Wednesday, May 13. ...Cybert presented a petition from the owners of Portuguese vessels, in praying permission to take in Philadelphia.

...moved that the petition lie on the table. Lacock moved that its further consideration be postponed to the 4th of July.

...opposed to granting any favors to foreigners which the house had solemnly refused to its own fellow citizens.

...Lacock thought the most proper course to refer it to the committee of commerce and manufactures. He had understood the object of laying an embargo was to protect our citizens from exposing their property to risk; it was, therefore, on this subject, to do them a favour to keep their property, instead of being a favour to allow it to go out.

...The danger apprehended to our property, could not apply to petitioners, nor would their property be taken from them in case of a blockade, he believed that we were bound by treaty to permit foreign vessels to trade under these circumstances. The embargo, was worthy of inquiry.

...Key made a few observations to the effect, that the petitions lie on the table, ayes 27; and the motion to postpone its further consideration until the 4th of July, was carried, ayes 40, noes 35. The bill to incorporate the Mechanics of Alexandria was read a third time and passed, ayes 51, noes 56.

...prepared to strike a blow, there were members enough here to declare that it should be struck.

Mr. Williams said one of his objects was to give the Merchants another warning, in addition to the Embargo, that the house was determined to act. It could not be inferred from the resolution that they were unable to proceed without the absent members; if there was but a bare quorum in the house, he for one would vote for war; but he wished to enter the great question should be taken, to see the house as full as possible, so that it might not be said that advantage has been taken of any member's absence.

On motion of Mr. Roberts, the resolution was amended by striking out the words 'prior to the first of June next,' & inserting 'forthwith,' by which no particular day is assigned. The question was then taken and the resolution agreed to. Adjourned.

Thursday, May 14. Mr. Turner presented a memorial from a number of the inhabitants of Plymouth, Mass., praying a repeal of the Non-Importation and Embargo Law, and expressing their ardent hope that peace may be preserved. Ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Findley presented a petition from Arthur St. Clair, praying that the account of the expedition against the Indians in 1791, under his command, formerly given to Congress, be printed, in order to remove unfounded impressions relative to that affair.

Some debate took place on the propriety of granting this request. Mr. Reed thought it would be better to grant Mr. St. Clair some pecuniary relief, and accordingly moved that the petition be referred to a select committee with instructions to report such relief as they might deem proper.

Mr. Turner moved to amend the resolution by striking out that part relating to granting relief. Lost, ayes 38, noes 51.

Mr. Tallmadge made a most affecting appeal to the generosity of the House. He stated that Mr. St. Clair did not possess a shilling to buy himself a dinner. [Gen. St. Clair was in the house at the time.]

Mr. Reed's motion was agreed to and the petition referred to a committee of five.

Mr. Lewis presented the petition of Joseph Smith of Alexandria, stating that in the year 1829, he shipped to Tonningen a quantity of Tobacco, the proceeds of which, by an arrangement with the Secretary of the Treasury, were to have been placed to the credit of the government of the U. States, which in consequence of the French tariff was obliged to be removed from Tonningen to Hamburg, and there sold and brought him in debt upwards of 1400 dollars, & praying relief. Referred to the Secretary of state.

Mr. Lewis moved that the petition of Thomas Janney and others of Alexandria (which was presented some days ago, and referred to the same committee of the whole to whom had been referred the petition of Peter Hoffman and others) be now referred to a select committee.

Mr. King moved that its further consideration be postponed until the 4th of July next. Carried, Ayes 54, Noes 39.

The amendment of the Senate to the bill making further provisions for the army of the U. States, (authorizing the Commander in chief to employ a Secretary, &c.) was taken up and agreed to; as was also their amendment to the bill authorizing a survey of the boundaries of Ohio.

The house went into committee of the whole on the bill for the relief of Hannah Young. This bill proposes to pay her the amount of half pay due to her, in consequence of her father's having been killed in the revolutionary war. After considerable debate on the merits of the claim, the committee rose without coming to a decision, and obtained leave to sit again.

Mr. Williams moved that when the house adjourn, they return to meet on MONDAY next. Mr. Wright called for the ayes and noes on this motion. They were taken and it was lost, ayes 31, noes 48. And then the house adjourned. (1-2 part 3.)

GENERAL ORDERS.

The commander in chief of the Militia of Maryland having been called on by the President of the United States, in virtue of an act of the congress of the United States passed the 10th instant, entitled "An act to authorize a detachment from the Militia of the United States," to organize, arm and equip, according to law, and to hold in readiness to march at a moment's warning, six thousand of the Militia of Maryland (the State's Quota) to be detached and duly organized into Companies, Battalions, Regiments, Brigades and Divisions, within the shortest period that circumstances would permit, and in the proportions in the call specified, to comply with the demand of the President of the U. States, I request of you, that immediately you call on the Major General of the third division of the Militia of Maryland, that with promptness and despatch he furnish by draught, or otherwise, 2,179 of the Militia under his command, consisting of the following descriptions, to wit: three companies of Artillery, each containing forty men; three troops of Horse, each containing thirty-five men; three regiments of Infantry containing eighteen hundred and twenty-four men; and three companies of Riflemen containing two hundred and twenty men, the proportion of that division. That you call on the Major General of the second division, that with promptness and despatch, he furnish by draught, or otherwise, 2,179 of the Militia under his command, consisting of the following descriptions, to wit: two companies of Artillery, each containing forty five men; three troops of Cavalry each containing thirty-five men; three regiments of Infantry containing eighteen hundred and seventy-four men; and two companies of Riflemen containing one hundred and fifty men; and also that you call on the Major General of the first division, that with promptness and despatch he furnish by draught, or otherwise fifteen hundred and thirty-eight of the Militia under his command, consisting of the following descriptions, to wit: two companies of Artillery, each containing forty-five men; two troops of Horse each containing forty men; two regiments of Infantry containing twelve hundred and sixteen men; and two companies of Riflemen containing one hundred and fifty-two men. That you also require of the respective Major Generals, that they cause immediate returns to be made of the men, designating those which may be draughted, and those who may volunteer their services. It is important that the returns be made immediately after the men are obtained, that they may be organized, armed and equipped, and exercised by the officers that will be set over them, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Congress, and in virtue of which the requisition is made, in order to be in readiness to move at a moment's warning.
