

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

Containing the freshest Advices Foreign and Domestic.

TUESDAY, July 8, 1746.

From the POSTSCRIPT to the Belfast NEWS-LETTER, of the 29th of April, 1746.

Last Night arrived three Scotch Packets.

From the EDINBURGH COURANTS.

EDINBURGH, April 20.

HE Transports, with the Troops on board from London, are just now seen coming up the Firth.

April 21. Late on Saturday Night, the agreeable News of his Royal Highness the Duke's obtaining a compleat Victory over the Rebels, arrived here. The Dispatches were from Inverness, and contained the following Particulars.

On Wednesday Morning, at 5 o' Clock, his Royal Highness marched from Nairn (12 Miles from Inverness). The Army had several Alarms; but at last the Rebels formed, about a Mile and a half South of the Lord President's House of Culloren; and about 5 Minutes past one the Cannon began to play, which continued very close, on both Sides, for about 25 Minutes: It was visible that our Artillery had the Advantage of that of the Rebels, as it was better served, and did great Execution. The Fraiers and Mac Donalds, who composed their right Wing, made an Attack on his Royal Highness's left, and endeavoured to get in Sword in Hand; but were so well received, and the Fire so close and regular, that on the second Discharge, they fell into the utmost Confusion, and fled over an adjacent Hill. The whole of the Rebels followed their Example, and took to their Heels by different Roads, some towards Badenoch, others towards Fort-Augustus, and several by the Roads that lead to Ross-shire. The Duke's Army moved regularly forward; and the Campbells, the Duke of Kingston's right Horse, with the whole Dragoons, pursued, and did great Execution. When the Dispatches came off, the Pursuit was not over; tho' it had continued quite through the Town of Inverness. On the Field of Battle there were about 500 [agreeable to the Account which follows, and is more particular than it, it may be imagined that by an Oversight of the Transcriber, the Printer, this ought to have been 1500] of the Rebels killed, and as many, as is supposed, by the Campbells and Dragoons in their Flight. Five Pieces of Cannon were found in the Field, and a vast Number of Colours. The Earl of Kilmarnock, Sir John Wedderburn, and the Person styling himself French Ambassador, are Prisoners, with a great many others, whose Names were not then known.

The Army got to Inverness about 5 that Night, and found many of the Rebels concealed in Houses in their Way; a fine quantity of pieces of Cannon, were found in the Town; fled towards Badenoch. The French Picquets were at Inverness, and on his Royal Highness's Approach, surrender'd Prisoners at Discretion. The Rebels were 7000 strong. His Royal Highness, tho' in the Heat of the Action, is safe and in perfect good Health.

Edinburgh, April 22. The Account of the Victory obtained by his Royal Highness the Duke, over the Rebels, is confirm'd. His Highness's Aid de Camp, Lord Bury, was dispatch'd at 7 o'Clock at Night, when the Action happened, with the News to his Majesty: He took the Advantage of the Shark Sloop, with a Design to have reached Newcastle; but the Wind proving contrary, he landed Yesterday at North-Berwick, from whence he sent an Account to this Place, and proceeded directly to London. — The Particulars which we have hitherto learned are, That the Battle did not last above half an Hour, during which Time no Quarter was given on either Side; and was exceeding bloody: That 1000 of the Rebels lay dead upon the Spot, and about 200 were killed and wounded on the King's Side. Capt. Graffiot is killed, Col. Rich is wounded: The Regiments which distinguish'd themselves most, were Barrell's and Monro's; and it is particularly remarked, that the Scotch Regiments behaved with an extraordinary Bravery. The Earl of Ancram saved Lord Kilmarnock's Life, who is now a Prisoner. The greatest Part of the Rebel Chiefs are killed or taken. It is particularly written, that amongst the former are Lochael, Duke of Perth, Lord Stathallan, and Lord Ogilvie; and amongst the latter, Sir A. Wedderburn, Lord Nairn, John Murray, Esq; Lord Lewis Drummond, Son to the Earl of Melfort, &c. &c. &c. The young Pretender is said to be wounded, and had fled thro' Inverness, pursued by the Light-Horse.

An Addition to this agreeable News is, that 400 Rebels and 300 French are Prisoners; and further, that the Lord Cromarty, who had sometime before been sent to destroy Lord Rea's County, with about 100 Men, had been taken by his Lordship's and the Earl of Sutherland's Militia. The Battle was so desperate, that the Soldiers Bayonets were stain'd with the Rebels Blood up to the Muzzles of their Muskets; and the Streets of Inverness run with the Blood of those who were slain in the Pursuit.

A Copy of a Letter from a Gent'eman in the Army, to his Friend in this City, dated at Inverness the 16th Instant.

At the last we have done it, — The Rebels have this Day met with a confounded Drubbing. — The Duke has all our Generals are well. — Lord Robert Ker is well. — Rich has lost his left Hand; Capt. Graffiot, I am told, is among the slain: Our Loss otherwise is very considerable. — Of the Rebels are a d—n'd Number kill'd, and an innumerable Number of Prisoners. Among the last is Lord Kilmarnock, Lord Lewis Gordon, and John Murray, &c. &c. &c.