WEEKLY CLIPPER.

Our Weekly Clipper will be issued with due punctuality this morning, and although the hitherto exciting news of great battles, raids, or sieges, are at an end, it will probably be even more warmly welcomed for the good news it chronicles, of returning law and order, where all was violence and disorder, added to misery and desolation. Every day records some new step in the right direction, interesting to all good citizens; and with new activity in trade, and new developments in every department which promise in the end abundant prosperity to all, none can be indifferent to what is doing, and should keep thoroughly posted as to the progress of events. A good newspaper, of course, presents a view of all this in the most graphic and concise manner; and as we aim to omit nothing in any department that is of interest, the reader of Our Weekly has at a glance a view of all that is of interest in politics, trade, science, agriculture, or aught else. For sale at the counter with or without wrappers, on the usually reasonable terms.

WHAT THE LADIES SAY OF IT.—Is the entire history of cosmetical preparations, we for the first time find ladies publicly acknowledging the value of a beautifier of the skin. That a lady used anything of the kind was a fact carefully concealed. It is only concerning the value of the preparation called Email de Paris that we find such testimony on record. This is because L'Email is neither paint, powder nor compound of arsenic or mercury, but a delicious preparation, which, acting specifically upon the scarf-skin, dissolves freckles, tan and morphew, rendering it soft, white and transparent. Mlle Vestvali, Mrs D. P. Bowers, Miss Lucille Western, Elise Land, and other ladies of equal note, commend it to their sex. Ladies visiting the sea shore or country should use L'Email, for removing the effects of sun-burn, salt-air, etc. Sold by all Druggists, Perfumers, Hair-Dressers and Dealers in Toilet goods. Wm H. HOMŒPATHIC MEDICINES.

HUMPHREY'S HOMŒPATHIC SPECIFICS had their origin in a great public want—medicines for all the needs of life. Carefree that father, mother, nurse or traveler, could always have by them, and always rely upon—so simple that mistake can not be made in the selection—so harmless that all may use them with impunity—and so efficient that all may rely upon them with safety. Such they have proved. Thousands of families use them daily for all the ills and sickness of every day life, and rarely are seriously sick, or have need to call a physician.

Thousands, with some single specifics have cured themselves of serious chronic diseases of years standing, and upon which they have spent hundreds in vain, and among the million who use them, none question their purity or efficacy.

"As age advances, ills and aches attend,

Thus, with alliterative accuracy, does Orpheus C. Kerr tell the sad story of the "aches and ills" of advancing age. But a way has been discovered by which old age escapes the penalties, and youth may be made more brilliant. PLANTATION BITTERS—the true "Elixir of Life and Love"—is the wounded spirit's balm. It cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Biliousness, Vertigo, Gout, Liver Complaint, Sallowness, Feverish Life, and every symptom of an unpleasant or alarming character. Let all who would enjoy life and its blessings use Plantation Bitters, and they will retain their freshness, bloom and beauty

RENEWED YOUTH LADIES.—Remember that if you apply Radway's Ready Relief to the spine or back-bone, rubbing it well in, it will effect a surprising cure of many of the peculiar complaints incident to your sex exclusively. In all kinds of weakness or discharges, in obstructions, retentions and prolapsus, in hysterics, headaches, &c., you can find nothing to equal the delightful effects of an application of Radway's Ready Relief. Rub three times a day the whole length of the spine, and rub it from ten to twenty minutes on each occasion, and you will be amazed at the result. At the first rubbing all the agonizing pains of disease disappear. The second rubbing is certain to make them surrender, and a few applications readily convince the most incredulous that the disorder is broken up and must depart. Any lady who is subject to pains in the small of the back, who suffers from weakness and lassitude in the back or limbs, who is inflicted with any complaint of the kidneys or bladder, who has a pain in the hips, who is nervous, is troubled with neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, should hesitate to rub often and vigorously with Radway's Ready Relief. The sense of comfort it will at once produce will be worth ten times over the amount expended for a bottle, and the cure, which will be certain to follow, cannot be estimated in value by dollars and cents. Radway's Ready Relief is a blessing to the afflicted. They should never be without it. It is so cheap, so convenient, so easily applied, so quick in giving relief, so never-failing as an ultimate remedy, that it should be remembered indispensable as a domestic remedy. Sold by druggists. je 26-2w

SPECIAL NOTICES.

STATE OF MARYLAND.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ANNAPOLIS, June 26, 1865.

The following opinion of the Attorney General of Maryland is published for the guidance of all officers charged with the disbursement of State Bounties under the Bounty Acts of 1864, and for the information of all interested in similar questions

By order of the Governor:

WM. B. HILL,
Secretary of State.

ANNAPOLIS, June 21, 1865.

To His Excellency, Augustus W. Bradford, Governor of Maryland:

Sir—The enclosed two letters I return to you, with my official opinion as required by you, which is respectfully submitted. I understand that this soldier, Private ——, enlisted and was mustered into Cole's Maryland Cavalry on the 20th of March, 1864; that he deserted on the 10th of May thereafter, and returned to his command about the 5th of December following, and remained in service until honorably discharged by the Government of the United States on the 1st of June instant; and that he received the $150 of bounty payable on being mustered into service, and $20 for the first of the five months' service to the 20th of April, but having deserted before the 20th of May, the $20 then due and the same sum for the next three months, making $60, and the $50 payable at the expiration of his term of service, in all $130, have been denied to him by the officers of the State as not being authorized to be paid by the act of 1864, ch. 15, and the proprietry of this denial is now submitted for my opinion.

The first section of the act of 1864, ch. 15, enacts that this bounty by the State shall be paid as follows: "one hundred and fifty dollars at the time such person shall be mustered into the service of the United States, twenty dollars at the end of each month of service for the five months immediately succeeding such mustering into the service, and fifty dollars at the expiration of his term of service, or when such person is honorably discharged from service."

First.—Is this soldier entitled to the $60 for the last four months of service of the five months immediately succeeding his being mustered into service? I am of opinion that he is not, because the monthly payments are to be made by the very words of this law, "at the end of each month of service," and he having rendered in those five months only one month of service, and being a deserter during the other four months, he ought not, in justice, and cannot, by the terms of the law, receive those eighty dollars of bounty.

Second.—Neither can he legally claim, in my opinion, the $50, the payment "to be made at the expiration of his term of service," these words, "at the expiration of his term of service," do not mean the mere effluxion of time during which the service is required to be rendered, but the actual rendition of their very services which are required within that period of time—in other words the $50 are to be paid for the services, when the whole term of the service has been completed—it is a bounty for the rendition of these services, payable at the expiration of the time during which they have been rendered.—But as he never completed the term of service required of him, he cannot claim the reward for it.

Any other interpretation would make no difference between the soldiers who faithfully discharged their duties and those who deserted their country's services and failed to fulfil the terms on which bounty is intended to be paid.—Indeed a different interpretation might allow the same man to receive more than one bounty for the same period of time.

The latter words of this section, making this $50 payable at another time, when such person "is honorably discharged from service," are not in conflict with what has been said, but harmonize with it. They mean to provide for the payment of this $50 in the case of a discharge before the expiration of the entire term of service could be completed by the soldier, although he was discharging so; for instance, by the soldier's disability, his wounds, sickness, &c., by the very event anticipated—an earlier termination of the war. If such a condition has not been assigned the most faithful soldier, who by his greater services and severer sufferings especially merited the bounty, might be deprived of it, if rendered by their sufferings and services incapable of serving out the time, however anxious to do so. It surely never could have been intended that the obtaining even of an honorable discharge could be a substitute for services never rendered, nor pay a deserter from the crime he had committed in abandoning his duty in time of war. Thus we render the whole law consistent, give the bounty to the faithful soldier who serves out to the expiration of his service, or while so faithfully serving, has been honorably discharged before its expiration without any default on his part, and we deny this bounty to those who never earned it.

It may be worthy of note that this man has now received more than one-half of this bounty for less than one-half the three years' service for which the entire bounty ($300) was to be paid, and also that he was absent from duty during nearly all the time, when it may reasonably be presumed the active duties of the army in the field required his service.

With great respect,
I am your obedient servant,
A. RANDALL,
Attorney General of Maryland.
