Some of Sampson's friends make the claim that his letter is to be excused on the plea that he has been ill and is not responsible for what he writes. A man in that shape may be mentally equipped to juggle icecream at an afternoon tea, but not to command a fleet, in peace or war.

Another lynching of a negro ly nation is reported, this time in na. The negro's crime was the al murder of a young woman teacher, and the shocking of the murder so aroused the that they broke into the jail, the murderer out, hanged a bridge and built a roaring der him. Mr. Major, the famous cement man of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's Cement. The multitudes who use this standard The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent, better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them because they are too expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $5.75 a pound, and another costs $2.65 a gallon, while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue upon the market are nothing more than sixteencent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and, in some cases, altered shightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and it expless materials.

Major's cement retails at fifteen cents Major's cement retails at fifteen cents and twenty five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make large profit.

The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising, which now amounts to over $45600 a month.
