge on Congress the importance of completing this line. He thanked the gentlemen from Baltimore for the interest they had manifested in this enterprise, and closed by making an appropriate reference to the past history of Maryland, and the services of her statesmen.

At the conclusion of Mr. Howe's remarks, it was announced that the time was up, and the party soon after took seats in the cars. Rain fell briskly during the return; and although the opportunity for observing the scenery was not inviting, the time was pleasantly spent in conversation. The party reached the Monongahela House about half-past six o'clock in the evening, where they were waited upon by a number of prominent citizens.

The delegation will be formally received, on behalf of the city, at the Monongahela House, at eight o'clock this morning, by Hon. A. W. Loomis, after which carriages will be in waiting to convey them to the various places of interest which they may desire to visit. They will leave for Chicago on Thursday morning. N.

SENSIBLE TALK.

The Chicago Post, of the 6th instant, takes New England to task in the following manner:

The silly talk of the New England manufacturers, that the agricultural interest paid but a small proportion of the tax, was unworthy of the Senate. The fact is, this war has been a Godsend to the people of New England. Protected by an outrageous tariff from all foreign competition, they have had a rich harvest since the war commenced. There is not a manufacturing company in all New England that will not realize from ten to thirty per cent. on its capital for the year ending the first of June. This is not confined to any one branch of industry, but includes all branches of manufacture. In the sale of cotton fabrics they have now a monopoly, and for twenty years there has not been such an amount of work done as has been done during the year just closed. The advantages reaped by New England from the war are not confined to the mere profits in dollars and cents upon the vast supplies it has sold, but it has enjoyed the more than equal advantage of having had full employment in its factories for all its population. New England with her factories closed, and New England with her factories in operation, even if not making profits, are very different. It is hard to impeach the patriotism or loyalty of any people; but, judging of the present by the past, it may not be extravagant to suppose that if this war had had the effect of closing all the factories and stopping all the mills in New England, there would come up a cry from that section in favor of peace.

The Philadelphia Evening Journal says that the great influx of negroes into Chester county, Pa., has so reduced the price of labor that the negroes actually work for ten cents a day.

THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS PARTIALLY RESTORED.—After an involuntary absence of about three months, during which time we were made familiar with the classic and once hallowed grounds of Fort McHenry—we again resume, partially, our old vocation of "enlightening the world with lampblack." Our Press, being deemed dangerous by the Government, has been kindly limited, and, for the future, instead of publishing "The Sun, or any other paper, without consent of the Commanding General," we shall modestly labor in the humbler department of the "art preservative of all arts," by executing every description of BOOK AND JOB PRINTING, hoping through that medium to sustain ourselves and these dependent upon us, and would earnestly appeal to our friends to favor us with their patronage. We have prepared our JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT to execute all kinds of printing neatly, expeditiously and cheaply, and solicit a call at our old buildings.

STILL ANOTHER TRIUMPH.
BALTIMORE, May 1st, 1862.
I have experienced so much benefit by using PEARSON'S, MEDICATED TAR DROPS, that I believe it not only a duty but a pleasure, to make it known to others. I was afflicted with a Sore Throat and Dry Cough, which debilitated me so that I could get no rest. My friends told me that I had the consumption. I am now happy to inform you that your MEDICATED TAR DROPS have cured me.
I find that your MEDICATED TAR DROPS are counterfeited, and I caution the afflicted to be on their guard. This is really a shame that so efficacious a remedy should be imposed by unprincipled men. I am glad, however, to see that your signature is now on each package, and I advise those who purchase to bear that in mind.

HASTINGS' COMPOUND
SYRUP OF NAPTHA,
NOT ONLY A POSITIVE BUT A WARRANTED CURE FOR CONSUMPTION AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.—This Medicine has decided the dispute about the curability of consumption, and satisfied the Medical Faculty and all who have used it that consumption and all affections of the lungs cannot only be cured, but that they are as easily and simply CURED as almost any of the disorders to which the human frame is liable. The operations of a single bottle, which costs $1, is sufficient to satisfy any patient—if not already too far gone gives evidence of its extraordinary influence in arresting and eradicating the malady by the immediate relief which it affords.
This is no quack or secret remedy. Dr. Hastings, its discoverer, is one of the most eminent Physicians of the age, and has made a full disclosure of its history and all its component parts to the world, not wishing to incur the possibility of confining to himself, for the sake of profit, a secret which was calculated to do such universal good. And such has been the wonderful results of its operation that the London Lancet and Medical Times, and the most eminent physicians of both hemispheres are anxiously calling upon sufferers to have immediate recourse to it, and proclaiming that, of all known medicine, it alone has positively established its efficacy by undeniable proofs of curing consumption and all diseases of the lungs.
Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. For sale wholesale and retail, by SETH S. HANCE, No. 108 Baltimore street, and SWEETZER & CO., corner Charles and Pratt streets. je12-eo6m

PHARNUMPS COUGH CANDY.
HE THAT HATH AN EAR TO HEAR,
LET HIM HEAR.
BALTIMORE, Nov. 13, 1856.
The duties of my business have exposed me to coughs, colds and asthma and pulmonary affections. I have been deprived of the power of attending to the duties of my profession, and should have been, had it not been for the benign effects of your MEDICATED CANDY. I tried it but a few hours before I began to reap the advantages of its effects. My cough and hoarseness left me, and my appetite greatly improved. I therefore have no hesitation in adding my testimony to that of the many who have experienced the benefits of your valuable Cough Candy. WILLIAM MERCER.
MY LUNGS ARE HEALED
Price 25 cents per package, or 5 packages for $1.
☞ Sold by HANCE, 108 Baltimore street, and SWEETZER & CO., corner of Charles and Pratt sts. je13-eo6m

FOR THE PILES.
DR UPHAM'S VEGETABLE ELECTUARY is a certain cure for PILES in every form and condition.—Fistulas, Fissures, Abscesses and Ulcerations of the Bowels are the result of neglected or badly treated Piles. When afflicted with either of these distressing and dangerous affections the patient must consult the Doctor personally, at his Office, 387 Fourth street. The very worst cases of PILES, and all affections resulting from this disease, solicited for treatment. Dr. Upham is a regular physician, and has devoted special attention to this class of affections for more than twenty years.
