No. 88, Chesnut-street, Philadelphia, Has in Press,

AN INTRODUCTION TO THE CRITICAL STUDY AND KNOWLEDGE OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURES.

BY THOMAS HARTWELL HORNE, M. A.

It will be printed from the London edition of 1823, in four very large octavo volumes, it will contain numerous maps and fac similes of biblical manuscripts, and in short every thing that is contained in that edition, and will be very neatly printed on good paper. The first London edition of this work was published in 1818, the second in 1821, the third in 1822, the fourth in 1823. So great a sale of so large a work on such a subject, is the best evidence that can be offered of its value. There has yet been no American edition.

Vol. I. contains a Critical Inquiry into the Genuineness, Authenticity, Uncorrupted Preservation, and Inspiration of the Holy Scriptures.

Vol. II. In two parts, treats, first on Sacred Criticism; including an Historical and Critical Account of the Original Languages of Scripture, and of the Cognate or kindred Dialects; and an Account (with numerous Fac Similes) of the principal manuscripts of the Old and New Testaments, &c. &c. In this part of the work, the History of the Authorized English Version of the Bible is particularly considered. The various Readings, the Quotations from the Old Testament in the New, the Poetry of the Hebrews and Harmonies of the Scriptures, form a portion of this part.

Second Part.—Of the Interpretation of the Scriptures Subsidiary Means for ascertaining the Sense of Scripture, viz. Analogy of Languages, Analogy of Scripture; Scholia and Glossaries, Subject-matter, Context, Scope, Historical Circumstances, and Christian Writers.

These discussions are followed by the application of the preceding principles—to the Historical Interpretation of the Sacred Writings; the Interpretation of the Figurative Language of Scripture; the Spiritual Interpretation of the Scriptures; the Interpretation of Prophecy; of Types, of the Doctrinal and Moral Parts of Scripture, of the Promises and Threatenings therein contained; and the Inferential and Practical Reading of the Sacred Writings.

Vol. III. contains an Outline of the Historical and Physical Geography of the Holy Land. The Political and Military Affairs of the Jewish and other Nations incidentally mentioned in the Scriptures. Sacred Antiquities of the Jews. The Domestic Antiquities, or the Private Life, Manners, Customs, Amusements, &c. of the Jews and other nations incidentally mentioned in the Scriptures.

Proposals

BY FRANCIS WIGGINS, For Publishing by Subscription, THE RISE AND PROGRESS OF METHODISM IN NORTH-AMERICA.

BY JOHN POTTS, Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Trenton, New-Jersey.

The proposed work is a concise and condensed history of Methodism in this country, from its rise to the present time, comprising an account of its introduction and establishment—the annual increase and occasional declension in its membership—the most important changes and improvements that have been made, from time to time, in its ecclesiastical polity—extraordinary revivals of religion, with the most striking incidents that have attended them—sketches of the character of those preachers who have died in the travelling connexion—a general view of the present state and prospects of Methodism, &c. &c.

The character and abilities of the author—his indefatigable exertions to obtain correct information from every accessible source—the interesting subject of the proposed work—the necessity for such a work at the present time, and the moderate price at which it is offered, all go to induce the hope that it will be liberally patronized by the members and friends of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and by the religious public generally.

DECISIONS

OF THE COURT OF APPEALS OF MARYLAND PUBLISHED By Subscription.

THE DECISIONS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS OF MARYLAND,

To be Reported by Thomas Harris, Esquire, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and Heverdy Johnson, Esquire, Attorney at Law.

These Decisions will form a continuation of the first volume of Reports already published by Messrs Harris and Johnson, which closes with the year 1805. It is proposed to publish the Decisions in a Series of Numbers, each to contain not less than one hundred and twenty-five pages, and four numbers to constitute a volume. The last number of each volume will contain a full and complete Index. This mode of publication, it is conceived, possesses advantages which give it a decided preference to that of publishing the Reports in bulky volumes. It ensures the earlier publication of the Reports, and as not more than four numbers will be published in a year, the expense will not be so sensibly felt.

TERMS. The price of each number of the Reports will $1 25, payable on delivery.

Subscriptions to the above Work are received at GEORGE SHAW'S Store, the Maryland Gazette Office, and the respective Offices of the County Clerks of this state.

RAGS.

Clean Linen and Cotton Rags, will be purchased at the Store of the subscriber. G. SHAW.

By authority of the State of Maryland.

From the Plough Boy. ON THE HORN DISTEMPER. I have this moment been reading in your Paper observations on the Horn, T and Horn Distemper; of the first I had no knowledge except by hearsay, although I have been many years a cattle feeder, of the horn distemper I have had opportunity to know much. That it is the spring of a tail soak, (as the distemper is generally called) I think may be proved, by requesting those who have the hard fortune to be early settlers, to collect that during the three or four years of the settlement of every new town, while, as is ever the case, cattle winter, suffer extremely from want of a shed and better covering, the distemper was very prevalent, and the better keeping becomes plenty, and all cases where cattle are liberally fed, disorder seems to have fled the countenance the tail soak is common in all sorts of cattle without distinction. My experience tells me that cattle poorly fed become feeble, and when severely pinched with cold, their blood being weak, it draws from the extremities, which, become less defenceless, are of course frozen. He live it is here proper to state also, the horns become hollow in proportion to the poverty of the creature that wears them, those of a very spring poor kind, are most as deficient as a powder horn.

A pretty general saying, that if the horns are cold, the creature has the sick distemper; this is nothing to judge of, as the cold weather the horns of all cattle grow, when they are in the act of casting, are coated for fifteen minutes to be dried. The disorder is generally defined by the unusual motion of the distemper is commonly understood, but that is not the case, it may be distinguished by a greater hollowiness of the horn than ordinary, that I have not observed great. It is successfully treated by the horns, both upper and under, that the drain may have vent, maintaining at least two portions of where that cannot be procured, physic can be obtained, which may be carefully promoted the patient an endeavour to keep clean the horns by using with salt and vinegar. There is a remedy in the usual treatment of the water which has cost the lives of many thousands of those who professed skill in this distemper, when boring the horns with large cherry Rags, soot, eggs and vinegar, or the stomach they can see their recollection up to. The animal in this distemper, is always extremely feeble until it is suitably cured, which is overdone and injurious, as stimulating or bracing portions can be applied; and where nature strength is sufficient to bear with this distemper, and eventually rise against it, the want of this early assistance distressingly retards its progress.

FLUENCY OF SPEECH. The common fluency of speech, by men and women, is owing (says a writer) to a scarcity of words; for whoever has a large and hath a mind full, will be apt in speaking, to lose the choice of both; whereas if there are hardly one set of ideas, there are always ready, to people of letters, to be chosen when it is nearly done, and are very imposing.

The public are informed that MISS BRUCE, daughter of the late General Bruce, died 1793, and Six Miles, 1807, the president of the Maryland Society, and she appears to be a noble and very imposing.

JAMES ESTHINGTON, offers himself to the fellow of Anne Arundel county, as a candidate to represent them in the General Assembly.

VIRGIN MARY, Esq. will be supported as a candidate for the General Assembly of Maryland, by NANCY YOT.
