WE, the subscribers, of the city of Baltimore, do hereby certify, that Mr. William Merryman has acted towards us, as his creditors, in an honorable and upright manner—and has settled with us, we believe, to the utmost of his ability, and much to our satisfaction. We are convinced his failure in business proceeded not from his own misconduct, but from these misfortunes incident to trade. And further, after the insolvent act was passed in his favor, he showed no disposition to use it to our injury, but made us, his creditors such liberal propositions as to convince us of his correct intentions towards us.

Sulphur or Owings's Spring.
THE subscriber respectfully informs the Ladies and Gentlemen of the city of Baltimore, that the Spring, of which the late John Owings was the proprietor, is now carried on and superintended by himself.

This Spring, well known by the name of "Owings's Spring," is situated between five and six miles from Baltimore, with an excellent carriage road, and an inviting shade, after noon, the whole way from the city. Note: who have frequented the convenient watering place, and tasted of the Spring, are willing to question its virtues. So numerous have been the invalids that have visited this Spring and drunk freely of its water, that have been brought to a state of convalescence, that its efficacy is doubted by none. To diseases proceeding from a surcharge and acrimony of bile, general debility from a weak stomach, gradual decay from causes not immediately of a contagious nature, this Spring has proved itself an antidote. It has been found to be so powerful a tonic, that stomachs nauseating all kinds of sustenance for weeks, have been so effectually restored and strengthened, as to relish the most unwholesome diet. Suffice it to say that the unexampled benefit it has rendered hundreds, bears ample testimony of its virtuous and restorative qualities. Good accommodations may be had for gentlemen and their families, and every exertion shall be made to afford general satisfaction.
