

SERVANTS FOR SALE.—The advertiser would sell the time of service of six Negro Girls, and two young Negro Women, each to serve until they arrive to the age of twenty-six years.

Their ages are 5, 7, 9, 11, 11, 13, 16, 19; five of the girls are children of one woman and of course sisters, and the two women are children of another woman.

To avoid all unnecessary applications, or cause of complaint, the owner will sell to no person whatever until he shall be made satisfied from the character and standing that the servant will have every reasonable prospect of being kindly and humanely treated during their time of service, and the purchaser shall have had the servant some reasonable time on trial.

They all are now on a farm on the Eastern Shore where they were born, are sightly and healthy, have almost every thing to learn; sold for no fault, but in consideration of the owner having more of them than he has profitable employment for.
