

WOMAN'S DEATH PROBED

Autopsy Performed Upon Body of Mrs. William A. Riggin.

SUICIDE STORY QUESTIONED

Owner's Jury Impelled to Investigate Tragedy Near Sharptown, Md., Withholds Verdict.

Sharptown, Md., Feb. 18.—A coroner's jury impelled to investigate the alleged suicide of Mrs. William A. Riggin last night at her home near here refused to render a verdict without an autopsy, and tonight the jury, having arrived at a decision, adjourned until tomorrow morning.

An autopsy was performed late tonight by Dr. Dick, of the Peninsular General Hospital, assisted by local physicians. The result has not been made public.

The alleged suicide was reported to the authorities today by the woman's husband, who is 70 years old and a pensioned Maryland school teacher. He was re-arrested the circumstances as suspicious, Justice Walter C. Mann, of Sharptown, decided that an inquest should be held.

"Last night when I went home from a call upon some friends I found my wife in the sitting room reading and I went along to see until I got sleepy and then I retired. Later she came to my room, got down on her knees and pleaded that I would forgive her for anything that she had said or done during our married life. I told her that I would not do so until she had been examined by a physician."

CAPT. DANIEL SNIVELY DEAD

Was Sheridan's Companion on Famous Ride From Winchester.

Waynesboro, Va., Feb. 18.—Capt. Daniel Snively, a Civil War veteran, died at his home here last night from peritonitis, aged 75 years.

Captain Snively was born on the old Snively farm, near Mason and Dixon's line, and was a son of Captain Snively. He was educated in the Mount Vernon School, Virginia, and taught school when 16 years of age at Edgemont, Washington county, Md.

When war broke out he joined the Federal Army and was elected first lieutenant of Company G, Seventeenth Regiment, Pennsylvania Cavalry. He was made captain of the company March 30, 1865.

DAVID O. PARLETT BURIED

His Fellow-Merchants Attend Funeral in Annapolis.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 18.—With practically all of the members of the Annapolis in attendance, the funeral of Mr. David O. Parlett, merchant and former Alderman of Annapolis City Council, who died at Emergency Hospital Saturday, took place from his late residence on Randall street this morning.

REV. S. J. CLARKE BURIED

Business Suspended At Frostburg During Priest's Funeral.

Frostburg, Md., Feb. 18.—As a mark of respect, business was suspended at Frostburg this morning during the funeral of Rev. Stephen J. Clarke, who was rector of St. Michael's Catholic Church here for 23 years.

YOWELL-QUARLES NUPHIAIS

Ceremony At Manassas, Va., Performed By Bride's Father.

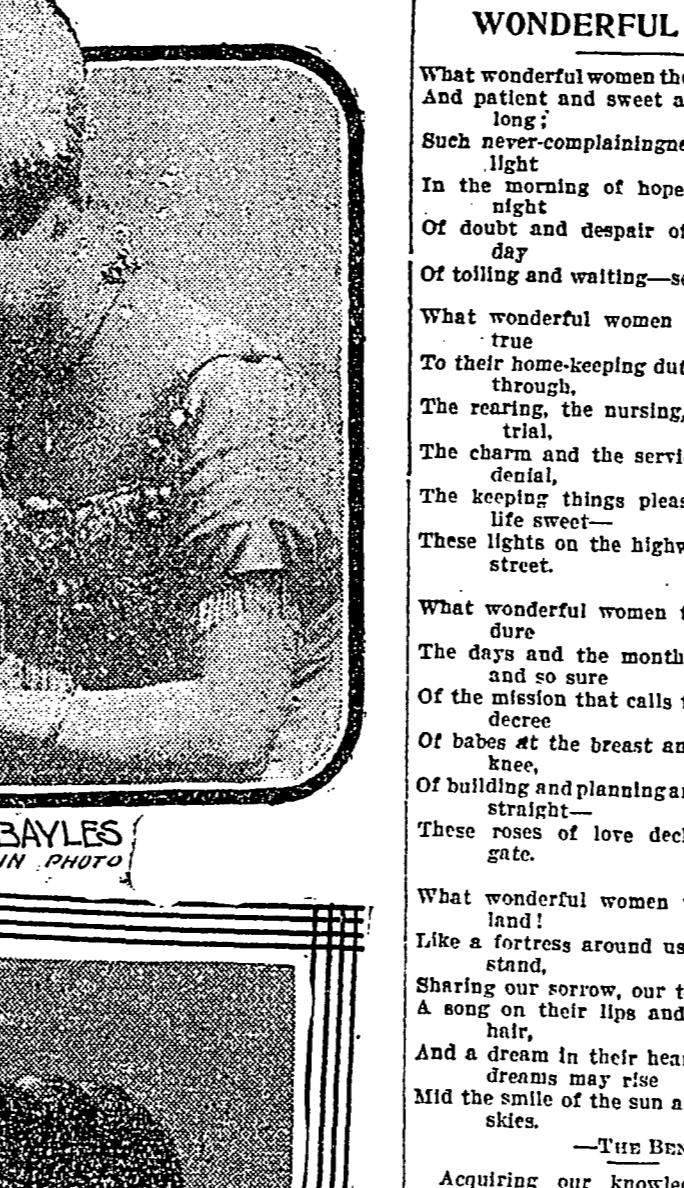

Manassas, Va., Feb. 18.—Miss Freda Quarles, youngest daughter of Rev. H. M. Quarles, was married tonight at the Manassas Baptist Church, of which her father is pastor, to William Yowell, member of the First Baptist Church, Culpeper.

ALDAY CLEMENTS DEAD

Was President Of The Bank of Maryland, Chestertown.

Chestertown, Md., Feb. 18.—Alday Clements, president of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland, died this morning at his home near Crumpton, aged 65 years.

Four Sisters Who Have Married Within The Year

MRS. J. S. BAYLES (MELIN PHOTO)

MRS. ARTHUR B. WIDDECOMBE (LIEBERFIZ PHOTO)

MRS. N. B. STEWARD (MENSY PHOTO)

HIKERS IN DELAWARE

(Continued from Page 1.)

Belmont, had been shipped to the "General's" Long Island home.

Brooklynites in Command. This was really Brooklyn day in the "hike." "Colonel" Craft, the way for some miles, with Miss Phoebe Hawn, who is not a real "hiker," but who is working for a Brooklyn newspaper, soon in command.

"Tomorrow I may have a Bronx day if I can find any from that borough," said "General" Jones.

The only response was from a war correspondent who confessed he "used to live up there."

The Army of the Hudson crossed the Delaware State line at 11:05 A. M. The first halt of the day was called at Nassau-on-the-Delaware, where the located the Revolutionary mansion of Col. Tom Hollinsworth.

At the little bridge near the house Eben H. Baldwin, for 30 years, more or less, postmaster of Claymont, came out to welcome the hikers.

The postmaster made a speech. The speech was written. Its delivery was evidently most comical, and to himself and his daughter, who stood by his side. Mr. Baldwin apparently could not read the written words, and he repeated often.

"I am glad to see you here," he said. "I welcome you to our town. We think we have the prettiest town on the way in this State, and the finest people. If you would marry with us, we would be pleased. I have sons and a daughter, who is here beside me. They each came to me from the hand of God, pure and innocent. I could not tell why my daughter should not have the right to vote that my sons have. There is no reason why she should not have good common sense, nor could I create will she should not have the right to vote. God bless the women. If they want to vote, let them, and give them anything they want."

The postmaster directed the Robinson mansion the first to greet them was Jeff Davis, a gentle bulldog, adorned on both sides by "Votes for Women" banners.

"Scout!" bawled in. Leaving the old house, with its stone blockhouse, with loopholes through which to shoot both Indians and river pirates, the pilgrims mounted the long hill on the Philadelphia pike, at the top of which is the tollhouse kept by Mr. and Mrs. William B. White.

At the tollhouse the hikers were met by Edward Potter and a number of small boys, all bearing the banners of the suffragette club of Aiden. This colony was established by Miss Stephens 12 years ago and is an experiment in single tax. There are at present about 200 members of the colony.

For years women have voted on affairs of common interest. Once upon a time, a clair lived at the colony. The colony is trying to forget that episode.

One of the women who marched with Mrs. E. A. Lodge, near Claymont. The woman who marched with Mrs. E. A. Lodge, near Claymont. The woman who marched with Mrs. E. A. Lodge, near Claymont.

The Wilmington suffragettes met the pilgrims at Shilpot Park and accompanied them to the City Hall. A lone policeman, J. W. McConaghy, escorted them into town. Wilmington's reception was most enthusiastic and there were hundreds of persons lining the sidewalks as they marched into town. Just beyond Shilpot Park a fire engine rolled from the engine house and whistled its salute.

So come the suffragettes into Wilmington. The day's hike was 14 miles. Tonight the army is 116 miles from New York.

OVERLEA WANTS HIKERS

Improvement Association Plans A Warm Welcome And A Luncheon.

Arrangements were made yesterday to divert the route of march of the Army of the Hudson as it enters Baltimore, so that the suffrage "hikers" may stop at Overlea and accept the hospitality of the Overlea Improvement Association.

A reception and luncheon will be given the marching women at that place, and they will respond with addresses, by which they hope to make new converts to the cause of equal suffrage.

All yesterday afternoon Mrs. C. J. Keller, at the head of the local sympathizers who are arranging to welcome the guests, showed them a good time here and speed them on their way to Washington, by endeavoring to get into communication with "General" Rosalie Gardner Jones, and inform her of the Baltimore plans. Then, too, the Baltimore suffragettes are anxious to learn just when the pilgrims may be expected. They are to stop today in Wilmington, Del., and other stops for the night are to be made at Newark, North East, Harre de Grace and Aberdeen, so far as is known.

It is now proposed that the "hikers" leave the Philadelphia road at Bradshaw, proceed to Kingsville and thence to Overlea. After the reception there the line of march will be taken up to Hamilton, and from that point down the Harford road to the city. But when will the "hikers" appear? That is what the committee is anxious to learn.

"We thought they would arrive not later than next Monday or Tuesday," said Mrs. Keller yesterday, "but if they make the march from Wilmington as slowly as the now indicated, they may not get here until Friday. We wish them to spend an entire day here and accept as many invitations to speak as possible; we are particularly anxious that they address the electrical engineers at their luncheon at the Emerson Thursday of next week, in which case they should be there at 10 o'clock, at the hotel that afternoon and will probably stop for the night at Elkridge. Large delegations from Baltimore will meet the marchers at Overlea and Hamilton, and a considerable number will take part, if not all, of the hike in Washington with them. It is expected.

At the Just Government headquarters yesterday the suffragettes were divided into two consultations on inaugural parade matters and a lively practicing of suffrage songs by all present.

Ten members of the undergraduate department of Johns Hopkins University were selected yesterday by the president of the senior class to act as an escort to the army.

The "hikers" have been invited to represent clubs and colleges since Princeton sent a delegation and Hopkins does not want to be left out.

So this is the committee: George Wells Tusk (chairman), George Dobbin Pennell, W. H. Harris, Jr., Lynn W. Keating, Albert Hammond, Harry E. Corner, Howard L. Schloss, Charles Tinges and Dorsey Richardson.

TO FIGHT WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Anti Will Open National Headquarters At Washington.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Opening here tomorrow of headquarters by the National Federation Opposed to Woman Suffrage will mark the beginning of the most comprehensive and active campaign against the extension of the franchise the organization ever has undertaken.

One of the first moves to be made will be a hearing before a Congressional committee, at which it is proposed to show why anti-suffrage movement should prevail.

Miss Minnie Bronson, general secretary of the association, and Mrs. Dora H. Jones, secretary of the National Federation, will be among the speakers.

A mass meeting has been planned for February 28, the day previous to one scheduled by the suffrage leaders. In the country here is the intention to have women of international reputation, as well as several Senators and Congressmen, make addresses.

SUFFRAGETTES SENTENCED

Two Months At Hard Labor For Miss Emerson And Pankhurst.

London, Feb. 18.—Miss Elizabeth Emerson, the militant suffragette of Jackson, Mich., who is carrying on a campaign of window smashing in the east end of London, in company with Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, was again arrested today.

She was imprisoned here before the police magistrate and sentenced to two months at hard labor.

Her companions broke all the windows of the Liberal Association's Building at Bow last night.

8 HOURS FOR WORKING WOMEN

Senator Kenyon Introduces Bill With Dramatic Provisions.

Washington, Feb. 18.—An eight-hour day for women working for any industrial concern engaged in interstate commerce would be provided for in a bill introduced by Senator Kenyon today. The measure also forbids railroads engaged in interstate commerce from accepting goods from any concern that violates the provision of the proposed law.

Eight hours is prescribed as the maximum time for a day's work for women in the District of Columbia in a bill a Senate committee today agreed to report favorably.

The two bills are included among those introduced by the Republican caucus, and a determined effort will be made to have them acted upon before the close of the session.

AUCTION AT STATEHOUSE

Discarded Government House Furnishings Being Sold.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 18.—Household furnishings of Government House, the official residence of Governor Goldsborough, which were discarded in the course of renovation and refurbishing the residence during the summer, together with a number of old pieces of office furniture were most enthusiastically and there were hundreds of persons lining the sidewalks as they affected a watch was kept over him. While his attendant was absent from his room for a moment he secured the weapon and ended his life.

Bane was unmarried and lived with his father, Arthur W. Bane, one of the wealthiest farmers of Mineral county. Smallpox had caused general vaccination in the locality.

SUICIDE AT FREDERICK

Engineer At School For The Deaf Shoots Himself.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.] Frederick, Md., Feb. 18.—Carrying out a threat several times made, John W. Merchant, engineer at the Maryland School for the Deaf, committed suicide this afternoon by shooting himself under the chin with a shotgun. Death was almost instantaneous.

Just before the act Merchant talked despondently with a friend in the engine room. A few minutes later, when his friend had his back turned, he picked up the gun and, resuming his seat, placed the muzzle almost against his lower right jaw and pulled the trigger.

Dr. William C. Johnson, who was summoned, found Merchant was dead. Justice George R. Dennis, after viewing the remains and hearing testimony from several witnesses, gave a verdict of violent death. Merchant had been employed at the school for eight years and is survived by a widow and one son. He was a son of George Merchant and was about 55 years old.

FUNERAL OF J. C. B. WHITE

Large Attendance At Obsequies In Wicomico County.

Salisbury, Md., Feb. 18.—The funeral of J. C. B. White, a native of this city, who died suddenly at Lake Charles, La., February 12, took place here yesterday.

The body arrived Sunday night, accompanied by L. I. Brannon, of Mobile, Ala., and G. W. Cooper, of Lake Charles, and members of the deceased in the turpentine business. After lying in state here at the Elks' Home, the body was removed to the residence of the parents, Captain and Mrs. T. W. H. White, Rev. Archer Wright, of the Southern Methodist Church, officiated at the home and at the grave in the family cemetery at Fruitland.

Elks accompanied the remains, but took no part in the services, as the Lake Charles Lodge was in the last rites at that place while the remains lay in state in the home of the deceased.

Deceased were B. B. White, Purnell T. White, George S. White, Thomas W. H. White, Jr., J. S. White and William H. White.

KILLS HIMSELF TO END PAIN

Suicide Of Daniel Bane Attributed To Vaccination.

Cumberland, Md., Feb. 18.—The suicide of Daniel Bane, a native of this city, who killed himself near Burlington, Va., this morning by blowing off the top of his head with a shotgun, is attributed to suffering caused by vaccination.

He suffered intensely from the sore on his arm, and as his mind appeared to be

Frocks and Frills

WONDERFUL WOMEN

What wonderful women there are—so strong and patient and sweet and courageous so true!

Such never-complainingness, trust and delight in the morning of hope or the limitless night of doubt and despair of the grim every day of tolling and waiting—serene all the way.

What wonderful women there are—to be held or to their home-keeping duties the whole life through.

The charming and the service, the long self-denial, the keeping things pleasant and making life sweet!

What wonderful women there are—to endure the days and the months and the years, and so sure of the mission that calls them, the ancient dream of the breast and a child on the knee.

What wonderful women there are—to acquire our knowledge secondhand, understand the month of February is sacred to the memory of George Washington.

Almost unconsciously we later upon a bridge spanning railroad tracks, arrested by the intimation of a locomotive bell or the curl of steam ascending from an engine.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

There is a Turkish proverb to the effect that the beauty of women exceeds the strength of men, as the wings of the dove outstep the swiftest charger.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

There is a Turkish proverb to the effect that the beauty of women exceeds the strength of men, as the wings of the dove outstep the swiftest charger.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

There is a Turkish proverb to the effect that the beauty of women exceeds the strength of men, as the wings of the dove outstep the swiftest charger.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

There is a Turkish proverb to the effect that the beauty of women exceeds the strength of men, as the wings of the dove outstep the swiftest charger.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

There is a Turkish proverb to the effect that the beauty of women exceeds the strength of men, as the wings of the dove outstep the swiftest charger.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

There is a Turkish proverb to the effect that the beauty of women exceeds the strength of men, as the wings of the dove outstep the swiftest charger.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

There is a Turkish proverb to the effect that the beauty of women exceeds the strength of men, as the wings of the dove outstep the swiftest charger.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

There is a Turkish proverb to the effect that the beauty of women exceeds the strength of men, as the wings of the dove outstep the swiftest charger.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

There is a Turkish proverb to the effect that the beauty of women exceeds the strength of men, as the wings of the dove outstep the swiftest charger.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

There is a Turkish proverb to the effect that the beauty of women exceeds the strength of men, as the wings of the dove outstep the swiftest charger.

When a poet wrote pathetically of a "vague unrest," a "nameless longing" that with him, doubtless, was married with the notion that a plague, an epidemic plague called love, had him in its grasp.

Braders THE PEOPLES STORE. Watch for this "Hearin' Co." arrow with the point the way to well rich incred'ible savings.

Clearance Men's Piece-Inned Underwear. Values up to $1.25. No. 12's net all $1.25 garments; some are worth only 50c; but they do range from $1.25 to $1.25. Odd lots; sometimes only a few of a kind. Extra ribbed and heavy knit. Clearance at 10c.

$1.50 and $2.00 Fine French Kid Gloves. Importer's samples of fine French kid gloves—all absolute perfect white, black, tan, lavender, blue, etc. $1.50 value and $2.00 value. Pairs to sell at 77c.

19c Swiss and Nain-sook Embroideries. A large assortment of Swiss and Nain-sook Embroideries, in all the latest styles. Double-edge Bandana, Swiss, etc. Regularly 15c. Goods, at... 8c.

Women's Messaline Silk Petticoats. Women's Messaline Silk Petticoats; color effects in white, tan, and red; cut generously full; made of finest quality silk. A regular $1.75 petticoat at... 75c.

Women's Fine 59c Shirtwaists. Women's Percale 59c Shirtwaists; striped and figured effects; buttoned at neck and waist. Just an odd lot of Shirtwaists. 10 yards of 59c. Very special at... 21c.

Women's $3 & $4 High Shoes; Pair. Hundreds of smart, stylish, patent cut, gun-metal, vici kid, etc. styles. Extra fancy tops at 7c, widths from 4 to 10. Special at... $1.00.

Remnants and Mill Ends of Silks. Plain and Fancy Silks in all good and desirable widths. Remnants from 2 to 10 yards. Silks are worth from 25c to 50c per yard. Special at... 10c.

59c Knickerbocker Suitings at. 54-inch Suitings in neat up-to-date dark colors. Separate shirts, coats and ties. Extra quality. Extra special at... 29c.

Men's Work and Dress Trousers. 220 pairs of Men's Work and Dress Trousers. All sizes. Monday's selling; all sizes to select from. Getting "Weyth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is the best remedy for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair.

White Goods; Values to 15c. White Goods of every description. A very special feature for today's selling. Special at... 4c.

Unbleached Sheet-ing 40 Inches Wide. Unbleached Sheet-ing 40 inches wide; durable stock; 40 sheets that will last; values to 10c, for... 4c.

Remnants in White Voiles. 25c to 50c. White Voiles in remnants of 1 1/2 to 12 yards; 40 inches wide; a special feature for today's selling. Special at... 11c.

100 Hardwood Clothes Pins for. With every 100 Clothes Pins made of hard, smooth-finished wood. We will give FREE a Set. Made of fine raw silk... 10c.

Magic Inverted Gas Lamps. Complete and handsome mantle and accessories; 100 candle power; a regular 50c lamp, for... 29c.

King's Scotch Holland Window Shades. An odd lot of Window Shades, 28 to 28 inches extra; 10 feet long; in good desirable colors; values... 21c.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure. The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar. NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE.

HAIR FADING, TURNING GRAY, FALLING? APPLY A LITTLE SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR. It's Grandmother's Recipe For Dandruff And Restoring Color To Hair.

Resinol clears bad complexions. THE regular use of Resinol Soap, with an occasional light application of Resinol Ointment, stimulates the skin, permits natural, healthy action, and rids the complexion of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, quickly, easily and at little cost.

Resinol clears bad complexions. THE regular use of Resinol Soap, with an occasional light application of Resinol Ointment, stimulates the skin, permits natural, healthy action, and rids the complexion of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, quickly, easily and at little cost. Read this convincing letter from a trained nurse—she knows what Resinol can do.

For over 17 years Resinol Ointment (25c) has been a favorite doctor's prescription and household remedy for eczemas, rashes, pimples, sores, burns, chaps, and chafes, as well as for piles. It's the best remedy. Satisfy every doubt. For free sample write to Dept. 30-B, Resinol Co., Baltimore, Md. Resinol Ointment, 25c, does not irritate the tenderest skin.