FROM WINCHESTER.

CONDITION OF AFFAIRS IN THE SHENANDOAH VALLEY.

Correspondence of the New York Tribune.

WINCHESTER, June 20.—In my last I stated my apprehensions of an attack upon our forces by Jackson, who, it is reported, has been reinforced by about 12,000 men; but another night and day have passed in quietude throughout the Valley of the Shenandoah. A different turn has been taken, which will materially change the aspect of affairs. Changes were effected in the division yesterday, which I have no hesitation in saying will be for the better. As you have already been informed, Fremont has fallen back upon Strasburg, in the neighborhood of which extensive fortifications are being erected. Siegel is about nine miles to the rear of Fremont, having chosen a position which he is fortifying. Shields has gone down towards Fredericksburg; and this afternoon, Banks, who arrived here yesterday evening, moved up the valley several miles hence.

You will perceive by this change that a strong base for future operations has been established, which was essentially necessary. Shields, properly belonging to McDowell's division of the army of the Shenandoah, fully two months ago was ordered from Newmarket to Fredericksburg. The road was in a horrible condition, and rain fell most of the time—so that he was nearly nineteen days in making the march of 150 miles. Soon after the attack upon General Banks and his masterly retreat, Gen. Shields was ordered to return again to the Shenandoah Valley; and now, ere his men have had time to recover from their fatigue, other orders arrive for him to hasten to the Luray Valley a second time. This weakening of the forces hereabout made it necessary for General Fremont to fall back, and, with Sigel, establish and fortify a base of operations.

The Union troops now hold something less than one-third of the territory in this valley, embraced in Berkeley, Jefferson, Clark, and Frederick counties, while the Confederates at present occupy Warren, Shenandoah, Page, Rockingham, Augusta, Rockbridge and Botetourt counties. These counties, some of which cover a large area, compose the choicest section of the Shenandoah Valley, and it is my impression that the Confederates will be satisfied, should we let them alone for the next month, until the crops are harvested. In this labor the farmers will need assistance, owing to the scarcity of hands, but they doubtless will receive it from Jackson.

Whatever may be the result at Richmond, the Confederates may come tumbling into this valley and attempt to drive out our forces, in which, from their superiority of numbers, they may be successful. Nor is it impossible that Jackson may attempt a flank movement and come in at our rear, in which event our supplies will be cut off, and we shall have to change front and cut our way through; but while this movement on the part of the Confederate General is possible, it is highly improbable.

The Secesh feeling here is still rampant, but during the last twenty-four hours the confidence of the residents in Jackson has fallen away lightily, and I shouldn't wonder if before two days it should be below par. The majority of the stores on the main street are occupied by Baltimore merchants and sutlers, whose profits amount to one hundred or one hundred and fifty per cent. on the articles sold. Quite a large number of stores are closed, the occupants having gone "away down South in Dixie."

The resident business men that remain here keep their stores open, though they have but little stock, and are unable to obtain any. During the past week the Provost Marshal, under the orders of General Banks, has been cleaning up the streets of this miserable, wretched, God-forsaken, secesh town. The detail of men was made by General Banks, and for a few days the place was made quite presentable. The negroes about the streets chuckled and grinned as our men operated with shovels and hoes, and the citizens were compelled to declare that they had never seen the place look so clean.

The cases of all the Confederate prisoners taken by Fremont at Cross Keys, were investigated to-day by Provost Marshal Col. Bachelder, and his able assistant, Capt. Gulick. A number (equivalent to the Union prisoners paroled by Jackson and sent to Baltimore, were paroled by the Marshal, and passes given through our lines, together with transportation to their homes. Among the number were several of the Louisiana Tigers.

During the last three days the streets have presented one continuous line of wagons and ambulances containing sick and wounded soldiers from Mount Jackson and other places. The regular hospital in the old hotel building, near the railroad depot, was soon filled, and this afternoon the houses necessary for the reception of the wounded in some of the largest stores on the main streets. I found on making a round that the men had all been as well attended to as circumstances would permit, but they were far from comfortable, and I saw many who were suffering badly with ugly and sloughing wounds from musket and cannon shot.—Several amputations of legs and arms were made this evening by the surgeons here, and all the attention possible was bestowed upon the poor suffering soldiers. In one of the stores on Main street were at least 20 fine fellows lying upon a quilt or blanket upon the floor, with their knapsack for a pillow. Two nurses were waiting upon them, washing and dressing their wounds, and whispering in their ear words of consolation. These women were assiduous in their attentions, and doing all in their power to alleviate the pain the poor fellows were enduring. May God bless them in their labor of love. As soon as they are able to stand further fatigue, the men will be sent home.

SATURDAY, June 21, 4 o'clock, A. M.—One of the leaders of the "Jesse" scouts, who has just arrived from the advance, states that marching orders have been issued by Fremont for a still further retrograde movement. He will either establish himself at Middletown or fall back entirely to Winchester.—Should he endeavor to fortify the former point, he will be obliged to throw a heavy force to hold the Front Royal road at a point parallel to his position, while by occupying Winchester he holds the key to both valleys. It is confidently believed that Jackson is at Luray. Winchester, with the force that Fremont has at hand, can be made impregnable, unless the enemy has siege guns with which to fire the city.

From the New York Express, Editorial.

WHAT OF THE PRESIDENT?

There is a very sudden piece of intelligence in our columns, and very strange, just now,—viz., the visit of the President to West Point, in company with General Pope, fresh from Halleck's Army of the West. General Pope is a personal friend of the President; and was "punished," it will be remembered, by Mr. Buchanan's Administration, for some kind things, or acts, respecting Mr. Lincoln, prior to his inauguration, but subsequent to his election.

What means this visit?—for it must have a meaning just now,—as or pleasure only, at this season, when Congress is in the midst of the great measures of the session—the President would not leave Washington. Indeed, his presence in Washington is indispensable for the approval of the acts Congress is now passing, among them the Tax bill.

What means this visit, then? General Winfield Scott is at West Point. Things have not only not been going right, but all wrong, since General Scott's original programme of attack was abandoned, into which abandonment the President was led by his wonderfully energetic Secretary of War.—Is it to talk with the old Hero of Mexico? Is it to see how to go back, and to get back to his programme of the war? May it not be, even, to ask the old Hero to go back to Washington, and to be the Mentor of the Mercury in the Department of War?

There have been rumors from Washington for some days past, that the War Department is under so much sail, with such flowing jibs, topsails, topgallant sails, studding sails, etc., etc., that the rudder does not work well; and Gen. McClellan, it is said, would be invited back to Washington, to take the helm of all the armies, once more, East and West, under the original plans, and the army before Richmond would be given to some faster man—some 2.40 courser, etc. It is very certain that in Washington there is the greatest need of a head for all the armies, one mind, one intelligence, in the absence of which there are now great indirections and misdirections, and consequent confusion—with little or no co-operation. Doubtless, then, President Lincoln desires to talk with Gen. Scott on the subject—and as Mahomet could not go to the mountain, the mountain came to him.

NO WONDER WE PAY HIGH TAXES.—Washington city is swarming with emancipated slaves. They are a lazy, ragged, homeless multitude. Their former masters refuse to employ them. The poorhouse and jail are crowded with them. There are hundreds of free negroes starving and unemployed, as well as poor whites. The Administration has rented from Duff Green a block of fine brick dwellings, in which from one hundred and fifty to two hundred emancipated slaves are fed, lodged and clothed at the expense of the Government. Every Abolitionist in the Union ought to have his property "confiscated" for their support. Verily, the wickedness of the present Congress is without parallel in all former times. They have copious tears for their colored brethren, but none for the deceived and betrayed white man, whose wife and children this accursed Abolition war has sent begging their bread. No sympathy for the people who have to pay taxes to support these negroes in idleness.—Beware, despots! The people are but sleeping lions. When the outraged people are called upon to pay these taxes, they will pay them "in powder and lead." To this complexion they are hastening the country.—Greensburg (Pa.) Argus.

The Chinese Government has hired a fleet of gunboats from England. They are to be officered and manned by Englishmen, whose pay will be provided for by the Chinese. Each gunboat is to be under the command of a lieutenant of the royal navy, the pay of which is to be seven hundred pounds per annum. There will be six of these commanders, the whole under the orders of a captain, superintendent or commodore, with a salary of three thousand pounds a year.

INDIAN QUEEN HOTEL.—Travellers speak highly of the Indian Queen Hotel, Wilmington, Del. There is no better conducted public house, it is said, this side the Atlantic seaboard. Everything that a guest may wish may be had at small cost, together with the kindest possible treatment. The house is well ventilated, the beds soft and downy, and the latest modern household conveniences to be met with in every direction. The table groans with luxuries, and the bar is filled with the purest and best of liquors. If any of our readers should stop in Wilmington over night, they would be much pleased, we know, by stopping with Mr. CHAS. M. ALMOND, of the Indian Queen.

GEO. PEARSON, Esq.

Dear Sir—I feel it a duty to express to you my sincere acknowledgments of the benefit derived from the use of a package of your Magic Vegan Tar Drops.

I was suffering with a Severe Cough and Sore Throat, when a friend presented me with a package of your celebrated Tar Drops, and when I used them, I was free to confess it was more to gratify my appetite for sweetmeats than the idea of deriving any good from them; but really, the rapid allaying of the irritation and subsequent entire cure of the cough, induces me to thank you, and I take great pleasure in recommending to the public so effective a compound. Respectfully yours, J. E. SMITH, M. D.,
Assistant Surgeon Artillery Brigade U. S. A.

PEARSON'S MEDICATED TAR DROPS are prepared and sold by GEO. PEARSON, No. 5 North Liberty street, Baltimore, at 10 cents per package. Sold also by all the principal Druggists. je24-tf
