A Marriage at the Cathedral yesterday of Mr. Richard M. McSherry and Miss Emily Hillen proved a most interesting occurrence from the number of friends who assisted by their presence, as well as from the brilliant surroundings and accessories of the ceremony. Over 1,500 invitations had been issued for the church at 5.30 o'clock in the afternoon, but long before that time the portico of the Cathedral and the approach to the main entrance was packed with people who had assembled to witness the arrival of the bridal party. The church was quickly filled with those who had received invitations, so that hardly standing room was left, and still a large gathering of people remained on the sidewalk to see the bridal party come and go. The magnificent interior of the Cathedral was handsomely dressed with flowers and festooned with evergreen. A myriad of candles burned in the sanctuary. Many ladies in the pews were in full evening dress, and there were some most elaborate and exquisite toilettes. While the large concourse of people were waiting for the bridal party the organ played. The assemblage included, among others, Adreon Iselin, uncle of the bride, and family, Oliver Iselin, DeLancy Astor Kane and wife, New York, James Gallatin, Paris, Ernest de Merollo, Count de Montcabrier, Sully de Souza, John W. Garrett, Robert Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher, Dr. Van Bibber and family, Frank Frick, C. J. M. Gwinn, Dr. Wm. H.
 Koener, John B. Williams and family, T. Wallis Blackstone, Dr. and Mrs. Craig, Mr. and Mrs.
 John B. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Frick, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Garrett, Mrs. Winslow Cleveland, Mr. Chadwick, Boston, Outerbridge Horsey, Mr. and Mrs. Skipwith Gordon, B. Teackle Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. Bonsal, Mr. and Mrs. Brancker, Charles G. Kerr, Carroll Spence, Wm. Keyser, Otho Williams, Dr. and Mrs. Alan P. Smith.

Just before the hour for the solemnization of the marriage Messrs. Joseph Pennington and Edward Barroll stretched white ribbons along the main aisle, thus reserving passage way for the bridal party, which entered in the following order: Eight ushers, Dr. Chas. Tilghman, Chas.
 Gambrill, Livingston Minus, James Donnell Frick, Alan McSherry, Howard Munnikhuyson, Curzon Hoffman and Dr. Wm. Moule; eight bridesmaids, elaborately dressed in white, and each carrying a large bouquet of red roses set in green. The bridesmaids were Misses Alice Van Bibber, Georgie Iselin, of New York, first cousin of the bride, Annie Winslow, Ohio, May McTavish, Lizzie Donnell, Hettie Pascault, Carrie Dulin and Sallie Bonsal. The bride, handsomely dressed in heavy white brocaded silk, came last, leaning on the arm of her brother, Thos. Hillen. The groom stood in the sanctuary by the side of his best man, Dr. Frederick May, and received the bride from Mr. Hillen. A carpeted way was laid through crowds of people from the carriage steps and the main gate to the main entrance of the Cathedral.

Archbishop Gibbons performed the marriage ceremony, assisted by Rev. Messrs. Curtis, Starr and Lee. The bride is the only daughter of the late Col. Solomon Hillen, who was once the mayor of Baltimore. She is also the granddaughter of the late Gen. Columbus O'Donnell.
 Mr. McSherry, the groom, is a lawyer, and the oldest son of Prof. Richard McSherry. A short time ago he was decorated by the King of Italy in recognition of services rendered the Italian consul at this port in rescuing Italian children from the padrone system of semi-slavery.

At the residence of Mrs. Emily Hillen, mother of the bride, No. 62 Franklin street, over 300 invited guests congratulated the happy couple.
 The dwelling was beautifully decorated with flowers, &c. In the hallway was suspended a floral design, the initials McS. and H. in red and white flowers. Between the parlors was hung a large floral marriage bell, and there were other choice floral designs in profusion. Numerous beautiful and costly bridal presents were sent by friends, including paintings, plaques silverware, jewels, chinaware, and a great variety of decorative and household articles.
 Mrs. Adreon Iselin sent a very handsome silver tea set; Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell Lee, handsome picture; W. T. Walters, heavy pitcher of beaten silver, unique design; Dr. and Mrs. Mc-Sherry, silver dessert set, 9 pieces; Mrs. Emily Hillen, large case containing assorted sets of silver spoons, &c.; A. S. Abell, ebony table, with decorated panels; Mr. and Mrs. Walter B.
 Brooks, fine brass clock. W. T. Walters sent three remarkably large bunches of the finest grapes, which were raised and saved specially for this occasion. The grapes were perfect in all respects and filled a large silver tray. After spending about two hours with and receiving the congratulations of their friends the happy pair left on a tour of three weeks through the North.

Another Wedding.—Mr. Isaac C. Weller, son of Mr. Charles Weller, of this city, and Miss Martha Stein, daughter of Mr. Meyer Stein, were married yesterday evening, at the residence of the bride's father, No. 144 Park avenue, Rev. Benjamin Szold, of Kanover Street Synagogue, officiating. The parlors were filled with friends and relatives, and after the ceremony a reception took place, to which several hundred invitations had been issued, and which was attended by many well-known citizens. Amongst those present, many of them being accompanied by the ladies of their families, were Messrs. B. F. Ullman, Joel Gutman, G. Rosenfeld, Emanuel Hess, Chas. Weber, Daniel Stein, Jos. Friedenwald, S. L. Frank, W. S. Rayner, A.
 G. Hutzler, Chas. Hutzler, Alex. Frank, Simon Rosenberg, M. R. Walter, R. Walter, Joseph Walter, Solomon Straus, Henry Hartman, Henry M. Oettinger, Samuel Kahn, J. Leopold and Levi Stein, Rev. Messrs. Szold, Kaiser and Kraus, of this city, and Messrs. S. Stein, S.
 Housman and B. Bernhard, of New York. The reception was none the less pleasant on account of the informality which characterized it, and hearty congratulations were extended to the young couple. The bridal presents were rich and costly, and comprised silverware, paintings, ornolu clocks, Dresden china, furniture and bric-a-brac. Mr. A. Weller, uncle of the groom, sent a set of solid silver tableware, and Mr. S.
 Stein a grand piano, and among the other presents were $2,000 in government bonds from the groom's father, $200 in bonds from the bride's brother, Michael, and $100 in bonds each from Daniel and Samuel Stein, her uncles. The ushers at the wedding and reception were Messrs. Jonas D. Bamberger, Henry Hartman, Michael Bergman and F. Elliott.

Serious Burning of a Child.—Early yesterday morning Fergus Stewart, four years old, was severely burned about the face and body by his clothes catching fire from a stove in the dwelling of his father, Albert Stewart, No. 142 Eastern avenue. The child was standing in front of the stove, and, it is supposed, playing with the fire, which communicated to his dress. Mr. Stewart, who was asleep in the room, was aroused by the child's cries, and extinguished the flames. Dr. Evans pronounced the injuries serious, but not likely to prove fatal.

The Ruths-Reuling Case.—In regard to the testimony of physicians in the case of Mrs.
 Ruths against Dr. George Reuling for damages growing out of an operation on her right eye, Dr. Reuling claims that it was in evidence that he acted in an emergency and only from a sense of duty under the circumstances. Among the physicians who testified in the case were Drs. Miltenberger, Alan P. Smith, W. C. Van Bibber, James Carey Thomas, D. I. McKew, F.
 Reinhardt and others. Dr. Munnikhuyson was present on the occasion of the operation.

Corn and Flour Exchange Building.— The directors of the Baltimore Corn and Flour Exchange Building Company, which owns the premises now occupied by the Exchange, on South street, have issued a circular, in the nature of a protest against the proposed new structure on Second street. The company say that the Exchange can buy the present building for $55,000 in fee, and they make estimates at which they believe property adjoining it may be secured to extend the premises. The question is to be submitted to a vote of the members of the Exchange next week.

Badly Burned.—The clothing of Maria Davis, colored, a servant employed by Mrs.
 McCormick, No. 29 North Calhoun street, caught fire about 9 o'clock last night from a stove in the kitchen while she was asleep, and before assistance reached her she was terribly burned over the whole surface of the body. Dr. Mc-Kew, who attended her, has but little hopes of her recovery. The unfortunate woman's home was on Raborg street, near Poppleton.
