

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.—Run away from the subscriber on Monday, the 16th instant, negro man JERRE, who calls himself Jerre Hawkins. He is of copper complexion, about five feet two or three inches high, rather delicately made, frowns when spoken to, and is about thirty years of age. He was bought out of the late Governor Kent's estate, has relations living at Mr. Charles B. Calvert's, near Bladensburg, and in Washington. Twenty-five dollars will be given for his apprehension and delivery, if taken in this county; fifty dollars if taken out of this county and in the State of Maryland or in the District of Columbia; and the above reward of one hundred dollars if taken out of the State or District of Columbia, and brought to me or secured in jail so that I get him again.

JOSEPH K. ROBERTS,
Near Bladensburg, Prince George's county, Md.
