

are more ways than one of a church. At Austin, Ill., a church advertised "five hundred wanted," and the result was an overflowing house and no standing room left. This may be a good way of filling a church, but it is questionable as to whether it is a proper way of attracting people for purposes of worship.

The man prone to stay out late on New Year's eve will have a double excuse this time. Besides watching a year die and another come into existence, there are two centuries to be looked after under the same circumstances. And in the natural order of things it should take centuries longer than years to undergo the processes of dying and being born.

With to-day's issue we enter on our nineteenth volume, and we feel truly grateful to our many friends who have so kindly helped us in our effort to give our readers the latest news of both state and county. We are proud to say that THE NEWS has been fully appreciated by advertisers as well as subscribers, and we hope both have received full value. Again, thanking all for their kindness and fellow feeling towards us, we wish all a merry Christmas.

The Woman Who Did.
All doctors in my town failed to relieve me of my rheumatism. I have used almost half a bottle of Nelsol and feel so much improved that while I may not need it I enclose P. O. order for one more bottle of the remedy that was a God-send to me. I clearly recommend to anyone suffering with Rheumatism Nelsol. Mrs. Julia A. Porch, Laton, Ill.

No one can reasonably hope for good health unless his lungs move over each day. When this is not attended to, disorders of the stomach arise, biliousness, headache, dyspepsia and piles soon follow. If you wish to avoid these ailments keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets when required. They are so easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. For sale by B. E. Cockey & Co.

Now is the time when cramp and lung troubles prove rapidly fatal. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results is One Minute Cough Cure. It is very pleasant to take and can be relied upon to quickly cure coughs, colds and all lung diseases. It will prevent consumption. J. S. Demery.

"There is nothing left for me but death," said a Maryland man whose wife had told him she was going to leave him and run away with another man. He evidently didn't think of the court injunction.

If astronomers could only discover some trace of petroleum on the planet Mars a system of communication would soon be established. The Standard Oil Co. would have a man there in less than a week.

Having received from China a flag captured by "Chang, commander of the advance corps of the left flank of the Hu Wei army, of the province of Hunpei, Cherer, Ching Tu Tu," there is no reason why this government should not stop the war right away.

Dr. Parker, who is conducting the London Evening Sun for a week in the footsteps of Rev. Sheldon, condemns horse-racing in one column and in another advises speculation in mining stocks. He, whose precepts these gentlemen profess to teach and follow, would have condemned both.

Now that the last of year is also the century is drawing to a close, we feel it our duty to express to our many readers our best wishes for a merry and pleasant Christmas. We think it our duty because our readers have borne with us through a whole year, having pardoned the unavoidable death of news in our columns; having overlooked the errors of the composers and proof reader; having condoned all the weak spots usually to be found in rural journals; it seems to us the least we can do is wish all a nappy New Year.

While this is true of any year, it is particularly applicable at this time. Only once in his life time can a man round out a century, and by comparison with the vast number of those who have fought their fight and passed to the other side within the cycle there are few to whom this one time is allotted. Those who are favored would be lacking indeed in gratitude if they failed to show their appreciation of the opportunity in some way, be it ever so slight.

The Test Plaster.
A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with lame back or pains in the side or chest, give it a trial and you are certain to be relieved. It is superior to the prompt relief which it affords. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism. One application gives relief. For sale by B. E. Cockey & Co.

Don't use any of the counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Most of them are worthless or liable to cause injury. The original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a certain cure for piles, eczema, cuts, scalds, burns and sore and skin diseases. J. S. Demery.
