THE CONSPIRACY.

Trial of the Assassins.

The Development of the Plot.

Evidence Before the Court.

Monday's Proceedings.

Washington, May 15.—The trial of the assassins of President Lincoln is today in its second day. The evidence before the court is being presented in a systematic and thorough manner.

The Charges and Specifications.

The following are the charges and specifications against the defendants: Conspiracy to assassinate the President of the United States.

The evidence presented today includes the testimony of several witnesses who were present at the trial on Monday.

The court heard the testimony of a witness who claimed to have seen the defendants in the days leading up to the assassination.

The evidence continues to build a case against the defendants, showing their involvement in the plot.

The trial is expected to continue for several more days as the prosecution presents its case.

The defense attorneys are working to challenge the evidence and provide an alternative explanation for the events.

The court is expected to issue a verdict on the charges against the defendants.

The trial has attracted significant public attention and is being widely reported in the press.

The evidence presented today is being carefully reviewed by the court and the public.

The trial is a significant event in the history of the United States.

The evidence continues to be presented in a clear and concise manner.

The trial is expected to conclude in the near future.
