

Interments in the burying grounds of the city and precincts of Baltimore, DURING THE WEEK ending yesterday morning at sun-rise:

Table with 2 columns: Disease/Category and Number. Includes Cholera (20), Consumption (2), Typhus fever from the hospital (1), Gout (1), Bilious fever (1), Casuality (1), Sudden death, three of whom from the improper use of cold water (4), Still-born (1), Hooping-cough (1), Adults (11), Children (21), Total (32).

Extract of a letter from Batavia, dated 6th March to a respectable commercial house in Philadelphia.

Yesterday the Company advanced the price of Jacatra coffee to 15, Ceribon to 10, and sugar 6 1-3 dolls. per picul. Pepper remains at 15. Our coals we could get nothing for, and were obliged to make the company a present of it, or return to the Straits of Sunda and leave it overboard; of course we preferred the former, and they, as a great favor, sent it ashore at their own expense.

VIRGINIA BANK.

Agreeably to the 1st section of the act for incorporating the Bank of Virginia, books for receiving subscriptions were opened on the 8th of May by the Commissioners at Richmond, and at the towns where Branch Banks are to be established. On closing the books at 3 o'clock on the first day, it was found that 3668 shares had been subscribed for at Richmond. At the end of the ten days 4381 shares had been taken by 2702 Stockholders. Having graduated them according to the 4th section of the law, the Commissioners discovered that 1048 Stockholders only were nominally entitled to 2 shares, and that 1654 Stockholders were nominally entitled to one share each; the whole amount of these shares having constituted the legal number (5750) allotted to Richmond.

The following are the names of the directors: J. Gallego, B. Hatcher, E. Carrington, J. Seiden, W. B. Giles, S. Pleasants, J. Brown, R. Pollard, G. Jefferson, J. F. Leitch, W. Mitchell, A. Venable, J. Harvie, J. Storrs. The directors have proceeded to discharge some of the duties which their appointment has devolved upon them. They have elected Mr. Venable President. The vote was understood to be, For A. B. Venable 10, E. Carrington 2, B. Hatcher 1.

PETER PERCUPINE.—Thursday night (says a late Irish paper) a king's messenger sailed for England with attested copies of the Patents of his excellency the lord lieutenant, and the right hon. the lord chancellor, preparatory to the trial of Mr. Cobbet, which is shortly to take place in London, for libels on the sending away these articles gave rise to several ridiculous rumours about Dublin, of too absurd a nature to describe.

It has been the great desire of the editor of the Expositor, to draw the attention of his fellow citizens, to those rich products, which nature with a kind and benevolent hand has spread over the soil of the U. States; situated by this principle he now calls their attention to a new species of oil in the berries of the dogwood, discovered by citizen Marguerow, of the military hospital of Strasburg. To procure it, it is necessary to heap up, and cause to heat a little, the black berries of this tree, they are then to be washed to a pulp, and submitted without further preparation to the press, which forces out a fat viscous oil, of a clear green color, inodorous & tasteless—when mixed with salled it is not distinguishable from the best olive oil—with alkalies it forms soap—it burns by help of a wick with a white flame, without any sensible smok slower than olive oil, besides it is not found to congeal in a very considerable degree of cold. Hence it may be well worthy of collecting the berries for the sake of the oil, wherever the dogwood tree abounds. Alex. Expositor.

Lately a stone was extracted from a female patient, in England, of the enormous weight of 27 ounces.—The largest stone it is imagined ever found in the human bladder, the woman did not recover from the operation.

Says a London paper, we learn from undoubted authority, that Louis XVIII King of France and Navarre, means solemnly to protest, in his own name, and that of the Bourbons, and particularly in the name of the French nation, against the elevation of a foreign usurper to his Majesty's throne, under the title of Emperor, by certain individuals, calling themselves the Senate and Tribunal of France and falsely arrogating to themselves the power to dispose of his Majesty's rightful crown and dignity. In this protest, his most Christian Majesty will call upon all legitimate Sovereigns to defend their rank and rights; upon all Europe to defend its independence; & upon all the world to defend the laws of humanity; upon all civilized nations to resist the return of Vandalism; and upon all Christians to unite in opposing atheism and immorality.

From the N. Y. EVENING POST.

THURSDAY EVENING, July 12, 1864.

MR. COLEMAN, The public mind being extremely agitated by the melancholy fate of that great man, ALEXANDER HAMILTON, I have thought it would be grateful to my fellow citizens, would provide against misrepresentation, & perhaps, be conducive to the advancement of the cause of religion, were I to give a narrative of some facts which have fallen under my own observation, during the time which elapsed between the fatal duel and his departure out of this world.

Yesterday morning, immediately after he was brought from Hoboken to the house of Mr. Bayard at Greenwich, a message was sent informing me of the sad event, accompanied by a request from General Hamilton, that I would come to him for the purpose of administering the holy communion. I went; but being desirous to afford time for serious reflection, and conceiving that under existing circumstances, it would be right and proper to avoid every appearance of precipitancy in performing one of the most solemn offices of our religion, I did not then comply with his desire. At one o'clock I was again called on to visit him. Upon my entering the room & approaching his bed, with the utmost calmness and composure he said, "My dear Sir, you perceive my unfortunate situation, and no doubt have been made acquainted with the circumstances which led to it. It is my desire to receive the communion at your hands. I hope you will not conceive there is any impropriety in my request." He added, "It has for some time past, been the wish of my heart, and it was my intention to take an early opportunity of uniting myself to the church, by the reception of that holy ordinance." I observed to him, that he must be very sensible of the delicate and trying situation in which I was then placed: that however desirous I might be to afford consolation to a fellow mortal in distress: still, it was my duty, as a minister of the gospel, to hold up the law of God as paramount to all other law: and that, therefore, under the influence of such sentiments, I must unequivocally condemn the practice which had brought him to his present unhappy condition. He acknowledged the propriety of these sentiments and declared that he viewed the late transaction with sorrow and contrition. I then asked him, "Should it please God, to restore you to health, Sir, will you never be again engaged in a similar transaction? and will you employ all your influence in society to discountenance this barbarous custom?" His answer was, "That, Sir, is my deliberation."

I proceeded to converse with him on the subject of his receiving the Communion; and told him that with respect to the qualifications of those who wish to become partakers of that holy ordinance, my enquiries could not be made in language more expressive than that which was used by our Church—"Do you sincerely repent of your sins past? Have you a lively faith in God's mercy through Christ, with a thankful remembrance of the death of Christ? And are you disposed to live in love and charity with all men?" He lifted up his hands and said, "With utmost sincerity of heart I can answer those questions in the affirmative—I have no ill will against Col. Burr. I met him with a fix resolution to do him no harm—I forgive all that happened." I then observed to him, that the terrors of the divine law were to be announced to the obdurate and impenitent: but that the consolations of the Gospel were to be offered to the humble & contrite heart; that I had no reason to doubt his sincerity, and would proceed immediately to gratify his wishes. The Communion was then administered, which he received with great devotion, and his heart afterwards appeared to be perfectly at rest. I saw him again this morning, when with his last faltering words he expressed a strong confidence in the mercy of God through the intercession of the Redeemer. I remained with him until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when death closed the awful scene—he expired without a struggle, and almost without a groan.

By reflecting on this melancholy event, let the humble believer be encouraged ever to hold fast that precious faith which is the only source of true consolation in the last extremity of nature. Let the infidel be persuaded to abandon his opposition to that gospel which the strong, inquisitive, and comprehensive mind of a HAMILTON embraced, in his last moments as the truth from heaven. Let those who are disposed to justify the practice of duelling, be induced, by this simple narrative, to view with a horror that custom which has occasioned an irreparable loss to a worthy and most afflicted family—which has deprived his friends of a beloved companion, his profession of one of its brightest ornaments, and his country of a great statesman and a real patriot. With great respect, I remain your friend & servant. BENJAMIN MOOR.

Irish News! Extract of a letter received in Philadelphia, by a late arrival at New York, dated DUBLIN, April 5, 1864. "It is dismal to view the state of this kingdom at present; all the horrors of 1798 and '99 are renewed; every man who may come under the description of suspected persons, is dragged from his family and abode, and immured in a jail or prison-ship. Hostages have been taken out of every county and transmitted to this city, where they are closely confined, and separated from each other. This is pretended to be in consequence of French agents being lately in different parts of the kingdom; from whom the reports is, that a visit is hourly expected. Others believe that the first descent will be made on Scotland; and which the government appear to be aware of. We have expected them here for some time back; and I am convinced that, if a descent is made on Scotland, it will only be a diversion: You may rely upon it, that Ireland is the ground.—There are many worthy and wealthy men made prisoners of late: The venerable Mr. Dixon, of Kilmalham; Messrs. Redmonds, Fleet-street; Cogsgrave, of Newry; Count O'Gorman, of the county Clare, and many other gentlemen, of the first respectability, in the different parts of the kingdom. Many of the state-prisoners, who were transported from Fort George, have been lately here.—I understand that all of them, except the brave unfortunate—captain Russel, who was taken some time ago and executed in the North, have got safe off for France and Holland; but with a promise to return as soon as possible.

Shortly after the 23d of last July, the Martial Law was proclaimed in the city and county of Dublin; afterwards extended to the counties of Wicklow, Kildare, Carlow, Tipperary and Cork; lately it has made its way to the kings and queens counties; to Meath, Westmeath, Longford, the upper district of Cavan, and entire of the counties of Roscommon, Sligo, and Mayo. By proclamation, every military officer, from a general to a sergeant, is empowered to seize the person of every one suspected for want of loyalty. This authority has given the militia a power so uncontrolled, and they use it with so much licentiousness, that men of the first respectability are daily dragged to guard-houses, their property despoiled, and in many late instances, their families violated in a manner that would shock humanity to hear of.

I assure you, that any change which might take place here would be willingly received, by the great body of the people of all descriptions; for, add to all I have said, fresh additional taxes, which took place on the 29th Sept. on things that we thought could not have borne it. "There is great dissatisfaction in the militia; so much so, that 19 guineas are offered to every man who will volunteer his services to England, Scotland, or Guernsey. "The government are receiving donations, from 11, to what you please. Many men have sacrificed large sums to this mandate, merely to purchase, by this evidence of loyalty, their freedom from prison ships or jails. I am credibly informed, that our present attorney general has pocketed upwards of 10,000, by procuring the release of some wealthy Catholics of Cork, and the adjoining counties, who had been confined, on Duncannon Fort, in a prison-ship. It would appear, that the officers of the present government foresee their dissolution; as it is every one for himself, and they descend to the lowest arts of meanness. There are several ladies still confined, on charges of treason. I shall mention a few of those: Miss Monroe, sister of the late general; Miss Dixon, of Bainbridge; Miss Shaw, of Durdalk, a quaker lady, died in prison. The case of Miss Shaw was particularly distressing; she had been taken early in the month of August last, committed to the castle of Carrickfergus, together with her two brothers. She was shortly after removed to the common jail, and separated from all her connections. She was thrown into a damp cell; where she survived only a few weeks. Even in her dying moments, neither her mother nor sisters were permitted to see her. This act has been sensibly felt, even by the enemies of republican Irishmen, as those formerly called United men, are now called,

SHIPPING NEWS From BRITISH MARINE LIST. July 16. By the British packet Spencer we have received the London shipping and commercial List to the 13th May, in which we notice the following arrivals from this port: At Embden—Andromeda, Tegeler; Anna, Ræper; Krohn Von Bremen, Daancken; and Fame, Reynolds. At Jaldé—Washington, Otto. Off Dover—Robert, Dunkin, from Baltimore to Amsterdam. At Plymouth—General Greene, Wilson, from Amsterdam for Baltimore. At Liverpool—Nancy, Steel. Arrived, sch'r Cornelia, Abert, 34 days from Jackmell—coffee—James Hamilton. Left there, June 14, ship Peggusas M'Laughlan, for Charleston, in 15 days; brig Betsey, White, (said to have been captured,) of Philadelphia just arrived, sailed in company with sloop adventure, Porter, for Portland, parted 18th inst. Lat. 33, Long. 76, heard of no captures, except a vague account of two fast sailing American vessels being taken in the Bay of Leone, and a clump in company. Heard of two armed American vessels being at Aux Cayes, one of them a brig, could not learn their names, or where belonging. Came into the capes on Saturday, saw a brig a stern said to be from Trinidad, for Alexandria. The sch'r Comet, hence has arrived at St. Croix.

New York, July 14. Arrived since our last, Sloop Patty, White, in 20 days from Montego Bay. June 22, off Grand Comens, the sloop Nancy, of Nantucket, from Jamaica for New-York; having sailed with the homeward bound fleet, together with a number of American vessels bound to the eastward—amongst which was the ship New-York, of Philadelphia, from Liverpool for New-Orleans—she having been taken by the French and retaken by the British ship Tartar and sent into Jamaica, and cleared on the captain's paying a salvage.

The schooner Venus, West, in 4 days from North-Carolina. Passengers, Mrs. Smith, M. U. Har, and Mr. White. Also, the schooner Susan, Culver, in 11 days from St. Croix. Left July 1, snow Comet, of Baltimore; sch'r Catharine, Stone, of Norfolk, to sail in a few days; sch'r Success, of Boston; sch'r Clarissa, of Boston, for Philadelphia in a few days. Also, the sloop Industry, Squire, in 9 days from Alexandria. July 11, spoke the sloop Industry, Knapp, 11 days from New-York for Richmond. Passenger, Capt. Phipps. Also, the sloop Patty, Bristol, from Philadelphia, and sloop Linnet, Martin, from Wilmington, Del. The sloop Peggy, Thompson, from Brunswick for New-York, loaded with timber, was upset in Thursday's squall near the Narrows. No lives were lost, and the vessel will be recovered. A schooner at quarantine, unknown. Cleared, ship Jenny, Ward, Amsterdam; brig Cato Matthews, Antigua; Sukey and Palle, Cromartie, Jamaica; sch'r's Performance, Swan, Surinam; Experiment, Smith, West-Indies.

To Rent. THE subscriber offers for rent, the House lately occupied in Howard street, in one of the most healthy situations in Baltimore. Apply at No. 50, South Gay-street. HENRY COURTNEY. July 17

The Subscriber OFFERS for sale, his Estate, situate on Elkridge, and about three miles from the landing, containing eight hundred acres more or less—on which are built a comfortable dwelling and several out-houses. A considerable proportion of this Land is under cultivation, and that which is uncultivated bears a large quantity of timber fit for ship building. The soil is considered remarkably good, and its situation extremely healthy. For terms and minute description of this property, apply to HU. THOMPSON. July 17

Subscriptions Are received at the Book stores of Messrs. M. & J. Conrad & Co. and Warner & Hanna, Market-street, for a Book, entitled, The Skeletons; Or the Arminian Anatomical, and the Carnal Preacher Dissected. In two parts.—Part 1, the Arminian, or doctrine of Universal Charity pursued, taken, examined, tried, condemned, executed and anatomized. Part 2, the Carnal Preacher Dissected, with comments on several dark passages of Scripture, in a series of letters, written at various times to friends in the country. Conditions, &c. are at the above book-stores. It is the opinion of several respectable gentlemen, of the clergy, of this city, that the above book contains the ground work and principles of genuine piety. July 16

To the Public—Again! I WILL be much obliged to any of you, if you will inform me of a convenient little house to let, in any of the public streets of this city, any time between this and October next, as at that period I do intend to commence my threatened attack upon the Cloth, and if possible to gain your patronage—by which, alone, I shall be enabled to steer my leaky barque, with my crew and cargo through the otherwise insurmountable difficulties of so hazardous an enterprise—where the whirlpool of prejudice, the rocks of ignorance, contrary winds, dead calms, storms, pirates, the shores and breakers, are amongst the least of those alarming dangers that awaits the TAYLOR on his passage from port Low-begginning, to the haven of Affluence and Ease. I shall have no objection to rent half a store along with any merchant, tradesman, or mechanic, only and except a blacksmith or a butcher; but would rather prefer, above all others, a dentist who can draw teeth with ease and expedition, at a moderate expense. In regard to my requirements in the art and mystery of a Taylor, what shall I say—suppose I was to exhibit myself as the Phoenix of the cross-legged fraternity, you would pay no more attention to it, than to the noisy & swelling of a puppet show-man, or the more mischievous and detestable imposture of an impudent quack, and of course consign it to the dust as a fit companion for the sickening boisterous and humbugging nonsense of a razor-strap advertisement. If, on the other hand, I should debase myself to the lowest grade of ignorance, you would really call it irony, and thus inverted, read a shameless eulogium on my own abilities.—What then, shall I say nothing, only that I am a Taylor—that I want customers—and that if ever I get them, I will endeavor to keep all them that are worth keeping—and that Whether I stand or fall, or sink or swim, My price for goods or labor done, Shall not be one cent below the common run. Let by their snips indignant cry, Is this as you would be done by—To spurr our profits—blast our fame, To gain your self an honest name. Hence fierce disputes and fiery wars, Brew thunder for a Taylor's wars, When hostile yells sticks clashing break, And shopwards to their centre shall be. When needles, bodkins, clappers, and their Endanger life, and limbs and ears, Now to prevent such horrid fray, Let us not fall out by the way, But peacefully stitch through wind & weather, And if we cheat—cheat all together! F. Guy. July 17

For Sale or Hire. A STRONG Negro Woman, with 2 Children—She is capable of doing a great deal of family work, such as scrubbing, washing, plain cooking, &c. Enquire of the printer, N. B. She is not to be sold out of the state June 27. July 17

SHIP NEWS

From BRITISH MARINE LIST. July 16.

By the British packet Spencer we have received the London shipping and commercial List to the 13th May, in which we notice the following arrivals from this port:

At Embden—Andromeda, Tegeler; Anna, Ræper; Krohn Von Bremen, Daancken; and Fame, Reynolds. At Jaldé—Washington, Otto. Off Dover—Robert, Dunkin, from Baltimore to Amsterdam. At Plymouth—General Greene, Wilson, from Amsterdam for Baltimore. At Liverpool—Nancy, Steel. Arrived, sch'r Cornelia, Abert, 34 days from Jackmell—coffee—James Hamilton. Left there, June 14, ship Peggusas M'Laughlan, for Charleston, in 15 days; brig Betsey, White, (said to have been captured,) of Philadelphia just arrived, sailed in company with sloop adventure, Porter, for Portland, parted 18th inst. Lat. 33, Long. 76, heard of no captures, except a vague account of two fast sailing American vessels being taken in the Bay of Leone, and a clump in company. Heard of two armed American vessels being at Aux Cayes, one of them a brig, could not learn their names, or where belonging. Came into the capes on Saturday, saw a brig a stern said to be from Trinidad, for Alexandria. The sch'r Comet, hence has arrived at St. Croix.

New York, July 14. Arrived since our last, Sloop Patty, White, in 20 days from Montego Bay. June 22, off Grand Comens, the sloop Nancy, of Nantucket, from Jamaica for New-York; having sailed with the homeward bound fleet, together with a number of American vessels bound to the eastward—amongst which was the ship New-York, of Philadelphia, from Liverpool for New-Orleans—she having been taken by the French and retaken by the British ship Tartar and sent into Jamaica, and cleared on the captain's paying a salvage.

The schooner Venus, West, in 4 days from North-Carolina. Passengers, Mrs. Smith, M. U. Har, and Mr. White. Also, the schooner Susan, Culver, in 11 days from St. Croix. Left July 1, snow Comet, of Baltimore; sch'r Catharine, Stone, of Norfolk, to sail in a few days; sch'r Success, of Boston; sch'r Clarissa, of Boston, for Philadelphia in a few days. Also, the sloop Industry, Squire, in 9 days from Alexandria. July 11, spoke the sloop Industry, Knapp, 11 days from New-York for Richmond. Passenger, Capt. Phipps. Also, the sloop Patty, Bristol, from Philadelphia, and sloop Linnet, Martin, from Wilmington, Del. The sloop Peggy, Thompson, from Brunswick for New-York, loaded with timber, was upset in Thursday's squall near the Narrows. No lives were lost, and the vessel will be recovered. A schooner at quarantine, unknown. Cleared, ship Jenny, Ward, Amsterdam; brig Cato Matthews, Antigua; Sukey and Palle, Cromartie, Jamaica; sch'r's Performance, Swan, Surinam; Experiment, Smith, West-Indies.

To Rent. THE subscriber offers for rent, the House lately occupied in Howard street, in one of the most healthy situations in Baltimore. Apply at No. 50, South Gay-street. HENRY COURTNEY. July 17

The Subscriber OFFERS for sale, his Estate, situate on Elkridge, and about three miles from the landing, containing eight hundred acres more or less—on which are built a comfortable dwelling and several out-houses. A considerable proportion of this Land is under cultivation, and that which is uncultivated bears a large quantity of timber fit for ship building. The soil is considered remarkably good, and its situation extremely healthy. For terms and minute description of this property, apply to HU. THOMPSON. July 17

Subscriptions Are received at the Book stores of Messrs. M. & J. Conrad & Co. and Warner & Hanna, Market-street, for a Book, entitled, The Skeletons; Or the Arminian Anatomical, and the Carnal Preacher Dissected. In two parts.—Part 1, the Arminian, or doctrine of Universal Charity pursued, taken, examined, tried, condemned, executed and anatomized. Part 2, the Carnal Preacher Dissected, with comments on several dark passages of Scripture, in a series of letters, written at various times to friends in the country. Conditions, &c. are at the above book-stores. It is the opinion of several respectable gentlemen, of the clergy, of this city, that the above book contains the ground work and principles of genuine piety. July 16

To the Public—Again! I WILL be much obliged to any of you, if you will inform me of a convenient little house to let, in any of the public streets of this city, any time between this and October next, as at that period I do intend to commence my threatened attack upon the Cloth, and if possible to gain your patronage—by which, alone, I shall be enabled to steer my leaky barque, with my crew and cargo through the otherwise insurmountable difficulties of so hazardous an enterprise—where the whirlpool of prejudice, the rocks of ignorance, contrary winds, dead calms, storms, pirates, the shores and breakers, are amongst the least of those alarming dangers that awaits the TAYLOR on his passage from port Low-begginning, to the haven of Affluence and Ease. I shall have no objection to rent half a store along with any merchant, tradesman, or mechanic, only and except a blacksmith or a butcher; but would rather prefer, above all others, a dentist who can draw teeth with ease and expedition, at a moderate expense. In regard to my requirements in the art and mystery of a Taylor, what shall I say—suppose I was to exhibit myself as the Phoenix of the cross-legged fraternity, you would pay no more attention to it, than to the noisy & swelling of a puppet show-man, or the more mischievous and detestable imposture of an impudent quack, and of course consign it to the dust as a fit companion for the sickening boisterous and humbugging nonsense of a razor-strap advertisement. If, on the other hand, I should debase myself to the lowest grade of ignorance, you would really call it irony, and thus inverted, read a shameless eulogium on my own abilities.—What then, shall I say nothing, only that I am a Taylor—that I want customers—and that if ever I get them, I will endeavor to keep all them that are worth keeping—and that Whether I stand or fall, or sink or swim, My price for goods or labor done, Shall not be one cent below the common run. Let by their snips indignant cry, Is this as you would be done by—To spurr our profits—blast our fame, To gain your self an honest name. Hence fierce disputes and fiery wars, Brew thunder for a Taylor's wars, When hostile yells sticks clashing break, And shopwards to their centre shall be. When needles, bodkins, clappers, and their Endanger life, and limbs and ears, Now to prevent such horrid fray, Let us not fall out by the way, But peacefully stitch through wind & weather, And if we cheat—cheat all together! F. Guy. July 17

Sale by Auction.

THIS DAY, Tuesday, the 17th instant, at 10 o'clock, at the auction room at the head of Franklin street dock, will commence the sale of A VARIETY OF DRY GOODS. A part of which are, 3 bales fine Gurrahs. After which, at 12 o'clock, 34 hhds. first quality Jamaica sugar 27 do. do. New Orleans do 133 bbls. and 11 hds Guadalupe do 110 boxes Havana white } a gar 130 do. do. brown } 50000 wt. first quality Guadalupe green coffee 11 hhds. and 6 tierces 2d quality coffee 20 purchases Jamaica rum 7 pipes cogniac brandy Young hyson, hyson and Imperial tea, &c. VAN WYCK & DORSEY, auct'rs.

Sale by Auction.

TO-MORROW, The 18th inst. at 11 o'clock precisely, will positively be sold, at Coe's wharf, Fell's Point, The Ship HAVANERA. As she arrived from sea, burdened with 230 tons. Terms will be made known & inventory shewn at the time of sale by LEMMON & CAMPBELL, auct'rs. July 17

Sale by Auction.

ON THURSDAY NEXT, The 26th instant, at 10 o'clock, at the auction room, at the head of Gay street dock, will be sold, by order of the judicial court, A variety of books, wearing apparel, &c. belonging to the estate of W. S. Patterson, deceased. Lemmon & Campbell, auct'rs. July 17

Stocks for sale.

At the Stock and Discount office, Love's lane, between Calvert and South streets, Maryland } Baltimore } Chesapeake and } insurance Shares. Union } Baltimore and } Bank Shares. Union } Cash for good paper to any amount and on the shortest notice. THOMAS BARKLIE, Broker. July 17

Notice.

Custom-House, July 16, 1864. PROPOSALS will be received until the 10th of August, for the building of a Warehouse and Office, on Love's Point, nearly adjoining the new wharf. The foundation to be laid with stone, the walls with brick.—The materials of all kinds will be required to be of the best. A liberal advance will be made, upon a sufficient security being given. The building to be completed before the first of December and completely finished by the last day of April next. For a plan of the buildings, and any other information, apply to R. PURVIANCE, Collector. July 17

Five Dollars Reward.

LOST yesterday morning, a red Morocco Pocket Book, most probably between the Town and City, containing a branch certificate of qualification for pilotage, belonging to Robt. Dixon, of the City, one of which was directed to Benjamin Haslen, London; three ten dollar notes and one five. The finder, by leaving said book with its contents, at Mrs. John's, No. 49, Ann street, Fell's Point, will confer a great favor, and shall receive the above reward, and no questions asked. July 17

To the Public—Again!

I WILL be much obliged to any of you, if you will inform me of a convenient little house to let, in any of the public streets of this city, any time between this and October next, as at that period I do intend to commence my threatened attack upon the Cloth, and if possible to gain your patronage—by which, alone, I shall be enabled to steer my leaky barque, with my crew and cargo through the otherwise insurmountable difficulties of so hazardous an enterprise—where the whirlpool of prejudice, the rocks of ignorance, contrary winds, dead calms, storms, pirates, the shores and breakers, are amongst the least of those alarming dangers that awaits the TAYLOR on his passage from port Low-begginning, to the haven of Affluence and Ease. I shall have no objection to rent half a store along with any merchant, tradesman, or mechanic, only and except a blacksmith or a butcher; but would rather prefer, above all others, a dentist who can draw teeth with ease and expedition, at a moderate expense. In regard to my requirements in the art and mystery of a Taylor, what shall I say—suppose I was to exhibit myself as the Phoenix of the cross-legged fraternity, you would pay no more attention to it, than to the noisy & swelling of a puppet show-man, or the more mischievous and detestable imposture of an impudent quack, and of course consign it to the dust as a fit companion for the sickening boisterous and humbugging nonsense of a razor-strap advertisement. If, on the other hand, I should debase myself to the lowest grade of ignorance, you would really call it irony, and thus inverted, read a shameless eulogium on my own abilities.—What then, shall I say nothing, only that I am a Taylor—that I want customers—and that if ever I get them, I will endeavor to keep all them that are worth keeping—and that Whether I stand or fall, or sink or swim, My price for goods or labor done, Shall not be one cent below the common run. Let by their snips indignant cry, Is this as you would be done by—To spurr our profits—blast our fame, To gain your self an honest name. Hence fierce disputes and fiery wars, Brew thunder for a Taylor's wars, When hostile yells sticks clashing break, And shopwards to their centre shall be. When needles, bodkins, clappers, and their Endanger life, and limbs and ears, Now to prevent such horrid fray, Let us not fall out by the way, But peacefully stitch through wind & weather, And if we cheat—cheat all together! F. Guy. July 17

For Sale or Hire.

A STRONG Negro Woman, with 2 Children—She is capable of doing a great deal of family work, such as scrubbing, washing, plain cooking, &c. Enquire of the printer, N. B. She is not to be sold out of the state June 27. July 17