City Tavern.

Annapolis, April 22, 1806.

ALL persons indebted to the subscriber are requested to make payment without delay.

There are many customers to this house who have not paid one cent for a whole year; such delinquents are informed, that if payments are not made by the first day of next month, I shall be under the painful necessity of refusing accommodation without a tender of the cash.

2 JOHN GWINN, Jun.

New Boot and Shoe Factory.

Betterly beg leave to inform the public in general, also his friends in particular, that he has commenced business in the house formerly occupied by Mr. Abraham Ridgely, at the lower end of Corn-Hill-street, near the Dock, where he intends to carry on the boot and shoe manufactory in all its various branches; he pledges himself that he will execute the same in the neatest workmanship, and newest fashions. Any orders from the country will be thankfully received, and punctually attended to.

3X STEPHEN CLARK.

Annapolis, April 16, 1806.

Poet's Corner.

SELECTED.

FROM THE "CORSE OF STERLING."

AN ELEGY.

MILD was the eve, and gently wav'd the grove,
Fresh were the flowers that deck'd the green-ward gay,
When down the slope, where coo'd the woodland dove,
I found my Laura near the vocal spray.

Blithe roamed the fair one, round the encircling wood,
Till by the brook that skirts the haw-thorn glade
We came, where late a spreading poplar stood,
But now across the stream supinely laid.

The tender Laura, starting, heav'd a sigh,
(For by this tree the maid had often fate)
The tear of sorrow filled each lovely eye;
"And art thou fall'n, she said, that bloom'd so late?"

"Alas, my Edwin! scarce three days are past
Since I beheld this poplar gaily grow;
Yet, see, my friend, how soon the ruthless blast
Has laid its strength and towering grandeur low.

"And what is man, with all his boasted power?
Ah! what, tho' youth and roscate beauties bloom!
E'en thus he falls, when, in some luckless hour,
Stern death untimely shrouds him in the tomb."

Cease, lovely moralist, I fondly said,
While to my breast I clasp'd the charming fair;
Let love and transport bless this secret shade,
And from thy bosom banish grief and care.

Say, why this sad, tho' sweetly plaintive strain?
My life! my love! our youth was made for glee;
Ah! wherefore think of death, or thus complain,
When Edwin thinks of nought but love and thee?

The fair one smil'd, and flush'd with modest charms,
In whispering accents breath'd this soft return:
'Should death untimely snatch thee from my arms,
Ah, me! would Laura have no cause to mourn!'

The following Verses are published in the London papers immediately after their most splendid description of the Funeral of Lord Nelson, on the 8th of January. They are from the greatest statesman on the greatest admiral in the world. We can scarcely say whether they do greater credit to the Hero or the Poet. Enquirer.

ON THE DEATH OF LORD NELSON.

BY THE HON. C. J. FOX.

IN Death's terrific icy arms,
The brave illustrious Nelson lies;
He's free from care and war's alarms,
Sees not our tears, nor hears our sighs.

Cold is the heart where valour reign'd,
Mute is the tongue that joy inspir'd,
Still is the arm that conquest gain'd,
And dim the eye that glory fir'd.

Too mean for him a world like this!
He's landed on that happy shore,
Where all the brave partake of bliss,
And heroes meet to part no more.

IMPROMTU.

SOME tars in their grog having heard that a Mack Was by Buonaparte taken, were thrown all a-back— Then questioned the boatswain what Mack it could be? No Mack, said the boatswain, that's e'er been at sea. If he has, I'll be d—'d, roars old Pipes in a frenzy, He's not a MacBride, nor yet a MacKenzie. No Mack, since the Union, would e'er strike to Boney; So he's no Mack of our's, but some old Macaroni. PAT.

NOTICE.

By virtue of a decree of the High Court of Chancery, will be exposed to PUBLIC SALE, on Monday the nineteenth day of May next, at Magruder's, (formerly Baldwin's) tavern, at twelve o'clock, if fair, if not, the first fair day thereafter,

A TRACT of LAND lying and being in Prince-George's county, called The Second Resurvey on part of Breahear's Pocolon, containing sixty-eight acres more or less. COMMITTED to my custody, as a runaway, a negro man by the name of HANDY MUNSZILLEN, who says he was set free by THOMAS FORREST, of Caroline county, close by the Bowling Green, state of Virginia; he is about five feet eight or nine inches high, and stout made, has a scar on the right side of his chin, and on his left leg, occasioned by a dray running over it; his cloathing is a blue cloth coat, with metal buttons, blue cloth jacket, and parlous grey casimer pantaloons, and new shoes, bound, and an old hat. His master is desired to take him away, or he will be sold for his fees and other expences, agreeably to law.

JASPER E. TILLY, Sheriff of Anne-Arundel county.

April 30, 1806.

YOUNG DIOMED,

WILL stand at the subscriber's farm, on Rhode river, about seven miles from Annapolis, this season, to cover mares, at fifteen dollars each, and one dollar to the groom, that sum or a note of twenty dollars, payable the first of January, 1807, must be sent with each mare, or they will not be received; said notes may be discharged by the payment of fifteen dollars on or before the first day of November next. The season will commence the first of April and end the twentieth of July.

YOUNG DIOMED is a beautiful dapple grey horse, eight years old this spring, full fifteen hands and a half high, his blood and strain equal to any horse on the continent; the compactness of his form, and elegance of his figure, is greatly admired by the best of judges, he is full of bone, and proportionable shape, symmetry, and fine action; he came out of Mr. Ogle's imparted mare Charlotte, and was got by colonel Tayloe's noted horse Grey Diomed, as will appear by the following certificates.

I do certify the bay mare called Charlotte, sold to Mr. Harford, was got by Snap, a son of old Snap, her dam by Lightfoot; a son of old Cade, her grand-dam by Regulus, her great-grand-dam by old Cade, her great-great-grand-dam by old Partner, &c. &c. &c. (Signed) JOS. HARDY.

October 1, 1779.

A true copy from the original pedigree in my possession.

BENJ. OGLE, jun.

The grey horse now in the possession of col. Sellman was bred by me, he was got by Mr. Tayloe's horse Grey Diomed, out of the above mare.

BENJ. OGLE, jun.

March 20, 1802.

Good pastures will be provided for mares at fifty cents per week, but accidents and escapes must be at the risk of their owners.
