DAILY CLIPPER.

WM. WATSON.....Publisher.

TUESDAY, MAY 30, 1865.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION FOR THE DAILY CLIPPER.

Twelve-and-a-half Cents per Week, payable to the Carriers.

Mailed to Subscribers out of the city at

$6.00 FOR ONE YEAR,
2.00 FOR SIX MONTHS,
1.00 FOR THREE MONTHS,
1.00 FOR TWO MONTHS,
0.50 FOR ONE MONTH,

invariably in advance.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The following exhibit of our regular rates will be found of service:

1 Square	1 Time	$ 50
"	2 Times	75
"	3 "	1.00
"	1 Week	1.75
"	1 Month	4.00
"	3 Months	10.00
"	6 "	15.00
"	1 Year	20.00

ONE SQUARE CONTAINS SIX LINES OF SPACE.

OUR ADVERTISING AGENT.

Our advertising agent for the city is Captain William Gibson, who will, as he finds opportunity, call upon the old patrons of the Clipper, and to whom any favors in the advertising line can be handed. Our patrons will find him entirely reliable.

BOUNTIES.—One of the Commissioners desires us to caution holders of bounty certificates against parting with them at a loss, as they will be paid on the first of August.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, May 27, 1865.

The Memorable Two Days—President Johnson.

We Americans are often charged by foreign critics with a habit of exaggeration, which is especially exemplified in our notices of public displays and of public men,—the former being generally made up of plaudits and execrations,—and the latter illustrating Dryden's sarcasm

"————always abusive or over civil,
Every man with us is God or Devil."

This commonplace imputation will, doubtless, be thrown upon the historiographers of the MEMORABLE TWO DAYS, at Washington, May 23d and 24th, 1865. Yet those to whom the spectacles of Tuesday and Wednesday last can be known only by description will have, at best, but a poor conception of their splendor and grandeur and variety. Still less will quiet home readers of these accounts be able to realize the deep and innumerable feelings, and the high and not unanxious speculations which the actual scenes inspired in all who are accustomed to think or feel about any thing, or to attend to the circumstance by which they are surrounded.

Hundreds of pens have been employed in giving to the journals of America and Europe something like transcripts of this magnificent military procession—for it must have been difficult to any man who had the means of being heard through the press, to refrain from giving utterance to his thoughts and emotions. Some of the descriptions are written with a pictorial power and artistic skill—as well as breadth, fullness, and minuteness—rivalling Macaulay or Allison. For the next generation the journals of this week will have a singular interest. The inquisitive student will revert to them for the purpose of tracing the impressions made upon the minds of the spectators and their contemporaries, by the march through the national metropolis of those mighty armies who saved the American Republic from dismemberment; and for the purpose, also, of observing the first effects of the great conquest of peace which those armies had achieved.

So far from being liable to the charge of exaggeration, I am of opinion that most men and women of sensibility and reflection regard the descriptions and reports as falling below rather than rising above the reality. Copies of the leading journals containing them ought, therefore, to be preserved in every family, as the contemporaneous and best records of events, which will appear still greater and more momentous to those who shall walk these streets and look upon the great public edifices of Washington in after years. The scenes that passed before our eyes had the strongest intrinsic attractions, but these were powerfully enhanced by the feelings which could scarcely fail to rise in every patriotic bosom—the gratitude and delight at the cessation of bloodshed, fear and misery over those fair portions of our common country where rebels were enabled to hold a fleeting ascendancy;—the joy at the prospect of the early discharge from their country's service of so many gallant and heroic men who had left all the attractions and comforts of home and kindred, and the ties and promises of business,—and the prospects of wealth and advancement in life, at their country's call;—and, above all, the exhilaration produced by the now no longer dim and uncertain, but sure and enchanting prospect of peace, the gladdenness of the end of the rebellion and of war, and the contrast which all feel between the dreary anxieties and apprehensions of the last four years, and those buoyant hopes and aspirations which are now bounding eagerly and even gaily forward to new and untried scenes of engagements, exertions and enjoyments. * * *

In one respect, however, some of the accounts were lamentably deficient—I refer to the slight notice they are pleased to take of the President of the United States. He was, in reality, the cynosure of all eyes. Great as was the anxiety to see Grant, and Sherman, and their Generals, the crowds of people that came to Washington were still more solicitous to catch a glimpse of their new President.

The simplicity and nobleness of Andrew Johnson's character were never more clearly exhibited than on this occasion. No crowned sovereign in Europe could have deported himself more appropriately, or with greater dignity. This is the unanimous judgment of the distinguished foreigners who witnessed the review from the stand in front of the Executive Mansion, as well as of many other travelled gentlemen of our own country who are here, and who have visited the principal courts of Europe.

Chief as he was of the whole army of the United States, he gracefully and modestly deferred to the Reviewing Officers, who, severally, from time to time took positions next to him.

His demeanor throughout had the true stamp of nature's nobleness; and nothing surprises gentlemen of our own country, or from abroad, more, than that a man whom they find so uniformly courteous and comme il faut in private, and so entirely ready for the discharge of every public duty should ever have been subjected to the truculent and unsparing attacks which have been made against him.

A LOOKER ON AT THE CAPITAL.

☞ An immense cave, nearly as large as the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, has recently been discovered about ten miles from Fort Riley, California. It was found to be an immense subterranean lake of clear water, with high walls of limestone on each side. The ceiling or arch is fifty feet high. The party explored it to the distance of half a mile in it, and, finding no indications of a stopping place, returned, to explore it further at some future time.

☞ The Charleston race course, where so many Union prisoners are buried, was recently dedicated as a cemetery, the graves hastily previously been meanded, and a substantial fence erected.

DROWNED.—Mr. Thomas J. Pierson, one of the proprietors of Providence Mills—woolen factories—situated on Big North East Creek, near Bay View, was drowned on Monday evening last in the fording near the mill. He had been to Elkton, and was crossing the creek on his way home. The horse got out with the car tinge, but the unfortunate occupant of the vehicle was found the next day a mile and a half below the ford where the accident occurred.—Cecil Whig.

☞ A young woman in Dayton caught her hoop skirt in the platform of a car from which she was alighting after the train had got into motion, and hung suspended between the cars until rescued from her perilous position by a young man who dragged her off, breaking the skirt.

AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT.

HOLLIDAY STREET THEATRE—The People's Lawyer—Camille—His Last Legs.

FRONT ST. THEATRE—Shandy Maguire—Married Rake.

JARED'S "EMAIL DE PARIS."—Miss Lucille Western adds her testimony to that of Mlle. Vestvali, Mrs D. P. Bowers, and Mrs. Emma Waller in support of the efficacy of Jules Jared's "Email de Paris:"

PHILADELPHIA, Nov'r 30, 1864.

JULES JARED & Co., Gentlemen: I have received, and with entire satisfaction used, the "Email de Paris." Compelled as I am to the use of powders as stage requirements, I find that the "Email" produces all the brilliancy of rouge and lily-white, with the great and peculiar advantage of total harmlessness. It really aids to the softness and smoothness of the skin, without conveying the slightest meretricious idea.

I have no hesitation in recommending it to the profession and the public. And so believe me, with thanks, yours truly,

LUCILLE WESTERN.

L'Email de Paris is sold by all Druggists, Perfumers and Ladies' Hair Dressers.

WM. H. READ,
167 Baltimore street,
General Agent.

MARRIED.

GRICE—HUBBARD.—On the 25th inst, by the Rev. Dr. Crane, Edward G. Grice to Miss Jennevia Hubbard, of this city.

BROWN—BERGER.—On the 23d instant, by the Rev. Father McAvoigan, John W. Brown to Miss Caroline M. C. Berger, both of Baltimore.

DIED.

PETERSON.—On the 29th instant, Francis Peterson, a native of Genoa, Italy, and for the last forty years a resident of this city, aged 67 years.

His friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend his funeral this (Tuesday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock from the residence of John Jason, 274 South Broadway, without further notice.

MURRAY—On Sunday morning, 28th instant, Mrs. E. C. Murray, in the 56th year of her age, relict of R. C. Murray, Esq.

BELL.—On the 28th instant, Laura Emma, only child of John and Annie Bell, aged 20 months and 7 days.

DOHM.—On the 27th inst., Sue M. Dohm, daughter of Jane H. and the late John Dohm.

DILLAWAY.—On the 29th inst., Theodore Stanislaus Dillaway, in the 25th year of his age.

STRAW HATS, CAPS, &c—Mr. Thomas N. Webb, No. 49 N. Eutaw street, corner of Clay street, calls the attention of all Baltimore to the complete assortment of Straw Hats, Caps, &c., for gentlemen and boy's wore, which he has recently received from New York. Hats in endless variety, and of every imaginable style. All of the above articles may be had at this beautiful store, and that too, at very low prices.

ROTHERMEL'S GREAT PAINTING OF THE CHRISTIAN MARTYRS IN THE COLISEUM, ROME, ON EXHIBITION AT JAS. FRYER'S EMPORIUM AND GALLERY OF PAINTINGS, 206 W. BALTIMORE ST.

COLGATE'S MONEY SOAP.

This celebrated Toilet Soap, in such universal demand, is made from the choicest materials, is mild and emollient in its nature, fragrantly scented, and extremely beneficial in its action upon the skin. For sale by all Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

STATIONERY BAZAAR AND CARD ENGRAVING ESTABLISHMENT, Wedding, Reception, Complimentary and Visiting Cards Engraved. Staple and Fancy Stationery, Photographic Albums, Carte de Visites.

STORR & GILLESPIE,
178½ W. Baltimore street.

☞ We call our readers attention to SMITH, BROS. & Co's. New stock of Spring Clothing just opened at SMITH BROS. & Co., popular Clothing House, No. 40 West Baltimore street.

Our new stock of Gents Furnishing Goods just opened at 38 West Baltimore street, next to Marble Hall.

Call and see our new styles of Gents Furnishing Goods at 38 West Baltimore street, next to Marble Hall.

All the latest novelties in Collars, Ties, Scarfs, &c., at West Baltimore street, next to Marble Hall.

The popular Clothing House, No. 40 West Baltimore street, next to the great Furnishing House.

FIRST CLASS MERCHANT TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT.—Mr. Duncan McPherson has recently enlarged his Merchant Tailoring Establishment, Northwest corner of Charles and Barnet streets, for the purpose of better accommodating his many friends. Gentlemen wanting garments for themselves, or their sons, from cloths of superior quality, made to fit complete, will find it to their interest to patronize this establishment. His cutter is unsurpassed.

☞ JONATHAN SHOEMAKER, respectfully informs his friends and customers, that he has removed from No. 43 North Eutaw street, to No. 30 North Paca street, (three doors below Lexington.) He has just purchased a complete assortment of fresh Teas, at the late decline, which he will sell at the lowest prices, together with a full stock of Groceries, Flour, &c., &c. N. B. Goods delivered to all parts of the city.

COMPLETE CLOTHING HOUSE.—We take great pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the conspicuous advertisement of Messrs. Smith, Bros. & Co., No. 40 West Baltimore street. We speak what we know when we say their present stock of clothing cannot be excelled. We commend this firm to the favorable notice of all who may want goods in their line. They sell at small profits, and deal on the square with everybody.

FOR MORE THAN TWENTY YEARS MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE has stood the test of trial, and is constantly increasing in public favor.

THE VENETIAN HAIR DYE is the best and cheapest made. Its price is only 75 cts. and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.

THIS HAIR DYE is manufactured by a peculiar process, which renders it infinitely superior to any dye in market. Being complete in one bottle, no preparation is required, which greatly simplifies the application.

IN USING THIS DYE you avoid that rusty, dead appearance by which dyed hair and whiskers are so readily recognized, when an inferior article has been used, as it produces a perfectly natural color of any shade that is desired, from a rich brown to a jetty, lustrious black, that will not smut, crock, or stain the clothing. Invest 75 cents, and you will be convinced. Sold by all Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

A. I. MATHEWS, Manufacturer.
DEMAS BARNES & CO., New York,
my28-1awly Wholesale Agents.

HAIR DYE! HAIR DYE!—Batchelor's Hair Dye is the best in the world. The only true and perfect Dye—harmless—instantaneous and reliable—produces a splendid black or natural brown—removes the ill effects of bad Dyes, and frequently restores the original color. Sold by all Druggists. The genuine is signed, W. A. Batchelor at Barclay street. New York.

EXACTLY WHAT YOU WANT! MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE, known and used over 20 years. Daily increasing in public favor. Complete in one bottle. No wash. No trouble. Does not crock or stain. Produces a lustrous black or brown as desired. Does not injure the hair. Price, 75 cents.

Sold by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.
my 8-2awly r

SPERR'S WINE.—This article, upon trial, we find quite palatable. It is recommended for weakly females and invalids generally.—Portland Argus.

HOLLIDAY STREET THEATRE.

Second Night of the versatile Comedian and Burlesque Actor,

MR. FRANK DREW,

Whose humorous performances elicit HOARS OF LAUGHTER From large and delighted audiences.

He will make his second appearance

On THIS (Tuesday) EVENING, May 30th,

In three of his best characters, the performance commencing with the celebrated Drama of

THE PEOPLES' LAWYER.

Solon Shingle.....Mr. Frank Drew

After which, the very laughable burlesque, entitled

CAMILLE; OR, THE FATE OF A COQUETTE.

Camille.....Mr. Frank Drew

To conclude with the roaring farce,

HIS LAST LEGS.

O'Callahan.....Mr. Frank Drew

In preparation, the drama of

RIP VAN WINKLE.

And the burlesque of HAZEPPA.

KENDALL'S AMBROSIA.—Anybody who fails to use this admirable toilet article in dressing her hair in anticipation of visiting her friends, commits a great error, for it gives the hair a remarkable and most attractive lustre, which accounts for its great popularity. The Ambrosia is for sale by all Druggists throughout the country.
my29 4w-4t w

THE EXERCISES of that important organ, the Liver, may be effectually restored when in a torpid state or when there is not a due secretion of bile, by the use of Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient. It is the most wonderful remedy of the age. See testimonials with each bottle. For sale by all druggists. my22-2w

1865 1865

"COSTAR'S" EXTERMINATORS. EXTERMINATORS. EXTERMINATORS.