

Urges Councilmen To Act On Segregation As Quickly As They Would If A Colored Family Were Moving In Next Door To Each Member's Home.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—Sir: If each individual member of the City Council stood in danger of having a negro family move next door to him tomorrow, would they not suspend the rules and rush through a segregation ordinance before they ever adjourned? Surely the last one would have stayed there until it was accomplished, unless it were some who would as soon live next door to a negro as not.

Now, if they would be so prompt to protect themselves, why are they so slow to protect their constituents? There should be a massmeeting of the people to go before the Council and demand that such a law be passed without another day of delay and block the game that unprincipled real estate dealers and shortsighted negroes are playing.
