ENCOURAGING TO A YOUNG ARTIST.

From the New-York American.

About a month ago, Mr. Cole, a young man from the interior of Pennsylvania, placed three Landscapes in the hands of Mr. Colman, a picture dealer in this city, for sale, hoping to obtain twenty dollars a piece for them. There they remained unnoticed by the Mecænas's who purchase Guidos and Raphael's, and Titian's of the beautiful ture of every manufacturing town in Europe; and there they might have remained if an artist, who had himself placed some of his own productions in the hands of Mr. Colman, had not gone to enquire for the proceeds. On casting his eyes upon one of the pictures by Mr. Cole, he exclaimed "where did this come from?" and continued gazing, almost incapable of understanding the answer. When informed that what he saw was the work of a young man, untutored and unknown, he immediately purchased the picture for 25 dollars, the price Mr. Colman had prevailed upon the painter to affix to his work, adding, "Mr. Colman keep the money due to me, and take the balance.—If I could, sir, I would add to it What I now purchase for 25 dollars, I will not part with for 25 guineas. I am delighted, and at the same time mortified. The youth has done, at once, and without instruction, what I cannot do after 50 years practice." This honourable testimony to the merit and genius of Mr. Cole was from Col. Trumbull.

Colonel Trumbull immediately mentioned his purchase to another artist, and in the highest terms of eulogium. That artist waited at the Colonel's rooms while the picture was sent for, and immediately exclaimed, "This is beyond the expectation you had raised." After gazing with wonder and delight, he hastened to see the remaining two, purchased one, and left the other only for lack of money. He carried this in his hand to the rooms of Col. Trumbull, where two other artists, of the first rank in the city, were in waiting. The result was, that the four went immediately to the picture dealer's, one of the last mentioned artists bought the remainining landscape; all left their cards for Mr. Cole whose modesty had not permitted him to introduce himself to the artists of the city and all have expressed but one sentiment of admiration and pleasure, at the talent which is thus brought to light.

SHOCKING.

Zanesville, (Ohio) Nov. 5

On Saturday morning last, the house of William Scott, about ten miles from town on the Marietta road, was burned to the ground and awful to relate, Mr. Scott consumed therein! We learn that on the previous afternoon, he being intoxicated, ordered his family out doors and drove them off the premises. About dark, as he was returning home, having been to procure more liquor he called at the house where his family were and requested admittance, which was refused; he then ordered their return but which they also refused; and he departed swearing and threatening to burn his house with its contents and himself in it! It is conjectured by some that he deliberately set fire to the house and remained in it until it was consumed; and by others that he became so drunk, that on the fire accidentally occurring, he was unable to stop it, or extricate himself; but from his previous threats and the fact of a favourite Bible of his having been found removed to a safe place with some of his clothes partly burnt, while some books of his wife's were torn to pieces and strewed around the house, the former conjecture seems most probable.

From the Quebec Agricultural Report for October, we copy the following:

The first snow made its appearance on the top of the mountains on the 16th of the month, and there was a fall of snow three inches in depth on the 26th, which disappeared in the night of the 27th. There has been no frost to prevent ploughing, but it was retarded for want of rain till the end of the month, and a great deal remained to be done.

All agricultural produce has risen in price chiefly we believe, from an apprehension of the insufficiency of the crops. This rise, by producing greater economy, has a sure tendency to preserve a sufficiency throughout the year, and if the prices rise too high at the commencement, they are likely to fall proportionately before the ensuing harvest.

OLDEN TIMES.

The following extracts, from an interesting historical work, recently published in New Hampshire, by N. Adams Esq. will afford amusement to the reader.—In the year 1649, the Governor, Deputy Gov. and magistrates, formed an association for the purpose of preventing the wearing of long hair, and the following was one of the articles which they signed. Salem Obser.

"Forasmuch as the wearing of long hair after the manner of ruffians and barbarous Indians, has begun to invade New England contrary to the rule of God's word which says it is a shame for a man to wear long hair as also the commendable custom generally of all the godly of our nation until these few years:

We, the magistrates who have subscribed this paper (for the shewing of our own incency in this behalf) do declare and manifest our dislike and detestation against wearing of such long hair, as a thing uncivil and unmanly, whereby men do deform themselves, and offend sober and modest men, and do corrupt good manners. We do therefore earnestly entreat all the elders of this jurisdiction (as often as they shall see cause) to manifest their zeal against it in their public administrations, and to take care that the members of the respective churches, be not defiled therewith; that such as shall prove obstinate and will not reform themselves, may have God and men to witness against them.

"1662, Sept. 25th. At a town meeting ordered that a cage be made, or some other means invented by the Selectemen, to punish such as sleep, or take tobacco on the Lord's Day out of the meeting, in the time of the public exercise."

"1672, March 12. Voted that if any shall smoke tobacco in the meeting house at the public meeting, he shall pay a fine of five shillings, for the use of the town."

Cure for the Asthma or Phthisic.—Oil of Spermaciti, 1 oz. Sulphur, 1 oz. Senna, 1 oz. Cream of Tartar, ½ oz. Aniseed. Pulverize and mix together the above ingredients in a mortar, and take one tea-spoonful in syrup or molasses, on going to bed.

HYMENEAL.

Married, in this county, on Thursday last, by the Rev. Mr. Blanchard, Joseph N. Clarke, esq. to Miss Sophia Watkins.

—, In George-town, (D. C.) on the 15th inst. by the Rev. Mr. Dougherty, Mr. Jesse W. Greenwell, to Miss Lydia Ann Cutter, daughter of Mr. Henry Coutter, of this city.

HEAD QUARTERS,

Annapolis, November 23d, 1825.

It is the duty of the Brigadier-General of the 8th brigade, to announce to the officers and Soldiers under his command, the melancholy intelligence of the death of Major-General ROBERT CUMMINS, late commander of the first division of Maryland militia, to which the 8th brigade is attached. General Cummings was a soldier of the revolution, revered for the services rendered his country, and greatly esteemed for his qualities as a soldier and citizen. It is therefore respectfully recommended to the Field and Staff Officers of the 8th Brigade, to wear crape on their left arm for thirty days, as a tribute of respect justly due to the memory of the late patriotic and venerable commander of the first division.

WM. MARRIOTT, Brig. Gen.

MR. EVERETT'S ADDRESS.

A considerable degree of public attention having been called to the address delivered by Mr. Everett, our Minister at the Court of Spain, on delivering his letters of credence, and to the animadversions of some of our Journalists, we have taken pains to procure the following translation of his speech, on the accuracy of which reliance may be placed.

Nat. Journal.

[Translation.]

SIR: The President of the United States of America has done me the honour to appoint me their Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near your Majesty, and has directed me to present you this letter of credence. I venture to hope that your Majesty will receive me with the same kindness which you have always shown to my predecessors. Without possessing equal personal claims to your indulgence, I shall, at least, endeavour to merit it by discharging the duties of my office, as far as may be, in a manner agreeable to your Majesty.

The President has also directed me to assure your Majesty, upon this occasion, of the sincere respect and good will which is entertained by the government and people of the United States for the august person of your Majesty, for your royal family, and for the nation under your government. The President has no other wish than to concur with your Majesty in adopting all suitable measures for maintaining and extending the friendly intercourse that already exists between Spain and the United States. The geographical position of these two countries invites them to carry on an active commerce, which tends, in its turn, to encourage the industry and promote the welfare of both. Placed, as respects some of their most valuable possessions, in the immediate neighbourhood of each other, they seem to have been intended by nature for friends and allies. The government of the United States will use all proper exertions, for giving effect to these benevolent designs of Providence, and they have no reason to doubt that corresponding sentiments of amity and good will will be felt by your Majesty.

The President has entrusted me with full powers to settle with your Majesty's ministers the questions which have lately arisen between the two governments. I shall think myself truly fortunate if my feeble efforts should be of any service in arranging these differences to the satisfaction and advantage of both parties.

I pray your Majesty to allow me to offer you personally the assurance of my respect, and my best wishes for your Majesty's welfare.

NEW CAVERN DISCOVERED.

We are informed that a Cavern was discovered in Granby, Conn. a few day's since, by two men who were hunting, about a mile from the meeting-house. It was close to, and directly under the place where a tree had been turned up. Two large roots ran perpendicular, on one of which was seen a large where a door to all appearances, formerly hung. This was the entrance. It also was discovered two human statues cut either in wood or the earth. 1760 was seen engraved in one or two instances, and several articles were found there bearing the appearance of having remained in the situation in which they were first noticed, a great number of years. This discovery has excited some considerable curiosity in Granby and the adjacent towns; more particularly as it was discovered within so short a distance of the immediate neighbourhood; and that it should have remained to this time without being known.

CRUEL PUNISHMENTS.

The efficacy of the extreme severity of punishment, is strikingly exemplified in the reign of Henry VIII remarkable for the abundance of its crimes, which certainly did not arise from the mildness of punishment. In that reign alone, says his historian, seventy-two thousand executions took place for robberies alone, exclusive of the religious murders, which are known to have been numerous, amounting on an average, to six executions a-day, Sundays included, during the whole of Henry the Eighth's reign.

Menstruum for Biting in on Steel Plate.

A gold medal has been presented by the Society for the encouragement of Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce, to Mr. E. Turrell, for his Menstruum for biting in on steel plate. The directions for preparing this menstruum are: Take four parts by measure of the strongest pyroligneous acid, and one part of alcohol; mix these together and agitate them gently for about half a minute; then add one part of pure nitric acid; and when the whole are thoroughly mixed, the menstruum is fit to be poured upon the etched steel plate.

FROM LIMA.

The editor of the Baltimore Gazette has conversed with a gentleman who arrived from Peru by way of Panama, and brings information from Lima to the 20th of August, at which time the Castles of Callao were still in the possession of the Royalists. Gen. Bolivar had not returned from his visit to the province of Upper Peru, but was daily expected in Lima; where and in the adjoining country tranquility prevailed. Letters from Panama of the 1st of September are totally silent respecting political events, and give us no further information of the Congress about to be assembled at that place. The Frigate United States, Com. Hull, and Schooner Dolphin, Lieut. Percival, were lying at Chorillos, and the Sloop of War Peacock, was at Coquimbo.

HONEY.

Mr. Ezra Williams, of Ashfield, Massachusetts, bought a hive of bees six years ago, and afterwards connected other hives with the original one in such a manner as to prevent the bees from swarming. He took up the hives a few weeks since, and after making half a barrel of metheglin, had 293 pounds of strained honey and 91 pounds of excellent honey in the comb, making 384 pounds. He made also 37lbs. of bees wax.

Massachusetts State Prison—The concerns of this prison appear to be in a prosperous state. The whole amount of sales from Oct. 1824 to Oct. 1825, was 59,244 38—Expenses for the same time 49,698 74, which with the increase of stock on hand from last year's statement, leaves a gain of 10,055 32.

Zanesville, (Ohio,) Nov. 12.

It has been extremely dry for a long time in the State of Ohio. The wheat is considerably injured by the drought, and we understand that the fly is also doing injury. Much inconvenience is experienced from the difficulty of getting grinding done. The small streams are so low that the farmers for a great distance around, are under the necessity of coming to Zanesville to have their grain ground.
