

They raised on a pole a piece of the flag that was attached to the mast, and waved it in the rain. The vessel was too far off, and hope was nearly lost, as they watched them, one after another, pass from their sight. They had now been without food or water for four days and nights; their tongues were dry in their mouths; their flesh burnt and blistered by the sun, and their brains fevered, and many of them began to exhibit the peculiar madness attendant on starvation. They could not sleep either, as the raft was almost always under water, and it required continual watchfulness to keep them from being washed over by the sea. Major Heath tells us that never for one moment did he lose his consciousness, and we hear from others that his cheerful spirit and encouraging conversation kept alive the hope of safety in the breast of others, and banished despair from their minds.

On Tuesday morning, a vessel hove in sight, and her track seemed to be much nearer than those they had seen the day before. They again waved their flag, and raised their feeble voices. Still the vessel kept on her track, which now appeared to carry her away from them. "She is gone," said one of the crew, a poor fellow who had been dreadfully scalded, and he laid himself down on one of the boxes, as he said, "to die." Capt. Pearson, who had been closely watching the vessel, cried out, "She sees us! She is coming towards us!" And so it was. All sails set, and full before the wind the vessel made for them. The schooner proved to be the Henry Cameron, bound from Philadelphia to Wilmington, N.C. As soon as the captain came within speaking distance, he took his trumpet and cried out, "Be of good cheer, I will save you!" It was the first strange voice that had reached their ears for five days, which were to them an age.

When the schooner came alongside, they all rushed frantically on deck, and it was with some difficulty that the captain could keep them from the water casks. He immediately gave each of them a half pint of water, sweetened with molasses, and repeated it at short intervals. His prudence, doubtless, preserved their lives.

During the morning Major Heath and his company had seen another portion of the wreck, with several persons on it, and as soon as the Captain of the Henry Cameron was told of it, he sailed in the direction it had been seen and shortly afterwards came in sight. On this wreck, which was a part of the promenade deck, were Miss Rebecca Lamar, Mrs. Noah Smith, of Augusta, Master Charles Lamar, of Savannah, and Mr. Robert Hutchinson, also of Savannah. The two ladies were much exhausted, and Master Lamar was almost dead. Every comfort that the schooner was possessed of was freely bestowed by the Captain; and Major Heath, on behalf of those who were saved with him, has asked us to return, thus publicly, to him the thanks, the deep and heartfelt thanks of the beings whom he rescued from a condition of such misery and peril, that the heart sickens at the contemplation of it. Mr. Hutchinson had lost in this disaster his wife and child. His wife was the daughter of Mr. Elliott, formerly in the United States Senate from Georgia.

When the promenade deck separated from the hull, many persons took refuge on this portion of it. Among them was Mr. G. B. Lamar, of Savannah, and two children, the Rev. Mr. Wort and lady, of Florida, and a child of Mr. Hutchinson, and the 2d mate of the Pulaski. On Saturday morning, finding that there was no other hope of safety, the mate proposed to take the boat which they had secured, being the 2d deck boat, and with five of the most able of those on the raft to endeavor to reach the shore, and to send out some vessel to cruise for them. This being assented to, the mate, with Mr. Lamar and four others, took their departure, and on Wednesday morning they reached New River Inlet in safety. The passengers remaining on the raft, with the exception of the four mentioned as taken off by the John Cameron, died from exhaustion, among them was the Rev. Mr. Wort and lady, whose Christian resignation to their fate excited the admiration of all around them. They expired within a few minutes of each other. Seven persons were reported to have died on Monday.—The body of Mr. Parkman, of Savannah, floated to the raft, and was recognized by his friends. It was ascertained at Wilmington on Wednesday morning, that eight other persons from the wreck had reached New River Inlet, but their names, with two exceptions, are unknown. The passengers who escaped were almost without exception in the cloaths in which they were sleeping, and suffered very severely from the blistering effects of the sun, and the chilly wind of the night. They were entirely destitute of water or food of any kind. Those who were last saved were most of them in a dread, full state of ulceration and debility.

The passengers were every where received with the most unbounded sympathy and kindness; and the Wilmington and Raleigh R. R. C., the Portsmouth and Roanoke R. R. C., and Baltimore and Norfolk S. Packet Company, tendered to them in the most liberal manner a conveyance in their cars and boats to the various points of their destination.

The cause of the disaster was obviously the neglect of the second engineer in permitting the water to boil off, or to blow off in the starboard boiler, and then letting in a full supply of water on the heated copper. One of the hands saved had, a few moments before the explosion, examined the steam gauge and found it fluctuating rapidly from 26 to 29 inches. Another had just left the engine room when he heard the shrill whistling sound of high pressure steam, as the engineer tried the water cock; in a few seconds the explosion took place. Capt. DuBois was seen asleep in the wheel house ten minutes before the explosion. Capt. Pearson, the second captain, was blown out of his berth into the sea, as was also Chickin, the first engineer. They both regained the bow of the boat. The following is a recapitulation of the number saved at different times.

In the two boats,	16
On the two rafts,	30
In the boat with Mr. G. B. Lamar,	5
On other fragments,	8

In the steamboat Kentucky, which arrived yesterday from Norfolk, came Captain PEARSON, second captain of the Pulaski, and Mr. CHICKIN, her chief engineer. Both of these officers were asleep in their berths when the explosion took place, the former of whom supposes he must have been blown thirty and the latter about a hundred yards from the boat into the sea. Captain P. recovered his self-possession with the first immersion in the water, and by laying hold of a plank which was floating near by, he sustained himself until he gained a fragment of the wreck containing some of the passengers. The fragment in question was part of the bow of the boat, and it was soon found that the chain cable was attached to it in a way which prevented it from moving before the wind, and consequently rendered it liable to founder. The chain was soon after got loose, and also the mast, which lay across the fragment and caused it to sink deeper in the water than it would otherwise have done. By lashing some of the ropes around the raft it was prevented from going to pieces, and thus those who were on it were sustained until taken off by the Wilmington schooner, as already described.

It is stated yesterday that among the passengers who had escaped from the Pulaski, after her explosion and breaking to pieces, and had taken refuge on parts of the wreck, several had died from fatigue and exposure. Those who died on the raft were—

Dr. D. Ashe.
Mr. F. McRae.
Rev. J. L. Woart.
Mrs. Woart.
Mr. P. B. Smith, of Charleston.
Mr. Rowand, of Charleston.

IN CHANCERY,
21st June, 1838.
James J. M. Taylor
vs.
Gustavus Weems and Abraham Lavelle.

THE object of the bill filed in this cause is to obtain an injunction to prevent the defendants from enforcing payment of the judgment hereinafter mentioned, against the complainant, and for a decree making the said injunction perpetual.

The bill states, that at October term 1831, of Calvert County Court, a judgment was obtained against a certain Francis Slye, in favor of a certain Gustavus Weems, for the sum of $144 50 debt, and $500 damages, damages to be released on payment of interest on debt from the 4th of December 1819, and costs.—That said judgment was rendered subject to a credit of $43 19, and which credit was entered on the docket at the time of the rendition of the same.—That an attachment was issued on said judgment, and the sheriff returned that he had laid said attachment to the amount of debt, interest and costs, in the hands of the complainant.—That upon the coming in of the return of the sheriff a judgment was rendered thereon against the complainant, for the whole amount of the aforesaid judgment against the said Francis Slye, as the garnishee of said Slye, which said judgment against said complainant was rendered by default for the want of an appearance by complainant.—That said judgment against complainant is unjust, because he did not owe to said Slye, at the time of the rendition of said judgment, a cent, which complainant could have satisfactorily shown the Court if he could have had notice of the laying of said attachment, which he positively avers he never had until after the rendition of said judgment, when it was too late for any relief in a court of law.—That the said return of the sheriff is false and fraudulent, and that he never did lay the said attachment in the hands of complainant, or give him notice thereof, or summon him to appear in said court.—That complainant, never at any time in his life, had any property whatever in his possession belonging to said Slye, other than the aforesaid debt, which he at one time owed him, but which had been fully paid.—That complainant has been surprised and imposed upon by the said return of the sheriff, and that the aforesaid judgment against him was rendered through mistake and surprise.—That several writs of execution have been issued on said judgment against the complainant, and that at this time a writ of vendi, expons is in the hands of the sheriff, and the property of complainant about to be sold to satisfy said unjust and fraudulently obtained judgment.

The bill also states, that the said Abraham Lavelle resides out of the state of Maryland, and is therefore Ordered, That the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be published in some newspaper once in each of three successive weeks before the 25th day of July next, give notice to the said non-resident defendant of the substance and object of this bill, that he may be warned to appear in this court in person, or by a solicitor, on or before the 31st day of November next, to shew cause, if any he hath, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

SUBSCRIPTION
FOR THE
FIFTH VOLUME OF
THE CULTIVATOR,
CONDUCTED BY J. BUEL.
Office, No. 3, Washington-street, Albany.

THE CULTIVATOR is a monthly publication of 16 pages, devoted to agriculture, on a sheet of the largest size of paper—28 by 40 inches. The price is ONE DOLLAR per annum, payable in advance. The postage on a volume of the Cultivator will not exceed 18¢ cents to any part of the Union, and within the state, and a circle of 100 miles, it will be but 12¢ cents. A volume will contain more than 200 pages quarto, will be illustrated with cuts of animals, implements, &c. and be furnished with a copious index. It will comprise as much letter press as 1500 pages of common duodecimo—as much as the Penny Magazine, published by the British Society for the Promotion of Useful Knowledge, and which, at two dollars per annum, has been reported to be the cheapest periodical any where published.

The Cultivator will continue to treat of the science of agriculture, to furnish instructions for the best models of practice in all the departments of husbandry, in horticulture, and other rural affairs, and to furnish useful lessons for the improvement of the young mind. The Conductor will endeavor to render it a present help, and a volume of useful reference, to all who have the ambition to distinguish themselves in rural labours and rural improvements—to help themselves and to benefit society.

Subscriptions to the above work received by

A. COWAN, Annapolis.

N. B. Those who wish the Cultivator will please send their subscription by the 10th of February next.

Anne-Arundel County, Sec.
ON application to the County Court of Anne-Arundel county, by petition in writing of James B. Brewer, of Anne-Arundel county, stating that he is now in actual confinement, and praying for the benefit of the act of the General Assembly of Maryland, entitled, An act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, passed at December session 1805, and the several supplements thereto, on the terms therein mentioned, a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, on oath, so far as he can ascertain the same, being annexed to his said petition, and the said James B. Brewer having satisfied the said Court by competent testimony that he has resided two years within the state of Maryland immediately preceding the time of his application, and the said James B. Brewer having taken the oath by the said act prescribed for the delivering up his property, and given sufficient security court of Anne-Arundel county, to answer such interrogatories and allegations as may be made against him, and the court having appointed William Brewer his trustee, who has given bond as such, and received from said James B. Brewer a conveyance and possession of all his property real, personal and mixed—it is hereby ordered and adjudged, that the said James B. Brewer be discharged from imprisonment, and that he give notice to his creditors by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Anne-Arundel county, once a week for three consecutive months, before the fourth Monday of October next, to appear before the said county court at the court house of said county, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to shew cause, if any they have, why the said James B. Brewer should not have the benefit of the said act, and supplements, as prayed.

A NEW AND CHEAP PERIODICAL.
Attention is requested from our readers to the following prospectus of a new, and even a cheaper book, periodical, which will be issued from this office in the first week of next January. It will not be so convenient a form for binding as the present, with which it will in no way interfere, but it will make books cheap beyond all precedent. It will contain the works of the day, which are so much sought after, but are comparatively dear, and which cannot penetrate the interior in any mode half so rapidly as by mail, in which volumes of books are prohibited. A fifty cent American reprint will be furnished entire for from four to six cents; a Murray novel for twelve cents, and others in proportion.

As but very few copies will be printed but what are actually subscribed for, those who wish the Omnibus, must make their remittances at once.

Books at Newspaper Postage.

WALDIE'S LITERARY OMNIBUS.
NOVEL AND IMPORTANT LITERARY ENTERPRISE!!
NOVELS, TALES, BIOGRAPHY, VOYAGES, TRAVELS, REVIEWS, AND THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

IT was one of the great objects of "Waldie's Literary," "to make good reading cheaper, and to bring literature to every man's door." That object has been accomplished; we have given to books wings, and they have flown to the uttermost parts of our vast continent, carrying society to the seclusion, occupation to the literary, information to all. We now propose still further to reduce prices, and render the access to a literary banquet more than twofold accessible; we gave and shall continue to give in the quarto library a volume weekly for two cents in the same period for less than four cents a week, and to add as a piquant seasoning to the dish a few columns of shorter literary matters, and a summary of the news and events of the day. We know by experience and calculation that we can go still further in the matter of reduction, and we feel that there is still verge enough for us to aim at offering to an increasing literary appetite that mental food which it craves.

The Select Circulating Library, now as ever so great a favourite, will continue to make its weekly visits, and to be issued in a form for binding and preservation, and its price and form will remain the same. But we shall, in the first week of January 1837, issue a huge sheet of the size of the largest newspapers of America, but on very superior paper, also filled with books of the newest and most entertaining, though in their several departments of Novels, Tales, Voyages, Travels, &c., select in their character, joined with reading such as usually should fill a weekly newspaper. By this method we hope to accomplish a great good; to enliven and enlighten the family circle, and to give to it, at an expense which shall be no consideration to any, a mass of reading that in book form would alarm the pockets of the prudent, and to do it in a manner that the most sceptical shall acknowledge "the power of conical cap can no farther go." No book which appears in Waldie's Quarto Library will be published in the Omnibus, which will be an entirely distinct periodical.

TERMS.

WALDIE'S LITERARY OMNIBUS will be issued every Friday morning, printed on paper of a quality superior to any other weekly sheet, and of the largest size. It will contain:

1st. Books, the newest and the best that can be procured, equal every week to a London duodecimo volume, embracing Novels, Travels, Memoirs, &c., and only chargeable with newspaper postage.

2d. Literary Reviews, Tales, Sketches, notices of letters, &c. of every description.

3d. The news of the week concentrated to a small compass, but in a sufficient amount to embrace a knowledge of the principal events, political and miscellaneous, of Europe and America.

The price will be two dollars to clubs of five subscribers where the paper is forwarded to one address. To clubs of two individuals, five dollars; single mail subscribers, three dollars. The discount on uncurrent money will be charged to the remitter; the low price and superior paper absolutely prohibit paying a discount.

On no condition will a copy ever be sent until the payment is received in advance.

As the arrangements for the prosecution of this great literary undertaking are all made, and the proprietor has redeemed all his pledges to a generous public for many years, no fear of the non-fulfilment of the contract can be felt. The Omnibus will be regularly issued, and will contain in a year reading matter equal in amount to two volumes of Rees's Cyclopaedia, for the small sum mentioned above.

Address, post paid,
ADAM WALDIE,
46 Carpenter St. Philadelphia.

Editors throughout the Union, and Canada, will confer a favour by giving the above one or more conspicuous insertions, and accepting the work for a year as compensation.
