vs.

Baltimore September 15th 1890.

$1,400.⁰⁰

Twelve Months after date, for value received, I promise to pay to the order of Franklin Bank of Baltimore, or order, at said Bank, Seventeen Hundred & Dollars, having deposited with said Bank, as collateral security for the payment of this Note, Mortgage Note No. 6, Thompson, for Three Thousand Dollars, twenty four Months from date:

with such additional collaterals as may from time to time be required by its President or Cashier, which additional collaterals we hereby promise to give at any time on demand. If these additional collaterals be not so given when demanded, then this Note to be due; and note of default taken shall be a bar to payment prior to maturity. And I hereby give said Bank, its President or Cashier, full power & authority, to sell, assign and deliver, the whole, or any part of said collaterals, or any substitutes therefor, or any additions thereto, at any Bankers Board, or elsewhere, at public or private sale, at the option of said Bank or its President or Cashier, or either of them, on the non performance of the above promises, or of any of them, or at any time thereafter, without advertising or giving to me any notice, or making any demand of payment.

It is also agreed, that said collaterals may from time to time, by mutual consent be exchanged for other which shall also be held by said Bank on the terms above set forth. That if I shall come under any other liability or incur any other engagement with said Bank, while it is holder of this obligation, that the net proceeds of sale of the above securities may be applied either on this Note, or any other of my liabilities or engagements held by said Bank, as its President or Cashier may elect.
