CHESTER JACKSON

IN THE

vs.

STANLEY GAITHER, and FAIRFIELD
WESTERN MARYLAND DAIRY,
a corporation, jointly.

BALTIMORE CITY COURT

-----
Chester Jackson, by Thurgood Marshall, his attorney, sues Stanley Gaither and the <sup>Fairfield</sup>Western Maryland Dairy, a corporation, jointly.

For that, on or about the sixth day of November, 1933 the plaintiff was riding in the automobile of one McKinley Howard as a guest of said McKinley Howard; that the defendant, Stanley Gaither driving north on the Annapolis Boulevard at Cedar Hill in Anne Arundel County in the State of Maryland stopped his car and placed it so negligently as to block the side of the road set apart for north bound traffic and that said Stanley Gaither was holding conversation with one of the servants, agents and employees of the defendant, <sup>Fairfield</sup>Western Maryland Dairy who was engaged in the delivery of milk from a truck of the defendant, <sup>Fairfield</sup>Western Maryland Dairy, which was negligently parked on the side of the road set apart for southbound traffic without proper or sufficient lights as prescribed by the laws of the State of Maryland; that the two defendants so negligently placed themselves and their vehicles as to block the road causing the car of McKinley Howard to collide with said truck whereof the plaintiff sustained a severe shock and injury to his body and face and as a result of the said injuries the plaintiff has been put to great expense for medical treatment.

And the plaintiff further alleges that the said damages sustained by him were caused directly as a result of the negligence on the part of Stanley Gaither and the <sup>Fairfield</sup>Western Maryland Dairy, their agents, servants and employees in the operation, management and control of their automobiles in blocking the public highway and in parking its truck without proper or sufficient lights, and was not do to any negligence on the part of the plaintiff contributing thereto.

WHEREFORE, this suit is brought and the plaintiff claims One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) damages.
