LOCAL NEWS.

Capture of a Sword for Harry Gilmore.—Of late several ladies of Baltimore, ranking among the first families, have been carrying on an extensive correspondence with persons in the rebel army. The dear creatures wanted of forwarding and receiving letters, and resolved to send to their dear friends in the rebel army tokens of a more substantial character. After considerable argument, it was determined that a superb sabre and scabbard would prove the very thing for Major Harry Gilmore in his raids upon railroads. The committee in this city, of which Mrs Hatchins, wife of Thomas J. Hutchins, lawyer, residing at No. 132 North Charles street, was looked upon as its chief, was delegated to purchase the required instrument of pomp and death. She opened a correspondence with a male friend in New York upon the subject, requesting him to purchase a beautiful article.

The New York agent replied in due course of time that he "had been around" to inform himself on the subject of swords and sabres, and believed that he was prepared to graduate with the fullest credit and honor and obtain a prize for an essay on the above, including a supplementary treatise of scabbards. One portion of the letter stated that Damascus blades were few and far between, and not held in much veneration. One sword in particular was described as an "ugly affair," and had but little about it to recall ideas of "oriental grace and beauty." A sabre and scabbard however was purchased and expressed to this city. It was received by Mrs. H., and on last Thursday night it was to have been forwarded to Virginia by a true and tried messenger, but unfortunately for Gilmor and his friends in this city, Col. Woolley had taken a fancy to the sabre and its attachments, and prevented its delivery to the redoubtable Harry.

On the night in question, one of Colonel Woolley's most experienced detectives, visited the Camden street depot, and arrested the true and tried messenger. The present was found in his possession besides an important trail. The messenger was locked up in the military prison for a further hearing and the contents of the mail examined. The first letter opened was from the donors of the sabre, of which the following is a copy:

Dear Harry:—I hope you will receive this with our love. The bearer will inform you concerning it. You can judge him by his deeds; he is true. We have been very unhappy about your wounds, but hear that you are better. All well and hopeful. The boys are doing well. The ——— will return, send us a letter by him. This is a token of our appreciation for your noble deeds and daring bravery; accept it with the heartfelt sincerity and regard of yours ———

Another letter to Gilmore, said, "I enjoyed our walk yesterday. How little our friend dreamt of the weapon you carried (alluding to the sword, which the writer supposed Gilmore had received,) of which she might have been proud. With timid love I apologize for the truth I am giving ———"

From information contained in other letters, Col. Woolley yesterday ordered the arrest of Mrs. Hutchins, and ordered her to be confined in the city jail. The arrest caused considerable of a flutter among the bon ton.

The cleverness with which the Colonel conducted the affair, is a sufficient evidence that he fully understands the daily movements of the rebels in our midst, who now look upon him as a perfect "Hawkshaw." The arrest is an important one, as it exposes the higher class of rebels; and while it affects many citizens born in this country, it at the same time exposes certain persons who are living in our midst occupying prominent positions, and who flout the British flag.

Death of an Ex Reporter.—The melancholy duty of announcing the death of a co-laborer occurs, is imposed upon us this morning. It is in the demise of Mr. Geo. A. Cunningham, who, until a few months past was engaged upon this paper in the capacity of reporter. At one time the deceased was a member of the First Branch of the City Council, and proved himself a useful and active member. During the past session of the City Council he was Sergeant-at-Arms for the Second Branch, but was compelled, towards the close of the session, to succumb to the ravages of consumption and seek quiet in his chamber. While engaged on the Clipper as a reporter he was just and fearless in his duty, sparing neither friend or foe, from giving publicity to their actions, and of him it cannot be said that, "nothing did he extenuate, or aught set down in malice." He died at his residence, No. 55 Columbia street, at 5 o'clock this morning. The deceased was a member of the Masonic Order and the Odd Fellows. Requiescat en pace.

Destruction of a Coal Oil Factory.—At half past 8 o'clock yesterday morning the coal oil factory of Joseph C. Merritt & Co., 125 and 127 Eastern avenue near Eden street, was accidentally set on fire. From the combustible character of the contents of the place, it was impossible for the firemen to save much of the stock, and they therefore directed their attention to the preservation of the surrounding property. Building No. 123, owned and occupied as a store and dwelling by Carson Gotty, was in imminent danger of being consumed, but the exertions of the firemen prevented such a disaster. Mr. Merritt estimates his loss upon the building, stock and machinery at $12,000, upon which he has a policy of insurance for $4,500 in the Hope Company of New York. Gotty's loss will, he about $500, upon which he has a policy of insurance in the Firemen's Insurance Company of this city.

St. Andrew's Church, South High Street.—The community will be pleased to learn that the vacancy which has existed in the rectorship of this church for some months past, has been filled by the election of Rev. John B. Henry, of Delaware, who entered upon the discharge of his duties on Sunday last. From the high reputation hitherto enjoyed by Mr. Henry and the zeal with which he has entered upon his duties, there is no doubt but that he will soon build up this congregation, and make it one of the most flourishing in the section of the city in which it is located.

The Seven Sisters.—Another crowded audience witnessed the play of the Seven Sisters last night, at the Holliday Street Theatre.—Miss Lotta, the California diamond, cricket, sunny heralis, beams of sunshine, concentrated mirth fulness, fairy, or whatever she may be termed, was in an excellent humor, and was received with satisfaction. The Sisters will appear again to-night.

Home Again.—Bruce's Battery, as it is known, although Captain Bruce is not now in command, arrived in Baltimore on Saturday afternoon last. The Battery is now officered by Lieutenants Ray, Talbott, Smith (formerly of the 1st Maryland), and Allen. They number about 140, and we are pleased to learn that there is not a copperhead among them.

Sale of Property.—Messrs. Gibson & Co., auctioneers, sold yesterday at the Exchange salesrooms, a lot of ground on Whetstone Point, fronting 231 feet on Clagget street, running back 100 feet; sold at $4 per front foot to Mr. McCubbin. Also, six lots on Ludlow street, Whetstone Point, fronting together 170 feet, with a depth of 230 feet, sold at $5 per front foot, to Wm. Kamer. Also, eight lots on Clemm street, Whetstone Point, on the south side, together fronting 231 feet; sold at $3 per front foot, to Mr. McCubbin. Also, eight lots on the same side of the same street, of the same size; purchased by the same gentleman at the same price. Also, an irregular lot, containing about one quarter of an acre; sold for $175 to Wm. Dawson. Also, the square of ground on Federal Hill, situated at the intersection of Water and Fourth streets, fronting 206 feet on the east side of Fourth street, and 206 feet on Water street; purchased by Charles H. Sadtler, for $500.—Also, three lots of ground on the north east side of Essex street, near Alice Anne, each lot fronting 14 feet, the first having a depth of 48 feet, and the other two a depth of 46 feet; each lot subject to a ground rent of $24 per annum—the first purchased by W. G. Reed for $375, the second by the same purchaser at $350, and the third by T. H. Singerwald for $385.

Messrs. S. J. Soper & Co., auctioneers, sold at the Exchange sales-rooms yesterday the lot of ground situated on the southwest side of Ross street, fronting 73 feet, with a depth of 100 feet, improved by six brick dwellings, two stories and attic each—the entire lot subject to an annual ground rent of $100; purchased by David Hays for $3,100. Also, an annuity or subrent of $26 25, arising out of a lot of ground next adjoining the above described property, and well secured by substantial improvements; purchased by David Hays for $310.

Contracts Awarded.—Captain J. Gilman, yesterday awarded the following contracts—A. Baker, 50,000 lbs. white beans at 4¾ cents a lb.; John G. Hewes, 500 barrels corn meal at $7.75 a barrel; G. Feller, coffee barrels at $1.18 each; round hooped flour barrels 67 cents each; round hooped half barrels 45 cents each.

A Pirate Spoken.—Capt. Raschen, of the bark Gutenberg, from Bremen, arrived at this port yesterday, and reports having, on the 1st of November, when in latitude 35, on the edge of the Gulf stream, spoken a rebel pirate steamer, (no doubt the "Oreto.") On the same evening the Captain saw a vessel burning, supposed to be the bark Empress Theresa.

Col. Dieter.—This gentleman, whose mysterious disappearance a few days since occasioned considerable anxiety amongst his friends, has been heard from. A dispatch was received from him last evening, stating that he was confined in the Old Capitol, Washington, D. C. We have not been able to learn the circumstances connected with his case.

Continually Drunk.—The following entry was made on the report of the Western District police, on Sunday night:—"John H. Holtz, charged with being continually drunk and assaulting his wife, committed to jail in default of bail, for court, by Justice Mercedith."

Front Street Theatre.—Mr. Dan Setchell was greeted last night by an excellent audience, and he was without hesitation pronounced the comedian of the age. To-night he appears in the plays of Serious Family and the Toodles, supported by Mrs Addie Kunkel.

Aiding Desertion.—Thomas Lambert was arrested yesterday, charged with aiding soldiers to desert. He was locked up in the military prison for trial.

Letters of administration on the estate of William R. Long were granted to Wm. Long.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS ITEMS.

☞ The Grover German opera troupe is meeting with great success in Boston. The Daily Advertiser says:—Upon the "Huguenots" at least has bestowed an amount of arduous labor in rehearsal of which few have any notion, fourteen hours on Friday having been given to preparatory iteration of the principal scenes, the adjournment not taking place till long past midnight. Mr. Grover has assuredly done his best to render the performance successful, and we trust that he will receive the corresponding credit.

☞ A few days since, while the United States and the rebel flag of truce boats were holding a conference at the entrance of Charleston harbor, a most beautiful phenomenon appeared to spectators standing upon the bluffs of Morris Island. A rainbow brightened into form on an overhanging cloud, its ends resting on the water on either side of the combating ships. It was a sublime picture. The spectators were all impressed, and regarded it as a significant omen.

☞ Cortinas, the Mexican commander, refused to sell his fine rifled cannon to rebel agents, who were at Matamoras at the time of his surrender, declaring that they (the rebels,) were not only the enemies of the United States, but the enemies of republican government on the American continent; and if it had not been for the rebels Mexico would not have been invaded by the French, nor would an Austrian be the Emperor of the Mexican nation.

☞ The celebrated Blackfriars bridge, at London, is in process of demolition, and a new one is to be erected in its place. It was of this old structure that Smollett made his Matthew Bramble say nearly a century ago that "the bridge at Blackfriars is a noble monument of taste and public spirit—I wonder how they stumbled upon a work of such magnificence and utility."

☞ There will undoubtedly be an unprecedentedly heavy vote cast in New York city on election day. The number of voters registered upon the close of the books last night noised up 124,789, with five districts yet to be heard from. In addition to these there must be taken into account a large number of voters whose names are not registered.

☞ The man who was married in Lawrence, Mass, four weeks ago, and, on the evening of his wedding mysteriously disappeared, leaving a letter telling his new wife that he was unworthy of her and should shuffle off the mortal coil, has returned. Upon the subject of his strange departure he maintains a dignified silence.

☞ Col. Berdan, at a trial near Utica, New York, recently, accomplished what is said to be the best shooting on record. At a distance of 1,200 yards he hit the "bull's eye" four times in succession, then missed it by a trifle the fifth, and hit it again the sixth.

☞ The New York Express objects to Gen. Banks spending a week or two at the North while his Major General's salary is going on. But what does it say to General McClellan's taking the same pay, year after year, while doing nothing in return for it.

☞ In reply to opposition allegations of fraud at the recent election in Indiana, the fact is fully established that the greatest relative gains of Gov. Morton over the vote of 1862 were in counties controlled by Democratic officers.

Well Put.—The emancipation policy, says the New York Post, has taken away from the rebels nearly a million of the population from which they are now drawing soldiers; one hundred thousand colored men, mostly southern blacks, are serving the Union flag. It it had not been for the proclamation and the policy for which Mr. Lincoln is condemned by the McClellan men, these hundred thousand men would to-day be in the hands of Davis, and would next spring serve against the Union, in the rebel armies. The emancipation proclamation and policy have deprived the rebels of a productive population of a million—and yet the American people are told by a parcel of blind politicians that it was a great mistake, that it was a blunder, a "Pope's bull against the comet," and so on.

European Political Morality.—There is an insurrection in Algeria, which seems to sweep into his movement the great mass of the native population. France, therefore, as well as England, holds territories obtained by conquest, and never think of giving them up when the "subjugated" people rebel. Neither in Algeria nor in India has a European power any shadow of right to govern except what is derived from force. Both religion and race divide the conquered from the conquerors. But France, like England, keeps her morality for her neighbors, and will still continue to strain at the American gnat, while she calmly swallows the Algerian camel.

☞ Ten thousand of the French troops lately in Mexico are on their way home. Fifty of their officers were at one hotel in New York a day or two ago.

SEWING MACHINES.

SEWING MACHINES.

ON ALL SIDES we hear the merits of the GROVER & BAKER'S CELEBRATED SEWING-MACHINE extolled. The ladies declare it the "very best," and prove it to us in so many undeniable facts that we are bound to confess our conviction of the truth of the declaration. What other machine will embroider so beautifully, braid so elegantly, hem so faultlessly, quilt so evenly, stitch so accurately, gather so regularly, operate so easily? Alone, we conscientiously affirm.
