

perplex the constitution, embarrass the conduct, and destroy the responsibility of the chief magistrate. They have therefore deemed it better if he should want advice, to let him, like other people, get it where he can.

It was on those grounds that the present governor had formed his opinion on the constitution, and particularly on that part which authorises the governor to act by and with the advice and consent of council; but if there could have heretofore existed a doubt, it must be now removed, as since this controversy has been submitted to the public, the highest judicial authority of the American nation has determined their legal force and import.

B E R N E, February 19.

The tribunal of the district of Hellen has been obliged, in consequence of the intrigues of some agitators, dissatisfied with its decisions, to take refuge in Staefa. The government, when apprised of these disorders, directed the tribunal to return, and at the same time invited it to denounce to the national prefect at Zurich, the authors and accomplices of this revolt against justice, that measures of rigour may be taken against them.

Some disorders of the same kind have, within a few days past, been committed in the canton of Basle, in the commune of Liestal. Some persons that had been concerned in the insurrection of last autumn, having been summoned before the tribunal of the district to answer to new charges, appeared before it, attended by a numerous body of their partisans. The tribunal felt the necessity of terminating the sitting.

L O N D O N, March 7.

Sir Richard Strachan, according to letters from Gibraltar of the 9th ult. put in there on his way to Malta, with orders for the evacuation of the island. That such orders have been sent out, we stated some time ago. All doubt upon the subject was removed by the exposition of the state of the French republic, lately published by the French government. We are anxious to know whether any alteration has been made in the stipulation by the treaty of Amiens with respect to Malta. We are inclined to believe that no alteration has been made.

An article from Brussels says, that the expedition intended for Louisiana is now composed of two frigates, one cutter, and fifteen large transports, on board of which the troops are to be embarked, as well as arms, warlike stores of every description, and all the articles that are to be sent for the use of the colony. It may be depended on, that the expedition will sail about the 10th or 12th of March.

Our correspondent at the Hague informs us, that the French ambassador has informed the Dutch directory, that the French government leaves it to the Dutch to act as it thinks proper with the Dutch descriptions. At the same time the French ambassador notified, that from each of the two demi-brigades that were to embark at Helvoetsluis for Louisiana, there would remain a battalion in Europe to act as a depot for the said troops. Those two battalions are to leave the Dutch territory, as soon as the brigades have embarked.

The Austrian troops have on a sudden received orders not to quit Passau.

A great number of bodies, civil and military, had subscribed, and paid the sums subscribed, for the erection of a monument to the first consul. The first consul has given orders to the ministers for internal and for military affairs, to signify his thanks to the subscribers, and to give them to understand that it will be better to leave that which they had in view to the care and judgment of posterity.

A grand dinner was given to a party of Americans, by Mr. Erving, the American consul, at the London Tavern, on Friday last, the anniversary of the election of Mr. Jefferson to the office of president of the United States. The company was numerous, yet select. Many patriotic songs were sung—one in particular, written for the occasion, with the chorus, "Health to our Sachem, and long may he live," was received with great applause.

There was a strong struggle yesterday between the Bulls and the Bears at the stock exchange. The latter carried their point before the close of the market, by reports, which others were credulous enough to believe, that there was a misunderstanding in the cabinet, and that Mr. Addington was to be removed. The stocks fell about one per cent.

The same gambling has continued this morning, and the same kind of idle rumours, but with additional and more precise particulars. It is now said certain new arrangements were made yesterday at the privy council, and that an important message will be sent to the parliament this evening!! By such reports the stocks were farther depressed. At one o'clock the Omnium was as low as 5 a 3 3-4 discount, and the per cents at 69 3-4.

Another Dutch mail arrived yesterday evening. A letter from Constantinople, by this conveyance, states that a negotiation carried on by the British in favour of the beys had at last terminated in an arrangement, by which the beys are to be suffered to live in privacy in a village in Upper Egypt, as subjects to the Porte. In consequence of this arrangement, it is said the evacuation of Egypt by our troops was immediately to take place. They were to proceed to Malta.

The commander of every ship in the harbour of Portsmouth has received orders to repair to Spithead with all possible dispatch.

The Vienna Court Gazette of the 13th February, contains the following article:—"Among the experiments and progress in rural economy, which for their utility merit publication, were distinguished those of counsellor Hofmaistre, director of the estates and lordships of the Imperial family. This economist has, in his sheep walks, in Hungary, more than 24,000 sheep of the Spanish breed. As he had of late years lost many of them by the malady of the skin, which affects those animals, he determined to inoculate all his sheep with the virus of that malady. He was previously assured of the success and efficacy of vaccination. This experiment took place successively on 8000 lambs and 2000 sheep. None perished, and there were but very few on whom the matter did not operate. Mr. Hofmaistre has again inoculated 1000 of these animals, and put them among other sheep disordered by this kind of small-pox. None were infected notwithstanding that the communication which would necessarily have been contagious, if the principle of the disorder had not been destroyed by inoculation.

The conspiracy at Rouen is now stated to have been formed by chouans and royalists, whose object was the subversion of the present order of things, and the restoration of the Bourbons. The persons engaged in it are described as wretches of the most contemptible description.

We have seen a letter from New-Orleans, of the 10th of March, which states, that the port would be again closed on that or the succeeding day—that it had only been opened for the reception of provisions; and no other articles were entered without being smuggled—that a trader from Kentucky had been detected smuggling his cargo, and was obliged to fly with precipitation to escape the mines or callabouze—that several Americans were confined in the prisons. The price of cordage is stated at five dollars per cwt. No other prices mentioned.

Extract of a letter, just received, dated Gibraltar March 9.

"Yesterday, by an accident, I saw part of a private letter from Mr. O'Brien, at Algiers, to Mr. Gavino, our consul at this place. As near as I can recollect, he expresses great fears that a rupture will shortly take place between the dey of Algiers and the United States, owing partly to our government sending the annual tribute in cash, instead of naval stores, which he is in great want of. This circumstance, added to the great present he has lately received from the court of Madrid, has made him a little testy. He has made a demand of 180,000 dollars from the court of Great-Britain, as an equivalent for 18 slaves that made their escape from Oran in an English vessel: this demand I do not think will be complied with. He has also broke his treaty with France, and made a demand upon that government of 65,000 dollars.

"Mr. O'Brien, after saying that he does not think himself safe at Algiers, and requesting Mr. Gavino to forward his letters under cover to the Swedish consul, concludes with,

"On the 10th of February a Spanish frigate arrived here with the new Spanish consul, who brought a present to the dey of 50,000 dollars, besides 120 fathoms, (making 120,000 dollars) to pay the arrears due from the court of Madrid to the regency. Upon the receipt of the money, the dey ordered three cruisers to be ready for sea next week. There is no knowing the force of the dey's squads."

From CAPE-FRANCOIS.

Captain Fuller, of the brig Hound, arrived at New-York on Friday, from the Cape, whence he sailed the 27th ult. informs, that the day previous a fleet consisting of 10 ships of war, six of which were of the line, and several transports arrived off that harbour, having on board 15,000 troops, which were ordered for Port Republican. General Rochambeau removed his head quarters to the latter place on the 18th March, where the seat of government was established. The command at the Cape devolved on general Causel, who had between 2 and 3000 troops at that place. No recent engagement had taken place, and the negroes were embodied about 18 miles from the town. Business was very dull and markets low: flour from 8 to 9 dollars, pork 18 to 20, beef 14 to 15.

We the subscribers, physicians of Philadelphia, having carefully considered the nature and effects of the newly discovered means of preventing by VACCINATION, the fatal consequences of the small-pox, think it a duty thus publicly to declare our opinion, that inoculation for the kind or cow-pock is A CERTAIN PREVENTATIVE OF THE SMALL-POX; that it is attended with no danger, may be practised at all ages and seasons, of the year, and we do therefore RECOMMEND IT TO GENERAL USE.

From the Mediterranean.

By the ship Margaret, capt. Cleveland, arrived at Salem from Salou, near Barcelona, the following information is obtained:

The Margaret was at Malta the 10th January, where she left the frigates Chesapeake, John Adams and New-York, and the schooner Enterprise, bound off Tripoli in a day or two. The Chesapeake was to come home shortly, under command of capt. Baron Buonaparte has declared war against the dey of Algiers.—This news was not doubted at Barcelona. It was reported that the dey had made enormous demands upon England, Holland, Sweden, Denmark and the United States. The Tripolines were expected to come out in the spring, and the Americans complained loudly of the want of some small cruisers which would be much more serviceable than frigates. (True Amer.)

THE object of the bill is to obtain a decree for the recording of a deed of mortgage from John and Sarah Cooke, of Harford county, to the complainant, for one hundred acres of land, part of tracts of land, the one called MAIDEN'S MOUNT, the other PARADISE; the bill states, that John Cooke, one of the bargainors, has departed this life, and the other defendants are his heirs at law; it thereupon, on motion of the complainant, orders that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted three weeks successively, before the 20th day of May next in the Maryland Gazette, to the intent, that the defendants, and all persons claiming under the said John Cooke, or conceiving themselves interested, may have notice of the complainant's application to this court, and of the substance and object of his bill, and may be warned to appear here in person, or by a solicitor, on or before the first Tuesday in October next, to shew cause wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed.
