WASHINGTON LETTER.

Some News Collected at the National Capital by Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 16th, 1900.—Official news from China tells of the rapid spread of the Boxer movement and the grave danger that there will be a general massacre of foreigners all over the empire, and unofficial news tells all the horrible things imaginable, as having been done to the foreigners in Pekin. There is very little upon which hope can be based that any of the latter are still alive, although Secretary Long insists that he believes they are. The Chinese minister, who has all along insisted that they would all turn up safe, now says that we can only hope for the best, while his manner makes it plain that he fears the worst. Many believe that the Chinese government is purposely holding back the news of what has occurred in Pekin for fear of its effect upon the nations whose citizens have been murdered. There is much criticism of the slowness of Japan and Russia in placing a sufficient number of troops in China to enable the allies to take the aggressive against the Chinese and the suspicion is being aroused that there is a lack of good faith somewhere in the combination.

Somehow the Secretary of War has been pretty generally credited with [illegible]oring the ultimate annexation of [illegible]ba and with believing it to be inevitable, although there is no record [illegible]his having publicly said as much. [illegible]sa[illegible] a day or two ago that he did [illegible]thi[illegible] the question of annexation [illegible]d be considered by the Consti[illegible]al Convention soon to be held [illegible]a; that he believed the Cubans [illegible]inde[illegible]endence and not annex[illegible]and that in any event the [illegible]of annexation should not be [illegible], much less settled, until [illegible]e absolute independence [illegible]overnment is pledged to [illegible]nd that they would be [illegible]rtain whether their re[illegible] favorably acted upon, [illegible]ked for annexation. [illegible]t to know most about [illegible]ess the opinion that [illegible]ar or two of Cuban [illegible]ment to crystalize [illegible]iment, on the is[illegible]e United States, [illegible]siness and not [illegible]ce the matter [illegible]nard Wood, [illegible], is coming [illegible]to consult [illegible] the Rules [illegible]ich dele[illegible]tutional [illegible] that [illegible]n ar[illegible] to [illegible]hen [illegible] of [illegible]gton [illegible]o Canton matters. [illegible]k or two [illegible]setts be[illegible]He ra[illegible]ne to be [illegible]Portol[illegible]g into [illegible]with [illegible]nks the [illegible]ery pros[illegible]

[illegible]rosvenor, of Ohio, [illegible]ugh Washington on [illegible]pe, where he goes on [illegible] for the rest of the voyage, does not take a hopeful view of the situation in China. He said: "I am afraid that Minister Conger and all the foreigners in Pekin have been put to death. I cannot convince myself that American ingenuity, combined with that of the foreign powers, would fail to invent some means of communication with the outside world, during this long period of silence, if any of them were alive. In my judgment, this Chinese question is more terrible to contemplate than any other question we have to deal with. Of course, it can cut no figure in the coming political campaign, except that it will overshadow in public interest, any subject that may be suggested by either political party. Even now the tidings from China are being discussed throughout the land to the exclusion of all other topics."

Secretary Wilson was probably the most shocked man in Washington, when he learned of the sudden death, from an attack of heart disease, of Senator Gear, of Iowa. The two men have been friends for many years and were out driving until ten o'clock Friday night. Saturday morning Secretary Wilson was told that Senator Gear was dead, and yesterday afternoon he accompanied the remains to Iowa. By one of those coincidences, of which life is full, the dead body of Senator Gear left Washington for Iowa on the same train that he had made arrangements to go upon alive. Senator Gear was elected to a second term in the Senate last winter. Although he was not a showy public man he was one of the hard workers, and his wide experience made him a valuable member of the Senate, he having been Mayor of the city of Burlington, member of the Iowa legislature, Governor of the State, and a member of the House before entering the Senate.

At a meeting of the Trustees of [illegible] Camp Ground, the bread tent privilege [illegible] awarded to Mr. J. E. Walters, [illegible], and that of the horse ground to Hopkins & Coursey. Jas. I. Shuster, Joseph M. Bartlett and W. H. Whiteley were appointed attendants at the gates. The selection of an officer to preserve order was postponed. The usual admission of five cents will be charged and family tickets for the entire encampment will be sold at reduced rates. The [illegible] open Friday, August 3rd, [illegible]uesday, August 14th.

[illegible] been demonstrated by ex[illegible] that consumption can be [illegible]ented by the early use of One [illegible]inute Cough Cure. This is the favorite remedy for coughs, colds, croup, asthma, grippe, and all throat and lung troubles. Cures quickly. J. S. Denny.

Judge James Alfred Pearce drove to Centreville, Monday morning and held the intermediate or July term of the Circuit Court for Queen Anne's county. There was but little business done beyond the calling of the dockets and the signing of several orders. The drawing of the jury was deferred until September.

Our people are warned to look out for a clever swindler who has been operating in some places. He sells bottles of shoe polish at about four times their value, with the promise that the purchaser can then buy a pair of fine shoes for one dollar. The shoes are never delivered and the farmer is out the price of the shoe polish. A number of people have been caught by the man who is operating the plan.

After many intricate experiments, scientists have discovered methods for obtaining all the natural digestants. These have been combined in the proportion found in the human body and united with substances that build up the digestive organs, making a compound called Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and allows all dyspeptic to eat plenty of nourishing food while the stomach troubles are being radically cured by the medical agents it contains. It is pleasant to take and will give quick relief. J. S. Denny.

KENT ISLAND ITEMS.

Personals and Locals From Little Britain Gathered by our Correspondent.

City friends are coming now.

Our officers are doing very little in their line of business.

Quite a number of our people are sick and we have had three or four deaths recently.

Masters Joseph and Harry Price, of Baltimore are visiting their grandparents at Chester.

Mr. Milton Price, one of our enterprising young merchants, has the best fitted up place on the Island.

The dry spell is becoming a serious matter: wells are getting very low; only a-half corn crop is expected and grass is scarce.

Our carpenters are busy, judging from the new house just being finished and plainly shows somebody has laid aside some money.

One of our farmers, whose farm is situated on the water, charges one-half of the crabs caught off his shore for the privilege. This man will go to Congress by and by.

Our people are very much in love with Hon. William Jennings Bryan but they would have liked the ticket better had it been Senator David B. Hill instead of Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson for second place.

Threshing wheat on the Island is now a work of the past: everyone finished this week. Wheat turned out well, giving from fifteen to twenty bushels for one planted. Dr. John R. Benton, on the farm where Mr. G. W. Clough resides got 27 for one.

Has a man the right to be a constable, which is a county appointment and carry the United States mail? This is the question that the people of this place wishes answered. [We do not know of any law which prohibits a constable from carrying Uncle Sam's mail provided he is properly qualified. The patrons should be glad to have the mail in charge of an officer.—PUB.]

CHESTER.

Mr. Jerome Stallings is visiting in Baltimore.

Mr. John Livingston spent a few days in Baltimore last week.

Miss Lydia Apsley, of Kent county, is the guest of Mrs. Alfred Kersey.

Owing to the extremely dry weather the sickness among our children is very great.

Miss Maud Johnson, of Philadelphia, is the guest of Mrs. J. F. Robinson and family.

Mr. Ernest Gardner has removed to Baltimore county having secured a lucrative position there.

Mr. David Sewell spent a few days of last week in Anne Arundel county and while there purchased a fine bugeye.

Misses Ethel and Florence Soloway, of Kent county, are spending a short vacation with their sister, Mrs. George Gardner.

The ice man took the day last winter, now the dust man has filled the vacancy which old Sol made when he commenced to make himself felt.

Misses Clara Whettle and Mary Brannan and Messrs. Richard Bailey and Joseph Whettle, of Baltimore, were the guests of Mrs. J. F. Robinson and family, Tuesday last.

After several weeks of drouth our section was visited by a heavy, refreshing shower late Thursday evening which means many dollars to our farmers as grass and corn was badly in need of rain. The driving public will appreciate the rain on account of the horrible dust being laid low thereby.

The canoe regatta of Wednesday at Bryan's beach was one of the grandest and most gorgeous entertainments of its kind that has been given in a long time here. The race consisted of two classes. Entries of the first class were as follows: Chas. Clandaniel's boat, James Tolson's boat, George Tilghman's boat and two boats from Kent county. Clandaniel's boat came in first, Tilghman's, second and Tolson's third. Mr. Tolson's boat broke down which is said to have been the cause of her being in third place. Entries to the second race were as follows: John O'Donnell's boat, of Winchester, and the "Dauntless" from Kent county. The "Dauntless" won the race. The entertainment was excellent. The weather being dry and hot our people were glad for a day's outing around the water. There were quite a number from Kent county and the upper part of our county. Sailing parties were numerous, as the people were glad to get out on the water to catch the breeze. One in which the participants immensely enjoyed themselves was composed of Misses Myra Benton, Mattie Ringgold, Florence and Ethel Soloway, Maud Johnson and Mrs. Edward G. Cooper; Messrs. Harry, Galt, William Coleman and Charles South. Everyone enjoyed the regatta and had a good time and the day passed pleasantly with the exception of one accident: Samuel Coursey, an aged man of our vicinity, was struck with a base ball and badly hurt but is some little improved at present. In fact everyone enjoyed themselves so hughly that they called for another one which will be given sometime in August. All are invited.

Babies First Summer.

This is essentially a trying season for babies, but particularly so for those who first looked on the earth when it wore a wintry aspect, for to them it is the first summer, and every possible care is often insufficient to keep them healthy. Often the infant loses flesh and strength so gradually that even those to whom it is dearest do not realize the danger until too late, and very many times illness might have been averted if proper precautions had been observed. One of the greatest sources of danger is in allowing the baby to be too thinly clad, under the impression that air will prove beneficial. Those who possess experience, say that even in the warmest weather very young babies, or even those older, should wear undergarments of flannel, though, of course, a lighter grade than what was worn in winter.

ROOT UP EVERY TREE.

This is The Only Real Cure for Peach Yellows so Don't be Deceived.

State Pathologist Chas. O. Townsend, of the Maryland Agricultural College, in speaking of the peach yellows, says: "It has gradually spread over the eastern part of the United States until practically every peach-growing section of importance has been visited by it. The real cause of this disease is not known, but every observing peach grower recognizes its destructive nature and its ability to spread from tree to tree and from orchard to orchard. The only satisfactory method by which an orchard may be made free from it consists in either grubbing out or cutting down the affected tree and burning all root and branch. In some instances growers have mistaken yellow foliage for the yellows, but it must be remembered, however, that a perfectly green tree may have the yellows in its first stages, while a yellow tree may be made yellow because of some other disease, by starvation or the action of some insect. Trees affected by these troubles may almost always be cured if treated in time, and when the trees have been restored by proper treatment the remedies used have been mistaken for the cure for the yellows.

"Great progress has been made in the last two years in freeing our State from the yellows, and if every grower continues to do his duty the time is not far distant when the number of trees affected in this way may be reduced to a minimum. An orchard is not safe as long as it contains a single yellows tree. This is the best season to detect the disease in its early stages, since the premature fruit is now making its appearance. All such trees should be distinctly marked so that they can be destroyed at an early date, providing time does not admit of their immediate removal.

"As soon as the premature fruit is removed the tree often shows no further sign of yellows until the following season, and in the meantime the disease is spreading if the tree is allowed to remain. Hence, no time should be lost to destroy every affected tree as soon as the disease appears."

New Brunswick Withdrawn.

A dispatch from Cape May says that the steamer New Brunswick, which was chartered by the Cape May Pier Co., a short time ago to connect with the Queen Anne's Railroad at Lewes, and convey its passengers from Baltimore to Cape May, left Cape May for New York, Sunday night and the proposed connection with Baltimore has come to an abrupt standstill. The withdrawal of the New Brunswick is the result of a misunderstanding between the pier company, and the captain of the steamer, both as to the distance to be traveled in a given time and the payments to be made. Wm. H. Bosley, president of the Queen Anne's Railroad, said Monday that the steamer New Brunswick is too slow for the service, and that for this reason the company refused to enter into active operation with the boat.

The railroad and steamboat service between Baltimore and Cape May will open on Sunday, July 29th. A special low rate excursion will be run over the Queen Anne's Railroad at $1.25 for the round trip from Queenstown. This will afford our people a grand opportunity to take a ride on the briny ocean and to visit one of the finest seaside resorts on the Jersey coast. Make your arrangements and take in the trip or, if you prefer, you can go to Rehoboth for 75 cents the round trip. There is no need of staying at home, Sunday when you can enjoy a trip for a small sum and benefit your health.

Prices of Sugar Ascending.

The price of granulated refined sugar has been advanced by the Sugar Trust to six cents per pound or 5.79 cents net. The plain people who buy and use this sugar—practically every man, woman and child in the United States—are now receiving an object lesson in the beneficent influence of consolidation and monopoly in reducing prices to consumers. Of all the arrogant cant that has been canted in behalf of syndicate control of industrial production, the cant of cheapness to the consumer is perhaps the most audacious and offensive. No intelligent citizen needs to be told that monopoly keeps prices up. He sees the fact demonstrated at every turn. All of the factors which naturally tend to lessen cost of production and make living cheaper are diverted by powerful combined interests to the service of sordid greed. The benefits which should accrue to the masses of the people from new inventions, increased consumption, enlargement of the sources of raw material and enhanced technical skill in production are absorbed by selfish combinations in the shape of excessive profits, to cover which from public view is now the chief concern of the Trust managers who have practically vanquished and destroyed competition.

Presented With a Handsome Charm.

The members of the Masonic Leonard Association of Baltimore visited our town in a body, Wednesday and tendered Captain William D. Uhler, general passenger agent of the Queen Anne's Railroad, a complimentary dinner on board the Queen Anne as she lay at her pier here. Covers were laid as soon as the passengers had been landed. Capt. D. F. Penington, president of the association, presided, with J. Frank Supplee as toastmaster. Short addresses were made by the president, Messrs. Brenner, Ullrick, Oldershaw, Kingsbury and others.

Colonel Supplee presented Captain Uhler, on behalf of the association, with a handsome charm, upon which were the Masonic emblems, the square compass and letter "G," handsomely enameled and studded with diamonds. The inscription on the reverse side was: "Presented to Capt. Wm. D. Uhler by the Leonard Masonic Association, July 18, 1900." The guests were escorted by Captain Uhler to the grounds of the proposed encampment of the Boys' Brigade, which is in charge of Quartermaster Penington, of the National Guard, where the party was entertained with songs, sketches, etc.

Teachers Appointed.

The Board of School Commissioners for this county, at its meeting on Tuesday, confirmed the sale of bank stock recently made. The board also confirmed the appointment of Miss Barton as teacher of School No. 1, District No. 1, and the appointment of Mr. Sydney P. Townsend as principal of School No. 6, District No. 5. The board reappointed Miss Grace Gibson to the scholarship at St. Mary's Seminary, and Mr. Richard Holliday, Jr., to the scholarship at the Western Maryland College. The High School building is under construction, but will not be ready for occupancy by September 15 but when it is ready for occupancy the following teachers will be in charge being appointed Tuesday: Prof. W. Stafford Jackson, principal; Mrs. M. J. Cahoon, first assistant; Miss Sadie Bowen, second assistant and Mr. Graham Watson, third assistant. Miss Nannie Thompson was made principal of the primary school; Miss M. A. Tockard, first assistant and Mrs. B. R. Hailey, second assistant. Miss Naanie P. Keating was appointed first assistant of the Church Hill School.

Shoe Factory for Denton.

A meeting of prominent citizens of Denton was held Monday night last looking to the location of a shoe factory in that town. A prominent shoe firm in Baltimore, represented at this meeting, offered to furnish a plant valued at $10,000 if subscriptions could be raised in the town sufficient to make the capital stock $25,000. The meeting appointed a committee consisting of Henry C. Fisher, B. W. Parker and William A. Stewart to visit Baltimore at once and have the plant estimated by a competent machinist. The committee went to Baltimore, Tuesday evening, and are expected to report the result of their work at the next meeting. Much interest is felt in the matter by leading men of the town, and it is thought that the necessary funds for the location of the factory there will be raised.

Need of an Engine Law.

A number of engines attached to threshing machines have exploded at various points on the Peninsula this season, resulting in some cases in loss of life. This again emphasizes the need of a law regulating the running of engines in this State. In Baltimore city and possibly some of the larger towns a regular inspection of boilers is required and an engineer must be [illegible]ed. If there is a similar law for the State it is utterly disregarded and as a consequence, accidents are reported every year. Here in Queen Anne's if a man can shovel coal into the furnace and blow the whistle, he is considered competent to manage an engine and thus place in jeopardy the lives of those who work around them.

Oyster Navy Boats to be Repaired.

Acting under an order from the Board of Public Works, Commander Thomas C. B. Howard, of the Maryland oyster navy, has been engaged during the past week in collecting the vessels belonging to the oyster police force and taking them to Annapolis. The object of having the vessels taken to the State Capital is to inspect their condition, which is said to be far below the standard. It is absolutely necessary that a considerable sum of money shall be spent in refitting the property before it will be of any service. In order that a correct estimate can be made of the necessary expenditures on the vessels, the Board of Public Works, in company with Captain Howard, will inspect the property in person. After this inspection the vessels needing repairs will be sent direct to railways to be put in thorough order. It is not improbable that the board may decide to dispose of one or two of the sailing boats as there are several which are too old to render the services required of them, especially in heavy weather when they are expected to be on duty.

Marry Country Boys.

The Columbia (Mo.) Herald advises girls to marry country boys. "The wise girl," says the Herald, 'sets her cap for the country boy." It continues: True, he wears overalls and has brown hands and his feet are in his way when he walks. But he is worth a dozen of the town dudes, with their white fingers and high collars and unpaid laundry bills And take a country boy who will stay in the country. He is a free man. The town boy is a slave. He works all his life at a meager salary and spends that in ways not always commendable. There are town sweethearts who are worth something. There are some who do not expect to have their wives support them by keeping boarders. There are some who do not loaf on the streets Sundays and stay up late of nights. These are town fellows almost equal to the boys from the backwoods. But beware of the kind. Stick to country sweethearts and stay stuck."

Will Come Saturday Morning.

The First, Second and Third Maryland Regiments of the Boys' Brigade will leave Baltimore this morning for their first annual encampment here. Major General W. F. Fuller will be in command. The tents for the encampment were secured by Captain Penington, of the Fourth Regiment, M. N. G., who will act as quartermaster at the encampment. Free transportation and the privileges of the camp site were given the brigade by Captain Uhler, of the Fourth Regiment, and general passenger agent of the Queen Anne's Railroad. The camp will continue next Saturday. During this time visits from officers of the Maryland National Guard and brigade officers from other states, including Colonels Spicer and Gebhard, of the Pennsylvania Division are expected.

Orphans' Court.

Present, Charles R. Wallis, chief judge; Alfred Tucker and James B. Bright, associate judges.

The bonds of R. Leslie Merrick and C. Percy Merrick, as administrators of James Merrick, deceased, was approved and they were authorized to give the usual notice to creditors.

An order was passed, upon petition of Charles O. Coursey and J. Louis Rhodes, to appoint Thos. J. Keating trustee to make sale of the real estate of the late John W. Hassett.

On petition of John H. Evans, guardian to Katie A. Catlin, it was ordered that he transfer a certain mortgage to Mrs. Katie Hurlock.

A warrant was issued to Joseph Merrick and Joseph Price to appraise the personal estate of James Merrick, deceased.

A gentleman recently cured of dyspepsia gave the following appropriate rendering of Burns' famous blessing: "Some have meat and can not eat, and some have none that want it; but we have meat and we can eat.—Kodol Dyspepsia Cure be thanked." This preparation will digest what you eat. It instantly relieves and radically cures indigestion and all stomach disorders. J. S. Denny.

BROKEN BRIC-A-BRACS.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's Cement.

The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them because they are too expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. M[illegible] tells us that one of the elements of cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another costs $2.65 a gallon, while a large part of the so called cements and liquid glues in the market are nothing more than sixteen cent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and, in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials.

Major's cement retails at fifteen cents and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make large profit.

The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising, which now amounts to over $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876.

Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off-hand advice from a druggist.

If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are a good deal more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and any other rubber and leather articles, with Major's Rubber Cement and Major's Leather Cement.

And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will thus save.

If your druggist can't supply you, it will be forwarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.
