

MISCELLANEOUS

From the Catskill Recorder. DREAMS.

To dream and to remember your dream, is a sure forerunner that you were not awake, nor very sound asleep, when you dreamed.

To tell all your dreams, prognosticates that you might be better employed.

For a young man to dream of the lasses, foretells that he thought of them before he went to sleep.

For a young lady to dream very particularly of any certain young gentleman, foretells that she purchased her last hat to attract his attention.

To dream of a person's nose, is the forerunner that you have a nose of your own, if you have never lost it.

To dream of trouble, is a harbinger of your having trouble while you are dreaming.

To dream of happiness, shows that you will probably be disappointed when you awake.

To hear a dead-watch, denotes that there is a little insect near you.

To hear a dog howl is a sure sign that he has lungs, and that you have ears.

To see strange lights, is a sign that there is something to cause them, or that your head is disordered, and that some body will surely die after it.

To see an apparition, or to be bewitched, is an incontestable evidence that you are lacking common sense.

From late London papers. A NATURAL PHENOMENON

Of rare occurrence in this climate, and attended by very singular circumstances was recently observed at Mundesley, in Norfolk.

During the sale of some wreck upon the beach, the attention of a person was drawn towards what he conceived to be a ship on fire about a mile from the shore.

He immediately pointed it out; but it was accounted for by the supposition that the appearance of smoke arose from the steam vessel passing from the north.

An old Capt. however, soon decided that the rising column was a water spout. As they watched this interesting spectacle, on a sudden three new bathing machines laid up for the winter in an opening in the cliff, through which a stream that turns a mill takes its course, were hurried into the air with inconceivable rapidity.

Two of them took their direction towards a house, over which they were forced by the hurricane, breaking in the roof & falling on the other side, they were dashed to atoms.

The third passed over the mill, which was also destroyed by its fall.

THE FATE OF MEN OF GENIUS.

Plutus turned a mill. Terence was a slave. Boethius died in a goal. Paulo Borgheze, though he had fifteen different trades, yet starved with them all.

Tasso was often distressed for the most trifling services. (One of the suite of Maximilian, Duke of Sully, made an embassy to England, during the reign of James the First, and one of the most learned and accomplished men of his age), died drunk in a common brothel.

Bentivoglio was refused admittance into the very hospital which he erected. Edmund Allen, the celebrated actor, and contemporary of Shakespeare, died in a similar institution of his own.

Corneille, the great French dramatic writer, was so poor, that he has been seen in very advanced old age standing at the entrance of a cobbler's stall, with only one shoe on, while the other was mending; and Racine left his family in such distress as to be supported by a pension: which some of his friends solicited for him.

Richard (called by way of distinction the admirable Crichton) who was the most learned and dispassionate man of his time, lived on the supply of the day, and at length lost his life in a midnight brawl in the public street.

Butler's talents, though the delight of the age in which he lived, and his immortal work the principal talk of the court conversation, was never master of 50l.

Otway is said to have died with hunger, Camoens ended his days in an hospital, and Vauglas left his body to the surgeons to pay his debts.

Cervantes, the celebrated author of Don Quixote, after being imprisoned, and meeting many unaccountable slights and hardships, died for want.

Churcill died a beggar; Lloyd, his friend and brother patriot, died in the fleet, where he previously existed for some years by soliciting daily charity, and the subscription for works which he never intended to publish.

Hickcrstaff ran away as much for debt as for the crime imputed to him. Goldsmith was nearly two thousand pounds in debt when he died; & Hugh Kelly, author of Falstaff, &c. died in just the same condition.

Dr. Paul Hiffernan, an author well known about the same period, contracted his last illness, which was a jaundice, from mere want, and was then supported by a friendly subscription.

Purdo, a good scholar, and a man of taste, after subsisting for many years as a bookseller's hack, ended his being in an hospital. Jones, author of the Earl of Essex, &c. being run over by a night cart in the street, was carried to an hospital (for want of any other lodging) and was supported there by the master of the Bedford Coffee House till he died.

Boyce, one of the earliest contemporaries of Dr. Johnson, and originally a writer with him in the Gentlemen's Magazine, expired in a miserable garret on Tower Hill.

Sterner, the celebrated author of "Fristram Shandy," though his works sold uncommonly well, and his income as a clergyman, together with his reputation as a writer, might have commanded respect and independence, left a wife and daughter in great distress, dying seven hundred pounds in debt.

Mrs. Manby, the author of the original "Atlantis," and the protegee of Swift, Steele, Prior, &c. finally subsisted on the bounty of Alderman Barber, while Floyer Sydenham, the learned and elegant translator of Plato, was lately supported by one Nott, a publican, near Temple Bar, who having known him in his better days, kindly remembered in the time of sickness and misfortune.

BOW-STREET. Ephraim vs. Stewart.—This was a proceeding in limine, by which the plaintiff sought reparation for violence done to his religious scruples and bodily health, by the act of the defendant, inasmuch as he, the plaintiff, being a Jew, the defendant, on Wednesday, the twelfth of this present December, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, in the parish of St. Paul, Covent Garden, did, with malice afore-thought, knock him down with a pig's head, contrary to the statute, and against the peace of our Sovereign Lord the King, &c.

Both plaintiff and defendant pleaded each for himself; no counsel being retained on either side.

Ephraim Ephraim deposed, that he is by profession an orange merchant, carrying on his business in Covent Garden Market; that the defendant, Richard Stewart, is a dealer in pork & poultry in the said market; & that he, the said Richard Stewart, on the day and hour above stated, did thrust a "pig's face" against his cheek with such violence as to throw him backwards into a chest of oranges, whereby he sustained great damage both in mind, body, and merchandize.

Plaintiff stated, moreover, that he had previously, and on sundry occasions, forewarned the said Richard, it was contrary to the tenets of his religion to come in contact with pork; and yet, nevertheless, the said Richard did frequently, and from time to time, obtrude pork upon his attention, by holding it up aloft in the market, and calling to him—"Ephraim, will you have a mouthful?"

All this, he humbly submitted, betokened great malice and wickedness in the said Richard, and he therefore besought the magistrate to interpose the protection of the law in his behalf.

The Magistrate observed that he was astonished a person of Mr. Stewart's appearance and respectability should be guilty of such conduct; and having explained to him that the law afforded equal protection to the professors of every religion, called upon him for his defence.

"May it please your worship," said Mr. Richard Stewart, who is an elderly, well fed man, of a jolly and pleasant countenance—"May it please your worship, I keep a stand in Covent-Garden Market, and have done so any time these ten years, and Mr. Ephraim's stand is next to mine. Now, your worship, on Wednesday morning I'd a hamper of pork up outo' Hertfordshire, and so opened the hamper, and at the top on it lay a nice head, and I takes it and holds it up, and says I, 'Here's a beautiful head, says I. 'Did ever any body see such a handsome un! I'm sure enough your Worship, it was the most beautiful as ever was, and would do any body's heart good to see it—it was cut so clean off of the quarter (drawing his finger closely across his own neck), and was so short it the snout, and as white as a sheet it was, your Worship; quite remarkably handsome. And so I said, says I, 'Look here! Did ever any body see such a picture?' holding it up just in this manner. With that, 'Ah!' says Mr. Ephraim, 'says he, 'now my dream's out—I dreamt last night that I saw two pig's heads together, and there they are!'—meaning my head and the pig's head, your Worship. Well, I took no notice of that, but I goes me gently behind him, and slides the pig's head by the side of his head, claps me own of the other side—all a row with the pig's!—the middle, your Worship; and says I to the folks, says I, 'Now who'll say which is the honest face of the three!' With that, your Worship, all the folks fell a laughing, and I goes myself quickly back again to my stall. But poor Ephraim fell in such a passion! Lord! it were a moral to see what a pucker he were in: he danced, and he capered, and he rubbed his whiskers—though I verily believe that the pig's head never touched him—and he jumped and fidgeted about all as one as if he was mad, till at last he tumbled into the orange chest, your Worship, of his own accord, as it were; and that's the long and the short of it, your Worship, as my neighbours here can specify."

His Worship having listened attentively to these conflicting statements, decided that the defendant had acted indecently, insulting the religious feelings of the plaintiff; though, at the same time, the affair was hardly worth carrying to the Sessions, and therefore he would recommend the plaintiff to be satisfied with an apology.

The defendant expressed the greatest willingness to apologize. "For," says he, "I have asked another Jew what could make Mr. Ephraim in such a passion, and he told me, your Worship, that if you get a rare Jew and rub him with a bit o' pork, it's the greatest crime as ever was."

Plaintiff and defendant then retired, and the matter was compromised.

Is hereby given to those who are indebted to me, that in consequence of the pressure of the time, I have taken this method of informing them that I wish them to call and discharge their accounts, as I have pressing engagements to fulfil, otherwise I shall be obliged to put them in officers hands. A compliance will oblige their obedient servant, BENJ. MEAD.

He will also work at reduced prices in his line, for Cash. Annapolis, Feb. 7.

Ducks, Oysters, &c. &c. The subscriber informs the public that he has made arrangements to furnish DINNERS & SUPPERS, of Wild Fowl, Oysters, &c. at the shortest notice, and on moderate terms, and respectfully solicits a share of public patronage. They can be supplied with Liquors of the best quality. And he flatters himself, from his long experience in the above line, that every satisfaction will be afforded those who may be disposed to favour him with a call. G. I. GRAMMER.

P. S. He expects in a few days a large supply of Pepper's Best Philadelphia Beer. December 6, 1821.

The Saturday Magazine, Containing Miscellaneous Selections from Foreign Magazines, Literary Intelligence, Scientific Notices, Record, Agricultural papers read before the Agricultural Society of Philadelphia, Variety, Poetry.—Being a continuation of the National Recorder. Published by Littel and Henry, No. 71, S. Second-st. Philadelphia.—Price $3 per annum.

No. 27, of the Saturday's Magazine contains Confessions of an English Opium Eater.

Stories of Crocodiles American Medals From the Memoir of Gaudenia de Luca.

Mr. Belzoni's Egyptian Antiquities Fatal Wedding Menziesoff A Strolling Company 'The Honour of Mograh Monoghan, a story Provincial Dialect Origin of Tea being used New Publications, &c.

Published Every Saturday at 5 dollars per annum—subscriptions received at this Office, and G. Shaw's store, Jan. 31.

REMOVAL. MARTIN F. REVELL, TAILOR,

Adopts this mode of acquainting his friends and the public generally, that he has removed his shop to nearly opposite the market house, and one door above Adam & John Miller's dry good and grocery store, where he will be happy to accommodate all those who are disposed to patronise him in his business, on moderate terms, and with neatness and despatch. He likewise embraces this opportunity of returning his sincerest thanks to all who have encouraged him in his line of business since his commencement. And he hopes those who are indebted to him will come forward and settle their accounts as he cannot do without the money for his labour.

Annapolis, Feb. 7.

60 Dollars Reward. Ran away from the subscriber about the 1st of January, a negro man by the name of JIM, about 25 years of age, 5 feet 10 or 11 inches in height, very black, long face, his front teeth long and uncommonly wide apart; he was purchased of Mr. Cornelius Manning, of St. Mary's county, and no doubt will attempt to get back there again, as he has received a pass from a negro in the neighbourhood, and was seen in Calvert county on his way to the ferry. The above reward will be given, no matter where taken, if brot home, or lodged in goal, so that I get him again. HENRY HALL, West River, near Annapolis, Feb. 7.

NOTICE. The Lot, Annapolis or next, for my for the, Feb. 14.

Was stolen, from the Dock with canvas at the end of the sut on the caing this as ed, if req, Jan. 24.

Now occupy near the B given on the further part subscriber, Robert We, Jan. 17.

The subscriber informs the public that he has made arrangements to furnish DINNERS & SUPPERS, of Wild Fowl, Oysters, &c. at the shortest notice, and on moderate terms, and respectfully solicits a share of public patronage. They can be supplied with Liquors of the best quality. And he flatters himself, from his long experience in the above line, that every satisfaction will be afforded those who may be disposed to favour him with a call. G. I. GRAMMER.

P. S. He expects in a few days a large supply of Pepper's Best Philadelphia Beer. December 6, 1821.

The Saturday Magazine, Containing Miscellaneous Selections from Foreign Magazines, Literary Intelligence, Scientific Notices, Record, Agricultural papers read before the Agricultural Society of Philadelphia, Variety, Poetry.—Being a continuation of the National Recorder. Published by Littel and Henry, No. 71, S. Second-st. Philadelphia.—Price $3 per annum.

No. 27, of the Saturday's Magazine contains Confessions of an English Opium Eater.

Stories of Crocodiles American Medals From the Memoir of Gaudenia de Luca.

Mr. Belzoni's Egyptian Antiquities Fatal Wedding Menziesoff A Strolling Company 'The Honour of Mograh Monoghan, a story Provincial Dialect Origin of Tea being used New Publications, &c.

Published Every Saturday at 5 dollars per annum—subscriptions received at this Office, and G. Shaw's store, Jan. 31.

CABINET MAKING

The Subscriber, at his Shop, Church-street, opposite the Post-Office, having provided himself with Machinery, and other materials, for carrying on the Cabinet Making Business, &c. Solicits the public for a portion of their custom, which will be thankfully received.

On the shortest notice, and most reasonable terms. He will also attend to the business of Upholstering and Paper Hanging. JONATHAN WEEDON, Annapolis, Jan. 3, 1822.

A COACH FOR BALTIMORE

(Five times a Week.) In addition to the regular line of three times a week, viz. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, a PRIVATE COACH will run every Monday and Friday throughout the winter, starting from Mrs. Robinson's and Mrs. Barnum's at 8 o'clock, and arriving at Barney's Hotel the same afternoon.

Fare and Allowance of baggage same as in mail free.

For seats please apply at Mr. George Shaw's Store, Church street, Annapolis, Jan. 31, 1822.

Take Notice.

MARYLAND GAZETTE

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY JONAS GREEN, CHURCH-STREET, ANNAPOIS.

Price—Three Dollars per Annum.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, Tuesday, Feb. 19.

Resolved, That the secretary of war be directed to lay before this house a statement of the number of edicts executed at the military academy, who have remained in the service of the United States five years; and the number who have received commissions and resigned, or have been discharged from service before the expiration of five years; also, the number that have left the military academy without commissions, and the amount of money that has been paid each; also, the amount paid to agents between the time of their appointment and that of their being mustered at the academy, and the time of leaving the academy, and the time of receiving commissions and entering the service of the United States; also, the number educated at the academy, who were in the service during the late war; also, the expense of maintaining the officers and instructors of the Academy each year since 1802; and the expense of ammunition which has been furnished for the use of the academy; and the officers who have been stationed at the academy.

Mr. Hardin, of Kentucky, who was entitled to the floor at the hour of adjournment on Saturday, delivered his sentiments on the question, pending the committee on the imprisonment of these men, and asserting the existence, in every territory of the United States, of those rights which are, under our constitution, reciprocal to the United States, viz. right to freedom of person, of religion, trial by jury, the writ of habeas corpus, &c.

No question was taken on the subject previous to the adjournment, which took place before four o'clock.

In consequence of the death of Mr. Pinkney the house did no business on Tuesday.

MISCELLANEOUS

From the Connecticut Courant. MORALIST.

There is no virtue more acceptable to God, and practice more conducive to human happiness, than resignation to the divine will. He, who presumes to question the wisdom, the goodness, and the paternal solicitude for the felicity of man, of the

THE FATE OF MEN OF GENIUS. Plutus turned a mill. Terence was a slave. Boethius died in a goal. Paulo Borgheze, though he had fifteen different trades, yet starved with them all.

Tasso was often distressed for the most trifling services. (One of the suite of Maximilian, Duke of Sully, made an embassy to England, during the reign of James the First, and one of the most learned and accomplished men of his age), died drunk in a common brothel.

Bentivoglio was refused admittance into the very hospital which he erected. Edmund Allen, the celebrated actor, and contemporary of Shakespeare, died in a similar institution of his own.

Corneille, the great French dramatic writer, was so poor, that he has been seen in very advanced old age standing at the entrance of a cobbler's stall, with only one shoe on, while the other was mending; and Racine left his family in such distress as to be supported by a pension: which some of his friends solicited for him.

Richard (called by way of distinction the admirable Crichton) who was the most learned and dispassionate man of his time, lived on the supply of the day, and at length lost his life in a midnight brawl in the public street.

Butler's talents, though the delight of the age in which he lived, and his immortal work the principal talk of the court conversation, was never master of 50l.

Otway is said to have died with hunger, Camoens ended his days in an hospital, and Vauglas left his body to the surgeons to pay his debts.

Cervantes, the celebrated author of Don Quixote, after being imprisoned, and meeting many unaccountable slights and hardships, died for want.

Churcill died a beggar; Lloyd, his friend and brother patriot, died in the fleet, where he previously existed for some years by soliciting daily charity, and the subscription for works which he never intended to publish.

Hickcrstaff ran away as much for debt as for the crime imputed to him. Goldsmith was nearly two thousand pounds in debt when he died; & Hugh Kelly, author of Falstaff, &c. died in just the same condition.

Dr. Paul Hiffernan, an author well known about the same period, contracted his last illness, which was a jaundice, from mere want, and was then supported by a friendly subscription.

Purdo, a good scholar, and a man of taste, after subsisting for many years as a bookseller's hack, ended his being in an hospital. Jones, author of the Earl of Essex, &c. being run over by a night cart in the street, was carried to an hospital (for want of any other lodging) and was supported there by the master of the Bedford Coffee House till he died.

Boyce, one of the earliest contemporaries of Dr. Johnson, and originally a writer with him in the Gentlemen's Magazine, expired in a miserable garret on Tower Hill.

Sterner, the celebrated author of "Fristram Shandy," though his works sold uncommonly well, and his income as a clergyman, together with his reputation as a writer, might have commanded respect and independence, left a wife and daughter in great distress, dying seven hundred pounds in debt.

Mrs. Manby, the author of the original "Atlantis," and the protegee of Swift, Steele, Prior, &c. finally subsisted on the bounty of Alderman Barber, while Floyer Sydenham, the learned and elegant translator of Plato, was lately supported by one Nott, a publican, near Temple Bar, who having known him in his better days, kindly remembered in the time of sickness and misfortune.

BOW-STREET. Ephraim vs. Stewart.—This was a proceeding in limine, by which the plaintiff sought reparation for violence done to his religious scruples and bodily health, by the act of the defendant, inasmuch as he, the plaintiff, being a Jew, the defendant, on Wednesday, the twelfth of this present December, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, in the parish of St. Paul, Covent Garden, did, with malice afore-thought, knock him down with a pig's head, contrary to the statute, and against the peace of our Sovereign Lord the King, &c.

Both plaintiff and defendant pleaded each for himself; no counsel being retained on either side.

Ephraim Ephraim deposed, that he is by profession an orange merchant, carrying on his business in Covent Garden Market; that the defendant, Richard Stewart, is a dealer in pork & poultry in the said market; & that he, the said Richard Stewart, on the day and hour above stated, did thrust a "pig's face" against his cheek with such violence as to throw him backwards into a chest of oranges, whereby he sustained great damage both in mind, body, and merchandize.

Plaintiff stated, moreover, that he had previously, and on sundry occasions, forewarned the said Richard, it was contrary to the tenets of his religion to come in contact with pork; and yet, nevertheless, the said Richard did frequently, and from time to time, obtrude pork upon his attention, by holding it up aloft in the market, and calling to him—"Ephraim, will you have a mouthful?"

All this, he humbly submitted, betokened great malice and wickedness in the said Richard, and he therefore besought the magistrate to interpose the protection of the law in his behalf.

TO BE CONTINUED

NOTICE.

ADAM & JOHN MILLER, Having purchased of George & John Barber, & Co. their well selected

STOCK OF GOODS, offer them for sale (at their old stand) on the most reasonable and accommodating terms for cash, or on punctual dealers at short dates. Oct. 11, 1821.

REMOVAL.

GEORGE McNEIR—TAILOR, Respectfully acquaints his Friends and the Public, that he has removed his Shop,

One door below the Post Office, Where he has on hand a general supply of FALL & WINTER GOODS, Consisting of Cloths, Casimeres, Car sinets, Cords and Vestings, which he will sell or make up in the best and most fashionable manner, at a short notice, and on accommodating terms.

Those who wish to purchase bargains, will find it to their advantage to give him a call. Annapolis, Nov. 8.

JUST PUBLISHED

And For Sale at Geo. Shaw's Store, THE FIRST VOLUME OF HARRIS & JOHNSON'S REPORTS

Of Cases Argued and Determined in the GENERAL COURT AND COURT OF APPEALS OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND

From the year 1800 to 1805, Inclusive. Price—$6 50. Sept. 27.

of the whole on the unfinished business of yesterday, (the Military appropriation bill)—and afterwards the debate was adjourned.

Mr. Nelson, of Va. moved that the committee rise and report; which was agreed to, and leave obtained to sit again.

Friday, Feb. 22. MILITARY APPROPRIATION BILL. The house resumed the consideration of the unfinished business of yesterday, (the Military appropriation bill)—and afterwards the debate was adjourned.

Saturday, Feb. 23. Mr. Ennis, from the committee on naval affairs, requested to be discharged from the further consideration of the petitions of Marcos de Villars and Arnald Guillemard, (who pray the interruption of congress to release them from captivity in Pemacola, where they are confined by the acting governor of West Florida); and moved also that the petition, together with accompanying documents, be referred to the President of the United States.

Mr. Cocke remarked, that from an examination of the petition and documents referred to, there was reason to apprehend there had been such an usurpation and infringement upon the rights of the petitioners as required the interposition of this house. He therefore moved that the petition be referred to a committee of the whole house on the State of the Union.

Mr. Hardin understood the import of the memorial to be, that the petitioners had been long citizens of Pensacola, and officers under the government of Spain; that they departed from the territory pursuant to a treaty, and returned to private individuality, for the purpose of revisiting the land of their ancestry, and to enjoy their property.

He denied the authority powers which the Executive of the U. S. (Mr. M. DuRoi) contended they possessed, and that the petitioners were proceeding in the territory, when he (M. DuRoi) being about to enter the territory, was prevented from doing so, which was

"Erbach, in Odenwald, August 10th. The castle Spirit has again begun his expedition from Schneller's to Rotenfels. This event took place in the night of the 8th to 9th August. From the recorded accounts that were, as usual, taken on that subject, the following is transcribed.—A little before midnight, a frightful noise was heard in all the surrounding country, which appeared to come from the ruins of the castle of Schneller, with every second the tumult increased, and a sound similar to the thunder of cannons was distinctly heard; soon after, a noise as if a train of artillery, baggage wagons, and such like heavy carriages, by hundreds were passing in full gallop; in the mean time, a noise was heard in the air, as if every storm, and the most tremendous hurricane were let loose to rage, and yet not the least commotion was perceived, even in the smallest trees. In the midst of this tumult, it appeared as if thousands of voices were crying out, hurrah! and halloo! and amongst these sounds were heard trumpets, alternating with the noise of drums and of dreadful hoiling and barking of dogs; but the neighing of horses and the rattling of arms were the most distinctly heard. The united inhabitants of all the adjacent villages, viz. those of Oberknebeck, Langen Brobach, Heimbach, Bilsweier, Grundbach, Eberbach, Ouerqueppre, Kirchbunfurt, Reichelzheim, witnessed this frightful spectacle, which lasted almost two full hours, and at last became so bad, that every wish to hear or see it ceased; the hellish noise was even heard at Ashelder and Wolbach. All the inhabitants of that neighbourhood declare, that never any thing like this was heard before; and those of Oberknebach, who have often heard the expedition of the spirit of Schneller's castle, declare, that the former once can not be means be compared to the present, and that nothing else was expected than the approaching end of the world. On former occasions nothing was seen, but on this, after the noisy army had entered Rotenfels, a blood red cross, surrounded on all sides by fiery halos, and a great many black clouds in the shape of Columns, were seen towards the east, which finally dissolved into blood, and a stream of fire which seemed to carry on and bury all in its torrent, and disappeared with a most extraordinary crash, such as if mountains were falling down; after which the sky appeared

DECI It was on the 10th of this month, that the owner of the bees, after having been left, it was necessary to have a third upon the same was given mean time proceeded to ever, succeeded owner arrived the bees, and gave the recovery of the bees was converted the however, for here name, and giving attorney for the land, and the ship to sign afterwards the words that the bees had been converted to have been according and happened state of Col

We do not know the distance than