This mausoleum at the grave of Lawrence E. and Lula M. Hurr was toppled over by vandals at Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Baltimore. Theirs was one of the twenty-five graves disturbed during the past month.

At the foot of this grave is stone bearing the name of C. Thompson. Note that the head, apparently too heavy to move, has been buried in the ground. In the background is the stone at the head of the graves of James A. Samuel, Isaiah White and Mrs. Bessie Carroll.

The heavy tombstone here, which was rolled over, has the inscription of Andrew J. Rayner, 70, who was buried in 1925. Many of the twenty-five stones were broken and others rolled several feet.

Police Keep Vigil to Prevent Further Cemetery Vandalism

25 Tombstones at Mt. Auburn Are Smashed or Overturned in Month

BALTIMORE — Police are now keeping an all-night vigil in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Westport, where during the past month vandals have smashed, uprooted and overturned twenty-five tombstones.

According to attendants at the cemetery, the acts have occurred only at night and have ceased since police placed a guard on the premises.

No arrests had been made in the case this week, although southwestern police are investigating. The extent of damage done has not been determined.

Many of the tombstones have been rolled several feet from where they were originally placed, while others, apparently too heavy to move very far, have been turned over. Some have been broken or smashed in several pieces.

Disturb 30-Year-Old Graves
Some of the graves disturbed have been standing for several years, the markers showing that some of the persons were buried before 1910.

Among the names on some of the badly wrecked mausoleums were those of Mrs. Sarah E. J. Cross, who was buried in 1921; Mrs. Mattie Graves, buried the same year; James Braxton, buried in 1923; Mrs. Annie Braxton, buried in 1925; James C. Hayes, buried in 1918; D. David Wilkes, buried in 1907;

Mrs. Martha Smith, buried in 1942; Morris W. Moore, buried in 1925; Andrew Rayner, buried in 1925; William Glenn, buried in 1928; and Lawrence E. Hurr, buried in 1931.

Six trees were reported blown down on the polo field in Potomac Park and another was blown over at Second Street and Massachusetts Avenue, Northeast.

The weather bureau reported that "gusts" of wind reached a peak velocity of sixty miles an hour.

Two boys were fatally injured and another youth hurt during the week end when a 50-mile gale lashed the District, knocking over several trees and causing an unestimated amount of property damage.

Emanuel Weaver, 14, 1231 Union Street, Southwest, died in Providence Hospital Friday night of a fractured skull suffered when a tree fell on him in the 300 block of T Street, Southwest.

The boy was running to get out of the storm with a companion, George H. Howard, 19, 428 First Street, Southwest, when the tree fell on them. Howard was treated at the hospital and released.

Boy, 10, Drowning Victim
Joshua Barber, 10, of 634 N Street, Northwest, drowned Wednesday about 4 p.m., when he slipped and fell into Lake Kingman while crossing the Benning Road Bridge while a playmate, Bernard Barnes, 9, 629 N Street, Northwest, looked on helplessly.

The boy, identified by his uncle, Jack Barber, 634 Florida Avenue, Northwest, was pronounced dead at Casualty Hospital after being taken from the water by harbor police.
