BALTIMORE.

SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1862.

The Western Excursionists.

Correspondence of the Maryland News-Sheet.

PITTSBURG, June 12, 1862.

To-day proved the most pleasant since our arrival here. We succeeded in getting a glimpse of the sun through the dense body of smoke that constantly envelopes this place. At eight o'clock yesterday morning the Baltimore delegation were formally received at the Monongahela House, on behalf of the city, by Hon. A. W. Loomis, Mayor, who welcomed them in a brief, well-conceived and pithy address, which was replied to by William S. Crawley, President of the First Branch of the City Council, in his usual vein. The party then adjourned to carriages in waiting, and were escorted to the different places of interest in and about the city; after which they returned to the hotel in time for dinner. At eight o'clock last evening a meeting was held at the rooms of the Board of Trade, to take some action to forward the completion of the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad to Baltimore.

B. H. Latrobe, Esq., President of the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad, stated the object of the meeting to be the appointment of a committee of our citizens to co-operate with a like committee from Baltimore in devising ways and means for the completion of the road. Two projects had been started—one to obtain aid from the Government—another to enlist the connecting Western lines in the improvement.

The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. Dukehart, of the Baltimore City Council, as Chairman, Thomas Bakewell and B. F. Jones, Vice Presidents, and William McCreery, Secretary.

On taking his seat the chairman stated that during this visit himself and colleagues had been utterly astonished at the fertility and resources of the country over and through which the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad passes; and they were now fully satisfied of the vast importance to Baltimore of the completion of this line of seventy-five miles of road. All that was necessary, he thought, was the co-operation of the people of Pittsburg and Baltimore (Chicago, too, he hoped), and the necessary funds could be procured and the improvement perfected according to its orginal intention.

Mr. Deford, a director in the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad Company, of Baltimore, spoke of the difficulty of raising the required funds (about $3,000,000) at the present time, and expressed his belief that the best method of securing the end desired was to obtain the co-operation of Western railroads centreing here, which have now but one connecting link with the East, and to which the completion of the Connellsville road to Baltimore would be of vast importance. He hoped the citizens of Chicago would be enlisted in the cause on the approaching visit of the Baltimore delegation and a committee of Pittsburgers to that city, and that we should soon have a direct line from Baltimore to Pittsburg and a restoration of the business intercourse suspended by the building of railroads which separated them.

On motion of James Park, Jr., a committee of five Pittsburgers was named by the chairman, to visit Washington city and take measures to aid members of Congress in obtaining a loan of the Government credit to $2,000,000 of bonds of the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad, and also to advance the interests of the road as far as they can. The committee appointed consists of Thomas M. Howe, Joseph Dilworth, Isaiah Dickey, Isaac Jones and William S. Bissell.

On motion a like committee was appointed from the Baltimore delegation to co-operate with the Pittsburg committee, viz: C. S. Norris, G. C. Addison, Robert Turner, Benjamin Deford and Wm. Hopkins.

On motion the committees were authorized to fill vacancies, and Mr. Latrobe and Mr. Dukehart were added to the Baltimore committee.

George W. Cass, Esq., President of the Pittsburg, called upon to address the meeting, said the present occasion carried him back twenty five years, when, in Fayette county, he had attended a meeting for the purpose of building the Pittsburg and Connellsville road. He would be glad to see it finished according to the original design, and hoped it would be completed; but his experience in railroad business gave him little encouragement to believe that the work can be done in the way proposed; we cannot expect others to do what we should do ourselves, and he did not believe it would ever be done unless the people of Baltimore and Pittsburg, Western roads, and residents along the line, put their shoulders to the wheel and furnish the means to do it.

In answer to some inquiries by Mr. Dickey, President Latrobe explained that the Connellsville Railroad had been surveyed, in 1836, through the Cumberland, 150 miles. 58½ miles are completed and in operation, leaving a line of 90 miles, of which 4 miles have been constructed by the Savage Railroad Company. The remaining 86 miles are staked off and could be put under contract at once. He believed it could be completed in two years at furthest, in which time the three tunnels on the route (a remarkably easy one) could easily be finished. The cost, including rolling stock, will be about $3,000,000, and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company have offered to furnish the stock necessary to conduct the business for a time, after which the road can take care of itself. Mr. Latrobe spoke at some length on the advantages of the completed line and the probable revenue, closing with a hope that ere long the friends of the road would see it progressing satisfactorily to a realization of their expectations.

Called out by an allusion of Mr. Latrobe to a "wet blanket" thrown upon the enterprise by him, Mr. Cass explained that his remarks were only intended to discourage any application to Congress for aid, and to depend upon the interests immediately concerned, who he believed could build it if they only set to work.

On motion of Mr. Park, the committees appointed were instructed to request the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company to endorse bonds of the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad to the amount of $1,000,000, and to urge upon that company the claims of the latter line.

The meeting then adjourned, previous to which the chairman thanked the Board of Trade and citizens of Pittsburg, in behalf of the Baltimore delegation, for their kind reception and many courtesies during their stay. He wished to see the Connellsville line completed, and hoped, when he again visited Pittsburg, as he intended doing, that he might come over the direct line between Baltimore and Pittsburg, then completed. The only way in which Baltimore could repay Pittsburg for her kindness and cordial hospitality on this occasion, was by doing her utmost to bind the two cities together in bands of railroad iron.

THE ISLAND OF ST. CROIX.

From the New York Post, June 11.

Denmark still possesses three islands in the West Indies: St. Thomas and St. John in the the Virgin group, and St. Croix or Santa Cruz, to which Denmark wishes to remove our black freed men.—The former is well known to American merchants as a free port and the seat of an active trade. In 1807, during the Napoleonic wars, England captured these three islands, and held them until 1814, when they were restored to the Danes, who had abandoned their French alliance. St. Croix is a small island, twenty-four miles in length and nine in breadth, containing about four thousand white inhabitants. It is highly cultivated, but its cultivation may be greatly extended. It has little commerce of its own, but is frequented by a few foreign vessels. In 1853 it was visited by eight brigs, three barks and two schooners from the United States, and this is about the average annual number. Their inward cargoes, sold at Frederickstadt, amounted in value to only $19,902 in that year, and the outward to $22,432, and at Christiansstadt they were nearly the same.

There is a great want on the island of mechanics, especially those capable of constructing vessels, ship-yards, docks and railways. The usual wages given laborers are $1.25 per day. In all respects but size it is inferior to St. Thomas, which is but eighteen miles in circumference, and lies a little further north. Its products, like those of the adjacent islands, consist of sugar, cotton, coffee, ginger, pimento, cocoa, drugs, tobacco, fruits, &c. The sugar production mostly re-appears abroad in the shape of what is called "Old Santa Cruz," and it is evident the Danish Government finds it profitable enough to be increased. The sugar is also well known in our markets. Travellers describe Frederickstadt, the capital, as being a very interesting and agreeable place, and the government as being quite paternal. No doubt it requires more labor to give St. Croix its true value to the Danish Crown."

CRITICISING FREMONT.—Some of the Administration papers are very severe in their criticisms on the conduct of General Fremont, and the alleged blundering disregard of orders, by which Jackson was enabled to slip through his fingers without damage. Referring to the subject, the New Bedford Mercury (Rep.) says:

"We have intimated before this that the President's order was disobeyed by General Fremont; our information coming pretty direct, an officer of the Government telling our informant that he heard the President express his vexation at the disregard of his instructions. Mr. Lincoln's expression of his annoyance was as emphatic as it was original."

These criticisms will be likely to be increased by the news. We see Jackson not only escaping from Fremont, but enabled to throw his whole force on a brigade of 3,000 men under Gen. Shields, whose losses are reported considerable both in lives and prisoners.—N. Y. Express.

THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS PARTIALLY RESTORED.—After an involuntary absence of about three months, during which time we were made familiar with the classic and once hallowed grounds of Fort McHenry—we again resume, partially, our old vocation of "enlightening the world with lamp-black." OUR PRESS, being deemed dangerous by the Government, has been kindly limited, and, for the future, instead of publishing "THE SOUTH, or any other paper, without consent of the Commanding General," we shall modestly labor in the humbler department of the "art preservative of all arts," by executing every description of BOOK AND JOB PRINTING, hoping through that medium to sustain ourselves and those dependent upon us, and would earnestly appeal to our friends to favor us with their patronage. We have prepared our JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT to execute all kinds of printing neatly, expeditiously and cheaply, and solicit a call at our old buildings.

STILL ANOTHER TRIUMPH.
BALTIMORE, May 1st, 1862.
I have experienced so much benefit by using PEARSON'S MEDICATED TAR DROPS, that I believe it not only a duty but a pleasure, to make it known to others. I was afflicted with a Sore Throat and Dry Cough, which debilitated me so that I could get no rest. My friends told me that I had the consumption. I am now happy to inform you that your MEDICATED TAR DROPS have cured me.
I find that your MEDICATED TAR DROPS are counterfeited, and I caution the afflicted to be on their guard. This is really a shame that so efficacious a remedy should be injured by unprincipled men. I am glad, however, to see that your signature is now on each package, and I advise those who purchase to bear that in mind.
Yours, truly, HENRY FISHER,
No. 15 North Bond street.
PEARSON'S MEDICATED TAR DROPS are prepared and sold by GEO. PEARSON, No. 5 Liberty street, Baltimore. Sold also by the principal Druggists at 10 cents per package.
