KASIMIR GREGLESKI,

vs.

ISAIAH DIXON,

BALTIMORE CITY, TO WIT:

IN THE COURT OF COMMON

PLEAS OF BALTIMORE CITY.

Kasimir Gregleski, plaintiff, by Harry B. Wolf, his attorney, sues Isaiah Dixon, defendant:

For that on or about the 31st day of July, 1922, the defendant did negligently and carelessly cause his automobile then and there operated by the defendant, his agents and servants, to run into and against the wagon belonging to the plaintiff, which was ~~and~~ then and there being carefully and prudently driven by the plaintiff along Hanover Street, a public street and highway of Baltimore City, thereby throwing the plaintiff from said wagon to the ground and inflicting upon the plaintiff serious and painful injuries about the head, body and limbs, and causing him to suffer great physical pain and mental anguish; and thereby demolishing the plaintiff's wagon and destroying the load of cantaloupes of the plaintiff thereon, and so seriously crippling the plaintiff's mule that the said mule had to be killed, to the plaintiff's great pecuniary loss and damage; and the plaintiff says that said injuries and damage were caused directly by the negligence and carelessness on the part of the said defendant, while operating said automobile as aforesaid, and without negligence and carelessness on the part of the plaintiff thereunto contributing.

Wherefore this suit is brought, and the plaintiff claims $5000.00 damages.

Harry B. Wolf
Attorney for plaintiff.

TO THE DEFENDANT: TAKE NOTICE, that on the day of your appearance to this action in the Court of Common Pleas of Baltimore City, a rule will be entered requiring you to plead to the within declaration within the time allowed by law.
