Farmers Bank.
AT a meeting of the Directors, held at Annapolis, October 1, 1865, the President laid before them an official statement of the subscriptions taken, and the amount of monies paid in, at Easton, on Saturday the twenty-eighth of September, which, being compared with the state of the subscription books at Annapolis, as they were closed on the thirtieth of September, it appeared that the number of shares required by the charter to be subscribed, and the amount of money required to be paid in, previously to the first of October, have been considerably exceeded by the subscriptions and payments so taken and paid, exclusive of all those subscriptions and payments that may have been taken at Easton, on Monday, the thirtieth of September, and by the several directors of the respective counties of this state, agreeably to the resolution of the joint board of directors of the bank and branch bank, passed on the twenty-eighth day of August, eighteen hundred and fifty.
The board do therefore notify, and hereby declare the same to the stockholders and the public, and that the books for subscription are from this day closed on the respective shores.
By order of the Board,
JONA. PINKNEY, Cashier.
Oct. 8 d4t

Notice of Fourth Payment.
THE fourth instalment on the stock held in the Farmers Bank will become due on Monday, the fourteenth day of October, inst.
For the information of stockholders the following clause of the act of incorporation is subjoined.
And be it enacted, That if any stockholder shall fail to pay his or her instalments, to the amount of ten dollars on each share, at the times and in the manner before specified, such stockholder shall forfeit, to the use of the company, all monies paid antecedently to such failure or default, but no forfeiture shall take place after ten dollars on each share shall have been paid; but, as it is requisite that means shall be taken to secure the regular payment of the subsequent instalments, therefore, if any stockholder shall fail to make regular payment of any instalment after ten dollars shall have been paid, such stockholder's money in bank shall remain free from interest, and not entitled to dividend until such instalment, or call, shall be made good, and the dividend thereafter to be paid to such stockholder, (as well upon the money paid by him regularly paid, as upon the money paid after default,) shall be calculated only from the time when said last instalment was made good.
The stockholders will therefore observe, that a failure in any one payment when it becomes due will be attended with a loss of interest on all former payments, although regularly made, and that interest on no part of such stock will recommence, but from the date of the completion of the last payment due.
By order of the Board,
JONA. PINKNEY, Cashier.

Thirty Dollars Reward.
RAN away from the subscriber, on Monday morning the 16th of September last, a Negro man named WILLIAM DAVIS; he is 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, 22 or 23 years of age; a square well set fellow, of a yellowish cast; has one of his ears bored and wears a piece of lead in it, but not recollecting which; when spoken to is apt to look down. He took with him a short white over jacket, white linen shirt and nanken trousers; a drab colored short jacket and ticklenburg shirt & trousers; he crossed Patapsco lower ferry, early on the day he ran away. I expect he is gone to Prince Georges county or to Herring Bay, where he formerly lived; his father lives with Mr. Thomas Duckett, near Belle Air. The above reward, with reasonable expenses, will be paid for bringing him home, or for information, so that his master may get him again.

For Sale,
A TRACT OF LAND in Baltimore county, containing about six hundred acres: 4 hundred of which are supposed to be in wood.
On this tract there is a handsome piece of meadow, and a young thriving apple orchard. This land is about 28 miles from the city of Baltimore, and not far from Colonel O'Donnell's country residence, purchased of Mr. William Buchanan.
Also,
A TRACT OF LAND containing about 500 acres, about 14 miles from the city of Baltimore, west of Randall's town. On this last mentioned tract there is a stone dwelling HOUSE, just finished, with convenient cellars, two rooms and a passage on the first floor, three rooms and a passage on the second floor, and a garret; a new stone stable, cornhouse and coachhouse; an overseer's house with two rooms, lately repaired at the expense of two hundred dollars; kitchen and other out houses, an excellent apple orchard, and other good fruit trees, and good garden.
On both places there is water, not exceeded in the county; and good clover lots. No place can exceed them in respect of health. There is a proportionate part of woodland on the last place.
I will permit the purchasers to feed the ensuing fall, or I would sell for them. The dwelling house on the last mentioned farm might be immediately taken possession of by the purchaser. Presuming that no person will purchase without viewing the premises, I do not go into detail.
Both of the above places are convenient to mills; there is a mill not more than a quarter of a mile from the last mentioned place; a good neighbourhood, and the Episcopal and Presbyterian churches within five miles. An indisputable title will be given on the payment of the purchase money.

From the Richmond Enquirer.

VINDICATION OF MR. JEFFERSON.
No. VI.
To Thomas Turner.
(CONCLUDED.)

You assert that on Callender's sending the proof sheets of the "Prospect Before Us" to Mr. Jefferson, he remitted the sum of 50 dolls. thus representing Mr.
Jefferson, to have examined all the proof sheets: You assert that "when the first part of the second volume appeared" he remitted him a second douceur to the same amount, thus making the second remittance a compensation for the second volume. Had you examined into the history of that business with the same zeal with which you seem to have brought forward these allegations, you would have found them without the least foundation.
I have at this moment before me an extract from a letter published by Callender himself in the Recorder of July 1802, in which he explicitly states, that the first sum was remitted by Mr. Jefferson, upon his receiving some specimen sheets only, not of the Prospect itself, but of Lyons' Monthly Magazine; sheets which are without that scurrility that disgraces certain parts of his composition; and that he had received the second sum when the first part of the second volume was put to press; the time at which Callender was doomed to imprisonment by the pe-nalities of a seditious act; when it was necessary for every friend of his country to mark his abhorrence of an unconstitutional law by his sympathy for a victim, who had been selected for no other reason, but because he seemed to be without friends and without protection. It was to this motive and not to any wish of rewarding him for his first volume, that we may reasonably attribute the remittance of the second sum.

You assert that the remission of Callen-der's fine is a sufficient proof of Mr. Jefferson's regard for his politics and his person. Have you then forgotten that Mr. J. had taken a most solemn oath to obey the constitution? Have you forgotten that it was his deliberate opinion, that the seditious law and every thing which was done under it was a direct violation of that instrument? As to the charge of his usurping beyond his constitutional powers, when he took the money from the hands of the marshal before it was paid into the treasury, you seem to have forgotten that the President had previously consulted the opinion of the attorney general of the United States, and that that opinion is supported by such reasoning as has not yet been shaken by the most ingenious logicians of your party.

You have charged Mr. Jefferson with a persevering and deeply-laid scheme of seduction. Regardless of those particularities, which should have prompted you to have shrunk from such a delicate investigation; you have haunted the name of a lady in the face of the universe? You have held it up as a mark at which suspicion and malice may shoot their envenomed arrows: indifferent to the injury which you may inflict upon your friend, provided you can ruin the reputation of your foe. Indifferent even to the fidelity of an historian, you have attempted to introduce every fiction which may heighten the apparent guilt of your criminal; whilst you have excluded every fact, which may tend to his justification. You would have us to believe, that you alone have been initiated in the sacred temple of Truth; and you would wish the world to pay as much reverence to your decrees, as they formerly did to the oracles of Apollo. Under the pretext of having seen the celebrated correspondence between Mr. Jefferson & Mr. Walker, you deal out your anathemas with no niggardly hand, and you have the vanity to suppose that the world will at once bow down before your untried judgment. Like the "poor, conceited spark of Merrick," you exclaim, "I've seen, and sure I ought to know." I should conceive myself, sir, worthy of contempt, were I to enter into any examination of that ex-parte evidence which you have thought proper to dale out. I call upon you therefore to produce the whole of this correspondence: until then I must be permitted to doubt the correctness of your statements. I am strongly impressed with a belief, that you have omitted some of the most material points of that correspondence. You have said that Mr.
J. was indebted to the father of Mr. W. for pecuniary aid; when it is well known, that the hereditary estate of Mr. J. was amply sufficient to cover all his expences.
You have asserted, that he continued to prosecute the scheme of seduction, even after his own matrimonial connection, when not even the slightest whisper of that kind was ever circulated in his neighbourhood. But let us drop this subject.

I shall say nothing, sir, of your charging Mr. Jefferson with having broken his faith in the payment of a sum of money, or of maintaining an improper intercourse with a sable domestic. The first of these charges has been long since repelled to; and the last is below the dignity of a man of understanding. If they deserve any comment at all, it is, that they serve to mark your inextinguishable animosity against the man you attack.

The tale of domestic intercourse, you have not hesitated to introduce in your letter; whilst even, the scurrilous editor of the Repository was modest enough to throw it into a small type, at the foot of your letter by way of concealing it, the farm of a note. The historian
