

CAROLINE COUNTY COURT adjourned on Saturday week, after a session of two weeks. The case of the State of Maryland vs. M'Combs, indicted for manslaughter, was quashed, there being an error in the indictment, and the jury failed to find a second presentment.