From Moore's Legendary Ballads.
THE HIGH BORN LADY.
"In vain all knights of the Unweald would her, Though brightest of maidens, the proud was she;
Brave chieftains they sought, and young minstrels they sued her,
Of thine was found worthy the high-born Lady."
"Whomsoever I wed," said the maid so excellent,
"That knight must be the conqueror of conquerors; He must place me in halls fit for monarchs to dwell in,
None else shall be bridegroom of the high-born Lady!"
Thus spoke the proud dame, with scorn looking round her,
On knights and on nobles of highest degree;
Who humbly and hopelessly left as they found her,
And sighed at a distance for the high-born Lady.
"At length came a knight, from a far land to woo her,
With plumes on his helm like the foam of the sea;
His visor was down—but with voice that thrilled thro' her, He whispered his greeting to the high born Lady.
"Proud maiden! I come with high spouses to greet thee,
In me the great conqueror of conquerors see!
Enthroned in a hall fit for monarchs I'll place thee, And mine thou'lt be ever, thou high-born Lady!"
"The maiden she smiled, and in jewels array'd her—
"The maiden she smiled, and in jewels array'd her—And proud was the step, as her bridegroom conveyed her
In pomp to his home, of that high-born Lady.
"But whither," she starting exclaims, "have you led me."
"Here's aught but a tomb and a dark yew tree;
Is this the bright palace in which thou would'st wed
me."
"With scorn in her glance, said the high-born Lady."
"Tis the home," he replied, "of earth's loftiest creature."
"Then bid him lead me for the fair one to see,
But she sunk to the ground—twas a skeleton's features,
And death was the bridegroom of the high born
Lady!"

From Fraser's Magazine for April.
MRS. M'CRIE.
This gentleman was simplicity itself, and his heart overflowed with the warmest affections of human nature. Mr. Josiah Flowerdew, of Manchester, had occasion to visit Edinburgh, that freestone village which Scotchmen call a metropolis, situated a mile or two from Leith, a seaport town on the River Forth.
He had a letter of introduction to the Rev.
Dr. and Mrs. M'Crue, and was received by them with all the frank and courteous kindness of their disposition. One Sunday, after having attended divine service in the Doctor's Church, he returned with his hospitable friends to their residence. A nice, hot, tasty, but frugal dinner, was quickly placed upon the table. "Good food hunger after the word," observed the old lady, putting a haddock of fourteen inches long, with an ocean of oysters and butter, on Josiah's plate; "tak' a wily-wought of that Malaga—it's gusty and priesome; our guedman he was dry in the pulpit, and ye has as gude right to be dry out of it—hem! excuse me, Doctor."
"Mr. Josiah was a devoted admirer of the fair sex, and could not, even when an aged and wrinkled face met his gaze, fail to remember that once the same cheek was dyed with the hue of the rose, and the eyes cast a lustrous glance which would madden an anchorite, which would have maddened an anchorite, He, therefore, out of devotedness to what was past, ate and drank as in this fashion labouring with a vigour and industry, which would have done credit to an Irish labourer depending on the Thames, or a student of Stinkmaloe stalling at comprehending the last number of the Edinburgh review, he was constrained from absolute want of local capacity, to give over—to cease labour, to dig and to delve," in a horrid truce, of the bird species which must have been cousin german to the penguins of the Falkland Islands. "The 'tither leg, Mr. Josiah Powerjew!" said the Doctor.
"The 'tither leg, Doctor! May I perish if one joint of the whole carcass has moved the flutter of a quail wing," answered Josiah—"Ye are over gently with the beast, Mr. Flowerdew," observed the old lady. "Do Doctor, mark ye that, & abuse nae man's gude name!"
"Rive it, sir, rive it!" "It is tough—it is, of it's "verity," said the Doctor, as his eyetooth snapped in a struggle with a tendon, which would have held His Majesty's yacht in a hurricane.
"And toothsome forby," observed Mrs. M'Crue, "that his wrang to sport wi' a human creature's distresses—Na, na, Mr. Josiah, ye needna look sae wae like. Possession, nae doubt, is nine points of the law; but the rightful owner of that yellow stamp is lang syne gathered to his forebears. Of a truth, it would be an awful moment gin he came to vindicate his flower."
"Mr. Flowerdew shuddered, and, for reasons that can be very well understood, agreed most heartily with his hostess. "But as I'm in the land of the living," continued Mrs. M'Crue, "our happy lass has altogether neglected the syllabary. There stands in the pride of its beauty, in the sunny, early, I've been carried myself. Doctor, whenever you see by the head and shoulders, I'm clame done for ony mair but that day—I can mind naething."
"Nather can I, Mrs. M'Crue," observed Mr.

JOURNAL OF HEALTH.
The primary object of the Journal of Health is the promotion of the physical health and general well-being of the people, and the dissemination of the most valuable and practical information on all branches of medicine, surgery, and the hygiene of the human body. The Journal will be published weekly, and will contain original articles, translations, and communications from the most distinguished physicians and surgeons of the day. The Journal will be published in English, French, and German. The price is $3.00 per annum in advance. The Journal is sent to all subscribers free of postage.

Series of Standard Works PUBLISHED BY THE Protestant Episcopal Church OF THE
UNITED STATES; AND TO BE EDITED BY REV. WM. R. WITTINGHAM, A. M.
The second presentation of this design to the Episcopal Church is owing to no want of encouragement, or anticipation of difficulty in its accomplishment.
A considerable delay in the execution of the former proposal, deemed necessary for the maturing of the original design, and for ascertaining exactly the nature of the wants which the publication is intended to supply, left the Trustees of the Protestant Episcopal Press, free to alter, and, if circumstances should warrant, to enlarge their plan. Communications from several quarters, and from the most respectable sources, produced by this delay, have led to the conviction, upon which the Trustees now propose to act, that a plan far more comprehensive than that first presented, is now to be adopted. The plan now proposed is a republication of the works of the English and American divines, which were first published in the year 1800, and which have since been reprinted, with various alterations, by the Trustees of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, and by the Trustees of the Protestant Episcopal Press, and, at the same time, to extend its range so far as to include the works of the primitive Christian writers, and of the most distinguished divines of the present age.

PLAN OF THE WORK.
The works of the English divines, which were first published in the year 1800, and which have since been reprinted, with various alterations, by the Trustees of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, and by the Trustees of the Protestant Episcopal Press, and, at the same time, to extend its range so far as to include the works of the primitive Christian writers, and of the most distinguished divines of the present age.

TERMS.

DR. HULL'S TRUSS.
FOR the relief and cure of Hernia, or Rupture.
This Surgical Instrument is now so well known to the Medical Profession, and so extensively used by unfortunate sufferers labouring under the disease of Hernia, that a particular account of its mechanical construction, of its surgical effects is thought unnecessary.
The published remarks from Physicians and Surgeons of high respectability in our country, are the result of much practical experience in the use and application of this truss.
James Thatcher, M. D. author of the Modern Practice, in his second edition, under the subject of Hernia, remarks "Dr. Hull is exclusively entitled to the credit of first adapting the true Surgical principle for the radical cure of Hernia. He happily conceived the idea that the pul of the Truss should be so constructed as simply to support the muscular fibres around the ring or aperture as much as possible, in the state in which they are maintained in perfect health. Unless this be adopted, parts can be restored to their natural tone, whatever may be the degree of pressure applied." Samuel Ackerly, M. D. in his excellent edition of "Homer's Medical Dictionary," under the head of "Truss," after enumerating the evils resulting from the use of the defective trusses formerly worn, says, "This evil was not fully remedied until Dr. Amos G. Hull, of New York, turned his attention to the subject, and by his improvement in the construction of trusses, has rendered it certain that all recent ruptures and those of children, may be permanently cured, and those of old people, and of long standing, in many cases, also be remedied and not convex and hence the radical circular margin, by proper adaptation, presents upon the sides of the hernial opening, and tends to close the aperture and cure the hernia." M. L. Knapp, M. D. late Physician and Surgeon to the Baltimore General Dispensary, in a communication to Doctor Hull, says: "I have applied your trusses in several hundred cases during the last three years. A great many upon whom I have applied your trusses have been radically cured, and some of these were cases of long standing, where all other trusses had failed. I send you a note of them. Mr. P., a citizen of great respectability, who was seized of a bad serotal rupture, of twenty years standing, by wearing one of your trusses for two years. He had worn other trusses twenty years. His son, aged 16 years, ruptured from his infancy, was cured under my care in less than two years.
A case of serotal rupture, of twenty years standing, in a labouring man forty years old, was cured under my care by one of your trusses in six months. A case of groin rupture, from lifting, in a labouring man, thirty years old, on whom I applied one of your trusses, the day after the injury, was cured in three months.
Experience alone can make known to the Surgeon the full powers and excellence of these instruments. Your trusses are exclusively preferred by the Professors in both of the Medical Schools in this city, and the Faculty in general."
Baltimore, January, 1850.
Valentine Mott, M. D. Professor of Surgery, says: "The great and signal benefit which is produced by this Truss, results from its strict subservience to, and accordance with Scientific and Surgical principles." "The operation and effect of this Truss is directly the reverse of all Trusses heretofore in use, which being convex, tended to enlarge the dimensions of the rupture opening." "I am of opinion that the union of Surgical design & mechanical structure in this instrument, renders it what has long been the desideratum of Practical Surgeons in Europe and America." Professor Mott also in lecturing upon Hernia, recommends Dr. Hull's Truss to the exclusion of all others.

of Annapolis on Thursday the 18th day of August next, for the purpose of hearing applications for the purpose of having apparatus wearing apparel and bedding of himself and his family excepted for the benefit of his creditors, and his said trustee having certified in writing, that he is in possession of all the estate of said Jacob Farrier, mentioned in the schedule, I do this day hereby certify and adjudge, that the said Jacob Farrier be discharged from his said obligation, and that he, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in one of the newspapers printed in the city of Annapolis, once a week for three successive months, be the third Monday of October next, give notice to his creditors to appear before the Anne Arundel county court, on the third Monday of October next, to show cause, if any they have, why said Jacob Farrier should not have the benefit of said acts, and supplements thereto, as prayed.

AMERICAN
STENOGRAPHIC ACADEMY,
BY N. F. C. GOULD,
No. 6, North Eighth Street, Philadelphia.
The Professor of this celebrated system has visited the principal cities, towns, and colleges in the United States, as a Reporter, and as a Teacher of STENO-GRAPHY, and is now induced, by the solicitation of numerous respectable individuals in various parts of the country, to propose a plan for the publication of his system, in a large and complete edition, and with the addition of a new and improved system, which will be the object of the present publication.
The system, a knowledge of which it is proposed to communicate, may be considered the standard of the American Stenographer, it is almost the only planned in the United States, and is sold by most of the Book Sellers, to the exclusion of all other systems. It has passed through seven large editions, and has been recently much improved, stereotyped, and embellished with seventeen new copperplate engravings, illustrative of the theory.
A copy of this work will constitute the first three numbers of a contemplated series of printed lectures, or periodical numbers, to be published weekly, or monthly, through the medium of the mail, or otherwise, to each subscriber, till a thorough knowledge of the art shall have been communicated.
It will be the object of these Lectures, not only to convey to each individual a complete practical knowledge of Short-hand Writing, but to point out the most eligible way to employ it as a labour and time-saving method, for acquiring other useful knowledge, by performing in minutes and hours, what which most otherwise require days and weeks.
Should the above plan succeed, as there is reason to believe it may, these periodical numbers will be issued monthly, at one dollar per annum, under the following title: "THE AMERICAN REPERTORY OF Arts, Sciences, and Useful Literature." The object of this work will be to furnish, in numbers, to the rising generation, a Miniature Encyclopædia, or General Cabinet, embracing in its course concise views or epitomes of the most interesting topics of the age, with the exception of religious and philosophical subjects, and such as are of a general nature, and of great consequence to the people, especially for future reference, the contents of each page will be denoted by appropriate words in the margin, which, through the use of a key, will be found in the book, thus furnishing to each reader an infallible key to the whole, or any particular part which he may wish to re-examine, at the same time suggesting to the mind the principles of a method, which if pursued, cannot fail to produce to him inestimable benefits, by an ultimate saving of time and labour; which is asserted, without the fear of refutation, that a young man, who will acquire a facility in Short-hand Writing, and then proceed to write daily in a Common-Place Book upon the principles here suggested, will acquire more useful knowledge in one year, than it would be possible for him to obtain in three years, by any other plan that has ever been devised.
In carrying out this design, three important principles will be constantly in view.
First.—To select from the great mass of human knowledge that only which is useful.
Second.—To condense it as far as its practical utility will admit.
Third.—To systematize and arrange the whole in such manner, that each and every portion shall be at immediate command.
The scanty limits of a prospectus forbid the addition of other considerations in this place.
TERMS.
For a full course of instruction, as above mentioned, $2.50 payable in advance, or on the receipt of the first three numbers of the periodical.
All Postmasters are respectfully solicited to act as agents in their respective neighbourhoods. If a Postmaster procure but one subscriber, he will be entitled to a gratuitous copy of the published system; if four subscribers, to a full course of instruction, or $2 from the money collected; and in like proportion for a greater or less number of subscribers, that is to say, a commission of 20 per cent. for his services.
Those who wish for a more full explanation, or to see a specimen of the paper, type, &c. to be used, may be gratified by calling at this office with an introduction to the system, above referred to, and also with a great variety of testimonials from those who have learned the art.
The issuing of numbers will commence early in July, from and after which, each new applicant will be supplied, at the time of subscribing, with a perfect set from the beginning.
The publisher of any Newspaper or public Journal, who will give this prospectus a conspicuous insertion, and forward a copy of the paper containing it, shall receive a regular notice of the contemplated lectures without other charge.
