One of the most Distinguished Jurists in New England writes to a friend as follows:

"I have tried the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and the result fully sustains your prediction. It has made a new man of me; infused into my system new vigor and energy; I am no longer tremulous and debilitated as when you last saw me, but stronger, heartier, and with larger capacity for labor, mental and physical, than at any time during the last five years."

An eminent Divine of Boston says:

CLOTHIERS, &c.

SEQUEL TO THE HERMIT AND DUCK.

BY THE BARD OF MARBLE HALL.

Time rolled along like the brook by the door,
And the boy grew up to a man;
New the Hermit had sprouted him often before
To take him to Baltimore then.

So one morning when fall Indian summer's deep haze
O'er the forest all stripped of its leaves,
And the sun looked aloft like a world in a blaze,
And the wind gently moaned of its griefs;

The hermit and youth started Baltimoreward,
While the fresh-hearted youth in delight
Runs ahead and then back o'er the moss-covered sward,
Till he's weary and foot-sore at night.

The first thing they saw when they entered the street
Was a lady in full walking dress,
With a smile on her face most bewitchingly sweet,
That seemed lurking in each raven tress.

"What is that," said the youth, "'tis an angel I know,"
This is heaven! we're got there!! good, luck!!!
"Now don't be a fool," said the hermit, "I trow
"Your angel is only a duck."

"Oh! we'll take a pair home," said the youth with delight,
"Let me catch it and pat its sleek head,
What a quack for a duck! as she screamed with affright,
What a wonder! he said as she fled.

The duck "in good order" "still back" very fast,
And the youth still kept up the chase,
Till he reached No. 40 West Baltimore street,
And he saw is "the Bard" of the place.

For you see the lady ran into MARBLE HALL to claim protection, and the youth followed in his innocent pursuit. Messrs. SMITH BROS. explained to the youth his mistake, and gave him a NEW SUIT OF CLOTHING to buy him off. He has since given the lucky duck and gone to writing "Ma. Hall's Ode" for Messrs. SMITH BROS. & CO., MARBLE HALL, CLOTHING HOUSE, No. 40 WEST BALTIMORE ST., who have the largest, best and cheapest stock of ready made Clothing in the city. Also a heavy stock of Piece Goods, which they make to order QUICKLY, NEATLY and DURABLY.

N. B.—My readers will naturally be anxious to ascertain the fate of the Hermit, but as I have not space to dispose of both heroes in one story I must reserve that for my next. mh25-tf
