It is time that the old effete style and verbiage in writing deeds, mortgages, and legal documents should be revised in this country. There is a large lot of legal verbiage about all them. They are a legacy from our dear old man, a fine oriental scholar, a large-hearted mother, England. All this trash the unfortunate purchaser of real estate is required to pay for when recorded, at so much per hundred words. Here are the words for a deed just adopted by the New York Legislature, and which has just gone into effect. We hope Maryland will follow suit in so needed a reform: This indenture, made — day of —,

Baltimore, September 5th, 1890. The tides of the ocean are not more obedient to the attraction of the moon than are the great waves of humanity which roll out of our cities during the summer's heated terms, and turge back again upon us, as soon as the fall season begins. People may imagine that their goings and comings are entirely voluntary; weary human spirit from its turmoil in the city's stifling atmosphere, to breathe the pure air of the mountains, or to bathe in the salt perious fashion forcing its reluctant votaries to fall into line, and roll on with the festive crowd, whithersoever they may be carried. But the certainty is the same; our people always desort us during the summer's torridity.

and come hurrying back with the first breath The exodus from Baltimore, this summer. seems to have been even more general than usual. Day after day the newspapers have hronicled the long lists of our citizens who | Isaac, H., 2d. have scattered themselves upon the wings of the four winds, in quest of health or pleasure; and already the return-wave is beginning to set in. Business, and the schools, and the duties of home life are bringing people back to their deserted domicils, while the temporary absence therefrom adds a new zest to the old customary round of occupations and enjoy.

For those who are blessed with leisure and fortune a more prolonged stay amid the beauties of nature is, of course, a most enviable pleasure. But there are few among us who need indulge in any considerable amount of envying if they have only improved their | balls-Ensor, 1; Carson, 4. Umpires-Horsey and own opportunities. For almost everybody one meets has had a trip somewhere, with its store of pleasant memories: while even the busicat stay-at-homes have enjoyed the great advantage of numerous trips down the Bay, to whose beneficent blandishments the very surliest old curmudgeons are obliged to succumb. It is certainly to be hoped that our enterprizing steamboat companies have made money good they do to this community. For sick children, and delicate persons, and for weary nics down the Bay, without money and without price, are in evidence that no class has been overlooked in Baltimore's provision for summer recreation. And then we have our Isaac R., 1b... 0 2 9 0 0 Sullivan, 2b...... 0 0 parks, and our suburban resorts, where all the world and his wife and family can disport | Smith, 1, f..... | 0 | 0 | 2 | 4 | 2 | Booker, 1b...... | 0 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | Johnson, 8, 8..... themselves all the year round if they choose. And we not only exault in our city's exceptions of the property of the propert tional advantages, but rejoice that our people are wise enough to make appreciative use of We do not lack, however, for something to groan over at this particular season, for we are afflicted with a fruit famine, which is very sore in the land and grievious to be borne. A summer in Baltimore without peaches seems to us as great a calamity as a failure of potatoes in Ireland—as we are not there. The peach and we are natives here, and "to the Turnbull, manor born," and we naturally have a great affection for each other. It is our natural sustenance at this season, and there is nothing else that can take its place with us. We have melons, to be sure, but they are no substitute for peaches. Think of watermelon and cream, if your please. Or of watermelon pie, and cantaleup dumplings. No: it must be peaches or nothing. We will not have any compro-And it seems likely to be nothing in the fruit line, at least. "Eighty pear trees on my place, and not one peck on the whole of them," said the market man, the other day. And it is the same with the other fruits, apples, plums, damsons and the rest of them: there are only a few of them, and they mostly miserable things, and sold at exorbitant prices. "I'll tell you what is a pleanty, though," said a domestic, recently, as she was paring a few scrubby apples to cook them for the table. "They is plenty of worms, this year. Some years they is one thing scarce, and some years another thing. But this year worms isn't scarce. It is a good year for worms." "And why shouldn't it be?" she added philosophically. Seems to me they ought to have their turn once in a while, at any rate." Sure enough: but probably nobody ever regarded the matter in that light before. The subject might be commended to those tenderhearted women who are about to establish an asylum for indigent cats and dogs, just outside a thousands of these animals. Perhaps their sympathies might take in an army of indigent worms, unless the worms are too nearly allied on Holliday street again where is found a transier to humanity to have any claim upon their sympathies.

But jesting aside, we have a sufficient conpersons who may wish to take the York Road cars solution for our fruit famine in the fat and festive oyster who has hoisted his sails, and is collision of the Tolchester steamer Louise and now making his way up to town from every

ternoon, 6th inst., at 4 o'clock. Public invited. The Holliday Street Office of the York Road Railway Closed—Much Inconvenience to the Travelling Public.—The people who use the York Road Railway, especially those residing at Towson or Govanstown, and who for so many years past have had a place where they could wait for a car on the York Road, or leave packages whilst they transacted business, or have packages delivered will regret to learn that the office has been closed Ever since the road has ended at Holliday street there has been an office at that point, but since the road has been purchased by what is known as the "Union Line," considerable changes have been Road the entire line has been divided into three sections. The first section starts from the function with the Catonsville Road on Columbia Avenue and extends to the stables on the York Road at Waverly; the second section from the stables to the switch at Govanstown opposite Ritter's "Guilford House"; and the third section from that point to Towson. Passengers are now required to pay 5 cents for each section, making 15 cents for the entire line from Towson to the junction with the Catonsville line. There is no cause to complain of these rates of fare for that distance, as they are very reasonable and have increased travel. There is now great complaint on account of passengers from l'owson or Govanstown, as well as from the car running either north or south and continue on their journey. If they desire to go on the Columbia Avenue line they are required to get out or Govanstown or Towson to wait on the kerbstone until a car passes. And, should it be rainy or bad weather, passengers will be compelled to seek friendly shelter wherever they can find it. To gentlemen there will not be so much inconvenience, as they can dodge in almost anywhere, but to ladie the greatest dissatisfaction along the entire line of the road in this county, and must, of necessity drive travel from the road. The citizens of Tow son have a remedy, but that even will be of considerable inconvenience; but to the people from Govanstown down it will be considerable hardship, out they will have to grin and bear it, as there is no ther line to which they can go. It is rumored that there are to be no stoves in the cars the coming winter. If this be so there will be that additional disc omfort. The people were led to believe last winter when the bill was before the Legislature to allow the York Road Railway to use motors, that there would e rapid transit on the road within a few months. But it does not look much that way now. We seem to have jumped from the frying pan into the fire. PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

LOCAL NEWS.

Base Ball--Towsons vs. Combinations.—On Saturday last the Towsons went to Spring Grove Asylum and defeated the Combinations, of Catonsville, by the decisive score of 3 to 0. The Towson boys hit McGraw's left-handed pitching hard and often, and were only prevented from scoring among the double figures by the sharp, quick work of Phillips, Thompson and Bird. In the field the Towsons worked like a machine, but one error being made, a muffed thrown ball. In the box Stocksdale was at his best, but three hits being made off his speedy delivery. These were made in as many different innings, the Combinations being unable to touch the ball when there was a man on base, not one of whom reached third. Turnbull at short field played a magnificent game, all his assists being difficult ones. The star play of the game, however, occurred in the last inning. Two of the Combinations had been retired and the Towson boys were straining every never to make it a shut out.

many years ago contained the plant of the Patterson Nail Works and the numerous tenements houses about it had fallen into decay. Great gnarled oaks and impenetrable undergrowth served to intensify the sombrous appearance of the place, while the profound quiet was broken only by the cry of some wild bird and the hoarse, monotonous roar of the Big Gunpowder as it coursed its way over immense boulders at the foot of steep declivities, and then in eddying circles mingling with the waters of the majestic river a short distance to the south. But the march of enterprise has embraced its borders. To day the swift-flying trains of the great B. &. O. R. R. thunder along within a few yards of a beautiful manuson finished and furnished throughout with artistic taste and critical care. On an eminence east of the mansion is a large and neatly-built pavilion. The gently sloping grounds are covered with green grass, and the numerous shade trees seem to invite one to linger under their leafy boughs. Near the mansion is "Jacob's Well," which contains an inexhaustible supply of excellent water, while from the top of a lofty pole waves the Stars and Stripes, the sublimest emblem of exalted patriotism. South of the railroad are the fishing grounds, where large numbers of fish, especially herring, are taken annually. These improvements are the evidences of the energy and enterprise of the company, and they announce that what has been done by them is but the beginning in the great work of develop-ment which they design in this neighborhood.— They have in furtherance of their purpose made a most generous proposition to the congregation of the Forge's M. E. Church. The Forge's Church is somewhat dilapidated, and the members have been ontemplating repairs, but before any definite arrangements to this end were made the whole congregation were delighted at the generous offer of this company of a fee-simple title to a lot of ground more eligibly located than the present one; the old church building and all the stone from their quarry near by to erect a church and a handsome contribution in money to the building fund. The ongregation desire to evince their grateful appreconjugate to evidence upon the part of the company, and are going to work in earnest to get the new building started. They desire to enlist the practical sympathy of the whole circuit, and propose to hold, with the kindly co-operation of the ther church societies of the circuit, a grand union pic nic in the near future, on the company's grounds at Gunpowder Station, which is admirably arranged for occasions of this kind. And as a means to this end they cordially invite committees from other churches to meet with them at the hall over Mr. Robinson's Store, at Cowenton Station, B. & O. R. R., on September 9th, to arrange details for the pic-nic. The result of the committee meeting and other items will appear in my next Shane News.-We have had some very cool weather in the Upper End the past few days.

Governstown Jottings .- Monday last was dedicated to base ball and the entertainment of Govanstown friends by Govanstown people. The best played game of ball of the season was put up by he Lumber Exchange Nine of Baltimore and our ome ball tossers. Our boys beat, but the good nature displayed by the vanquished almost made them regret, and they have resolved to do it no more. After the game supper was served at the Hotel Ritter, after which the hop at Govanstown Hall concluded the exercises of the day. The grand march was led by Mr. E. V. Coonan and Miss Gertie Redgrave. Dancing was participated in until midnight, and seldom has any hall held more youth and beauty on pleasure bent. Among the gentlemen from abroad present were Messrs. Chas Tillman, Frank Gilbert, E. E. Dale, M. Wiley, H Diggs, Thos. Charshee, Wm. Wilson, Kemp Osbourn M. Duker, E. M. Clayton, C. C. Shaffer, Harry Du-ker, Edw. Brown, Mr. Kershaw, Frank Bennett, Jas. Curley, T. B. Shipley, L. Heise, Mr. Merryman and others with their ladies. The affair was an entire success, and the success was due to the untir-ing efforts of Mr. Wm. B. Redgrave, ably second by his liberal, public-spirited coadjutors, Mr. John Phillips and Col. L. B. McCabe. The Order of Fun-Finders broke camp Wednesday morning after indulging in ten hours of dance to the strains of Prof. Kennard's music. The Fisher family, young and old, supervised the arrange ments, and that means everybody was well pleased and happy, and they deserve the thanks of the community for the amount of pleasure they have enabled our young folks to receive this summer without seeking it. Mr. Wm. Burns was there and had on his greatest smile. Baltimore "turned up n great shape,' and as usual the county was well straight out and in combination, and so was MULLOON Yours truly. Upper Falls Items.-The Presbyterian congregation held a bazaar last week at the old Jericho Cotton Mill. It was largely attended by all denominations. Proceeds for the benefit of the church. We have had very severe rain and wind storms lately, doing much damage to the roads. Our Road Commissioner, Mr. Francis Cardwell, is still pick ing at roads, and some of the folks are picking a him about the condition of them, but we think they ought to stop awhile and think of the condition the roads were in before he took them. Some places we could not get through with a horse much less a wagon, but now you can get through any-where. Mr. Cardwell seems to understand his busi-presented. Beauty, humor and wit were there ness thoroughly.

Mr. George W. Monigomery has built himself a new blacksmith shop on his place. Mr. Monigomery is a good mechanic.

Mrs. Amelia Barton has been very sick for the daat week. Mrs. Laura Ford, of Baltimore, has been visiting her sister and brothers at Upper Falls.

Mr. John Brandt lost a fine hog last week by some inknown cause. The old Forge M. E. congregation is talking of building a new church on the old Morrison property, as the firm has offered them great inducements The farmers are busy plowing, getting ready for Mr. Bittenhouse's cannery is in full blast. He put p nearly 1,000 cases last week. Middletown Items.-Quite a number of our leading farmers took in the Granger's pic nic at Williams' Grove last week, and were highly pleased with their trip. This week they can visit Timo-nium. As this is our home fair it ought to be well patronized by our people, and thus be made an oc-casion of which we can well feel proud. Corn-cutting is coming in vogue in this section, and a task it will be to save the crop with most of the farmers, as the recent heavy storms have tangled it up very much. The potato crop is good and the price is making our farmers smile. Well, they need encouragement from some quarter, as the yield of wheat and Tye is not nearly what was expected; about 14 bushels to the acre.

The pic nic held at Middletown by the Baptist Sabbath School on last Saturday was well attended and a success except financially. On this line it did not pan out so well.

Miss Carrie Henry, of York. Pa., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Maria Shauck, near Rayville.

Mrs. S. E. White, of Takoma, D. C., is with her mother, near Freeland, for a few weeks. Our public schools opened on the 1st inst., Hoff manville, Middletown and Freeland each with an assistant. This speaks well for the Principals.

Mr. Wm. McCullough burried his baby on the 29th

Black Horse Items .- A large number of our people are suffering from heavy colds. Some are very bad.
Miss Laura Gorsuch, of Baltimore, who has been on a visit to relatives near Black Horse for several weeks, returned home on last Friday. A hail storm passed over near Shawsville on Fri day night, 29th ult. The corn fields were badly cut Mr. Samuel M. Webb, who graduated at Eaton & Burnett's Business College last spring, has been appointed Secretary of the State Normal School of Baltimore.

Mrs. Mary J. Billingaley, who lived near here for many years, died in Baltimore on the 27th ult. at her son's residence, Dr. Martin Billingsley, aged 69 years. She was buried on Monday following at Bethel, Rev. Mr. Stuli officiating. The pall-bearers were Josiah Carlin, J. G. Luckey, B. N. Rampley, James F. Beaty, Wm. Hope and Eli Turner. Edward Kurts was the undertaker.

Fire as "Dulos Domum."—On Tuesday, 2d inst., a fire broke out in the barn and stabling, at "Duloe Domum." the residence of Mr. Henry Imwold, on the Joppa Road, just west of Towson, which destroyed all the buildings in a short time, tegether with their contents. The buildings were of frame, and stoed in a cluster a little distance from Mr. Imwold's residence. They consisted of a barn, carriage-house, corn-house and two other frame structures. The fire is supposed to have cought in the barnyard and communicated to the barn. In the barn was the entire season's crop of hay and straw. Several pigs and some chickens were also burned. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at about $6,000, upon which was a partial insurance. Fire at "Dulce Domum."-On Tuesday. % Cleveland Turiff Referen Club,—The Cleveland Tariff Referm Club of Baltimore county will hold its regular meeting at Centennial Grange Hall, in Towson, on Tuesday night, 9th inat., at 8 o'clock, Washington Stevenson, President, S. C. Tomay, Secretary. Every member is requested to be present, as arrangements will be made to attend the pic-nic at Pen-Mar on Friday, 12th inst.

which he has under consideration Baltimore County Jail and Alms House .-Mr. G. S. Griffith, President of the Marviand Prisoners' Aid Association, and Rev. Louis F. Zinkham. the General Agent, have made their accustomed visit to the prisons and aims houses of the State.-We give herewith what they report as to Baltimore County Jall and also Baltimore County Almshouse:

The Baltimore County Jail, situated at Towson, was the first institution visited. Several years ago. with the swelling population of the county, the sail seemed at times to be taxed beyond its capacity, but since a large proportion of this population was transferred to the city with the Belt, there has been decided falling off in commitments to the county years to come. The general improvements in the fail during the past few years, especially in providing a good water supply and flush closets, have been excellent, and the entire building is in good sanitary condition. One of the most urgent needs therewhich, however, applies to the other county jalls as well—is of providing a number of prison suits to be worn, more especially by prisoners who are de-tained for months, either in serving sentence or awaiting trial, so that they may have change of garments and wash their own clothing often nough to keep clean. Such a provision would I a very triffing expense to the county, and it would greatly promote cleanliness and good health among the prisoners. On the day of our visit we found 18 orisoners, of whom 9 were white men and 7 colored, and 2 women. Two of the white men were insane; one of them had recently left the insane department of Bayview, and the other, presumably a deaf mute, and physically in a deplorable condition, had evidently escaped recently from some institution for the insane. Several of the prisoners were serving out sentences, whilst a few were awaiting trial. Most of them, however, had been committed in default of a fine, charged with drunkenness and J. Beckley, was elected on the 5th of November of last year. We were gratified to know that Mr. William S. Keech, Mrs. J. W. Lee and others still continue, as in former years, to visit the jail on Sundays, and to hold interesting religious services with the prisoners. We wish that Christian work

State as has been shown here for years. THE ALMS HOUSE. At the Baltimore County Alms House, of which Ir. G. W. Smith is now Superintendent, we found inmates, divided as follows: Forty-two white and four colored men, and seven white and four colored women. Ten of the inmates are insane.— There were no children. This is the smallest numper of inmates we have found here for years. The unusual feature here, however, is that the male inmates predominate so greatly, for they constitute about 78 per cent. of the whole number. The Superintendent and his efficient wife seem well qualified for their positions, for we found the Alms House in very good condition—every department neat and clean, and all the inmates comfortably provided for. We were especially gratified to find ers would manifest as great interest in the moral improvement of prisoners in other counties of the hat the apartments for the colored inmates were crupulously clean and comfortable. TARTARUS. While in my simple gospel creed That "God is love," so plain I read, Shall dreams of heathen birth affright My pathway through the coming night Ah, Lord of life! though spectres pale Fill with their threats the shadowy vale. With Thee my faltering steps to aid, How can I dare to be afraid? Shall mouldering page or fading scroll Outface the charter of the soul? hall priesthood's palsied arm protect The wrong our human hearts reject. and smite the lips whose shuddering cry The wizard's rope we disallow Was justice once—is murder now Is there a world of blank despair,

And dwells the Omnipresent there?

Does he behold with smile serone The shows of that unending scene, Where sleepless, hopeless anguish lies, And, ever dying, never dies? Say, does He hear the sufferer's groan, And is that child of wrath his own? O mortal, wavering in thy trust, Lift thy pale forehead from the dust! The mists that cloud thy darkened eyes Fade ere they reach the o'erarching skies When the blind heralds of despair Would bid thee doubt a Father's care, Look up from earth, and read above On heaven's blue tablet, God is Love!

There are few places in Bucks county eserted by their owners, as we hear of in Massachusetts and other Eastern States, but a portion of Upper Makefield begins to look as DEGISTRATION NOTICE. though an owner was wanted. John A. Beaumont had a great deal of land on the southern side of Bowman's Hill, and after his death it Jonathan Kinsey property, is now tenantless. It is on the left hand road going from Lurgan to the river. The buildings are not occupied and going to decay, while the land is not worked and growing up with briars and weeds. It is said to belong to parties in Quakertown, and no doubt could be bought at a reasonable figure. Several houses in Brownsburg are tenantless, and the whole village has a melancholy appearance. Its business has departed. [Newtown (Pa.) Enterprise.
