Mayor Chapman's Message to the City Council.—Mayor Chapman yesterday sent the following message to the City Council:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, CITY HALL, BALTIMORE, Oct. 20, 1864.

To the Honorable the Members of the First and Second Branches of the City Council.—Gentlemen:—The Presidents of the First and Second Branches of the City Council being the only recognized officers empowered by law to represent the Mayor of the city in case of sickness or disability, it becomes my duty to call you together for the purpose of prompt organization to provide against the contingency of such an event. This object consummated, I trust I may be permitted to congratulate your honorable body, the community, and the State of Maryland, upon the adoption of the new Constitution, an event devoutly looked for as being the most important epoch in the history of our State.

The second section of article 34, under the head of legislative department, requires that "the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore shall divide the city into three election districts;" this provision demands your immediate attention, as the election takes place at an early day. The following is the section referred to. (The section is here given.)

I have been called upon by various delegations of our citizens in reference to some relief being granted from the present draft.—They have been assiduously engaged for some time past in endeavoring to raise the necessary amount to accomplish the much desired object, but unfortunately have not been able to succeed only to a limited extent. I would, therefore, respectfully call the attention of your honorable body to the fact, and request that you would take into consideration the propriety of appropriating so much of the County appropriation, unexpended, as will entirely relieve them.

With great respect, your ob't serv't,
JOHN LEE CHAPMAN, Mayor.

Western Maryland Railroad.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of this road took place on Wednesday in Westminster. The gross earnings of the company, commencing September 30th, 1863, and ending September 30th, 1864, are shown to be $95,293.52; whilst the gross expenses, in the same time, including the following items are for operating the road, $41 833 29; construction, $9,236 75; machine shops, $2 376 11; machinery and tolls, $4,616 03—making an aggregate of $58,118 18—leaving a balance of $37,176 34

The Treasurer's report exhibits the gross receipts, including the balance of last year, to be $167,987 20, and the disbursements in the same time $103 427 62, leaving a balance, on the 30th instant, of $4,559.58. The necessity of laying an independent track from Owens' Mills, or the Relay House, to Baltimore, so as to obviate dependence on the Northern Central, is suggested and urged. It is likewise shown that additional machine shops for the use of the company are required and ought to be built. By a note from John A. Thompson, Esq., city register, it appears the company has in the register's keeping a sinking fund of $16,700 in the shape of endorsed bonds. The following directors were re-elected—Nathan Kepler, Augustus Shriver, Granville S. Haines, John H. Stevenson and Francis B. Cockrain.

The Guerrilla Fight.—In our notice yesterday of the fight near Ridgeville, between several guerillas and a detachment of Delaware soldiers, we unintentionally omitted the name of Lieut. Cant. Lilly, of the 11th Md. Infantry. The Lieut. had received information of the doings of the rebels, and was on the lookout for them when he met the Delaware squad. He joined in the pursuit, and when the encounter began, the proprietor of the house where the rebels were discovered attempted to shoot him. The latter, however, was too quick for his enemy, and, drawing his revolver, shot the rebel in the face, the bullet passing entirely through the cheek. The horse which the Lieut. rode was wounded, and beside the wounding of a Union Sergeant, these were the only casualties inflicted upon the squad. We stated that three were three rebels killed; in that we were mistaken; there was but one killed and his name was S. D. Pritchard, a member of the Independent Virginia Rangers. The body was buried near the place where the encounter was had. The rebel who escaped was named Chas Rice.

Charged with Stealing.—Detective John Smith yesterday arrested W. H. Stewart, residing near the first toll gate on the Frederick road, charged with having a few days since stolen a horse and buggy, the property of W. H. Givens, a resident of Smyrna, Del. It is alleged that the accused sold the horse and buggy to persons residing on the Philadelphia turnpike, a short distance from the city. Stewart was looked up in the Central police station for safe keeping, and information of the arrest sent to Mr. Givens.

Congressional Nominations.—The Hon. J. A. J. Cresswell, of Cecil county, has been declared the unanimous choice of the Union party of the First District for Congress—Colonel Edwin H. Webster, of the Second District; Hon. Francis Thomas, of the Fourth District, and Colonel John C. Bellows, of the Fifth District, have also been nominated for Congress. Thomas Hodson, John E. Smith, of Carroll county, has been presented for Judge of the Circuit Court for the seventh judicial district of this State.

Became Jealous.—On Wednesday night James Badger, colored, was arrested in South Baltimore, charged with attempting to kill Eliza Gross, a colored woman. The accused had been courting the female and became jealous because she received the attentions of another swain, and meeting her on the night in question he discharged a pistol at her but fortunately inflicted no harm. Justice Johnson committed him to jail for court.

Farewell Benefit.—The Florences will take their farewell benefit to-night, and will present to their friends three excellent pieces—Here to Get Lost, Michel-vous Annie, and I'll Assume. Persons who contemplate visiting the Front Street Theatre to-night should secure their seats the morning. A [illegible] will be given to-morrow after[illegible]

Death of a Guerilla.—A man calling himself [illegible], claiming to be a deserter from the rebel army, was brought to the Old Capitol Wednesday yesterday, under guard [illegible] that he is a deserter, and desires to take the oath of allegiance. Gen. Wedley ordered him to be locked up until he can investigate his case.

Taken to the Front.—Lieut. John McLure, Quartermaster, from Pennsylvania, who has been confined in the city jail for the past two weeks on the charge of attempting to desert from his post, was sent to General Grant's Headquarters, yesterday, in charge of a guard.

Camille.—Mrs. D. P. Bowers will take her first benefit to-night, and will appear as Camille in the play of that name. This character is well adapted to the great genius of Mrs. Bowers, and that she will do the author full justice no one will for a moment doubt.—Mr. McCollom will essay the character of Armand Duval.

Friends Meeting.—The yearly meeting of Friends will commence on Sunday next, at the corner of Courtland and Saratoga streets. Several distinguished and eloquent ministers are expected to attend, and meeting for Divine worship will be held at the usual hours in the morning and afternoon.

Defrauding Substitutes.—Benj. and Simon Weil were arrested yesterday charged with swindling substitutes out of their bounty.—The accused were held for the orders of Col. Woolley.

Theft.—Margaret Maxwell was arrested on Wednesday night, charged with stealing $40, the property of W. Williams. Justice Johnson committed the accused to jail for the action of the grand jury.

Selling Liquor to Soldiers.—George Butler was arrested yesterday charged with selling liquor to soldiers. He was locked up in the military prison for trial.

Disloyal.—O. H. Lang, charged with disloyalty, was arrested yesterday and locked up in the military prison for trial.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

In accordance with a summons from his Honor, the Mayor, both Branches of the recently elected City Council assembled yesterday afternoon in their respective chambers. Annexed will be found the proceedings of both Branches:

FIRST BRANCH.—Special Session.—The Branch was organized by electing James Young, Esq., President of the Branch; Geo. Brooks, Chief Clerk, at a salary of $6 per day; James L. Parr, Reading Clerk, at a salary of $5 per day, and James Maddux, Sergeant-at-Arms, at a salary of $3 per day.

On motion a committee was appointed to wait upon his Honor, the Mayor, and inform him of the organization of the Branch.

The committee performed the duty assigned them, and shortly after their return to the Branch the President announced the various joint and special committees.

Mr. Evans moved that the retiring clerk (Mr. Bandel) receive one day's per diem ($6) for calling the Branch together; adopted, with but one dissenting voice—Mr. Nichols.

A message was received from the Mayor, in relation to dividing the city into three election districts, and for providing for persons liable to be drafted. On motion, a special committee was appointed to consider the suggestions contained in the Mayor's message.

Mr. Foreman submitted a resolution extending a welcome to the Purnell Legion and other returning regiments whose term of service is about expiring; adopted. Adjourned.

SECOND BRANCH.—The members met, and the officers previously nominated in caucus were elected.

The salary of the Chief Clerk was fixed at $7 per day, and that of the Doorkeeper $4.

A committee was appointed to act in conjunction with one from the First Branch to wait upon the Mayor, and inform him that they had organized and were prepared to receive any communication he might be disposed to make.

The President announced the names of the various joint standing committees, which will appear in the journal.

The President laid before the Branch a communication from the Mayor, which was read and referred to a select committee to act in conjunction with a similar committee from the First Branch.

The Branch authorized the appointment of a committee of three to give a public reception to the Purnell Legion and other Maryland commands on their arrival in this city. Adjourned.

The Autograph Mania.

A valuable collection of 3,664 autographs, the property of the late Gen. Radowitz, of Prussia, comprising celebrities of all nations during the last four hundred years, a printed catalogue of which covers 250 pages, is to be sold during the present month by public auction, in Berlin. Here are chrographical examples of a long range of historical character, from Zwingle to Abd-el-Kader, and from Andrea Doria, one of the Doges of Genoa, to Giuseppe Garibaldi, whose moral influence is a power to day greater than that ever possessed by all the Doges combined. Here also are rich rarities to autograph collectors, as letters of John Huss, A. D. 1415; Martin Luther, 1546; John Calvin and Philip Melancthon, 1560; Desiderius Erasmus, 1538; and a large number of the Reformers, Monarchs, Diplomats, and Generals of Europe. Actors and Revolutionists, Bourbons and Bonapartes in profusion, are here brought together by this indefatigable chiffonier of history.

The collection also includes many of our own distinguished public men, with the customary admixture of mistakes incident to foreign handling of American subjects. Alex. Hamilton is recorded as one of the Presidents of the United States; Martin Van Buren as only one of the Ministers; and among the W's Webster, Daniel!

A letter of Jefferson to Humboldt is particularly noted for the remarkable enunciation, "That the lex majoris partis is the fundamental law of every society of individuals of equal rights, and that to consider the will of the society announced by the majority of a single vote as sacred as if unanimous, is the first of all lessons in importance, yet the first which is thoroughly learned." This is a "Virginia abstraction" which that other Jefferson—in name only—at Richmond, does not recognize, for did he not distinctly aver to Mr. Gilmore the other day that he should not abide by the will of the majority? Verily the great apostle of Democracy would not recognize his pretended disciples to-day.—Boston Traveller's Correspondence.

☞ A man applied to Dr. Jackson, the celebrated chemist, with a box of specimens. "Can you tell me what this is, sir?" "Certainly I can, sir; that is iron pyrites."—"What, sir?" in a voice of thunder. "Iron pyrites! and what's that?"—"That's what it is," said the chemist, putting a lot on the shovel over the hot coals, where it disappeared. "Dicers." "And what's iron worth?" "Nothing." "Nothing! Why there's a woman in our town who owns a hill of that—and I've married her!"

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS ITEMS.

A "STRAW" FROM RANDOM.—Col. Frank T. Sherman assures us that during his extensive and rather uncovable tour through Dixie, involving observations at Macon, Charleston and Richmond, one of the first questions eagerly asked by rebel officers is, "Will McClellan be elected?" They betray the deepest interest in his success, and the inference is plain, that their sole hope of ultimate recognition is based upon their living on "fat their poor dying rats" until the election of McClellan, when they trust the rebellion will be crowned a successful revolution. In a word, they expect to conquer not by Southern arms, but by Northern votes. The man is standing on traitor's ground who will not bend every energy to crush the hope.—Chicago Journal.

☞ The St. Louis Republican states that at a certain point on the Tennessee river is the headquarters of an old man, who has become a terror to steamboat men. He is over 60 years old, has a long heavy-barrelled gun, and is continually on the watch for a shot at persons employed on the Government transports. He seldom misses his aim, and is said to have killed as many as 60 men. Futile efforts have been made to catch him; the country thereabouts is a wilderness, composed of dense forests, impenetrable swamps and deep ravines, and in these he makes his home.

☞ A young lady advertises in the Cleveland Plaindealer for a young gentleman to act as an amanuensis. He must be able to write in cipher, and when not engaged he will be expected to read poetry with feeling, converse with ease, and be able to play cribbage and backgammon. He must expect to be kissed when she is pleased, and cuffed when she is not; but as her temper is acknowledged to be good, there will be more kissing than cuffing. There's a good chance for somebody.

DESSERT A LA MODE OF PARIS.—The latest "mode" in regard to dessert at fashionable tables of Paris, is to serve the fruit, still growing, in pots. Pears, cherries, peaches, grapes, plums, figs, nectarines, &c., are placed on the table growing on dwarfed capitiers, the pots standing on silver sockets or on trays. Strawberries thus growing are easily obtained. A pot containing a strawberry plant in full bearing is placed before each guest.

☞ The statistical returns now being received by the Agricultural Department from all sections of the country show that the crops will turn out much better than has been anticipated. There will be a full average crop of all the principal products, and of potatoes the yield is extraordinarily large.—The latter part of the season has been more favorable, and to a great extent compensated for the damage done by the drought.

☞ A frightful accident has just taken place at Ulm, from petroleum oil. During a representation at the theatre, 24 lamps attached to the chandelier caught fire from the roof burst in succession, with great rapidity, and the burning oil fell like a shower of fire on the spectators, among whom were a number of ladies. In a moment the dresses of 20 of the society announced by the majority of a single vote as sacred as if unanimous, is the first of all lessons in importance, yet the first which is thoroughly learned." This is a "Virginia abstraction" which that other Jefferson—in name only—at Richmond, does not recognize, for did he not distinctly aver to Mr. Gilmore the other day that he should not abide by the will of the majority? Verily the great apostle of Democracy would not recognize his pretended disciples to-day.—Boston Traveller's Correspondence.

☞ Information has been received at Washington, from Japan, that our claims upon that government are in a fair way of being satisfactorily settled.

☞ The New York Daily News continues to insist that General McClellan shall "assert publicly, as he does privately, that he will favor an immediate cessation of hostilities."

☞ The corn crop in Minnesota this year is the largest and best ever raised in that State.

SEWING MACHINES.

ON ALL SIDES we hear the merits of the GROVER & BAKER'S CELEBRATED SEWING-MACHINE extolled. The ladies declare it the "very best," and prove it to us in so many undeniable facts that we are bound to confess our conviction of the truth of the declaration. What other machine will embroider so beautifully, braid so elegantly, hem so faultlessly, quilt so evenly, stitch so accurately, gather so regularly, operate so easily? NONE, we conscientiously affirm.
