BALTIMORE CITY [illegible]

[illegible] of this notably discouraging, [illegible] Mr. Johnson. It is [illegible] be crushed [illegible] and determination [illegible] it. Whether there will be [illegible] of it I cannot pretend to say. It has [illegible] in the opinion of foreign courts of the dignity [illegible] the American Congress.

The Senate is still engaged on the pre-emption [illegible] Mr. Clay, of Kentucky, is going along [illegible] locomotive running a race against the wind. [illegible] the House of Representatives a motion was made by Mr. Morris, of Ohio, to suspend the rules for the purpose of introducing a resolution for the repeal of the sub-treasury law. As might have been expected, the motion to suspend was negatived.

The House then went into Committee on the treasury note bill, and Mr. [illegible] resumed and concluded his remarks in opposition of the bill. It was thought that Mr. W. would be a bitter opponent of the measure, and the course he has taken has surprised his friends.

City Council. First Branch, Jan. 29. Pursuant to adjournment the Council met. Present—Mr. Snyder, president, and all the members except Mr. Barns.

We forgot an item yesterday of some importance. One of the lusty members, character [illegible] for his good nature, was absent. He had gone on a fox hunting expedition down towards North Point. The game being scarce he was therefore obliged to return, without even the sight of a tail. To-day he is "himself again." His colleague is also "at the book."

Mr. J. S. Brown offered a petition from John B. Seidenstricker and others, praying for the erection of a market house on Federal Hill. Referred to committee on markets.

Mr. Pinkney called up the report of the joint committee on claims, relative to the petition of R. B. Varden, Esq. asking pay for services while acting as clerk to the commissioners, who were authorised to open Monroe street.

Mr. Gorsuch proposed an amendment, which, upon considerable discussion, in which himself, Mr. Pinkney, Mr. Keyser, Mr. Peregoy and Mr. Dryden took part, was rejected. The resolution as offered originally was passed.

A report from the joint select committee relative to the collection of taxes, was handed in, accompanying which was a resolution requesting the councils of the city to prepare a memorial (which memorial had been prepared and read) to be presented to the Legislature of Maryland, praying for the passage of an act which would more effectually reach the collection of certain taxes due by citizens of Baltimore. Passed and concurred in by the Second Branch.

Mr. Keyser, chairman of the joint committee on fire companies, handed in favorable reports on all the petitions which had been presented, praying for special appropriations, &c.

A message was received from the Mayor, which was a petition from the United Fire company, praying for an appropriation. Referred to committee on fire companies.

Mr. Peregoy called up the report and substitute of the joint committee on health, and which, on motion, was granted, and ordered to be laid on the table.

A message was received from the Second Branch informing the First Branch of its adjournment.

On motion of Mr. Brown, the councils adjourned until Monday next at half past three o'clock.

Cold weather out West. The St. Louis papers speak feelingly of the extreme cold experienced out west. On the 16th and 17th instant the mercury fell as low as 12 degrees below zero, or 44 degrees below freezing point. This beats the yankees! On the morning of the 18th a Welchman was found frozen to death in the street. A fine cow was also found in the street, standing on all fours, perfectly frozen.

Affray. In Jefferson city, Mo. a member of the Legislature and the Attorney General had a scuffle in the portico of the State House.

A child burnt to death. The Doylestown Intelligencer states that a child about four years of age, named Van Lavance, was burnt to death in that borough a few days since.

Fire. The grocery store of Edward A. Woolley, at Brooklyn, was destroyed by fire a night or two ago.

The millions. Father Matthew recently stated in the course of a speech that the Irish tee-totallers amounted to 3,500,000.

A war sign. It is said that the British are fortifying Halifax in the most imposing and formidable manner.
