

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, in Anne-Arundel county, five miles from South river ferry, on Friday evening the sixth instant, a mulatto negro man named YORK, with a thick nose, and short hair on his head, he is pretty smart and talkative, about five feet six or seven inches high, twenty-three years of age; had on and took with him two ticklenberg shirts, a pair of brown linen trousers, fringed at the bottom, a pair of nankeen pantaloons, a black cloth coat, with the skirts cut off, a pair of fine shoes and a pair of gray stockings, a new hat lined with blue in the crown; it is supposed he will change his name and dress, and endeavour to pass for a free man, by getting a forged pass; it is supposed he will make for Baltimore-town or the city of Washington. Whoever takes up and delivers the negro man to the subscriber, or secures him in any gaol, so that I get him again, shall be entitled to receive the above reward.

GASSAWAY RAWLINGS.

N. B. All masters of vessels are hereby forewarned from carrying the said negro man off at their peril.
July 9, 1804. G. R.

Baltimore and Anne-Arundel Bridge Company.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the commissioners, appointed by law, for receiving subscriptions for a capital stock of nine hundred shares, of one hundred dollars each share, for the purpose of building a bridge across the river Patapsco, at the place where the lower ferry is now kept, called Port-land, in Baltimore county, over said river into Anne-Arundel county—will proceed to open books to take subscriptions, at the house of Mr. William Evans, in the city of Baltimore, on Monday the 26th day of July next, and continue them open for three days, from 10 o'clock, A. M. until 3 o'clock, P. M. in each day; and at the counting-house of John Muir, Esq; in the city of Annapolis, on the same days and hours above-mentioned—and the said books shall remain open for three days at the above respective places, and if it should happen that more than the stipulated number of shares should be subscribed for on the above three days, then the commissioners are to apportion them among the subscribers, by deducting from the highest subscriptions until they are reduced to a proper number; or if more persons subscribe than there are shares, then the commissioners are to call lots to decide to whom they shall belong. But if the shares should not be all subscribed for on the above three first days, then the commissioners will again open the books on Monday the 2d day of August next, at the aforesaid places and hours in the city of Baltimore, and city of Annapolis, and permit any person or persons, bodies corporate or otherwise, to subscribe for any number of shares, until the whole number of nine hundred shares is completed, and then the commissioners will issue receipts to whom the shares may belong, mentioning therein the receipt of five dollars, in part of their subscription, which must be paid in cash, on each share at the time of subscribing; the other payments will be called for by the directors chosen from the stockholders as the bridge expenditures require, agreeably to the terms and conditions expressed in the law. The commissioners beg leave to remark, that for the satisfaction and information of the public, they have had the road run by Mr. Jehu Boulding, his patented plot of which is lodged at Mr. Evans's, hereby it will appear, that the distance from Mr. Evans's tavern, in the city of Baltimore, to the ferry landing; at Portland, is 2½ miles and 70 perches, from thence across the river is ¼ of a mile and 41½ perches, and from the foot of the contemplated bridge to the Anne-Arundel side of the river, in a straight line to Snowden's bridge, at the furnace, where it intersects the present federal road, is 16½ miles and 9 perches, and this over remarkably level, dry, even country—Thus we shall be enabled to travel from Baltimore to Washington, the federal city, in 39 miles, besides the great superiority of road, whereas the present road is generally estimated at 45 miles. Those natural advantages, added to a liberal law and charter of incorporation to this bridge company, and the legislature of Maryland, at their last session, viewed it as of the utmost importance to the interest of the city of Baltimore and Anne-Arundel county, as well as to the public in general, must afford a productive fund to the stockholders.

NOTICE.

THE subscriber being seized of the following tracts of land, lying in Prince-George's county, to wit: Part of MOUNT CALVERT MANOR, CRAYCROFT'S RIGHT, BROOKE RIDGE, and the FAVOUR, some of the lines whereof are held under course and distance only, hereby gives notice, that he intends to petition Prince-George's county court, at September term next, for a commission to mark and bound the said land, agreeably to the directions of the act of assembly for marking and bounding lands.

WILLIAM NEWMAN DORSETT.

June 29, 1804. 2

THIS is to give notice, that the subscriber, of Anne-Arundel county, did heretofore advertise, under the directions of the orphans court, for all persons who had claims against the estate of William Davidson, late of Anne-Arundel county, deceased, to bring them in on or before the 3d day of July, or they would be excluded by law. Now I do further give notice, that the creditors of the said William Davidson are requested to meet at the city of Annapolis on Saturday the 28th of July, 1804, with their claims properly authenticated, in order to receive a dividend of the assets that may then be in hand; as a dividend will be made on that day at the register of Wills office for the county aforesaid.

WILLIAM ALEXANDER, Admr.

WAS committed to my custody as runaways the following negroes, viz. GEORGE GRAYSON, appears to be 22 or 23 years of age, who says he belongs to Fauquier county, in the state of Virginia, and that he is a free man, he is a bright mulatto, about six feet high, rather spare made, and very straight; his cloathing is a brown broad cloth coat and pantaloons, one striped country cloth jacket, ofnabrig shirt, and one white ditto, very old, old hat, one crimson coloured silk waistcoat, and a pair of coarse shoes.

WAT, a black fellow, about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, a strong well set fellow, and says he belongs to PEGGY BUTLER, of Saint-Mary's county; I have understood he has been in and about the neighbourhood of Cornwallis's Neck for two or three months past; his cloathing is nothing more than an ofnabrig shirt and trousers, and an old hat, but says he has other cloathing in the neighbourhood where he was apprehended. Their owners are requested to come forward, pay charges, and take them away, otherwise they will be sold agreeably to law, for their prison fees, &c.

FOR THE MARYLAND GAZETTE.

TO ELIZA.

IN thee, it seems, dame Nature tri'd,
To climactise her skill,
In making thee Columbia's pride,
Pellucid as the rill.

In thee, are all the graces join'd,
In unison they move;
With an enrich'd, expansive mind,
Inspire ethereal love.

O! could I clasp thy heav'nly form
Close in my longing arms,
Th' wekin sheen in lowering storm
Would speak thy splendid charms.

One glance from thy ignited eye
Would renovate the dead;
The living it would petrify,
By admiration led.

Who can withstand thy lilly cheek,
Tinted with tulip hue;
Thy countenance so dulcet, meek,
Would christianise a Jew.

Were SCIPIO here, could he withstand
The radiance of thy mien;
Or Sweden's CHARLES, whose powerful hand,
Had ne'er on woman been?

The hero of the Seven Years War,
At head of Prussia's bands,
Would kneel at thy effulgent car
With supplicating hands.

Much have we heard of Egypt's queen,
The essence of delight,
Who taken from the cloth of green
Obscur'd great CESAR's sight.

But how would look that fair with thee,
Rob'd in celestial rays?
Inevitably lost she'd be
In thy resplendent blaze.

Not more regarded would she prove
Than if hell's tyrant dar'd
Himself, to the empyrean move
With weapons unprepar'd.

No miserable human wight
Did e'er endure such pain,
As thou, inimitable star of light,
Hast planted in my brain.

By the grim sovereign of the seas
I am for ever lost;
And if thou dost'nt my dolor ease,
I must give up the ghost.

THE FAIR VICTIM.

ADDRESSED TO THE DISSOLUTE.

HERE, stop, young man! and if thine eye,
Can shed o'er injur'd worth a tear,
With heedless step, oh pass not by,
But wake the thought of pity here.

Beneath this yew's funereal shade,
The broken-hearted Nancy sleeps;
And often here the passing maid,
Or passing rustic stops and weeps.

For black-hair'd Nancy, kind and fair,
Was gentle as the gentle dove;
And died, ah wretched! in despair,
The victim of unhallow'd love!

Or, if thou shed'st the bitter tear,
O'er thine own sorrows man forlorn!
Here pause, for she reposes here
Who once like thee was doom'd to mourn.

Beneath this yew's dark umbrage rest;
Against the rugged trunk reclin'd;
And tender thoughts, ideas blest,
Shall softly soothe thy mourning mind.

Spoiler of maids, whose soul is guile,
A villain's victim sleeps below!
She drank sweet poison in a smile,
And found that lawless love was woe.

Modest she was, she knew not art,
Her thoughts ne'er soar'd on wings of pride;
Her hand was bounty, and her heart,
To pity's mildness was allied.

Love, love the purest, fir'd her breast;
Love was betray'd by villainy;
But now her sorrows are at rest,
And her sad story speaks to thee.
