Union Nominations.—The delegates elected on Monday night, in the several wards, under the proclamations of the new Constitution, assembled last night in convention in their respective districts and made the following nominations: First district—comprising the 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th Wards. For Senator, Robert Turner; for the House of Delegates, Thos. Hooper, J. C. Van Tromp, O. Bartol, Capt. J. H. Cook, Thos. B. Hambleton, H. J. O. Tarr.

Second district—comprising the 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 19th and 20th Wards. For Senator, Joseph C. Whitney; for the House of Delegates, T. Taylor Darling, John Frazier, Joseph Harris, Samuel J. Beper, Thomas J. Tull, Thomas H. Moire.

Third district—comprising the 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th Wards. For Senator, George C. Maund; for House of Delegates, S. J. Grafton, John B. Cummins, Henry C. Jones, Michael Shewsware, Henry G. Harper, James Pilkington.

Public School Board.—At the meeting of the Public School Board last evening, bills to the amount of $2,444.83 were reported by the Committee on Accounts, and ordered to be paid. Free admissions to the various schools to the number of 49 with 1 transfer, were reported by the several Commissioners. A communication from Mrs. A. Hyatt, on behalf of a committee of ladies, asking to be allowed the use of the Western and Eastern Female High Schools during the Christmas holidays, for one or more evenings, for the purpose of having tableaux, readings, &c., for the benefit of disabled soldiers, was read, and on motion of Mr. Plummer, the request was granted, the committee of the schools to have supervision of the buildings.

Mr. Merrifield offered the following:

"Resolved, That this Board join unanimously in congratulation with their fellow-citizens of Maryland upon this auspicious day, which dawns for the first time in her history upon free Maryland."

The resolution was adopted without dissent.

Mr. Leary suggested that the new Constitution contained some provisions in relation to the Public Schools, which it would be desirable to have considered, and on his motion the President and Secretary were authorized to examine the Constitution, and report what action is deemed necessary on the Board to take. On motion of Mr. Plummer, authority was given for the appointment of a teacher of French in the Female High Schools, to alternate between each school. On motion of Mr. Lowry, the Treasurer was authorized to draw upon the City Register for the amount of the special appropriation, $5,000, for No. 23 School, and furniture.

On motion of Mr. Pitt, the Treasurer was authorized to lease a lot, 50 by 150 feet, on Eden street, near Eastern avenue, at a yearly ground rent of $250; and when leased the Building Committee to advertise for proposals for the erection of a school building. Authority was given to the committee of No. 1 to employ temporarily a teacher. Miss Emma R. Green was elected as an assistant in No. 12 Female Primary School. On motion of Mr. Jones, the committee of No. 4 Primary School was authorized to lease a lot for the use of said school, which is located on Hill between Hanover and Sharp streets. The Board adjourned to next Tuesday Evening.

Emancipation Day.—The colored portion of our community celebrated yesterday into a day of holiday, thanksgiving and prayer.—During the day they donned their best attire, and social reunions were indulged in extensively. The various churches were thronged during the entire day, and at the church on Saratoga street the scene was one of peculiar interest. The place was crowded, and at times it was impossible for a vehicle to pass along the street, so dense was the mass of persons. According to the request of the Mayor, the bells of the city at sunrise yesterday pealed forth their joyful sounds that Maryland was at last a free State. The sounds of the bells had not died away before loud mouthed orators from all sections of the city echoed with their calls that henceforth slavery shall have no foothold upon the soil of our free State. At noon and sundown the same programme was observed. Hundreds of flags floated from the shipping and private residences, and our citizens appeared to enjoy the occasion in the true light of a grand holiday. At the Baltimore city jail there were three females and one male confined on the charge of being runaway slaves. They were brought into the Criminal Court by order of Judge Bond, who informed them that for the future they were free people, and not subject to the will and caprice of brutal masters. The poor creatures appeared overjoyed at being declared free, and upon quitting the Court-room they were immediately surrounded by their friends and heartily congratulated.

Death of a Brave Officer.—We received the painful intelligence yesterday, that Capt. Buckley, of the 1st Veteran Regiment Maryland Cavalry, was killed on the 26th ult., while scouting in the vicinity of Richmond. The deceased was greatly beloved by his companions in arms, and a purer spirit than his in the cause of national honor, has not been sacrificed upon the altar of freedom since the breaking out of the rebellion. The Captain, with a small squad, had ridden within the picket lines of the enemy, and upon attempting to return they were fired upon. A bullet passed through the head of the Captain, killing him instantly. The body will be embalmed and taken to Pittsburg where the valiant young Buckley resides.

Among his men he was a general favorite, and wherever he led they willingly followed. He possessed their unbounded love and confidence. Over men under his command he only to shrank from no danger, and manifested by his every word and act that his heart and soul was absorbed in the suppression of the rebellion.

It is with such records as these that will constitute the heroes of this war, whose names will be handed down to posterity and preserved in the archives of History as the brave defenders of the Union and Constitutional liberty.

Cases of the Provost Marshal's Department.—Jacob Nerlet, arrested on the 13th of May in connection with John Darious and a negro named Keeling, upon the charge of black-leading, was tried by a military commission and convicted, but recommended to be sent north of the boundary of Pennsylvania. Here is the evidence of allegiance.

Peter Bohman, tried upon the charge of disloyal Government language, with as hard [illegible] Government language, was sentenced to be imprisoned in Bedford for three years in the penitentiary at Albany, to date from the 20th of last July, the day of his arrest.

[illegible] Morris, arrested on the 13th of September upon the charge of aiding deserters, was found guilty and sentenced to three years hard labor at Fort McHenry.

The Peace Question in France.

FEELING OF THE FRENCH COMPARED IN FAVOR OF THE ENGLISH PEACE ADDRESS.

[Paris Correspondence London Post, Oct. 14.]

The Moniteur and other papers have referred to the peace address sent from Great Britain to the American people. If three hundred thousand signatures have been obtained in England and Ireland, an equal number might with the utmost ease have been collected in France. The Emperor, it will be remembered, long since took the initiative, and caused his Minister of Foreign Affairs to address the Government at Washington, suggesting that an attempt should be made to bring about a suspension of hostilities and then negotiate. In those days neither the North nor the South were disposed to listen to anything but the war drum and trumpet. There was no other sound welcome. The contending giants were young and fresh.

Her Britannic Majesty's government did not attempt to back the representation of France, because it was the opinion of Lord Palmerston and his colleagues that the time had not yet arrived when the counsels of foreigners could be of any avail. The French government, regarding this civil war as a great disaster for America, and a great calamity for a certain class of manufacturers, has continued officiously to promote ideas of reconciliation. On the other hand, the strictest neutrality was and is observed on all questions connected with the building of vessels or furnishing munitions of war. The Imperial government of course only knows the government of Washington, but it is no secret that, as in England, the Southern Envoys have occasionally communicated with official personages in Paris.

Perhaps the sympathy of the majority in this country is with the southern cause. The French people instinctively lean towards the weaker party, and witness, in the heroic fights of the Southern army, a people struggling bravely, and with marvellous endurance against an enemy whose resources, domestic and foreign, are almost unlimited. The French people, from all that one can observe, desire to witness the end of this bloody struggle quite as much as do all right thinking men in England. Personal and material interests, however, have less to do with that feeling than formerly. The cotton trade of Havre and Rouen has gradually righted itself, at least to a certain extent. As in England, other supplies have been landed at Havre, and trade has gradually recovered. The exportation trade from France to America has not, strange to say, fallen off. The wealthy in the Northern States buy largely from France. The port of Havre, which directly communicates with America, has now a new line of steamers.

The emigration, chiefly of Germans, has resumed its ordinary activity. A Havre journal tells us that the number of emigrants who left Havre during the month of September was 761, of whom 609 were for the United States and 52 for La Plata.

The alarm once felt in this country about the American war has greatly diminished.—But the desire for peace is not less universal. Humanitarian as well as material interests associate the governments and people of France, with the sentiments embodied in the peace address of the British nation.

RELIEF FOR THE REBELS IN LIVERPOOL.

[London (Oct. 14) correspondence of the Dublin Freeman's Journal.]

A bazaar is to be held in Liverpool on Tuesday next, on behalf of the widows and orphans of the Confederate soldiers who have fallen in the civil war in America, and to ameliorate the condition of the maimed and wounded. As the current of public sympathy runs steadily in favor of the Confederates not only in the capital of Lancashire, but also in the metropolis of the Empire, a very large sum will, it is believed, be realized. The photographic portraits of the great statesman and soldier of the Confederacy will also be largely circulated through the instrumentality of the bazaar.

This grand bazaar in aid of Southern prisoners was opened at Liverpool on the 18th instant, with great success. Political feeling is disclaimed in the matter, and very general support is being extended to the bazaar.

Governor Seymour on the Arrests in Washington.

ALBANY, Oct. 30.—Governor Seymour has issued the following proclamation:

To Amos J. Parker, William F. Allen, and Wm. Kelly, greeting:

It being reported that Col. Samuel North, agent of the State of New York at Washington, together with certain other citizens of this State, not in the military or naval service of the United States, have been placed in arrest by the military authorities of the United States, and no reason for such arrest having been given to me, and being anxious to learn the fact of such arrest and the grounds thereof, to the end that no innocent person may be imprisoned without a fair and speedy trial, and that no charge may be put in the way of the soldiers of the State having a fair ballot according to the laws, shall be held to an over ruling.

Know you, that I, Horatio Seymour, Governor of the State of New York, do hereby appoint you, Amos J. Parker, William F. Allen, and William Kelly, commissioners, and in behalf of the State of New York, and do authorize and direct you, and each of you, forthwith to proceed to the city of Washington as such commissioners, there to inquire into the facts and circumstances relating to such arrests, and alleged causes therefor, and to take such action in the premises as will vindicate the laws of the State, and the rights and liberty of its citizens, to the end that justice may be done; and that all attempts to prevent soldiers from this state, in the service of the United States, from voting, or to defraud them, or to coerce their action in voting, or to deprive them of the votes already cast by them, in pursuance of the laws of this State, may be exposed and punished, and that you report your proceedings to me with all convenient speed. HORATIO SEYMOUR.

D. Williams, Jr., Private Secretary.

We learn that the commissioners appointed by Governor Seymour, as indicated by his "order," have arrived in the city. It is not yet ascertained whether they will arrest and carry off the President and Cabinet, in order that they may be "deposed and punished." This fiery indignation which Seymour and his minions are getting up is too manifestly the old trick of "stop thief," while they are running off with the booty, to deceive anyone.—Wash. Chronicle.

MARYLAND PROCLAIMED A FREE STATE.—The highest courts of Maryland have overruled all the technicalities raised by the rebels and copperheads for an injunction upon Governor Bradford and he has issued his proclamation declaring that the new Constitution has received a majority of the votes cast, and will go into operation on the 1st of November. Thus the deed is completed, and Maryland this day begins her career as a free State. It will be a career rank with the most glorious in her calendar. Eight glorious for her loyal citizens who have fought for the life, liberty, dignity and power now bestowed.—New York Times.

☞ A Dispatch bearer in Missouri, finding he was surrounded by some of Price's men, and that he would be unable to escape or conceal his dispatches, placed them in his revolver and fired the revolver, thus destroying them, and enabling him to conceal his business from them.

☞ The Methodist Episcopal Convention in New York has resolved that the enlargement of slavery in church is a sin, practically to the exclusion of the organization, is at variance with the spirit of Divine worship, and subversive of its purpose.

☞ The shoe makers in Lowell have under investigation the case of a man who sold his substitute money, whereupon, if he is found guilty, he will be sent to the place where he belongs.
