Anne Arundel County Court,
April Term 1839.
ON application to Anne Arundel County Court, by petition, in writing, of Cornelius Duvall, praying for the benefit of the act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, passed at November session 1805, and the several supplements thereto, a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, on oath, as far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his petition; and the said Cornelius Duvall having satisfied the said court, by competent testimony, that he has resided in the State of Maryland two years immediately preceding the time of his application, and that he is in actual confinement for debt only. It is therefore ordered and adjudged by the said court, that the said Cornelius Duvall be discharged from his confinement, and that he, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in one of the newspapers printed in the city of Annapolis once a week for three successive months before the fourth Monday of October next, give notice to his creditors to appear before Anne Arundel County Court, on the fourth Monday of October next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, on the said Cornelius Duvall then and there taking the oath by the said act prescribed for delivering the oath by the said act, and to show cause if any they have, why the said Cornelius Duvall should not have the benefit of the said act and supplements thereto, as prayed.

TEACHER WANTING.
BY the Trustees of the Free School of Anne Arundel County, who can come well qualified to teach the Latin and Greek Languages, also well versed in Mathematics, and all the various branches of the English Language. The situation is one very desirable, as it is in a neighbourhood where the population is considerable. The application will be made to the Trustees of the Free School, near Annapolis, Anne Arundel County, Sept 24.
The National Intelligencer will publish the above once a week for three weeks, and forward the account to the Maryland Gazette.

SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.
BY virtue of a decree of the Court of Chancery of Maryland, the subscriber, as trustee will offer for sale at public auction on the premises, on Saturday the 28th day of November next, at 12 o'clock, the farm in Annapolis Neck, lately owned by Philip W. Thomas, deceased. This farm containing of land, is situated on South River, near its mouth; a considerable part of it is covered with heavy timber; in point of fertility of soil it is exceeded by none in the neighbourhood; the soil is peculiarly adapted to the growth of Tobacco and Corn, and every species of muckering crop, and from its proximity to Annapolis, (being only four miles distant) a ready market is found for all its products—abundance of fish, oysters and wild fowl are always to be found on its shores, which are several miles in extent.
624 ACRES
THE TERMS OF SALE.
As prescribed by the decree are, that the purchase money be paid in three equal instalments, at twelve, eighteen and twenty-four months, payment to be secured by bonds or notes, with security approved by the trustee. (On ratification of the sale and payment of the whole purchase money, the subscriber is authorized to convey an estate in fee simple to the persons disposed to purchase or invited to examine the premises now in the occupation of Mrs. Wells. For any further information application may be made to Ramsay Waters, in the city of Annapolis, or to the subscriber, residing on Rhode River.

Swain's Panacea
For the cure of Serpents, Scorpions, Bites of Publick and Morsurel Bees, and other venomous Insects, Galls, White Swellings, Hemorrhoids, the Laver and Skin, General Debility, and all diseases arising from Impure Blood, has also been found beneficial in Dyspeptic complaints.
Price Two Dollars per bottle, and Fifty Dollars per Dozen.

TO THE PUBLIC
In consequence of the numerous and most imposing impositions practised in reference to medicine, I am again induced to change the form of my bottles. In future, the Panacea will be put up in found bottles, noted long and short with the following words blown in the glass—Swain's Panacea—Phila.
These bottles are much stronger than the heretofore used, and will have but one opening which covers the cork, with my own signature on it, so that the cork cannot be drawn without destroying the signature, without which the genuine. The medicine must contain my name known to be genuine when my signature is visible; to counterfeit which, will be punished as forgery.
The increasing demand for this celebrated medicine has enabled me to reduce the price to two dollars per bottle, thus bringing it within the reach of the indigent.
My Panacea requires no emolument; its astonishing effects and wonderful operation, has drawn, both from Patients and Medical Practitioners of the highest respectability, the most unqualified approbation, and established for it a character, which envy's pen, tho' dipped in gall, can never tarnish.
The false reports concerning this valuable medicine, which have been so diligeptly circulated by certain Physicians, have their effect either in envy or in the malicious spirit of the spurious imitations.
The Proprietor pledges himself to the public, and gives them the most solemn assurances, that this medicine contains neither mercury, nor any other deleterious drug.
The public are cautioned not to purchase my Panacea, except from myself, my secretary, agents, or persons of known respectability, and all those will consequently be without excuse, who shall purchase from any other persons.
Wm SWAIN
Philadelphia, Sept. 1828
From Doctor Valentine Mott, Professor of Surgery in the University of New York, Surgeon of the New York Hospital, &c. I have repeatedly used Swain's Panacea, and have found it to be a valuable medicine in chronic, syphilitic and venereal complaints, and in obstinate cutaneous affections.
Valentine Mott, M. D.
New-York, 1st mo 5th, 1824.
From Doctor William P. Dewees, Adjunct Professor of Midwifery in the University of Pennsylvania, &c. &c. I have much pleasure in saying, I have witnessed the most decided and happy effects in several instances of inveterate disease from Mr. Swain's Panacea, where other remedies had failed—one was that of Mrs. Brown—Wm. P. Dewees, M. D.
Philadelphia, Feb. 30, 1828.
From Doctor James McLean, Member of the American Philosophical Society, &c. &c. I cheerfully add my testimony in favour of Mr. Swain's Panacea, as a remedy in Scrofula. I saw two inveterate cases perfectly cured by it, after the usual remedies had been long tried without effect—those of Mrs. Olfner and Mrs. Campbell.
James Mease, M. D.

ASBONE OF DAILY OCCURRENCE:
BY S. G. HALL.
It was in the gay and happy and flourishing metropolis of England—the great, the wealthy, and the free; it was in the walls of a city in which strangers by hundreds, bay by thousands, even at the very moment were receiving their daily bread, dealt out to them by a generous and liberal hand, (but the circumstances recorded in the following article took place.) The story, when written, must appear more like the creation of fancy than the unvarnished truth; but, for an hour's walk may afford abundant proof, how weak and ineffective is the language in which it is described.

All our readers know that HOWARD MORSE, the editor of the Philadelphia 'Albion', has greatly distinguished himself by his beautiful poetry in the Southern and monthly Magnesian of the day. He has been so kind as to send us the following article, and we commend it to the public. It is not often that newspaper readers meet with any thing so well worthy of their attention.—New England Weekly Review.
CHATTERTON THE NIGHT BEFORE HIS

All Earth's will, and the Night's starry arch
Over the sleeping world, would I could sleep!
Would that the fiery fever of my brain
Were cool'd by slumber or were chill'd by death!
Well! I have lived Summers, but an not
Anxious for further pilgrimage on earth!
The storm may come and look upon my course—
And yet I would not be self-satisfied
Go down among the tombs! Would I were dead!
The solemn—thou interminable night
For me as yet as beautiful with fire
The light the face of shadow—has been
Long time commingling with those dazzling orbs
Hag glittering above me—I have thought
Of my green life, as one and dead-as dead,
And wish'd that I might soon be extinct.
I am not of this world's gross elements—
My spirit oft goes forth to some high shrine,
To Eden, unrecalled, except by want—
Ay want, that leaves that which kills the mind
And makes us as the brute!

Who slumbers now?
The fair being who has been to me
More than a star to some night wanderer.
Ah! does the slumber? Innocence may sleep,
And innocence like here, pure hearted girl,
Will proceed bright vision! Oh sleep on,
For little know'st thou of the time to come!
The world is now in thee, and flowers may now
Spring sweetly at the footstool! I could die
For thee, when I am gone, I would not die!
Dost it seem strange? It is deep love for thee
Which kindleth up this thought. Far better 'tis
That the pure spirit pass away from earth
In its virgin beauty, than to see the rose
Till age and care shall steal away the rose
And dim the eye's young splendor!

Oh sleep on,
My restless fond, and my immission'd girl—
I would not shade thy forehead with a thought
Of all thy lover suffers, nor for thee
Will I ever, I may say, see this world begin,
And tho' to rest one instant on thy lip
Is maddening bliss—oh! 'tis the hell of thought
To dwell on my dark hopes and darker fear!
'Tis meet that my companionship be night—
I'll sleep, when thou art sleeping, and I'll die,
To mock me with thy glory! And thou moon,
That glearest upon with thy mimic eye,
What is thy world, and who are they that dwell
Within its lofty confines? And ye stars,
Who were it may be, ere this world began,
At least, who came to bring with this world,
What of another? Answer—what of death?
Oh! God! who made this scene so beautiful,
And fill'd it with its beauty, and its bliss,
I gaze upon the stars and sigh for my birth,
Forgive an erring word, if it rebel,
And take away that which it cannot give!
Forgive me, oh forgive me, God! and her
Whom thou hast made, and who may yet be made,
And thus escape the horrors of this world!

TO THE AUTUMN LEAF.
One, trembling one!
Last of summer race, withered and e'er,
And shivering, wherefore art thou lingering here?
Thy work is done.
Thou hast seen all
The summer flowers reposing in their tomb,
And the green leaves, that cling to their bloom,
Wither and fall!
Why dost thou cling
So fondly to the rough and leafless tree?
Hath thee existence sought like claims for thee,
Thou faded thing!
The voice of Spring,
Silen and slumber alike, with thee again
Will greet thee—nor the gentle summer's rain
New verdure bring.
The zephyr's breath,
No more will wake for thee its melody—
But the lone sighing of the blast shall be
The hymn of death.
Yet a few days,
A few faint struggles with the autumn storm,
And the strained eye to catch thy trembling form,
In vain may gaze.
Pale autumn leaf!
Dost thou an emblem of mortality,
The broken heart once young and fresh like thee,
Withered by grief—
Whose hopes are fled,
Whose love's ones all have droop'd! and died away,
Still clings to life—and lingering loves to stay
Above the dead!
But list—'tis now,
Hear the gathering of the autumn blast,
It comes—thy frail form trembles—it is past!
And what art thou!
