WHEELING, June 21.—The State Convention has adopted an ordinance relating to disbursements of the public revenues, providing for the appointment of an Auditor, Treasurer, and Secretary of the Commonwealth. Also, an ordinance fixing the salaries of certain officers. A resolution was offered and referred recommending to the Federal authorities the construction of a military road from the Western or Northwestern Railroad southward to some suitable point in Southwestern Virginia. Another was adopted, that a copy of the Declaration of Independence passed by the Convention, with the signatures of the same, be forwarded to the President of the United States. The Convention adjourned over till Monday, to afford the committee of seventeen time to perfect the ordinance for the organization of the State militia.

LOUISVILLE, June 21.—It is generally conceded here that the Union Congressional candidates are elected in all the Districts of this State except in the First, where Mr. Burnett, State Rights, is undoubtedly elected.

BIG ALMANAC.—The Chinese Imperial Almanac, published in March last, comprises twelve large volumes. It is a complete year book of events, and contains the names of all the government officials throughout the Empire. It also embraces the late treaties with foreign nations, which is said to be a novel feature.

City Items.

Accidental Shooting.—Last night between 10 and 11 o'clock, Mrs. Zirkler, who resides at No. 35 S. Caroline street, was, while sitting on the steps of her dwelling, struck by a ball from a pistol fired by Joseph Gable. He was arrested by officer Robb, and taken before Justice Griffin, the testimony showing that the accused was passing, when a dog belonging to a neighbor of Mrs. Z., ran out and bit him. He drew a pistol and endeavored to shoot the dog, but the ball struck the pavement, and glancing, entered the thigh of Mrs. Zirkler, produced a painful though not dangerous wound. The justice released Gable on security for a further examination.

Passage of Troops.—The Second Rhode Island Regiment, Col. John S. Slocum, arrived at the Bolton Station about eight o'clock last night. They were received with considerable cheering—but it was all for "Jeff Davis," and the "Southern Confederacy," the flag of which was exhibited at various points. The police made an effort to suppress the cheering, but the crowd claimed that under the recent decision of Judge Bond, they had a right to cheer for whom they pleased. At 8 o'clock this morning the 26th New York Regiment, from Utica, arrived at the Bolton Station, on the way to Washington. The Regiment numbers 800 men. At 8½ o'clock, the 29th New York Regiment, Col Steinwehr, reached here by way of Philadelphia, and also proceeded on to Washington. It numbered 780 men, and is composed principally of German Turners, from both Philadelphia and New York—the entire command being Germans.

Baltimoreans not to be Trusted.—Last evening, on the arrival of the Fourth Rhode Island Regiment at the Camden Station, having marched from the Bolton depot, the men were completely exhausted by the extreme heat, and were clamorous for water. Parties were on hand with buckets, as is usual, but the officers of the Regiment would allow no one to partake of a drop, telling those who were disposed to gramble that "there was no telling what might be in the water, but that at the Relay House, only nine miles out, a plentiful supply could be obtained from parties to be trusted."

Violent Assault.—Last evening about 8 o'clock, George Fowler, lately released from the Penitentiary, committed a violent assault upon a German, at the corner of Aliceanna and Ann street. Officer Baker attempted the arrest of the desperado, who struck the officer and made a violent resistance, but at length yielded, under a free use of the officer's espantoon. He was held to answer at court by Justice Griffin.

Discharged.—The case of Gen. W. Tucker, Jr., who was arrested at Fortress Monroe, some three weeks since, on the charge of treason, and who has since been confined in Fort McHenry, yesterday came up before Commissioner Hanan, when, there being no evidence adduced by the government to sustain the accusation, he was honorably discharged.

Drunken Soldier.—Daniel McIntosh, a member of Company I, Maryland Volunteers, was arrested last evening by officers Null and Dennis, on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct in the street. Justice Shipley fined him $1 and costs, and committed him in default of payment.

Charge of Stealing.—Adam Zoust, charged with stealing a quantity of stockings, gloves, thread, handkerchiefs, &c., the property of Elizabeth Bauer, was arrested by officer Fitzgerald, and committed to answer at court by Justice Reid.

False Pretence.—Francis Gough, colored, charged with obtaining money from several persons under false pretences, was arrested by officer Campbell, and committed for court by Justice Shipley.

Appointment.—Mayor Brown has appointed Prof. W. E. Aiken gas inspector, under the ordinance passed by the city council creating that office, and he will enter upon its duties so soon as the necessary apparatus can be supplied.

Holliday Street Theatre.—Hooley & Campbell's excellent minstrels will appear to-night in a choice programe, for the benefit of the amusing negro comedians, Billy Birch and Ben Cotton, who deserve a crowded house.

Assault.—Thos. J. Smith was arrested by officer Lewellen upon the charge of cruelly beating his wife, Mary Smith. Justice Duncan held him to bail to answer at Court.

Police Appointments.—The Police Commissioners this morning appointed John W. North a policeman of the Eastern District, in place of Alexander Shelden, dismissed for insubordination.

BY THE PHILADELPHIA TRAIN.

Excitement at Williamsport.

The denizens of the great Union village of Williamsport, where young Rench was so brutally murdered, are in a terrible state of consternation. The correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer writing from there says:

The excitement increases here at the rate of about two per cent. per hour. All day the hills on the opposite side have been dotted with Confederate Cavalry, riding and racing in various directions. Under a tree in a wheat field, about a mile back from the river, an individual, apparently an engineer, has been sitting all the afternoon, smoking a cigar, and taking a leisurely view of the movements on this side. About four o'clock, he was joined by two cavaliers in uniform, apparently field officers, who spent about an hour with him, after which they all retired. The general impression is that they have a small battery in the edge of the woods. This evening, five companies of infantry came out and paraded for a short time in a corn field near the pike.

The Home Guards, of Williamsport, have been firing at the Confederates all the afternoon, but they are out of range. No effort whatever is made to dislodge the insurgents, and they might build a whole fort there before the powers here are likely to move. Our troops are anxious to be let across the river, and are besieging their officers with petitions to be allowed to go. About noon to-day some consummate fool rushed around town, and told the half-scared women and children that Williamsport was to be bombarded, and gave them half an hour to leave. In a few moments the roads in different directions were filled with the fugitives making all speed for the country.—Every kind of business is suspended, and it is almost impossible to buy anything here.

From New York.

A letter to the Philadelphia Ledger from New York says:

Grievous complaints continue to be received almost every day from members of the New York regiments, that articles of necessity and comfort contributed for their benefit by friends in New York have never come to hand, showing that there are certain "army worms" between the donors here and the troops there who need sharp looking after.

The obsequies of the late Major Winthrop took place this morning, at the armory of the 7th regiment. The remains were sent to New Haven for interment.

Vessels from European ports arriving here, continue to report immense quantities of ice on the Banks of Newfoundland. Some of them have been obliged to go hundreds of miles out of their way, in order to dodge them. These icebergs are said to be seen, this season, in a much lower latitude than usual.

The Stock market this morning was decidedly blue, without any particular cause, apart from a growing desire on the part of operators to await the result of the gigantic military movements in Virginia. The outside public are not at the Board, so that the brokers have the game all in their own hands. This state of things will probably last until the assembling of Congress, when it is expected by some a line of policy will be chalked out by the Government, enabling us to see clearer than we do now, the future drift of things.

From Washington.

The Washington correspondent of the Ledger says:

It is believed that an attempt was made last night to burn the Long Bridge, which connects this city with the Virginia side. A boat containing twenty persons was seen by some federal troops coming up the Potomac, and their character being unmistakeable, they were fired upon, two of them killed and the remainder captured and conveyed to the arsenal, in this city. In their boat was found a quantity of powder, fuse and matches, and there is scarcely a doubt but what the object of the party was the destruction, by explosion, of the bridge. It is not yet known how the prisoners will be dealt with.

The fortifications of the government troops are now completed for some distance beyond Alexandria, while at the latter point there are nineteen pieces of ordnance in a commanding position.

The Ninth Regiment of New York, now located at Poolesville, Md., will it is said, march to the neighborhood of Harper's Ferry to-day. Two members of the regiment reached here this morning, with despatches for Gen. Sandford. Rumor asserts that the despatches in question request that the artillery now at Camp Corcoran be ordered to join the Ninth in its march, but it is believed the request will not be complied with, as the service of the artillery may be required for the defence of Washington.

In anticipation of a speedy collision between the opposing armies, Gen. Scott has ordered all the surgeons connected with the army now in this city to cross the Potomac, which order has been obeyed.

It is reported that a disbanding of the 28th Regiment from New York is likely to take place, owing to serious differences and troubles that have arisen among the members. It is stated as certain that a large number of the three months volunteers will refuse positively to stay another hour after their term of service has expired—the reason given, being that they have had quite enough of soldier life to last them for years to come.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer says the troops on Arlington Heights are suffering terribly from the heat. He further says:

It is reported in Alexandria this morning, that three of our sentinels were picked off last night, three miles this side of Vienna. It is the belief of some of our officers at Alexandria, that the Confederates will make a desperate attempt to retake that place. Five thousand troops arrived here yesterday, and five thousand more are expected to-day.

Nine of the Ohio Regiment, slain at Vienna, were buried in one grave on Wednesday last.—They were found in the woods in which they took refuge. A member of Tomkins' Cavalry has come in from Falls Church and reports that at noon the Confederates were still concentrating at Fairfax.

From Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, June 21.—The Democrat has a special despatch from Syracuse, about twenty-five miles south of Booneville, which says that an expedition of nearly 1,000 strong, with four pieces of artillery, under Captain Totten, of the regular service, left Booneville Wednesday night, and reached this place at 10 A. M. yesterday. Gov. Jackson, with about 500 men, arrived here on Tuesday, suddenly left yesterday forenoon proceeding southward towards Warsaw. Our forces have gone forward to-day.

A battle took place at sunrise on Tuesday morning, between 800 Union Home Guards, under Capt. Cook, near the town of Cole Camp, and a large party of Secessionists from Warsaw and the surrounding country, in which 15 Guards were killed, 20 wounded, many of them severely, and 30 prisoners were taken. Most of the Guards were in a large barn when the firing began, but they immediately sprung to arms, and 'tis said killed 40 of the attacking party before being overpowered by superior numbers. Capt. Cook reached here this morning in disguise. He says not over half his force was armed, and not more than two hundred participated in the fight. He hastened forward to overtake and consult with Capt. Totten.

Some of Jackson's party went west from here on Wednesday night by railroad, taking what rolling stock they could, destroying the rest, and burning the Lamine bridge, a costly structure, 6 miles west of here. Among several letters seized in Booneville by Gen. Lyon, were some embracing orders from headquarters to destroy the bridges on the North Missouri, the Hannibal and St. Joseph, and Pacific railroads, and instructions to different officers and individuals respecting the organization of troops, &c., &c. There was also one enumerating the property seized at the U. S. Arsenal at Liberty some time since.

Southern News via Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, June 21.—The New Orleans Picayune of the 17th instant, says that there are now in New Orleans parties who will undertake to capture the U. S. steamer Brooklyn for $100,000. The Mobile Advertiser of the 16th, says that three plans have been suggested to the Council of Defence to sink or drive off the Niagara from Mobile Point, and adds that the Niagara will be obliged to get out of the way of the iron battery which will soon be after her. Governor Harris, of Tennessee, in his message to the Legislature, recommends the passage of a law requiring the payment of all sums due from the State to all persons or governments on terms of peace, and advises such a policy towards the citizens of belligerent States as the rules of war justify. He also recommends the issue of treasury notes to pay the expenses of the Provisional Government, to be receivable as currency.

Movement of Troops South from Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, June 21.—There has been an unusual excitement about the War and Executive Departments to-day, consequent upon the reception of the news that Col. Wallace was hemmed in at Cumberland, Md., and that all escape for that gallant officer was cut off, except by retreating into Bedford county, Pa. Orders were immediately issued to Col. Biddle's Rifle Regiment, Col. Simmons' Infantry Regiment, and Campbell's Battery, consisting of ten field pieces, with the necessary supply of horses and ammunition, to prepare to leave to-night at 11 o'clock. The arms, ammunition, and equipments were issued to the men this afternoon, and each man was provided with a goodly supply of rations. They will go on the Pennsylvania Central as far as Huntingdon, and thence to Hopewell, on the Broad Top Railroad. From the latter place they march either to Bedford or Rainsburg, a distance of between forty and fifty miles, through a cool country, at the base of the Alleghany. Each man is thoroughly equipped, armed, and furnished with five days' provisions.

A False Alarm—War Preparations.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—At 4 o'clock this morning one of the camps, about a half mile from Georgetown, was thrown into alarm and the men called to quarters, but the commotion soon subsided. It may have been occasioned by firing at the pickets, as, according to the representations of the soldiery, the Secession scouts have for some time past been indulging in such amusements on both sides the river. Another evidence of active war preparations is in the fact that Quartermaster General Meigs is advertising for more baggage wagons.

Neutrality of Kentucky Respected by both the Belligerents.

LOUISVILLE, June 22.—The papers this morning contain letters from Gov. Magoffin and Gen. Buckner, stating that an agreement has been made between Gen. McClellan and the Kentucky authorities that the territory of Kentucky will be respected by the Federal authorities even though it should be occupied by the Confederates. But if Kentucky does not remove them, the Federal troops will interfere. The Gov. of Tennessee agrees to respect the neutrality of Kentucky until occupied by Federal troops.

THIRD EDITION.

FIVE O'CLOCK, P. M.

The Latest News.

Mr. Henry Taylor, Sun Building, has put us in possession of New York papers of this morning, from which we make the following extracts.

The accounts we have published of the starved condition of the Federal troops are confirmed by the statements of their own journals. The N. Y. Tribune of to-day says:

The condition of the 9th Regiment of N. Y. State Militia as to food, already noticed in The Tribune, is most deplorable for the men, most disgraceful to the officers. A letter from a private of that regiment is before us, in which the writer gives his father, in the plainest language, a statement of their case. The ordinary breakfast and supper consists of crackers and coffee; the dinner brings the luxury of meat—salt pork so fat as to be absolutely unfit for food. On Sunday, as an unusual feast, the men were allowed rice for supper; of this, six pounds and one ounce were given out for 100 men! It is not strange that the young men say their belts have become really too large for them. This disheartening, depressing state of things, shows the grossest incompetence or the most culpable negligence on the part of the officers.

There is another trouble in the camp. The same paper says:

Capt. Brackett of the 2d Cavalry has resigned, because Major Emory, after having left the service for secession reasons, has been restored and promoted. This is not surprising. Loyal officers must naturally revolt at such a premium upon infidelity to the flag; and we dare say that many are withheld from the same step solely by the reflection that their services are necessary to their country. But let them not be too greatly disturbed by Emory's promotion. The Senate have yet to pass upon it. The Administration have nominated him indeed; but he is not yet a Lieutenant-Colonel, and perhaps will not be.

A private letter from a soldier of the 20th Regiment (Turner Rifles, Col. Weber) states that "Dr. Hanscu, the principal physician of the regiment, now stationed at Camp Weber, Hampton Ferry, is quartered with the remainder of the staff at ex-President Tyler's house in that neighborhood.—All the furniture in the house is demolished, excepting three busts in the doctor's room—those of Schiller, Goethe, and Humboldt."

The Washington correspondent of the Tribune says:

One of your correspondents has just returned from a general reconnoissance. He visited all the camps, and the most advanced pickets, and found quiet everywhere. The only sign of the enemy which he could discover with a glass, was a palmetto flag, indicating the presence of South Carolina troops, which was flying three miles from the Connecticut encampment, and about the same distance from Fairfax Court House, near the road thence to Alexandria.

The statement that Gen. Schenck was warned, while on his way to Vienna, of the presence of the Confederate force there has been received with some doubt. You may be assured that it is the fact, and that the advance was not made in ignorance. Gen. Schenck preferred to "go on and see."

It is said that stocks have advanced in Philadelphia on the faith of a speedy peace. We advise everybody who holds at the advanced figures to sell.

A Board has been constituted to estimate the amount of private property destroyed by the Federal forces since they entered Virginia, and to report the same for compensation.

The Herald says editorially:

Gen. McDowell continues to advance his lines. 5,000 of his division moved yesterday from Ball's Cross Roads to the vicinity of Fall's Church, about 3 miles distant from Fairfax C. H., and the same from Vienna. A reconnoissance in the direction of the latter place yesterday afternoon proved that there were 2,500 rebels there, and it was thought that if they should be reinforced a battle is inevitable at that point.

The Washington correspondent of the Herald says:

Col. Ritchie, of Gov. Andrew's staff, telegraphed to the Governor to-night, at the request of the government, to start seven of the ten regiments accepted yesterday as early as to-morrow. It is said that the seven regiments referred to have been drilling for some time, and are thoroughly appointed and ready to start.

It is now evident that the main blow against the Confederates will be struck from the federal capital. The army on the right and left banks of the Potomac, distributed so that it can all be concentrated at one point in less than two hours, now consists of fully forty-five thousand effective men, comprising two infantry and one cavalry regiment of regulars, twenty-one regiments from the city and State of New York, five from Pennsylvania, four from Maine, three from Connecticut, three from Michigan, two from Ohio, two from Massachusetts, one from Rhode Island, and six batteries of light artillery. Ten thousand more men will be added to this immense body early next week. Ten thousand, with the District militia, will be sufficient for the defence of the capital, so that a grand army of forty-five thousand can be moved against the confederates. With the aid of Gen. Patterson's corps d'armee it will be more than sufficient to break the line of the confederates, and drive them in the direction of Richmond.

Gen. McClelland has been instructed to sweep the last vestige of secession both out of Northwestern and Southwestern Virginia. His army will be strongly reinforced for immediate operations South of the Kanawha river.

Advices from Colorado Territory show that rebellion has raised its head even in that distant and northerly region. One Bliss, pretencing to act in the name of the bogus government instituted in that country previous to its organization by Congress, has issued a variety of traitorous proclamations, aiming at the secession of the Territory.

Humors of the Tribune.

The Washington correspondent of the Tribune who is greatly outraged at the appointment of Col. Emory, thus satirizes the Administration:

I have been here but a short time, yet have ascertained that the Administration is in earnest. I am authorized to announce that the following appointments will soon be made:

Major-Generals—Twiggs, Beauregard, Wigfall, and Johnston.

Brigadier-Generals—Magruder, Bright, Fauntleroy, and Price.

The Hon. Dudley Mann will be appointed Minister to England, vice Adams recalled.

The Hon. J. E. Harvey will be invited to a seat in the Cabinet.

The Hon. John Slidell is earnestly pressed for the French mission, though the impression prevails that Gov. Brown, of Georgia, will be nominated.

Our soldiers have been requested to fire blank cartridges in all engagements with Southern forces.

Commissions in the Naval service have been tendered to the officers and crew of the privateer Savannah.

The ladies of Washington have chartered a large steamer to convey supplies to Norfolk and Richmond. A cabinet officer will sail in the ship to attend to the distribution. More anon.
