THE ELECTION.

The election on Tuesday in this county passed off quietly and, but few arrests were made. In this precinct the vote was seventy-four short which, no doubt, is the cause of the small majority. It seems very hard that we cannot give our readers the exact figures in the lower precinct but we have not been able to obtain them. We had several gentlemen at work trying to obtain them but to no avail. We only made an estimate which we think is close enough. The ticket in the lower precinct gained a majority of two on straight tickets, and the State and Judicial candidates received a majority of twelve on split tickets.

In the official count of the ballot, Thursday, in the various counties, the republicans were the gainers, and the result is that they now have 17 majority in the Legislature on joint ballot, and a majority of 7 in the House.

The Senate now stands, Republicans 18, Democrats 8; House of Delegates, Republicans 49, Democrats 42. It thus appears that the Republicans will organize the House. As the vote is so close in several counties, it is likely that re-counts will be asked for.

Chairman Vandiver, of the Democratic State Central Committee, said Thursday afternoon that he had not given up the House of Delegates to the Republicans. The election was close in several of the counties and re-counts might be demanded. He is not ready to concede that the republicans had won, but, on the other hand, he said that the Democrats

IN OTHER COUNTIES.

Kent county elects the entire democratic ticket by a majority of 140. Cecil followed Kent's example and gives the democrats a majority of 500.

Talbot elects a democratic ticket except the legislature which goes to the republicans.

Caroline goes republican but elects a democratic legislatureman and county treasurer.

Wicomico, true to her old traditions, gave the democrats a majority of about 500.

Worcester also came out of the fight an easy winner, giving the democratic ticket about 500 majority.

Dorchester, which was always in the republican column, rolls up an average democratic majority of 306.

Somerset is said to be republican but a re-count is pending and if the 500 ballots, which were not signed by one of the judges, are counted, it will give the democrats a majority of 250.

Harford gives a democratic majority of 250.

Carroll elects an entire democratic ticket, except register of wills, which goes to a republican by a small majority.

Charles, true to her colors, gives a republican majority of 200.

Montgomery is democratic by a small majority. The senator, who was in doubt is elected by a majority of 53.

Frederick gives the republicans a majority of 500.

Allegany gives a republican majority of over a 1,000.

Anne Arundel will give the democrats a small majority.

Baltimore county elects the entire democratic ticket.

Baltimore city elects Mayor, mayor over Williams by a majority of 6,000. An entire republican legislative ticket is elected.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Topics of the National Capital by Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1, 1897.—The publication officially of the financial recommendations that will be made in Secretary Gage's annual report to Congress, created the suspicion that the synopsis of those recommendations, published several weeks ago, came directly from Secretary Gage, or someone sufficiently in his confidence to know just what he intended doing. The material facts are precisely the same—the funding of our entire bonded indebtedness in 21 per cent gold bonds; the increase of the gold redemption fund; the reduction of the class of notes that are redeemed upon demand in gold; and an increase in the number of National Banks by allowing the establishment in towns of less than 2,000 people of banks with a capital of $25,000, and an increase in National banknotes by allowing the issue of notes to the par value of bonds deposited by them with the United States Treasury. While these recommendations will not please the silver men, as they all tend towards increasing the strength of the grip the single gold standard has upon the country, they will not surprise them; they are mostly a natural sequence of the St. Louis platform, and the position assumed by the republican party in the National Campaign. It is certain that no member of the administration seriously believes that legislation authorizing the issue of gold bonds can be secured from the present Congress; therefore that portion of the recommendations may be said to have been made for effect—to state to the world what the administration would do if it had the power.

Ex-Senator Ingalls has engaged quarters in Washington for the winter for himself and family, and there is more or less guessing as to what he intends doing. The favorite guess is that his vitriolic pen is going to be used for a newspaper, or a syndicate of newspapers, but a respectable minority guess is that he intends following the usual occupation of the members of the "ex" brigade, who spend their time in Washington, during a session of Congress—lobbying.

The opinion is growing in Washington that the civil service law will have to fight for its existence during the coming session of Congress. Gen. Grosvenor, of Ohio, in a long speech at the extra session, made the positive statement that he had enlisted for the war and that his bill for the repeal of the entire law would be pushed this winter. Some of those who have made it a point to ascertain how members of the House would stand on a vote on the Grosvenor bill, express the opinion that it would pass. Speaker Reed has not made known his attitude towards the bill, and upon that depends whether it can be got to a vote. Some of his personal friends think that whether he favored or opposed the bill, it would be good policy, if he has not abandoned his Presidential aspirations, for him to allow the bill to be voted upon. It is noted that although President McKinley favors the civil service law personally, he will not feel called upon to enter into a fight with Congress to prevent its repeal, and that he would not veto a bill for its repeal, but this probably has no better foundation than surmise. But there is no surmise about the interesting fight on the law, that is an absolute certainty.

The report is current in naval circles that the board of officers who have been inspecting numerous places will report in favor of locating the government plant for the making of armor plate for fighting vessels at Birmingham, Ala., if Congress decides that one should be established, which is more than doubtful since Secretary Long announced his opposition to the whole business.

Attorney General McKenna is very proud of the part taken by himself and the rest of the administration in the negotiations which resulted in a bid for the Union Pacific Railroad sufficiently large to cover the claims of the government against that company, and he thinks it somewhat unreasonable on the part of those who still insist that the administration should have had the sale postponed, in order to give other syndicates a chance to bid. The average individual who isn't prejudiced either way, thinks that Uncle Sam was playing in deuced good luck to get out whole on his loans to the Union Pacific and the accumulated interest.

"I'll tell you," remarked a diplomat, "why neither this government nor that of Spain is willing to give out the answer of Spain to General Woodford's communication. There is nothing to give out. In other words, the long communication is merely an exemplification of Talleyrand's definition of the duty of a diplomat—to talk without saying anything. That is what the Spanish ministry has been doing. In about sixty days I think there will be some talk on both sides that will mean something."

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. BUTLER, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by P. E. Cockey & Co.

KENT ISLAND ITEMS.

Personals and Locals Gathered by Our Island Correspondent.

Mrs. Arthur Cockey, near Stevensville, is quite sick with chills and fevers.

Mr. John Hanson, of Baltimore, is the guest at Edward Ringgold's residence near Stevensville.

Captain James E. Kirwan, one of our prominent merchants near Chester, is suffering with a deep cold.

Mr. William Tolson, of Stevensville, has accepted a position in a wholesale pharmacy in Baltimore.

Mr. Thomas H. Price, our popular sewing machine agent, spent Sunday with Mr. Harry Tolson on the Island.

Miss Bessie Hammond, of Wye Neck, was the guest of Miss Nettie Calloway last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Blacksmiths are busily engaged making patent oyster tongs. Some of them are so busy they work until midnight to supply the demand.

Mr. Bright Kelley, a bright young man of the Island and student of Bryant and Stratton's business college in Baltimore, has accepted a fine position in Baltimore.

Quite a large number of people attended the sale of store goods which were sold by Wm. E. Tolson in his store at auction last Saturday night.

Mr. Tolson is preparing to move to Baltimore.

A large vessel loaded with coal and phosphate sank during the heavy storms last week off of the Island wharf in about six feet of water. The coal is the property of Charles M. Legg, of the Island.

Mrs. Kate Cecil, daughter of B. M. Dixon, Esq., and sister of Mrs. J. F. Gray of the Island, departed this life suddenly in St. Mary's county last Sunday aged 45 years. She leaves a husband and four children to mourn her demise.

The very wet weather here of late has been a great benefit to the newly planted wheat on the Island. It is up and growing nicely and our farmers look forward to a large crop next year as a great many of our farmers have planted 25 per cent more wheat this year than they did last year.

Mr. George Bunch, of the Island, who owns a very expensive fish pound net in Chester river, is a heavy loser by the storms of last week. A vessel was lying at anchor several hundred yards from the net but the tide and wind were so strong, the vessel dragged her anchor and was carried by the wind and tide across the net damaging it to the amount of $150.

A fine democratic meeting was held in Stevensville last Saturday. It was well attended and all seemed deeply interested in the speeches. Mr. Philemon B. Hopper addressed the meeting and while speaking of the board of County Commissioners, paid quite a compliment to Mr. Jas. B. Bright the retiring County Commissioner from the Island by saying: "Mr. Bright has made one of the best commissioners that Queen Anne's county has ever had."

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Leon Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the remedy used by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros., of that place and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cure of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by B. E. Cockey & Co.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The November Session Commenced on Monday—Charge to the Jury.

The November term of the circuit court for this county was called Monday morning about ten o'clock, with Judge Joseph A. Wickes on the bench.

Mr. W. W. Busted was selected as foreman of the grand jury, and the following gentlemen were drawn as his associates: James Brown, Chas. McCollier, W. S. Collins, Alfred Green, P. T. Forman, C. E. Smith, Chas. E. Harman, Thos. P. Sudler, W. D. Roe, L. C. McGinnis, G. O. Trenchard, A. J. Gault, W. F. Phillips, Jas. E. Cockey, W. H. Hopkins, W. W. Walls, Chas. W. Smith, R. B. Cahall, W. H. Leaser, Jonathan A. Bryan, Jas. H. Benton, P. T. Price.

The petit jury is composed of the following gentlemen: W. E. Denny, Wm. J. Eilers, Spencer Sudler, Jas. T. Anthony, Eugene W. Cooper, J. W. Appleford, E. A. Hemmelwright, Wm. T. West, John T. Norman, J. H. Richardson, Wm. R. Wilson, Geo. W. Fennimore, Chas. W. Morris, C. H. R. Merrick, F. A. Bartlett, Sr., Charles W. Butler, S. S. Goodhand, Chas. E. Bradley, R. B. Carmichael, Wm. C. Patonator, H. C. Hendrix, Wm. P. Tanner, F. A. Bartlett, Jr., Geo. L. Bryan.

Judge Wickes in his charge to the grand jury said in part: "The oath which you gentlemen have taken points out the duty you are to perform. It is your duty to uphold the peace of society and the good name of your county, and to carefully examine into all cases of violation of the laws of the land brought to your notice, and after present all offenders of the laws for trial. You have nothing to do with the abstract question of law; it is not a part of your duty to decide whether or not a man is guilty of the offense charged against him but simply to indict those who you believe to have violated the laws and he must answer for such violation in this court, where justice will be administered to him. Neither party bias or race question should prejudice you in your deliberations, for you must remember that every man stands upon the same platform in a court of justice."

I am not aware of any grave cases that are to come before you, I am thankful to say, but there are two matters it is my duty to call your attention to under the law, and these are that you must look thoroughly into the cases of defaulters of the state and county taxes, and abortion.

Judge Wickes then admonished them that all their deliberation should be absolutely secret, and ordered the clerk to swear the bailiff and let them retire to their room.

Just after Judge Wickes had finished his charge to the grand jury, Judge Hunsun entered the room, and occupied the bench for a short period.

The July term was then adjourned and the November term called. The docket numbers as follows: Trials, 76; appearances, 19; civil trials, 14 and civil appeals, 17.
