G.O.P. Platform Pledges Better State Institutions

REPUBLICANS DRAFT PLANKS FOR CAMPAIGN

Institution for Feeble-minded also Promised by Leaders.

REFORM SCHOOLS

Would Reorganize Melvale, Cheltenham.

By WILLIAM N. JONES
General improvement of school facilities for Negroes throughout the State, the establishment of an institution for the feeble-minded, and complete changes in the management of reform schools for girls at Melvale and for boys at Cheltenham, were promised in the platform adopted by the Republican State Convention which convened at the Maryland Theatre here, Monday.

The same convention nominated William F. Broening for governor, David A. Robb for attorney general, W. Newton Jackson for comptroller, and Charles S. Warner for clerk of the court of appeals.

Equal Opportunity
A reference which leaders interpreted as expressing the view of party leaders on the Negro status in Maryland Republicanism came when former Senator Joseph I. France, closing a general endorsement of all candidates declared that if the Maryland Free State meant anything it should mean free and equal opportunities for every citizen, white or colored.

Dr. France's speech, in which he warned the delegates that it would be best to boost their own candidates rather than adopt a hammering campaign against Governor Ritchie, the Democratic candidate, was in contrast practically every other speaker who rapped the present governor for his fourth term aspirations and declared that he had usurped the power of government.

(Washington Bureau of the AFRO)
WASHINGTON, D.C.—"Lanky" Jones, graduate of Morgan College in the class of 1930 and the country's ranking basketball player, was not a member of the freshman class at Howard Medical School. "Lanky" applied some time ago, but there had been a quarrel between authorities at Morgan and Howard over credits and he was not admitted. Registrar Wilkinson reports a quota of 50 admitted to the freshman class with 200 on the waiting list. New medical students enter Howard September 30 and former students, October 1.

RAP HAWKINS'S DEFENSE OF BISHOP CAREY

CHICAGO.—The fight to oust Bishop A. J. Carey from the A.M.E. Church flared again here last week when the "Common Sense Committee," headed by Mrs. Nana Jackson, financial secretary of the A.M.E. Church, of making an untrue statement in connection with connectional funds in defense of the prelate.

"Despite the fact," Mrs. Jackson's committee declared, "that Bishop Carey made and repeated a statement that he had kept connectional money to help struggling churches, Dr. Hawkins came here and declared that all connectional money had been received by the different departments."

Is Contradictory
Evidently, the committee says, Dr. Hawkins did not know that he was contradicting Bishop Carey's own words. "Any statement Mr. Hawkins would make now would be difficult to believe after such an astonishing error. He showed poor judgment in coming to Chicago to defend the financial maneuvering of a bishop under indictment by the criminal court, charged with bribery and conspiracy, and one who in addition is having innumerable continuances apparently because he is afraid to meet the issue face to face lest the prison doors swing open for him," says the committee.

Ran Away with Minutes
The Common Sense Committee again calls attention to the statement of Bishop Carey in which he stated that minutes had not been printed because a man in Indiana ran off with the minutes, and a statement from Mrs. Coppin, widow of the late Bishop Levi J. Coppin, that the committee was bringing the truth to their very doors.

COAGE SWORN IN BEFORE FROE GOES OUT

(Washington Bureau of the AFRO)
WASHINGTON.—The capital awoke Tuesday to find it had two recorders of deeds.

President Hoover accepted the resignation of Arthur G. Froe, of West Virginia, recorder since 1922, and promoted Jefferson S. Coage, of Delaware, second deputy recorder, to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Froe's resignation, which has been on Mr. Hoover's desk for more than a year, was accepted suddenly to take effect at the close of business September 30, 1930, but Mr. Coage with apparently unseemly haste, was sworn in September 23, eight days before he can take up his new duties.

Back of the fast work of President Hoover and Mr. Coage is Senator Daniel Hastings, white (Rep., Del.) whose re-election is opposed by former Senator Thomas Bayard, a Democrat.

Colored organizations throughout Delaware's three counties are in arms against Senator Hastings, not only because he voted for anti-Negro Judge John J. Parker for the Supreme Court of the United States, but because of the nasty manner in which he treated colored constituents who urged him to change his mind. Hastings stated openly that he would not listen to colored voters even if it cost him his seat.

SLEEPING SHEIK SLAIN IN AUTO BY SWEETHEART
With witnesses describing how she fatally stabbed her lover, Wannie Williams, 600 W. Lee Street, as he sat slumped asleep over the wheel of his automobile, Miss Helen Green, 20, 654 W. Conway Street, was held for the action of the grand jury after a hearing before Coroner Zellers at the inquest held in the Western police station, Thursday.

Evidence disclosed at the hearing in the police station showed that the couple engaged in an altercation at the home of attending a party at Fairfield, Md. During the argument the young woman threatened Williams if he left the house to go to the party.

Plunges Knife into Abdomen
Williams left the house and drove his machine to 524 W. Barre Street. While waiting for two other friends to join him, Williams fell asleep over the steering wheel of his machine. While he was asleep the young woman approached, and without a word plunged the knife into his abdomen. Williams was taken to the University Hospital, where he died shortly afterwards as the result of internal hemorrhages.

Officers Waited
Police summoned to the scene of the affray began a search for the young woman. Officers of the Western district, acting on information, drove their automobile to Pumphreys Station, Ann Arundel County, Maryland, to the home of the young woman's mother. They were rewarded by seeing the young woman stepping from a W.B. and A. train shortly after they reached the home of her mother.

COPS HELPLESS

Lottery Law Makes Arrests Useless.

Copy of a "numbers" advertising card circulated in Washington—600 TO 1 ON EVERYTHING No Numbers Banned So Runaround Allowed Over 100,000 Paid Daily Half on Short Slips

WASHINGTON, D. C.—If you play "numbers" here, it's the same 1,000 to one chance that you will not hit, a 1,000 to one chance that you will not get paid if you do hit, and another 1,000 to one chance that if you get arrested with "numbers" slips in your pocket, you will not be convicted.

The Capital City which has earned a reputation for its desire to set the standard for all America, is also offering some new ruffles to the rest of the country in the art of figure juggling, an investigation by a representative of the AFRO-AMERICAN has discovered.

The lack of "teeth" in the existing District Code, and the demand for iron-clad evidence by the courts have assisted the spread of the game, according to officers of the 2, 6, 4, and 8 precincts which are heavily populated by colored people.

The Lottery Laws
To understand the officer's complaint, it is advisable to sum up Sections 863, 864, 865, and 868 which deal with the lottery laws.

The first section provides that if a person set up or manage a policy or lottery game, or transfer tickets entitles one to prizes, he shall be fined not less than $500, nor given more than three years in prison, or both.

Section 864 states that if a person shall knowingly permit on premises under his control the use of lottery he shall be fined not less than $50 nor more than one year, or both.

Nashville J.C. Law for Ofays Only
Council's Segregation Measure Would Keep Whites Out of Negro Pool Rooms

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(ANP)—Ordinance providing that Negroes and whites frequenting pool rooms, theaters and other indoor amusement places must be separated by distinct floor, was passed here by the city council, Wednesday.

Councilman Elkin stated that he had been inspired to present the bill by a growing condition of Negroes and whites mingling freely in Negro pool rooms. Citizens in those districts in which the places were located, had complained about this intermingling of the racial groups and had urged him to take steps to stop it.

Several raids for vagrants loitering in the Negro pool rooms have resulted in the arrest of many white men who were found frequenting the places and engaging in games with their colored fellow-citizens. This proved embarrassing to the whites who operate business places in the same section and police were urged to keep whites out of Negro places. "There was no need to pass the law to keep Negroes out of the places operated by whites as they were never permitted to enter."

THERE'S SAFETY IN NUMBERS
You've often heard the expression, "Fifty million Frenchmen can't be wrong," which merely implies that mass approval, while not perfect, is a pretty good gauge of a product's worth. This is proven by THE AFRO each week. There were 46,513 copies of the AFRO-AMERICAN sold last week. Just how many readers there are per paper we cannot say, but you can't fool even 46,513 with an inferior article. Play safe and join the crowd.

ENTIRE BOARD OUSTED

Methodist rules and procedure. The situation became acute, however, at the regular quarterly conference three weeks ago, when the Rev. Gorge Currey, the District Superintendent, the presiding officer, made a ruling to the effect that henceforth the financial committee of the church would superintend the payment of all bills, etc.

This ruling, which took the direct handling of financial affairs of the church out of the hands of the trustee board, caused the rift when members, led by Mr. Hawkins, refused to accept the ruling.

The meeting Wednesday night was a called meeting of the church quarterly conference to take action in the matter.

Owed Coal Bill

Another cause of trouble was the signing of a note by the trustees for $800 which represented an overdue coal bill with the Enterprise Coal Company. The bill which was two years old, was placed in the hands of the J. Cookman Boyd, to collect and the note was signed as individuals and not as a board.

It is understood that under the old trustee board the church and community work was steadily increasing.

Cemetery also Factor

For some time also, it is said, the affairs of the Mt. Auburn Cemetery, owned and operated by the church, have been unsatisfactory to some of the members of the church and to the pastor. It was intimated that revenues from that venture, which once brought as much as $9,000 to the treasury yearly, have dwindled.

There are also complaints that proper care was not being taken of the graves and that bodies were being buried on top of former burials.

Friends of the pastor declare that under the trustee board which was ousted Tuesday night, it was impossible for him to straighten out the financial affairs of the church and cemetery and that the only course left open was to install a more cooperative body.

May Fight it Out

Although no member of the ousted board would take responsibility for a rumor that they would resort to court action if necessary to halt the taking over of the financial affairs by the newly elected board, it is known that such action is in contemplation.

W. Ashbie Hawkins attorney, representing the ousted members, and himself a member of the ousted board, made the following categorical statement:

1. The trustees are elected for a year expiring the month of December, 1930.
2. The quarterly conference was an extra one, improperly called and held.
3. The district superintendent resigned and undertook to pass on certain questions with which his office had nothing to do.
4. The trustees named to take the place of the old board are all irregularly nominated and elected.
5. The whole matter revolves about a point of mal-administration inspired by the pastor, in which the district superintendent, all too willingly, was made one of the conspirators.

The meeting at times was stormy, although no accusations of wrongdoing were made on the floor. The question seemed to hinge around what some of the members declare is the domination of W. Ashbie Hawkins and some of his associates.

It is also being rumored that it is the intention of the church administration to have the books of the church audited by an expert accountant. They declare that while there is no intention of misuse of money, the financial affairs of the church are getting in a bad way because of the lack of funds.

Pastor Silent

The Rev. J. W. Waters, pastor of the church, refused to make a statement for publication, Thursday. He stated that he would withhold any comment until next week when mat-

STRICT MILITARY FUNERAL GIVEN MAJ. WASHINGTON

Dr. Moton Unable to Speak Over Remains of His Friend.

BOYS BEAR CASKET

Body Rests Beside Frisell and Armstrong.

HAMPTON INSTITUTE.—With the entire battalion in full uniform, and members of the football team acting pallbearers, the late Major Allen Washington, for fifteen years commandant of cadets at Hampton, was buried with strict military honors, Friday.

The funeral services were conducted in the chapel, which the cortege entered at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Moton Present

Although Dr. Robert R. Moton, whom Major Washington succeeded at Hampton, was scheduled to speak at the funeral, so affected was he at the death of his friend and associate for 55 years, that he was unable to make the address. Dr. Imes delivered the funeral address.

Other speakers at the funeral included Dr. Rex Johnson of Norfolk and Dr. Phenix of Hampton Institute.

The active pallbearers were Edward Bell, Hiawatha Harris, James Urthank, Edgar Guess, Carl Hill, Maxwell Thomas, Leonard Jasper and Theodore Buggs. Following the ceremonies at the chapel, the body was laid to rest in Hampton campus cemetery.

The death of Major Washington halted the regular introductory program for new students. At the chapel service Friday morning, Dr. Phenix paid an additional tribute to the dead commandant. He died September 16, following a stroke of paralysis.

Members shall have clarified themselves.

William E. Nelson, one of the ousted trustees, stated that matters in the church were in a terribly muddled state, and that he felt that the financial condition of the organization was such that new members, instead of a new board, were some of the things needed.

Mrs. Lillian Jackson, one of the members named on the new board, also declined to comment. Roy S. Bond, another new member, stated that he was not at the meeting during the proceedings and had not seen the minutes.

Dr. Howard E. Young, one of the ousted trustees, also preferred not to make any comment on the election at present.

Broad Powers.

In the past, the trustee board of the Sharp Street Church has exercised broad powers over the affairs of the church, being in charge of the financial affairs of the church, the Community House and Mt. Auburn cemetery.

The meeting Wednesday evening was stormy at times. It was evident from the beginning, however, that partisans of the pastor were in the majority.
