

OF THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

6th. No member shall speak a second time, until every member who offers to deliver his sentiments as spoken once; and no member shall speak more than twice on the same subject, without leave of the house.

7th. Any member called to order, by the speaker, or any member, shall thereupon take his seat.

8th. When the house is sitting, no member shall hold conversation to interrupt debate.

9th. No motion shall be debated, until the same be seconded, and (if desired by the speaker or any member) reduced to writing, delivered in at the table, and read by the clerk.

10th. When a motion is made and seconded, the matter of the motion shall receive a determination by the question, or be postponed, by a motion for commitment or postponement, or by the previous question, before any other motion shall be received.

11th. Every question shall be entered on the journal, and the yeas and nays shall be taken when required by three members who shall have divided on the question.

12th. The previous question, that is, whether the question propounded be now put, may be called for by any member on any question, except to an amendment, or other matter which cannot, in its nature, be postponed; and if the previous question be determined in the affirmative, the main question shall immediately be put by the speaker.

13th. If a question in debate contains more distinct parts than one, any member may of right have the same divided into as many questions as parts; and when an amendment shall be proposed to an amendment, the question on the last amendment shall be taken first, and then divided, if required, into as many parts as it will admit of questions.

14th. All questions shall be determined by a majority of the members present, those dividing in the affirmative rising in their places, those in the negative continuing in their seats, and so vice versa, until decision by the speaker.

15th. When the speaker shall decide any question, the same shall be final, unless the yeas and nays be required.

16th. Every bill or resolution, originated in this house, or received from the senate, shall be read on two several days, with an intermission of one day at least, during which time it shall lie on the table for the perusal of the members, unless on very urgent occasions the house shall, by special order, dispense with this rule; which order shall be entered on the journal.

17th. Conferees, and members appointed on draughts, if required by three members, shall be elected by ballot, and the number in no case shall exceed seven.

18th. No bill or resolve shall have a second reading, until every member in the city be called upon to attend, except he be excused by the house for indisposition, or necessary attendance on the public business.

19th. No petition, memorial, or other application to the house, shall be received, unless presented by a member.

20th. All questions of order shall be determined by the speaker, but there may be an appeal by any member, to the house, from the decision, and the determination of the house in such cases of appeal shall be final.

21st. No motion shall be made after the hour of adjournment, without leave of the house.

22d. All misdemeanors, which shall happen in the house, shall be censured or fined by the house.

23d. No member shall answer on the yeas and nays, who did not divide on the question, unless by consent of the house; and if any member divides, on one side, and answers on the other, on the yeas and nays, the same shall be noted on the journal, at the request of any member.

24th. All fines imposed by the house, shall be paid to the clerk, and applied as the members shall direct.

25th. The substance of all petitions, memorials, or other applications, shall be entered on the journal.

26th. The clerk of the house shall, during the first week of the session, put into the hands of the speaker, a correct list of all papers referred from the preceding session.

27th. On motion or debate, any member may call for the reading of any law, journal, record, or other public proceeding, which may relate to the subject matter.

28th. No member shall take out of the house any bill or other paper belonging to the house, without leave of the speaker, under the penalty of such fine as may be imposed by the speaker, not exceeding dollars, and no original paper shall be delivered to any person during the recess of the legislature, without a written order from the speaker.

29th. No member shall nominate more than one person on any committee, and in making such nomination shall rise and address himself to the speaker.

30th. On an election to any office of trust or profit, no ballot shall be counted, unless the person for whom the ballot shall be given, be named to the house before the balloting be gone into.

31st. All the members present shall divide on every question, unless excused by the house, or on calling the yeas and nays, his refusal shall be noted on the journal, at the request of any member.

32d. Whenever a motion shall be made, or question propounded to the house, and not seconded, no other business shall be received until the speaker shall inform the house that the motion or proposition first made is not seconded.

33d. No motion for reconsideration shall be permitted, unless made and seconded by two members, who were in the majority on the original question.

34th. When a blank is not filled up, and different sums, numbers, or times, shall be proposed, the question shall be first taken on the largest sum or number, and on the latest time.

35th. When the house adjourns, every member shall rise in his place, and remain until the speaker go forth.

36th. That every committee have leave to report by bill or otherwise.

37th. That the speaker may not enter into debate, but may vote on every question, except on an appeal from the chair on a question of order.

38th. That the name of every member, making any motion, presenting any petition, or proposing any resolution, shall be inserted on the journal of the house.
