Messrs. Baring and Brougham both condemned the policy of the Orders, particularly as they affected the relations with America; and were replied to by Lord Castlereagh and Mr. Stephen.
Lord Stanley inquired, if in case the inquiry should show that the Orders in Council were a principal cause of the present pressure, Ministers would refuse to rescind them?
The Chancellor of the Exchequer (Mr.
Perceval) said, even if it appear that a great part of the temporary pressure for this single year was to be attributable to the Orders in Council; yet, if it were found that there were other concurrent causes, and that the pressure was merely temporary, he could not say that he could pledge himself to abandon the system.
The motion was unanimously agreed to and the committee was ordered to sit from day to day.

LONDON, May 29.
The charge brought against our government by the government of America drew, as we said it would, an explanation from his majesty's ministers in each house of Parliament. Lord Liverpool in the House of Lords disclaimed any intention of doing any thing that might tend to a separation of the dominions of the United States, and added that government had not even known of Mr.
Henry's being employed in America, until after his return to Quebec. Lord Castlereagh made a similar declaration in the House of Commons.

There can be but one opinion with respect to the eagerness which Mr. Madison shows to make the correspondence public, without taking any steps with our minister in America, or our government at home, to certain the accuracy or inaccuracy of Henry's correspondence. The man comes to him in the shape of a traitor to his employers; yet he places implicit confidence in his statement.
Paris papers have arrived to the 25th inst.
They are silent respecting Buonaparte's departure from Paris. It is not however unusual with them to take no notice of such an event till two or three days after it has taken place. Buonaparte is so much beloved by his subjects, that he never lets them know the exact period of his departure or arrival on purpose no doubt, to prevent their pressing upon him in crowds with their acclamations and their blessings.

These papers mention the movements of Austrian troops towards Galicia, and the formation of corps de reserve in Russia.
Young Beauharnois is arrived in Paris from Italy, but whether to be left there during Buonaparte's absence, or to accompany him, is not stated.

LONDON, (COURIER) MAY 12.
Assassination of Mr. Perceval.
It is under feelings of horror, grief and dismay, that we record an event unparalleled in the history of our country, or, perhaps, of any other—the assassination of Mr. Perceval, as he was entering the lobby of the House of Commons yesterday, at a quarter past five o'clock. Mr. P. was shot through the heart and expired immediately. The assassin remained in the crowd, and surrendered himself. The prisoner spoke to the following effect: —“I have admitted the fact—I admit the fact—but with permission to state something in my justification. I have been denied the redress of my grievances by government; I have been ill-treated. They all know who I am, and what I am, through the Secretary of State and Mr. Becket, with whom I have had frequent communications. They knew of this fact six weeks ago, through the magistrates of Bow-street. I was accused most wrongfully by a governor-general in Russia, in a letter from Archangel to Riga, and have sought redress in vain. I am a most unfortunate man, and feel here, (placing his hand on his breast) sufficient justification for what I have done.”

The coroner's jury has just concluded its proceedings by bringing in a verdict of wilful murder against John Bellingham, formerly ship broker of Liverpool.

The assassin of Mr. Perceval appears to have been actuated by no political bias, and the opposition members of parliament expressed their horror at the action, and were active in securing the perpetrator; who is said to have been subject to fits of insanity.

ANNAPOLIS, THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1812.

NOTICE.
We are authorised and requested to state to the Voters of Anne-Arundel county, that BENJAMIN ALLEIN will serve them, if elected, as a Delegate to the next General Assembly.

From the National Intelligencer of June 20.
The House of Representatives sat the whole of yesterday with closed doors, occupied probably in the discussion of questions incident to or arising out of a state of War.

By the President of the United States of America, A Proclamation.

WHEREAS the Congress of the United States, by virtue of the Constituted Authority vested in them, have declared by their act, bearing date the eighteenth day of the present month, that War exists between the United Kingdom of G. Britain & Ireland the dependencies thereof, & the U. States of America and their territories: Now therefore, I, James Madison, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim the same to all whom it may concern: and I do specially enjoin on all persons holding offices, civil or military, under the authority of the United States, that they be vigilant and zealous, in discharging the duties respectively incident thereto: And I do moreover exhort all the good people of the United States, as they love their country; as they value the precious heritage derived from the virtue and valor of their fathers; as they feel the wrongs which have forced on them the last resort of injured nations; and as they consult the best means, under the blessing of Divine Providence of abridging its calamities; that they exert themselves in preserving order, in promoting concord, in maintaining the authority and the efficacy of the laws, and in supporting and invigorating all the measures which may be adopted by the Constituted Authorities, for obtaining a speedy, a just, and an honorable peace.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the U. States to be affixed to these presents.

(Seal.)—Done at the city of Washington, the nineteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and twelve, and of the Independence of the U. States the thirty-sixth.
