ONE SQUARE CONTAINS SIX LINES OF SPACE.

TWILIGHT.

September's slender crescent rows again
Distinct in yonder peaceful evening red,
Clearer the stars are sparkling overhead,
And all the sky is pure without a stain.

Cool blows the evening wind from out the west
And sows the flowers, the last sweet flowers of the bloom,—
Pale asters and many a heavy waving plume
Of golden red, that bends as if oppressed.

The summer's songsters hushed. Up the lone shore
The weary waves wash sadly, and a grief
Sounds in the wind, like farewells fond and brief.
The cricket's chirp but makes the silence more.

Life's anadama comes; the leaves begin to fall;
The moods of spring and summer pass away;
The glory and the rapture, day by day,
Depart, and soon the quiet grave folds all.

O, thoughtful sky, how many eyes in vain
Are lifted to your beauty, full of tears!
How many hearts go back through all the years,
Heavy with loss, eager with questioning pain.

To read the dim Hereafter,—to obtain
One glimpse beyond the earthly curtains, where
Their dearest dwell, where they may be o'er
September's slender crescent shine again!

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4, 1865

A Lull at the National Metropolis—The President and the Cabinet Letting Politics Alone

We are taking matters very quietly here—I wish I could add very coolly—but that would be rather a stretch of the imagination in this sweltering weather, when every person one meets—from the patient President down to the irritable ex-placeman—is what Mantalini designated himself after his escapade from drowning, "a moist body." Yet, literally and truly, there never was a quieter time in Washington than the present.

If it were not for these inextinguishable borers, whose trade it is to get up political sensations, the whole world might repose in the delightful consciousness that all is well at the National Metropolis. Certainly the Government machine is working with singular smoothness and order.

For this quiet time we are indebted, no doubt, in a great measure to the President himself. He is a marvel of calmness and composure, in circumstances which would drive almost every man into some degree of excitement. Nothing seems to disturb his equanimity.

Guided by a profound sense of duty, and directed to a clear perception of his obligations by a sound and quiet intellect, he is assiduously only to discharge his whole duty, and resolutely persevere therein, without regard to any other considerations. Having made up his mind, he goes on, with tranquil and deliberate courage, to execute his purposes, undisturbed by querulous or factious dissentions.

In a word the PRESIDENT is attending to his business, and letting politics and politicians severely alone. If his consistments throughout the length and breadth of the land would follow his example in this respect, it would be better for themselves, and infinitely better for the country and the Government.

The people, indeed, throughout the Union are in accord with the President on this point. They are well pleased with him and his measures and principles of action, so far as they have been indicated. He has given promise of a wise, prudent, patriotic, elevated and benign Administration, under which the great interests of finance and national credit, commerce and industry, will be fostered, strengthened and advanced with re invigorated life.

Having confidence in their President and the men by whom he is surrounded and aided in the executive government, the people are perfectly willing to leave the great business of practical administration to him and them, while they attend to their local and individual or State concerns.

You are doing good service in the Clipper, by earnestly urging upon your fellow citizens of Maryland the superior importance of the great questions of State and municipal improvement, over all partizan discussions. Politics are temporary and vacillating. The great economical questions affecting the prosperity and substantial interests of every community have a permanent interest and value.

The President's personal demeanor at those entertaining levees which he holds in his official chamber every day except the Cabinet days, (Tuesdays and Fridays,) shows clearly how little he is touched by the rain and rapid publications of indiscreet friends, or the malignant and vindictive emulations of angry and spiteful disputants. I chanced to be at the Executive Mansion on public business with the private Secretary on Saturday and to-day, during the levee hours.

I took a glance at the better genteel crowd. The atmosphere was close and heavy and the apartment crowded. It is a wonder how the President can support himself in such air, and amid such surroundings. But there he stood, calm as a summer morning, receiving each individual in turn, with placid look and genuine interest in the tale he had to relate;—which was, generally, the old story that is at the foundation of most the pleas for pardon.

How mild an expression his countenance wears, how gentle are his tones!—this man has the genuine unconsciousness which marks real greatness of soul and intellect.

Nor do I believe that any man or woman of the least sensibility to candor and truth can depart from his presence on these occasions or any other, without a conviction of his goodness, his sincerity, and his disposition to act with entire regard to the best interests of the country.

A LOVER ON AT THE CAPITAL.

EAST TENNESSEE.—The editor of the Nashville Daily Press and Times writes to his paper from Knoxville:

"Within the past few weeks a number of collisions have taken place in this region between Union men and returned rebels who made themselves obnoxious to loyal men in 1861-62 by their violence. Some have been severely beaten, and several killed in these affrays. On last Thursday a citizen of Blount county was shot four times (once through the head) on the street by a young man named Foster, in revenge for Cox's treatment of Foster's father in the beginning of the rebellion. Cox, at the head of a party of rebels, arrested Foster's father, in midwinter, drove him through a creek up to the waist in water, and shot him several times, so that he barely escaped with his life. Foster's wife, a member of a highly respectable and influential family of this county, was enceinte at the time of the occurrence, and was so shocked that she died in consequence. On Thursday last the young man met his mother's cruel murderer on the street, and sent him to his final reckoning, 'unannointed and unannealed.' He was arrested, and bailed in the sum of two thousand dollars to appear at the next term of court."

GREAT TROTTING MATCH FOR $2,000 BETWEEN COMMODORE VANDERBILT AND TORONTO CHIEF.

[From the New York Tribune of yesterday.]

Yesterday the postponed trot for $5,000 between the two famous stallions Toronto Chief and Commodore Vanderbilt, mile heats, to go as they please, came off on Fashion Course, L. I. There was a very fair attendance of spectators, consisting principally of the leading gentlemen-owners of fast horses in New York and the neighborhood. The day was fine and favorable, a veil of clouds obscuring the heated rays of the sun, and making it pleasant and agreeable; the track also was in excellent order for trotting.

Yesterday found Toronto Chief the favorite, for when the horses were brought upon the track the odds of $100 to $50 were offered in all directions on his winning the race. The backers of Commodore Vanderbilt, comprising all those who follow the fortunes of his owner, Mr. Turnbull, who is almost invariably fortunate in his match making, thanks to his good horses and good judgment, were not backward in accepting those tempting odds, and a very heavy amount of money was invested at the above-named rates. The owner of Vanderbilt bet $370 on his horse making 2:28 in the race, irrespective of his position. John Murphy rode Toronto Chief, who had been trained by Dan Pfiffer, and his fine condition did credit to his skill and attention. Vanderbilt, as usual, was driven by his trainer, Dan Mace, and looked remarkably fine.

First Heat—Vanderbilt got a length and a half the start of the send-off, which was effected at the first attempt. He led a clean length around the upper turn, but as they passed the quarter-pole in 37 seconds, Toronto Chief had got on even terms. Directly after passing this point Vanderbilt broke up, and the brown stallion quickly opened so wide a gap that at the old stand he was 80 yards ahead, and had the same advantage at the half-mile pole, which he reached in 1.13. It looked as if he was going to distance Vanderbilt, but the latter, on the three quarter stretch, trotting beautifully, closed up the gap considerably, and at the turn into the home stretch was about 20 lengths behind. Coming home, Murphy eased his horse, and Toronto Chief came home an easy winner by 50 yards in 2:30; Mace also holding up when he saw his chance of the heat gone.

Second Heat—Betting $100 to $40 on the brown stallion, with plenty of offers to take $100 to $30. A capital start was effected, both horses crossing the score head and head together. Going around the upper turn, Vanderbilt was carried off his feet, and Toronto Chief passed the quarter-pole six lengths ahead in 38 seconds. The bay stallion reduced his lead a little on the back stretch, for he was but four lengths behind as the Chief passed the half mile pole in 1:13. He continued to gain on the third quarter, trotting with extraordinary steadiness and speed all the way home, but the lead Toronto Chief was strong enough to have too great to be made up, and Vanderbilt was beaten over the score by two short lengths; time 2:27. Vanderbilt's time, accurately taken to decide some heavy outside bets, was 2:27½. He trotted the last half mile, according to Hiram Woodruff's timing, in 1:10½, thus evincing the possession of a degree of speed for which few people, judging from his previous performances, had given him credit for.

Third Heat—Betting $100 to $20 on the brown stallion. After two unsuccessful attempts they got the word, when Mace was a full length behind, but this was in accordance with his own request to the judges before the start. At the turn Toronto Chief was two lengths, and at the quarter pole four lengths ahead; time, 36 seconds. He increased this to five lengths at the half mile pole, which was reached in 1:11. On the three quarter stretch Vanderbilt trotted so fast that he was but a couple of good lengths behind at the turn into the home stretch, when he unfortunately wrenched a shoe, cutting his quarters badly, and causing him to break up. The race was now virtually over, for Toronto Chief came home an easy winner by five lengths in 2:26½.

SUMMARY.

FASHION COURSE, L. I.—Match, $5,000, mile heats, 3 in 5, to go as they please.

D Pfiffer named br. s. Toronto Chief (under saddle).....1 1 1
D. Mace b. s. Commodore Vanderbilt (in harness).....2 2 2

Time, 2:30—2:27—2:26½.

The same horses trot a second match for $5,000 on Saturday next, on this course, two mile heats, to go as they please. On Thursday next, the great match between General Butler and Dexter, mile heats, best 3 in 5, under saddle, for $2,000 comes off over this course.

THE GREAT EASTERN.

The Great Eastern arrived at Sheerness, England, on Sunday, August 20th. Thousands of spectators were assembled on the beach to witness her entrance of the port. Her anchors were safely cast, and not the slightest accident happened.

Captain Anderson, of the Great Eastern, in a letter to the Times, says: "I was formerly a doubter, then as I became intimate with the men and means to be employed to overcome all the difficulties I had thought of, I became hopeful, but now that I understand personally the difficulties in the way of practically laying a cable in an ocean of great depth, I have become sanguine. We have established this much. We can hook the cable when we choose, and we fairly believe that with proper appliances we can lift it and complete the laying. Three times out of four attempts we hooked the cable and raised it from the ground several hundred fathoms.

There can really be no difficulty with the Great Eastern in laying the submarine cable round the world. I have become positively eager, and hope circumstances will admit of my finishing what I have begun. My opinion now is that the companies interested in the success of this cable are really upon the point of success. Another attempt cannot fail—humanly speaking. We know the cable is perfect in its insulation or capacity for transmitting messages. I hope all concerned will at once order a new cable to be made and completed by May. The Great Eastern could then sail, lay it with certainty, and in the same season pick up and complete the one one for the present abandoned.—Two months must necessarily elapse before the new cable and all the appliances necessary could be got ready. The winter gales would then drive us from our work, and without the sun we could not find our fishing ground."

MURDER ON STATEN ISLAND.—For some days past, two soldiers have been noticed about New Brighton. On Sunday evening, about 9 o'clock, as these soldiers were passing Richmond Terrace, New Brighton, they fired two shots at a young man named John Holt, a carpenter by trade, and a mother's only son. One ball was sent through his temple and lodged in his brain, the other took effect in his shoulder. He was alive on Monday morning at 5 o'clock, but the doctor could render him no possible assistance. A second doctor was called to all the suffering young man if possible. Immediately after the man was shot, several of the neighbors saw the soldiers move slowly off from the murdered man, seemingly quite unconcerned. They entered the woods and concealed themselves there. Hundreds of men in the neighborhood are scouring the woods, and the ferries are guarded on all sides. So excited are those in pursuit of the two murderers, that report says they will be shot down at sight. It is said there was no provocation for the murder; that Holt was unknown to the soldiers, and they to him. The murder is pronounced purely a wanton outrage.—N. Y. Times.

TREASURABLE TWADDLE SILENCED.—The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes:

"Herschell V. Johnson was recently talking very blatant treason in the presence of sundry gentlemen. One of them finally interrupted him, and told him he could not talk so in Washington. Mr. Johnson said that he had been paroled by the President, and he knew of no power which could prevent him from expressing his sentiments. The gentleman replied that he did know of a power which could prevent him, namely—the presence and strength of a loyal man who would not tolerate the utterance of treason in his presence. Shortly afterwards Mr. Johnson privately inquired the name of the person who had so abruptly silenced him, and was told that it was Major General John W. Geary."

WHAT SOUTH CAROLINA HAS LOST BY THE REBELLION.

The Charleston Daily News thus sums up the losses of South Carolina by the war:

Of $15,000,000 in bank stock, all is lost. Of $5,000,000 bills in circulation, the market value is not more than twenty per cent. Of three insurance companies, neither can continue business. Of $20,000,000 in railroads, no dividends can be expected. Of 5,000 houses in Charleston, 1,500 have been burned, and others almost irreparably damaged. Of estates of decedents and minors, and of property in litigation, four fifths are represented by Confederate securities, and are therefore valueless.

Of our many merchants, lately of large capital and unblemished credit, few have assets to pay the small debts against them at the beginning of the war. Of the many large and valuable estates in Beaufort District and the adjacent islands, all have been abandoned, and many have been sold for taxes. Of the large cotton estates, still further from the seaboard, many have been desolated. Of the cotton on hand at the beginning and raised during the war (amounting in value to at least $20,000,000), the larger portion has been taken or destroyed. Of the stock, horses, hogs, cattle, farming implements, utensils and furniture, and silver ware, all but an inconsiderable amount have been consumed, destroyed or taken.

Of the money in the hands of our citizens at the commencement of the war, or accruing from the sale of property, or the practice of professions, or the payment of debts, all has been invested in securities, of which nine-tenths have no possible value. Of the debts uncollected, few are expected to be paid. Of the funds of churches, colleges, charitable institutions, and societies, all, also, or nearly all, have been sunk. Of the lands of the State, not held by the Government, little has any market value. Into this frightful gulf of ruin has also been swept the value of four hundred thousand slaves, estimated a few years since at $200,000,000. And thus, therefore, of the $400,000,000 worth of property in this State in 1860, but little more than $50,000,000 now remains.

A FALSE REPORT.

DANBURY, CT., September 5.—The report of trouble in the Danbury Bank is utterly incorrect. The Bank is stronger than ever before.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

Stocks generally showed more activity yesterday than for some days past. Gold, of which several sales were effected, sold at 144 at the opening of the First Board—a decrease of ¼ on the closing sale of the day previous, but closed at the Second Board at an advance of ¼ over the closing sale of Monday, selling at 144¾.

Government stocks evinced considerable activity, United States Five-Twenties, old, selling at 107¼—an advance of ¼. Seven-Thirties, second series, sold at 99¾—an advance of ¼.

City Sixes sold readily, 1890 at 101¼—an advance of ¼.

Of Insurance shares the only sale effected was 12 shares Howard at 8¾.

In Railroad stocks the sales were also limited, the transactions embracing 50 shares Northern Central at 46¼—no change, and 100 shares Baltimore and Ohio at 117, bd.

In State securities we have only to note the sale of $1,900 Tennessee Sixes at 75.

Pennsylvania Oil, of which 1,600 shares were sold, brought 60, which is no deviation from last sales.

Several sales were effected in Mining stocks, Bare Hill selling at 215, Mineral Hill at 180@190, Santa Clara at 17¾@18¾, Maryland Copper Hill at 210, Maryland Copper 65, and Liberty Copper 75.

Hance's Sarsaparilla,
Vegetable or Blood Pills,
For Purifying the Blood.

BALTIMORE, June 29, 1864.

This is to certify that I was afflicted with a violent pain in the breast and right arm which I suppose proceeded from the impure state of my blood. I was recommended to take Hance's Sarsaparilla or Blood Pills, and after taking one box the pain was entirely removed from my breast and arm. I found them extremely gentle in their operation, and would recommend them to every person in want of a mild purgative.

In purchasing these Pills let me add
ONE WORD OF CAUTION.
Always ask for HANCE'S PILLS, and purchase of none but those advertised as agents, and if convenient call and see the proprietor himself.

CURES DEBILITATED SUFFERERS.

DR. BRADSHAW'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL For General Debility, Loss of Muscular Energy, Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Weakness, Obstructions, Female Complaints, and all other diseases arising from excess and imprudence in life, and resulting all improper discharges from the Bladder, Kidneys or other organs, from whatever cause they may have originated, and no matter of how long standing, giving health and vigor to the frame and bloom to the pallid cheek.

JOY TO THE AFFLICTED.

It cures Nervous and Debilitated Sufferers, and removes all the Symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruption of the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, frequently Black Spots flying before the Eyes, with temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight; want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than solitude, and nothing they more dread for fear of themselves; no repose of manner, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another. Effects upon both mind and body can be rectified, and the nervous system healthfully invigorated, where the qualifications of manhood have been impaired.

Price $1 per bottle; two bottles for $3; four bottles for $6; six bottles $12; ten bottles $20; twelve bottles $24.

NERVOUS DISEASES
CONTROLLED AND CONQUERED.

DR. BRADSHAW'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL

DR. BRADSHAW'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL

THE GREAT INVIGORANT,
THE GREAT NERVINE.
CURES, CURES, CURES,
NERVOUSNESS AND WEAKNESS
And all diseases arising from excesses and over exertion whether physical or mental.

To persons of feeble muscular frame and deficient in vital power, it is recommended as the only means of communicating that energy which is necessary to the enjoyment of all the natural appetites, as well as the higher mental attributes. Its beneficial effects are not confined to either sex or any age. The feeble girl, the ailing wife, the listless, enervated youth, the overworked man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general debility or from weakness, will find immediate and permanent relief from the use of this incomparable recuperator.

A STIMULANT THAT ENTAILS NO REACTION.

Its force is never expended, as is the case with opium or alcoholic preparations, and all other excitants. The effect of these is brief, and it may well be said of him who takes them, "the last state of the man is worse than the first." But the Elixir is an exhilarant without a single drawback—safe in its operation, perpetual in its impulse. It invigorates the nerves, the mind, and the entire organization. In cases of neuralgia, headache, loss of memory, hypochondriasm, dyspepsia, general prostration, irritability, nervousness, inability to sleep, liver complaint, and all diseases incident to females, hysterics, monomania, vague terrors, palpitation of the heart, barrenness, constipation, &c, &c, from whatever cause arising, it is, if there is any reliance to be placed on human testimony, absolutely infallible.

It is the only infallible remedy, yet discovered for Nervous Debility and Complaints. It is the metaphysic long sought for, and never before found, the only natural agent that can "administer to a mind diseased." In cases of Nervous Headache, Vertigo, pain in the Nerves of the face, and the various train of Nervous Affections, it will produce a cure in an astonishing short period of time; and it will remove the impression, Excitement, a Tendency to Blush, Restlessness, Sleeplessness, Dislike of Society, incapacity for Study or Business, Loss of Memory, Confusion, Cold Hands, Blood to the Head, Melancholy, Mental Debility, Hysterics, Indecision, Wretchedness, Thoughts of Self-Destruction, Fear of Insanity, &c. It will increase and restore Vital Energy, strengthen the emaciated, renew the health of those who have destroyed it, induce continual cheerfulness and equanimity of spirits, and prolong life.

Price $1 per bottle, or two bottles for $3; six bottles for $12.
