PHILADELPHIA, August 12. Extract of a letter from an officer of the Western army, bis friend in this city, dated Pittsburgh, July 22. With pleasure I inform you, that since I came to this place not a life has been lost within the reach of our parties. The harvest, the greatest ever known in this country, is principally in, and the whole frontier at present at ease. Our first detachment, under major Ferguson, convoyed by captains Armstrong's and Kirkwood's companies of regulars, with the artillery, military and other stores, have arrived safe at head quarters. Troops to cover the French settlement at Galliapolis, the settlements of Muskingum, Fish creek, Whe- at 11 o'clock. len, Buffalo, Racoon, and up the Allegany as far as the 12th, a detachment of two battalions, commanded by major Gaither, all our cavalry, with their equipments complete, forage, stores and provisions, in 23 boats, the largest and grandest convoy that ever sailed from this place, moved under the American flag in good order, and this day have heard of them below Grave creek, going on well."

Intelligence from the camp at Fort-Pitt, July 23. .. On Tuesday the 19th instant, a scouting party, commanded by lieutenant Shaffner, arrived in camp, having been absent three days without seeing any Indians.

" On the 20th, captain Slow arrived from Fort-Franklin, who informs us, that on the 12th ult. Half-Town and New-Arrow gave them information that a floop full of Indians had been seen on Lake Erie, sailing for Presque Isle; their object it was supposed, Fort-Franklin. He likewise informs us of a centinel being fired upon by several Indians, who returned the fire without effect.

"Yesterday two men arrived in Pittsburgh, the remainder of an express of twelve from Fort-Washington, that had been fired upon by upwards of twenty Indians, -lix of them were wounded, and two killed.

" Major Patterson, with captains Doyle and Beatie, arrived in camp last evening."

Extract of a letter from Cape-François, July 21. We have this day received information from Port-au-Prince, that the people there have fent back to Bourdeaux the Guineamen from that port, with their cargoes of slaves, and told the captains that they might go and sell their negroes in France. They are very angry with the merchants of Bourdeaux, who, they say, together with the Parisians, compelled the national affembly to pass the decree in favour of the people of colour. Affairs here are in a very bad situation. I shall sell all my merchandise at any price, and ments to this island, part of them are stationed on their frontiers, and it is said that they expect more." Aug. 18. It has been afferted that the faculties of the blacks are inferior-very inferior to that of men of another complexion. Perhaps it may be so; but let it be recollected that all animals are more or less sagacious, in proportion as they are removed from the tyranny of others. Naturalists affert, that in native liberry the elephant is a citizen, and the beaver an architect; but when the tyrant man intrudes upon their community, their spirit is broken, they feel anxious only for their safety, and their intellects suffer an equal diminution with their freedom
