

rites TODAY FOR O'CONOR

Archbishop Keough To Officiate At Mass

A pontifical requiem mass for Herbert R. O'Conor will be said by Archbishop Keough at 10 A.M. today at the Cathedral of Mary Our Queen.

Senator Johnson (D., Texas), Senate majority leader, and other members of Congress are expected to attend the services for Mr. O'Conor, a former United States senator for Maryland and twice governor of the State.

Services at Mr. O'Conor's home, 101 East Highfield road, will be held at 9.10 A.M.

Assisting the Archbishop at the mass will be Msgr. Lawrence J. Kilkenny, Msgr. Roger K. Wooden, Msgr. George L. Hopkins, the Rev. Thomas Whelan, the Rev. J. Chester Griffith and the Rev. Aloysius C. Galvin, S.J.

Eulogy Planned

The Very Rev. Vincent F. Beatty, S.J., president of Loyola College, will give an eulogy at the funeral, the first held in the new Cathedral.

Pallbearers will be Daley Byrnes, Edward J. Byrnes, Dr. Vincent dePaul Fitzpatrick, Dr. William D. Gentry, Jr., Richard A. Froehlinger, Jr., and Robert J. McElroy.

Senator Symington (D., Mo.) and Senator Kefauver (D., Tenn.) yesterday added their names to the list of honorary pallbearers and notified Mr. O'Conor's office that they expect to attend the funeral if they can get away from the current civil-rights debate in the Senate.

Apostolic Delegate Visits

Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, yesterday visited the O'Conor house with his secretary, Msgr. Gerald V. McDevitt.
