Fact, Fun and Fancy.

—The right man in the right place—A husband at home in the evening.

—Every man must, of necessity, have a master, and so you had better be your own.

—A change of fortune hurts a wise man no more than a change of the moon.

—A widow that does'nt benefit the world by his life, does it by his death.

—"Oh, that my father was seized with a remittant fever!" sighed a young spendthrift at college.

—Women who sue for breach of promise, may fail to get money; but they generally receive heavy damages.

—An Editor, recording the career of a mad dog, says: "We are grieved to say that the rabid animal, before it could be killed, severely bit Dr. Hart, and several other dogs.

—The young widow who lately recovered heavy damages from a rich gentleman who hugged her somewhat rudely, should take care of her money—for she made it by a tight squeeze.

—Bill Swilling was sent to jail for habitual drunkenness. One of his old cronies was asked, "why don't you bail him out?" "Bale him out," he replied, "why, man, you could not pump him out."

—Diplomas are not always worthily bestowed. And sheepskin is often taken from the animal that is entitled to it, to be given to an animal that isn't.

—A friend of ours who left the editorial fraternity a year ago, is now engaged in raising pigs. So he has again taken the pen in hand.

—A Frenchman, intending to compliment a young lady by calling her a gentle lamb, said, "She is one mutton as is small."

The Best Legacy.—No man can leave a better legacy to the world than a well-educated family.

—"There is no peace on this side of the grave," said a clergyman, when preaching at the grave of a friend. "Well, old chap," said a jolly jack tar, "you can come over on this side, we are quiet enough here."

—The comparative economy of the two sexes has been thus defined: A man gives two shillings for an eighteen penny thing that he wants, and a woman gives eighteen-pence for a two-shilling thing she does not want.

Marriage at Three-Score and Ten.—In Tiverton, R. I., on the 7th instant, Mr. Paul Tabor, aged 73, was married to Mrs. Sarah Lake, who is 70 years old. "It is pleasant," says the Fall River News, "to see the flowers of love springing up and blooming sweetly in the winter of life."

—A Powerful Memory.—There is said to be living in Cincinnati a man who is possessed of such a powerful memory, that he is employed by the various benevolent societies to "remember the poor."

—A Lady asked her gardiner why the weeds always out grew and covered up the flowers? "Madame," he answered, "the soil is mother of the weeds, but only step-mother of the flowers."

—When you negotiate for a house having all the modern improvements, you will generally find that a mortgage is one of them.

—The fellow who was requested to "foot up," did so by standing upon his head. Inconvenient style of getting a receipt that.

—It is the opinion of the doctor that the lawyer gets his living by plunder, while the lawyer thinks the doctor gets his by "pillage."

—"I feel," said an old lady, "that I've got about through with this world. I han't enjoy much more trouble."

—To know the pains of power, we must go to those who have it; to hear about its pleasures, we must go to those who are seeking it; its pains are real, its pleasures are imaginary.

—An editor in Iowa has become so hollow from depending on the printing business for bread, that he proposes to sell himself for a stove pipe.

—In Japan, a man goes into society as soon as he knows how to get drunk. If such was the rule in this country the race of fashionables would be very large.

Partyism Again.—The Douglas organs contend that there is a difference between squatter sovereignty and popular sovereignty. Certainly squatter sovereignty isn't popular.

—Philosophers say that shutting the eyes makes the hearing more acute. A wag suggests that this accounts for so many closed eyes at church in a serious time.

—A Chinese maxim says: "We require four things of woman: that virtue dwell in her heart—that modesty play on her brow—that sweetness flow from her lips—that industry occupy her hand."

—It is a common saying of moralists, that the lower order of animals have not the vices of man; yet it is certain that some of the insects are back-biters, and all of the quadrupeds tale-bearers.

—Some of the moralists tell us that woman suffers great wrongs. No doubt she does, but we sometimes think, when we see her now-a-days, that she needs redressing more than her wrongs do.

—At a recent festive meeting, a married man, who ought to know better, proposed, "The Ladies," as "the beings who divide our sorrows, double our joys, and treble our expenses."

—When his cousin, Charlotte Dunne, was married, Jones said: "It was Dunne before it was begun, Dunne while it was doing, and it was not Dunne when it was done."

—To find one who has passed through life without sorrow, you must find one incapable of love or hatred, of hope or fear—one that hath no memory of the past, and no thought of the future—one that hath no sympathy with humanity, and no feeling in common with the rest of his species.

—Some of the Dover, England, volunteers, the other day, "rise in hand," he was escorted by a precocious urchin, who called out: "Whir shot that dog?"

This saying our friend applied by no way so much to farming as field——

"If you are not off very soon, I'll shoot a donkey." [Whereupon the boy calling out to one of his companions, exclaimed: "Bill, look here—this new fellow is going to commit suicide."

An Important Letter

From Rev. Jacob Seckler, well known and highly respected throughout the State of Pennsylvania:

Hanover, Pa., February 16, 1859.
Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co., Boston.—Dear Sirs: Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eight years ago one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline, and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of the contents of the bottle, there was a great improvement in her health. I have in my individual case, made frequent use of your valuable medicine, and have always been benefitted by it. I would however, caution the public against imposition, because there is a good deal of spurious Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry afloat throughout the country.
JACOB SECKLER.

Millford, Del., October 25, 1858.
S. W. Fowle & Co., Boston: Please send me a supply of Wistar's Balsam, as I am nearly out, and there is a great demand for it; it is doing wonders; it cures Coughs, Asthma, Whooping Cough and Consumption, without fail. There has never been any of the genuine here until you sent me a lot some time since, but plenty of the counterfeit.
Yours, truly, JACOB P. FOUCK.

☞ REMEMBER, THEREFORE, all who seek health, that the only genuine has the written signature of "I. BUTTS," as well as the private mark of the Proprietors, SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, on the outside wrapper. Take no other; it were money wasted, and health jeopardied.

HAGERSTOWN ADVERTISEMENTS.

GEISER'S
PATENT REVERSIBLE
GRAIN SEPARATOR,
CLEANER AND BAGGER,
AND VIBRATING
Iron Tripple-Geared HORSE-POWER,
All furnished Complete, if desired, on Four Wheels.

THE subscribers desire to call the attention of the Farmers and Threshermen of Montgomery and adjoining counties to their Improved Machine for the present year. This machine has now been before the public for six years, during which time it has earned for itself the reputation of being the best Separator in use; and we have made some very important improvements and additions for the present year, which renders it still more perfect, and we take pleasure in recommending it to the public, knowing that it cannot fail to give general satisfaction. We are now manufacturing two different sizes, as follows:

No. 1, the largest size, 8-horse power, 36 inch Iron Cylinder, Trunk 33 inches wide, with Stacker, delivering the straw 30 feet beyond the feeder and upon the stack 16 feet high, and can be easily managed either to carry the chaff with the straw, or deliver it in a separate place if required. It bags the grain, by reasonable management, sufficiently clean for market, and its capacity, under ordinary circumstances, is from 20 to 40 bushels per hour, or from 200 to 500 bushels per day, using eight horses and the same number of bagsby; but to force the work, under the most favorable circumstances, it will do considerably more, or, with the same number of horses and less hands, it will thrash and clean as much or more grain per day than any other machine now in common use and with much more ease and agreeableness to the hands.

No. 2 is the same as No. 1, except something less in size and capacity; has from 7 to 8-horse power, 30 inch Iron Cylinder, Trunk 31 inches wide.

Persons having good Threshers, can have Separators, suitable to their capacity, attached, at a comparatively small cost. All our machines are sold under a warrantee.

We being practical mechanics, and being engaged in the manufacture of these machines for the last five years, and one of us having the advantage of twenty years practical experience in the thrashing machine business, and having in our employ the most skillful workmen, and using the best material, we flatter ourselves that we are now prepared to manufacture these celebrated machines in the most substantial manner.

REPAIRING done in workmanlike manner. All our work warranted to give satisfaction, or no sale. Orders respectfully solicited.
