FOR THE AMERICAN.

Impelled by curiosity and the many...
...enthusiasm I had heard of the new play of...
...ho Wants a Guinea, I, on Wednesday...
...determined to see and judge for myself...
...I must confess my extreme disappointment...
...to find that the author of John Bull...
...for Gentleman, &c. could as a chef...
...œuvre, produce a piece replete with trite...
...expressions, hacknied good things & jests...
...that would disgrace Joe Miller.—Jacob...
...ull, jumps into a tub of water and by...
...ingling fire, is saved from drowning."...
...Mrs. Doubleton, escaping by a ladder...
...in the fire, was so much peck'd by a...
...turkey she will not assaye vous for a...
...night. "When Torrent intends relief...
...a widow with five children, her case...
...ing notorious to all the parish, is...
...and, and to half the next, 'tis well...
...own she had five children without a...
...band." Torrent, the poor thatcher...
...his hand miserably scorched. Heart-...
...-Aye he is used to it, being burned in...
...hand last assizes." The jests of, "he is...
...eggs and mouth like a dutch oven on a...
...st; my cook shall baste you; not a...
...stian soul was burned but the parish...
... & a Poker," are evident plagiarisms...
...degrading to an author. These and...
...the allusions which border on double...
...ndre, if not in decency, argues the...
...necessity of pruning; in short, the character...
...the play except in one or two scenes is...
...of broad farce, and falls infinitely be-...
...Mr. Colman's former productions.

Several members of congress from the...

...way to the seat of government. It is...
...probable from the interesting nature of...
...the present juncture of our foreign relations...
...that the business of the legislature...
...will commence on the first day of the...
...session; a quorum being likely to assemble...
...[Ibid.]

The belligerent nations act towards the...
...neutrals in the most arbitrary manner. A...
...neutral vessel at sea, without guns to...
...protect herself, stands no more chance of...

...ried into port for adjudication, and then...

...of every name and nature, ought to...

...not be obliged to pay anything.—And...
...when cargo is condemned, as enemies...
...property, the freight at least is due...
...admitting it to be enemies property, and...
...in this case the ship herself ought to...
...escape. This is not said to excuse the...
...British adjudication of the cargo, because...
...it is well known, the practice is lately...
...very common with the English to condemn...
...the whole ship and cargo, when they...
...have been fully proved to be American...
...Our merchants are daily robbed of thou-...

...They have very heavy charges indeed to...

...pect indemnification for a long time to...
...come, as Britain wants their property to...
...carry on the war against France, and pay...
...the subsidies to Russia, &c. Those who...
...wish a continental war would do well to...
...recollect, that American adjudicated ships...
...and cargoes go to pay a considerable part...
...of the expences. When a nation spends...
...one hundred and fifty millions of dollars...
