

the boat's mainsail, struck a young woman, nurse to one of Col. Ricketts's children, on the head and kill'd her on the spot; she had the child in her arms, which happily received no hurt. The boat on this immediately put back to this city. And the coroner's inquest being summon'd, and evidences on both sides examin'd, they brought it in wilful murder. We hear that Capt. Roddam, commander of the Greyhound, was not on board his ship at this time.

Extract of a private letter from Boston.

Trade is quite dead; the town as dull and still as on a Sunday; full of goods, but no money to buy; less paper than formerly, by £. 500,000, of our own province bills, besides all those of the other governments that used to pass here, and no so much silver stirring as we had before the treasury was opened: Not a dollar has come to my share yet: All countenances dull: We curse one another, especially those are cursed that were for the act: No body lays out a penny, but for meer necessity; and in a few months time, there will not be a shilling passing. As soon as the dollars come out, they are shipped for London, New York, Philadelphia, or Hispaniola, or are laid up to worth p! ... What a deplorable picture is here!
